Northwest Area To Get Driver Testing Center

Residents of the Northwest suburbs can look forward to greater convenience in obtaining or renewing drivers' licenses in the near future, according to plans announced yesterday by Illinois Secretary of State John W. Lewis.

State officials yesterday signed an option to purchase land for a new driver testing station on Quentin Road, between Northwest Highway and Dundee Road, just north of Palatine. At present, the nearest testing stations are in Libertyville and Elgin.

Lewis, accompanied by State Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman, R-Arlington Heights, and Sen. John A. Graham, R-Barrington, inspected the site yesterday before signing the purchase option.

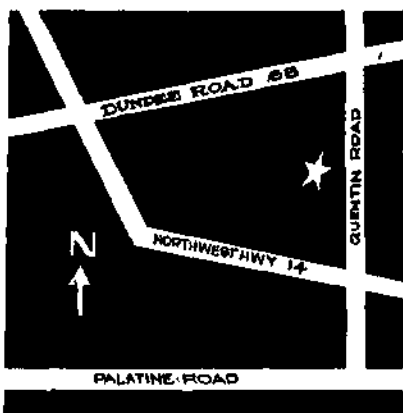

Schlickman was a prime mover in putting the long-pending plans for the new testing station in motion. The state had approved the concept of a new testing location in the Northwest suburbs nearly two years ago. Schlickman began working closely with the secretary of state's office in locating a site after editorials in the Herald urged action by the state office.

The state obtained an option on a 40.53-acre tract from Edwin M. Koop of Palatine, at a purchase price of $359,505.

LEWIS SAID THE new facility will provide complete motor vehicle services, including behind-the-wheel testing in a closed course. Schlickman said that when completed, the facility will be the finest testing station in the state.

Purchase of the property and construction of the facility are subject to approval of the General Assembly. "If the legislature grants its approval before it adjourns in June, plans can proceed so that bids may be let by late this year for construction," Lewis said.

"Selection of the site follows a study of more than a year for a location that would best serve the public and that could be obtained at a reasonable price," Lewis said. "Need for such a facility has been present for some time to serve this heavily populated area. Numerous sites were examined for size, cost, usefulness and convenience, and the one selected fits requirements the best."

Schlickman said that a search for privately owned land was undertaken after a survey of all state, county and federal agencies revealed there was no publicly owned land available in the area.

Schlickman said the site was also cleared with the Northeast Illinois Planning Commission at his request.

IN ADDITION TO the testing facility, Lewis also announced that a walk-in office for motorists will be established on the street level of the State of Illinois Building at Randolph and LaSalle streets in Chicago's Loop. He said that office would enable thousands of persons who work or visit the Loop to have licenses renewed or to take written driving tests and eye examinations.

He said his office is also searching for a location of a facility to serve the far Southwest suburbs of the city.

Recycling Center To Be Ready For Use In May

Although Elk Grove Village has approved the village Jaycees' plans for establishment of a permanent recycling center, the center will not be erected until May.

The village board this week approved the proposal to set up permanent glass and paper receptacles on village property behind the main fire station. But the Jaycees now say the receptacles will not be put up until an area adjacent to the parking lot is asphalted, sometime in May.

Jaycee spokesman John Wright explained that the crowded parking lot conditions prevent using the lot for the receptacles, so the organization must wait until asphalt plants open this spring to have an additional area paved.

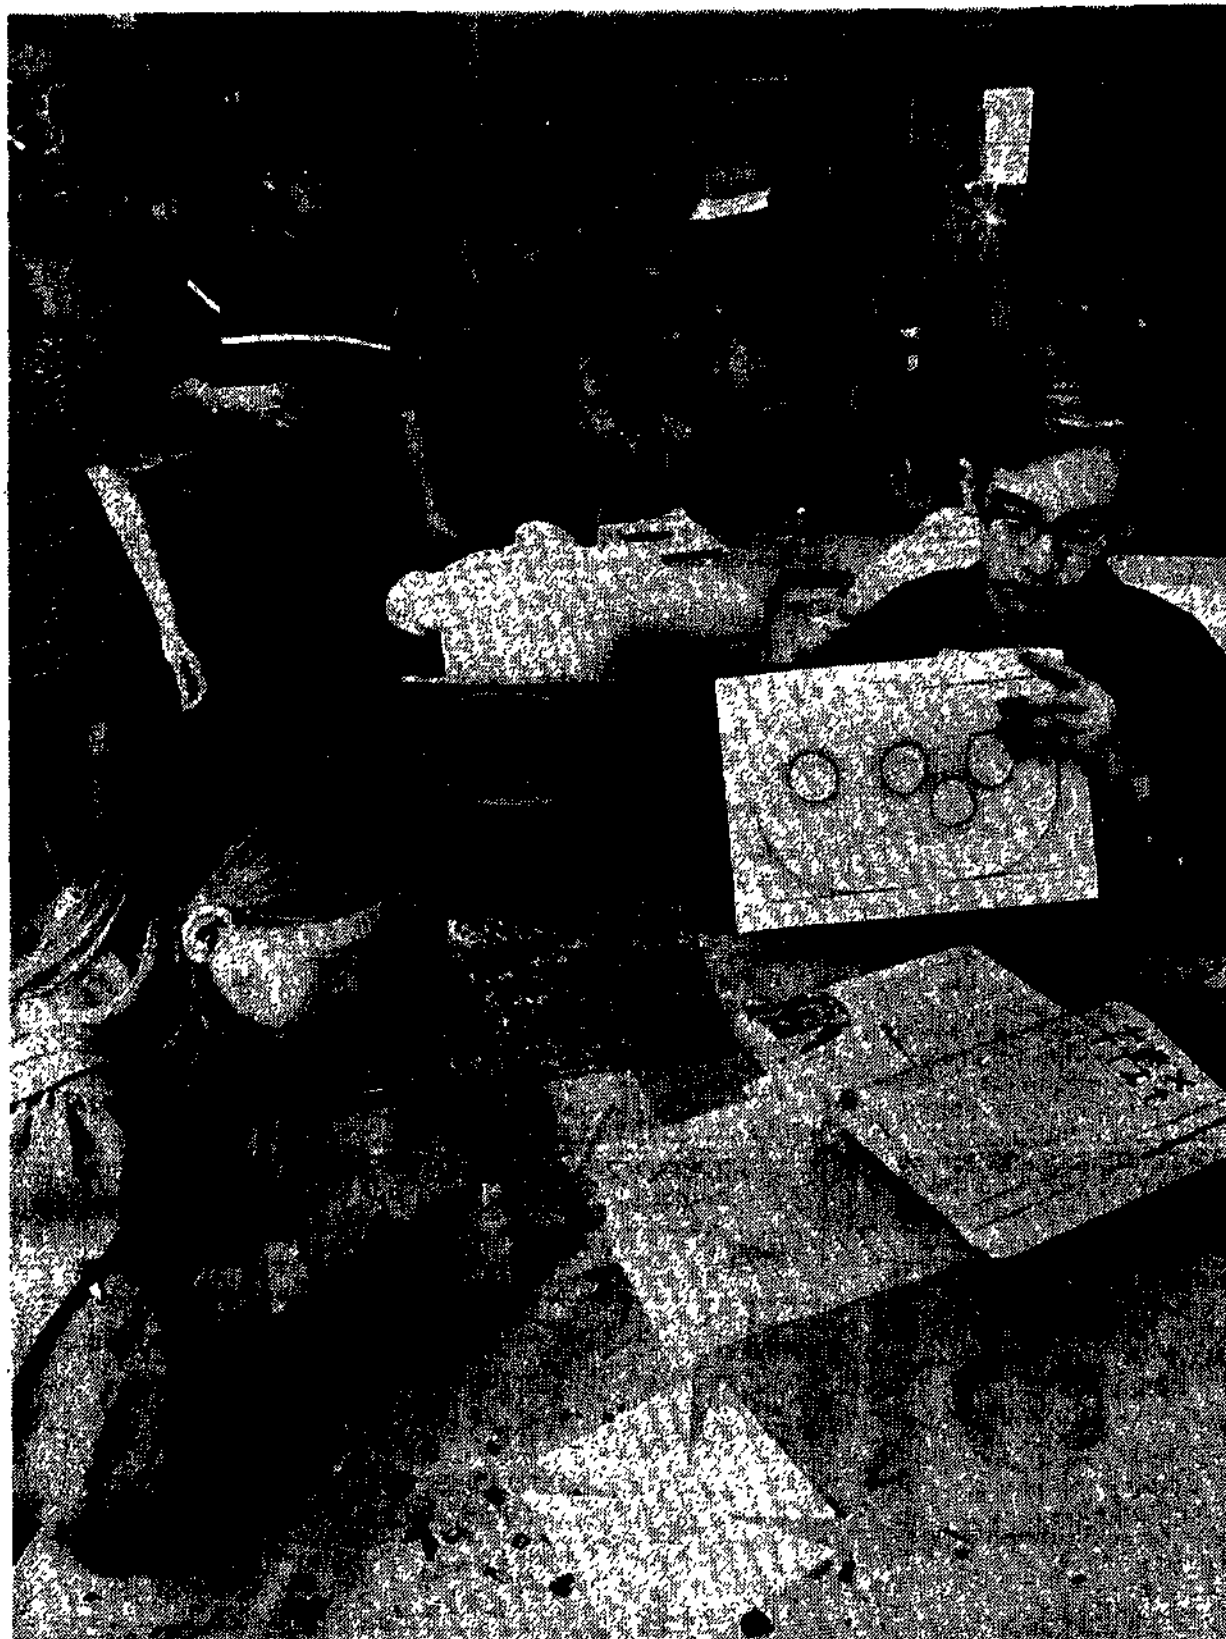

MONARCH DISPOSAL Co. has agreed to purchase a glass receptacle for the village and Pioneer Paper Stock Co. is providing the paper receptacle. Pioneer is paying $7 a ton for paper. Bell Corp. is paying $20 a ton for glass.

Money from the recycled glass and paper will be used to reimburse Monarch for cost of the glass receptacle. After the receptacle is paid for, additional revenue will be used for village beautification projects, Wright said.

The Jaycees, in cooperation with the Junior Woman's Club and the Elk Grove High School Ecology Club, have been conducting a number of recycling drives during the past several months and will conduct two more — in March and April — before the permanent receptacle is established. The permanent receptacle will be available 24 hours a day for deposit of paper and glass.

"We've collected about 55 to 60 tons of newspapers and about 15 tons of glass," Wright said. "But the amount is really only a drop in the bucket compared to what we could do."

Frank, who attends Grove full-time, works on another. The dual enrollment students spend half their day at Grove and half their day at the parochial school across the street.

Dual Enrollment Widely Accepted

by WANDALYN RICE

In 1965 a dual enrollment agreement between Queen of the Rosary Catholic School in Elk Grove Village and Elk Grove Township Dist. 59 was revolutionary.

Today, dual enrollment is routine. Each fall seventh and eighth grade students sign up for classes at Queen of the Rosary and then cross the street to sign up at Dist. 59's Grove Junior High School.

The dual enrollment plan allows seventh and eighth grade Queen of the Rosary students to attend classes in religion, social studies, English and reading for half the day at the parochial school and study math, science, physical education, music, art, home economics or shop at Grove during the other half-day.

When the program was first discussed by the school district, objections were raised by both public and parochial school parents about the violation of "separation of church and state." The objections died down, however, once the program started.

Now Dist. 59 has held informal discussions with officials at St. Zachary's Catholic School in Des Plaines about a dual enrollment program between that school and Friendship Junior High School, which will open next door in September, 1973.

SISTER MARY Edward, principal of Queen of the Rosary, and some of her staff members plan to attend a St. Zachary board meeting next month to discuss the program. "We are going to tell them our children get the best of two worlds," Sister Mary Edward said recently. "People are always a little bit afraid before something like this starts, but I've never seen a program that has worked as well as this one."

At Grove, according to Principal Al Stone, "The dual enrollment students are infiltrated through the school day. They aren't earmarked in any way and they take part in all our activities. They're cheerleaders or on student council."

In addition, the students get all the psychological and counseling support services the public schools have to offer and when a student has a problem the teachers from the parochial school sit down with teachers at the public school to discuss it and try to work out solutions.

"The cooperation has been wonderful," Sister Mary Edward said. "The teachers at Grove have been very accessible to us."

In addition, parents of the Queen of the Rosary students are invited to take part in parents' groups at both schools. Stone said, "I've found that the parents of the dual enrollment children maintain an al-

This Morning In Brief

The World

In their fourth secret session, President Nixon and Premier Chou En-lai sought a formula for sidestepping the crucial issue of Taiwan in a way that would permit expanded Sino-American diplomatic contacts. . . . In one of its first comments, Russia voiced strong official suspicion of the talks, saying "there must be doubts about the ultimate outcome of this exercise in presidential diplomacy and its results for world peace."

Vietnamese Communists in Paris denounced the President's alleged intensification of the Indochina War and walked out of the peace talks session without waiting for the allied side to speak. Observers said the action apparently was tied to the China visit.

Gunmen wounded a soldier and blasted an oxygen plant in a series of attacks in Northern Ireland. Masked raiders set fire to the town hall in Strabane.

The Nation

The Senate Judiciary Committee unanimously approved the nomination of Richard G. Kleindienst to succeed John N. Mitchell as U.S. attorney general. The nomination is expected to be reported to the Senate floor next week. Confirmation appears certain.

Presidential candidates Sen. George S. McGovern and Rep. Paul N. McCloskey criticized President Nixon's defense spending policies and charged the administration is failing to plan for conversion to a peacetime economy.

The State

Dan Walker, independent candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said Lt. Gov. Paul Simon's tax proposals could triple the state income tax if implemented. Simon, meanwhile, outlined plans for a consumer protection council he said he would create if elected governor.

U.S. Rep. Abner Mikva, D-Ill., introduced a bill he says will close $12 billion worth of loopholes in the U.S. tax law and give the savings to states to raise the standards of local education and lower property taxes. His formula would have the federal government pay $2 for every $1 the state spends to bring below-average schools up to the state standard.

A Circuit Court judge denied motions by State Sen. Bernard Neinstein, D-Chicago, and former State Sen. Everett Peters, R-St. Joseph, to quash racing-related indictments against them on grounds they are unconstitutional and an invasion of privacy.

The War

The Viet Cong, commenting on President Nixon's Peking visit, accused him of trying to split the Communist world by capitalizing on "internal disagreement in the socialist camp." . . . In Saigon, the U.S. command said two Americans were killed in Indochina action last week while South Vietnamese and Communist casualties decreased sharply, apparently due to the Vietnamese Tet lunar new year observance.

The Market

The stock market registered a slight gain despite computer problems, some profit taking and lack of buying interest. Trading was halted for 24 minutes in the morning when a computer and backup unit failed. Because of the breakdown, the New York Stock Exchange said volume figures on all issues may be inaccurate, thus affecting the most-active stock list. The Dow Jones industrial average edged up 0.82 to 912.70.

Middleton Gets 5-10 Years

of four years for the crime would not be sufficient. He said the sentence should show other people who are in a position of public trust and confidence that the courts will not deal lightly with such offenders.

The prosecutor said Dr. Middleton was convicted of an assault and battery in Ohio several years ago, which Kavanaugh said shows the doctor has a background for being a violent man. He also noted the doctor was charged, but acquitted, of rape through the use of drugs in Missouri about 10 years ago.

Genson asked Judge Downing to consider a period of probation for the doctor, but the judge refused.

THE DEFENSE attorney said the doctor practiced medicine in Illinois for eight years and treated "20,000 to 30,000 people." He argued, "The state brought only one of those people in to say she was assaulted."

Genson argued that when the state revoked the doctor's license to practice, it "took away the major portion of his life. He does not belong in prison with robbers and murderers," Genson said. "That is not going to make him a better man."

Adam continued the plea for probation, arguing a prison sentence for the doctor would be "cruel and unusual" punishment.

"It would be more than retaliation," Adam said, "it would be barbaric. Sending him to prison would serve no purpose other than to grab some headlines or improve the statistics of the existing state's attorney."

Adam contended Dr. Middleton has suffered enough with the revocation of his license. "He cannot suffer more than he has already," the attorney said.

Judge Downing denied the motion for probation and called the crimes committed by Dr. Middleton a "reprehensible indiscretion" on the part of a person who receives the trust and confidence of his patients.

The judge said he considered, for the purposes of sentencing, that the aggravated battery and deviate sexual assault as a single, continuing act, and passed no separate sentence on the battery charge.

ADAM SAID the doctor will appeal the verdict within the required 30 days, and then requested the judge allow the $15,000 bond to stand, pending appeal.

Kavanaugh objected to any bond, stating the federal court judge has not yet reached a verdict on the charges of illegal possession of explosives and that a theft charge is still pending against the doctor in Des Plaines. The prosecutor reminded the judge Dr. Middleton was in possession of three guns when first arrested and has been convicted of shooting tear gas at a man in Ohio.

The judge denied Kavanaugh's request, but raised the bail to $35,000.

Dr. Middleton was arrested Dec. 1, 1970 at his Des Plaines office and charged with drugging a 24-year-old former model and then forcing her to submit to a deviate sexual act.

The woman, Lynn Nelson of Carpentersville, said the doctor injected her with a "stupefying drug and then attacked her while she was defenseless."

She said she had been visiting the doctor's office for several months prior to the attack for treatment of a general "rundown condition." As a result of his treatment, she said, she grew excessive facial hair, her voice became deeper and her sexual appetite increased.

DURING A 12-DAY trial six other former patients of the doctor testified to similar treatment and results by the doctor. Although none testified they were attacked by the doctor, several told of improper suggestions and advances by the doctor.

The doctor was found guilty of the charges Feb. 3, when an eight-man, four-woman jury returned their verdict after more than 17 hours of deliberation.

If bail is not revoked, Dr. Middleton will remain free pending his appeal, which could take more than a year. The sentencing yesterday, however, could hasten, legal observers feel, a verdict on the federal bomb charges.

That bench trial in the courtroom of Judge James B. Parsons, ended in late December, 1971. The judge, however, has not announced a verdict.

In addition to the theft charge pending in Des Plaines, Dr. Middleton also has been named defendant in a $1.2 million lawsuit filed by Mrs. Nelson.

She has charged that as a result of the treatment she received from the doctor and from the deviate sexual assault, she suffered permanent physical and emotional damage.

Since the time of his arrest, the state Department of Registration and Education has revoked the doctor's license to practice medicine in the state. It was noted yesterday however, he still has licenses in full force and effect in at least two other states, Georgia and Tennessee.

Theft Case Is Continued

Associate Judge Simon Porter continued the case when Middleton who was at the Criminal Courts building in Chicago for sentencing on his conviction of sexual deviate assault, failed to appear as scheduled.

Middleton was arrested Sept. 28 last year when he reportedly was caught driving away from a construction site with stolen wooden planks and steel rods in a trailer hitched to his auto.

Hospital Staff Tables Mobile Heart Care Unit Plan

Staff members of Northwest Community Hospital in Arlington Heights have deferred a recommendation on a proposal to set up a mobile heart care unit.

Doctors in the hospital's internal medicine department Monday agreed to further study the proposal, which is intended to provide emergency treatment for heart attack victims in six area communities.

As planned, the system would include Arlington Heights, Inverness, Mount Prospect, Palatine, Rolling Meadows and Schaumburg.

Malcolm D. MacCoun, president of the hospital, said Monday: "We didn't feel we could make a decision. It's really much more complicated than it seems."

THE HOSPITAL'S involvement in the plan is basically two-fold. It has the responsibility of training fire department personnel to use emergency equipment which would be contained in ambulances. In addition, the hospital's doctors would give instructions over a two-way radio on how to care for the patient pending his arrival at the hospital.

The instructions would be based on information about the patient's condition measured by the ambulance's equipment.

MacCoun indicated that the doctors did not appear to be either for or against the plan, but simply wanted more information.

"WE JUST want to make sure we know what we're getting into, so if we do go ahead and set this thing up, we'd do a good job," he said.

"It's a brand-new kind of service, and there are an awful lot of questions that need to be answered."

MacCoun said the questions do not involve the equipment, because "we know its medical capacity," but rather, they involve the medical judgment aspect.

The only connection the doctor has with the patient, MacCoun said, is "a piece of electronic gear."

"The doctor is at a great disadvantage. He has to take personal responsibility for making a diagnosis of a patient he can't see."

MacCoun said the staff has read in medical journals about similar heart care units in other communities, and "the experiences from one area to another are quite different. There are different ways of setting this thing up."

"Obviously, we're interested in providing the best possible service to our patients so we're looking at all aspects of this."

Thursday's regular medical meeting will be devoted to the mobile heart care proposal, MacCoun said, but it is unlikely a recommendation will emerge from that session.

The hospital's staff does not have the authority to commit the hospital to new programs, but its recommendations on medical matters are generally approved by the decision-making board.

Fire Department Delays Action On Heart Unit

The Elk Grove Village Fire Department has studied the proposal to set up mobile heart care units in ambulances, but plans to take no action until further study is made.

Fire Chief Allen Hulett noted that as currently proposed at Northwest Community Hospital, the program would involve purchase of equipment costing about $5,500 per unit and might also involve a delay getting a patient to the hospital.

"I personally feel there is a great deal to be learned about this equipment," he said. "We're not in the position now to do anything more than keep an ear tuned to the situation."

Hulett noted that use of the equipment might involve "wasting precious time" in getting a patient to the hospital while the equipment is hooked up. With a hospital as close as Alexian Brothers Medical Center, the time could be better spent taking the patient to the hospital, he said. The village ambulance service, operated by the fire department, averaged only 10 minutes from time of call until arrival at the hospital, according to a study conducted last year.

The chief said the department would continue to study the proposal and if it proved useful would not be deterred by the cost of the equipment. "The cost would definitely not prevent us from putting the equipment in," he said.

Handcuffs (Click) Was Area Man's Key To Busy Day

When James Rannie decided to fool around with the pair of handcuffs he had just found, he forgot one thing. He didn't look for the key first. So the Des Plaines man spent most of Tuesday afternoon trying to get the cuffs removed.

Rannie, 28, of 8809 Dee Rd., Des

Plaines, was cleaning a car when he found the handcuffs under the front seat. He works for the Town Pump gas station, River and Rand Roads in Des Plaines.

The next thing Rannie knew he was on his way to the Des Plaines Police Department in his first attempt to get the cuffs removed. But it turned out that the Smith and Wesson handcuffs had a special security lock for which the police had no key.

THE DES PLAINES police suggested he go to the Johnson Sporting Goods Store on Lee Street in Des Plaines.

Johnson's suggested he go to Maxon's Gun Shop, 500 E. Northwest Hwy., Mount Prospect.

Maxon's suggested he go to the Mount Prospect Fire Department.

The Mount Prospect firemen didn't have a key either. So they used a hacksaw to saw off the cuffs.

An investigation afterwards revealed the car had been traded in at Des Plaines Chrysler-Plymouth by Lloyd Behrens of Des Plaines. Behrens happens to be a U. S. marshal for the Justice Department and he had inadvertently left the handcuffs in the car, along with a holster. He came to the police station Wednesday and picked up the damaged cuffs.

Art Fair Sunday

The first annual Art Fair sponsored by the Elk Grove Park District will be presented Sunday, between 1 and 5 p.m., at Lions Park Community Center, 180 Kennedy Blvd. Works of 25 village artists will be offered for sale at the fair. They will include paintings, sculpture, pottery and other media.

Sharing Is Now Routine

legiance to both schools."

THE DUAL enrollment program has brought some changes at Queen of the Rosary since it began in 1965. Seventh and eighth graders are not required to wear uniforms as their younger classmates are, and when Grove relaxed its dress code to allow girls to wear slacks, Sister Mary Edward went along.

The program has also saved Queen of the Rosary money, she said, because the school needs only four seventh and eighth grade teachers for its 106 students.

In addition, Sister Mary Edward said, "I don't think we would ever be able to compete with Grove on things like science equipment and specialized teachers."

She added, "I think it's a wonderful thing for our kids because they see what the public school can offer them. When I was going to parochial school, we thought there were a different kind of kids in the public schools."

Most of the students who graduate from Queen of the Rosary go on to Elk Grove High School, rather than travel much farther to parochial high schools, she said. "Going to Grove is really an initiation into high school. I think they are better prepared than many students."

The students in the dual enrollment program receive two report cards, one from each school, and go through two graduation ceremonies. The program has become so routine, Sister Mary Edward said, that when she came to the school four years ago "it was just running by itself."

Stone, who has frequently explained the program to educators in other parts of the country, added, "When you talk to anybody about dual enrollment, people always want to know the flaws in it. They don't believe it could work this well."

Second Attorney Joins Fraud Unit

A second volunteer attorney has joined the staff of the Elk Grove Village branch of the Consumer Fraud Division of the Illinois Attorney General's office.

Bruce Logan, a village resident and corporate attorney, has joined attorney Paul Rettberg in handling consumer complaints at the office, which is located in Village Hall, 901 Wellington Ave.

The office is open Saturday morning between 9 a.m. and noon and on Tuesday evening between 7 and 8:30 p.m. The office operates under the authority of the Illinois attorney general, who has legal authority to investigate consumer complaints.

In addition to the two attorneys three other volunteers work in the office, which serves residents of Elk Grove Village and adjoining communities.

Forest View School Paper Wins Award

The Viewer, student newspaper at Forest View High School in Arlington Heights, recently received a first class honor rating from the National Scholastic Press Association.

Judges based their decision on news coverage, features, editorials and layout during the 1971-72 first semester. The Viewer also received the National Scholastic Press Association's Mark of Distinction for Editorial Leadership.

Editor-in-chief of the paper is Jeff Beebe. Managing editor is senior Jeff Mell. Richard Carey is the sponsor.

Name 'Ugly Man' Today

Conant High School's "Ugly Man" will be announced at an all-school assembly this morning.

Each class has named its candidate. By an all-school vote one person will receive the honor of being the school's "ugliest."

The annual contest is conducted as part of Foreign Exchange Week, observed this week.

Last year the contest raised $800 to help support participation of Conant students in a foreign exchange program. Voters donate five cents to the cause for each vote they cast.

During the week interviews will be held with students who wish to be selected as a representative of Conant in a foreign country.

Area residents willing to open their homes to students of other countries also are being interviewed. Those students and homes chosen will be announced at the assembly on Friday.

Senior Laurie Smith of Hoffman Estates is chairman of the Foreign Exchange Committee that is supervising activities of the week.

A Turnabout Dance in the school cafeteria will conclude the week's events at 8 p.m. Saturday.

New Reading Teacher — But On Tape

by DICK KLEINER

LOS ANGELES — It looks like a thick notebook. But open it and there are 10 tape cassettes neatly stowed away, together with an instructional manual. This modest-looking piece of equipment makes up what may be the greatest advance in education in years.

The Fountain Valley Teacher Support System is the newest idea aiding children to read better. It was developed by Richard L. Zweig Associates, a three-year-old firm headed by Zweig, a former psychologist and reading clinician.

Tested in the Fountain Valley school system — Fountain Valley, despite its idyllic name, is a modest middle-class area near Los Angeles — the device is spreading rapidly. Already, after only three months on the educational market, it is being used in Chicago, Detroit, Portland, Ore., parts of Brooklyn, Los Angeles, Canada, Puerto Rico and even Japan.

The idea is for children to sit with a pair of earphones on their head, and listen to the tapes. There are different tapes for different grade levels and, within each grade, different tapes for different purposes.

Two narrators ask questions. On the first grade tape called "Phonetic Analysis, Part 2," for example, the narrator asks the child to circle one of three words which end with the same sound as a test word he repeats slowly.

The child circles the word. On the back of the test paper, carefully concealed, is the answer. If the child has circled the correct word, there is a plus sign. If the answer is wrong, there appears a group of numbers and letters such as "1-2a."

These refer the teacher to another sheet, on which all the usual errors are listed. The "1-2" in the example means "final consonant k," and the "a" means "audio-visual reversal."

After enough questions are answered, the teacher can begin to see a pattern emerging. If the child makes the same error frequently, the exact nature of the reading problem can be seen and remedial action taken.

The system enables teachers to find out exactly how well a child reads, and pinpoint the difficulties, if any. The test is thus self-administering, and, in effect, suggests a solution at the same time as it makes a diagnosis.

Many slow readers, Zweig has learned, are not necessarily slow mentally. They may have perceptual problems — he says that 17 children out of 100 have such problems, and need specialized help. A child with a high IQ can still be a slow reader.

Zweig's advice to parents who are worried because their child isn't reading as fast as they would like is a six-point program:

First, check the child's vision and hearing, then give them a complete physical check up. If those three don't turn up the problem, try a remedial reading class. Next, a tutor. And, as a last resort, there are now many professional reading clinics available.

He points out that a child's servous system does not fully mature until age 8, so that certain perceptual problems may cure themselves. If, as a case in point, the child confuses the letters b, d and p — a common perceptual problem — it is not too serious until the eighth year.

Most schools are adopting the Fountain Valley Teacher Support System, as well as other new devices to aid teaching. Zweig says that we are in the midst of an educational revolution.

"This is the period of the greatest change in education we've seen," he says. "The decade of the '70s will see some tremendous revisions in teaching procedures."

His system is one of these new tools, which, together with improved teachers, will produce improved readers among the next generation.

VD: Crisis In Our Schools

Students 'Hard To Reach,' Schools Learn

by BETSY BROOKER
Third of Three Parts

How can school officials protect students from a bad drug trip or a bout with venereal disease?

First, they have to become teenagers, advise their young charges.

"Before they can help us, they must learn from us," said a high school group. "They may know something about sex, but they know nothing about drugs."

The schools' efforts thus far to reach students in health education classes have fallen short of success. Scare tactics and misinformation have created a credibility gap that teachers are trying hard to overcome.

"The kids are reluctant to come to us with their problems," said William Thiel, assistant principal at Dist. 211 Palatine High School. "The fear is the same with venereal disease as it is with drugs."

"The kids have turned us off before they have entered the building," added Lois Mocella, nurse at Palatine High School. "Being part of the school staff is my biggest handicap. If I was younger they would probably trust me more."

The Harper College nurse, Liz McKay, reports students get around their fear and embarrassment by calling her anonymously on the phone. Dist. 214 Arlington High School nurse Margaret Ford said students will come into her office to discuss drugs and venereal disease, but usually only if they already know her and trust her.

The students are afraid of punishment — social in the case of venereal disease and legal in the case of drugs.

THE COURTS CAN slap a student with a one to five-year prison term if he is caught with more than 500 grams of marijuana. If he confides his drug offense to his teacher, that teacher may also face a prison term for refusing to betray the student to the police. Unlike physicians and patients or clergy and penitents, teachers and students do not have a privileged relationship in the eyes of the law.

However, Illinois law has opened the door to discussion on venereal disease. A law passed in 1961 permits minors 12 years of age or older to seek medical treatment for venereal disease without the approval or knowledge of their parents. Only the student's doctor has to know he has been infected by the disease. If the student confides in a member of the school staff, that person may pass the information on, but he is not legally bound to do so. Health officials say the confidentiality right has encouraged teens to seek treatment.

Fortunately for school officials they don't always have to wait for the students to come to them. For a few weeks each year they have a captive audience in health education classes.

Local high schools have sandwiched drug and venereal disease education into a six-week health segment of physical education classes, also with studies of alcohol, smoking and personal hygiene. The course is presented in the first half of the students' high school careers and is sometimes repeated in the second. In addition, the social and biological aspects of drugs and venereal disease are approached informally in regular academic courses.

Educators generally agree that health education is difficult to teach. With venereal disease, for example, they have to overcome their students' smirking embarrassment. According to Howard Lester, Dist. 214 administrator, "It takes a great teacher to keep it on an even keel. Students still have the attitude that the other guy will get it, not me."

Venereal disease also carries with it dren's sex habits.

Responsibility and discretion guards against venereal disease.

"It is our job to inform students — to tell them the consequences," said Keith Shelton, Dist. 211 assistant superintendent. "It is not necessary for us to make judgments. The students are responsible for their own actions."

But, the schools are making a judgment by merely including venereal disease in sex education, according to Addie Renninger, administrator in the Cook County Health Department. "Venereal disease isn't part of marriage preparation. They're using it to moralize against sex activity. It makes the whole bag come out negative."

Mrs. Renninger is also critical of drug education programs that only study the scientific side of the problem. She says "pharmacology isn't going to accomplish anything."

Thiel agrees that drug education should not just be a "no, no" program. "We all know smoking is hazardous to our health, yet many people keep right on smoking. We need to do more than just tell students drugs are dangerous."

What is needed, according to Renninger, is "more ways to reach out to kids.

to innovate and find better ways to present health education. But it's an uphill fight.

A Dist. 211 committee, for example, spent last summer designing new curriculum for each of the five health education units. But school officials are already talking about the need to revamp the program again and possibly extend it over a full semester.

Dist. 214, one step ahead of its sister district, has assigned a committee in each high school to develop special health programs. And a district-wide committee has proposed introducing a full semester course in human development. The course would take a sociological-psychological approach and be companion to existing health education programs.

How far the schools should go in combating drug abuse and venereal disease is debatable. As Mrs. Ford, school nurse, pointed out, "there is only so much the schools can do."

"Our approach has to be basically educational or medical," added Thiel. "The kids only spend a third of their day here. Much of what they do is out of our control."

The schools keep lists of referral agencies handy for situations they feel go beyond their jurisdiction. Top on the list are community counseling centers, of which the "Bridge" in Palatine is one of the foremost.

The counseling team at the Bridge approaches drug abuse as a symptom. They find out why a teen is using drugs and then help him set up alternate goals. In many cases the drug user has a low self-esteem so the counselors "try to show him he has just as many good points as bad points."

FOR VENEREAL disease cases, the Bridge has a Jean-Claude nurse from the county health department on its staff. The nurse guides the teens to a private physician, from a referral list developed by the health department. If the teen cannot pay the doctor's fee, the health department picks up the tab for him. In many cases the visit is a false alarm. If it is not, the health department will ask the infected person for the names of his sexual contacts so they can also be tested.

Health department officials feel the monumental job of contact tracing will be eased only after tests for venereal disease become a routine part of a visit to the doctor.

Legal reform and more government supported programs are also cited as solutions. The drug use laws are so strict now, they almost force teens to cheat, according to Timothy Field, dean of guidance at Harper College in Palatine. And officials at the county health department say they cannot get a firm grip on the venereal disease epidemic until the government gives them more money. A bill before the U.S. Senate calls for allocations of some $70 million for venereal disease research, training and treatment.

But ultimately, according to Field, the value for life. And we have to treat ourselves and other people with more respect."

This respect, said Field, will open the doors to better communication and better understanding between the generations. Only on that kind of foundation — the clear light of reality — is there hope to put to rest these partners in a health crisis.

all of the emotion-packed controversy of sex education. Many parents are wary of the whole subject, causing school officials to sometimes feel as though they are walking on egg shells. One administrator said he would like to toughen the venereal disease program but is holding back because of the "pockets of resistance."

THE OVERLAPPING roles of home and school are especially apparent in the question of morality. Teachers are willing to discuss the health aspects of venereal disease but believe it is the parents' responsibility to direct their chil-

We have to understand from a gut point of view why kids take drugs. We have to help drug users work out their problems, not force them out of school."

At least one teacher in this area plans to do just that. Katherine Gilleland, health education teacher at Dist. 214 Arlington High School, has revamped her spring course to focus on self-awareness. "I won't talk about drugs, alcohol or venereal disease specifically. I will ask my students to look inward, ask themselves what sort of people they are and why they do things."

Want To Volunteer? You're Needed

The Volunteer Service Bureau of Northwest Cook County is a private, non-profit organization that attempts to provide volunteer help to selected agencies dealing in public service. If you have a skill and some time to spare, the Volunteer Bureau will try to match your talents with an agency in need of volunteer help. Now in six different locations in the Northwest suburbs, the Volunteer Bureau acts as a free service, teaming volunteers with agencies and organizations in need of help.

by ESTHER RABCHUK
Volunteers come in many varieties. The Volunteer Service Bureau of Northwest Cook County is open to innovations on volunteering. There have been instances where a potential volunteer approaches the bureau with an idea of what he would like to do, and the bureau, through its agencies, finds just that sort of assignment even if there is no request on hand.

If you have a special assignment in mind and wonder if it is possible, call or visit any of the bureau offices and discuss it with the staff there.

The branch offices are manned completely by volunteers. In the Lois Moore Office (so named after the first executive director of the bureau) serving Palatine and Rolling Meadows are two co-directors, Mrs. Isobel Burg and Mrs. Tammy Meade, who operate out of the Palatine Township Hall, 37 N. Plum Grove Rd., Palatine.

Mrs. Burg and Mrs. Meade are in the office Mondays and Thursdays from 10 to 2. They have various volunteer secretaries to help with the record-keeping, setting up interview appointments, and tabulating of hours given in volunteer time through their office.

The hours given are an approximation only, since not all agencies have the procedures whereby there is a feedback to the bureau on these statistics. Increasingly, however, agencies are realizing the importance of having a staff member who is directly in charge of the volunteers, their welfare, and the consequent statistics. The schools served by the bureau are required to have a coordinator who usually is a volunteer herself to perform these services before the bureau will consider their requests.

The bureau conducts training programs for these coordinators in the fall. The training of the volunteer is the responsibility of the agency staff member to whom the volunteer is assigned. The Lois Moore Office from the period of September, 1971, to Jan. 1, 1972, placed eight in social agencies and 117 in schools. These volunteers gave approximately 1,639 hours.

MRS. MAYME ANDREWS of Prospect Heights is the volunteer coordinator at Hersey High School in Arlington Heights. This is Mrs. Andrews' second year as coordinator at Hersey. During the 1970-71 school year, 80 volunteers were placed in the building. Seventy were enrichment volunteers who brought their occupation or avocation into the classroom to share with Hersey students. Ten were service volunteers who gave service in assisting in the operation of the school services. The hours approximated were 1,325.

The enrichment volunteer gives an hour or two to present his program, maybe several times; and the service volunteer gives an average of three hours per week. The guidelines of the bureau do not permit the use of volunteers to displace paid personnel. Indicative of the satisfaction of the volunteer in his assignment is the rate of returning volunteers for a second assignment.

The Volunteer Bureau is dedicated to serving the needs of the volunteer knowing that in this way the needs of the agencies will be served also. It is increasingly recognized that people need to be needed, and it is through procedures such as the Volunteer Bureau that this need is met to the satisfaction of all concerned. Either the volunteer or the agency that has had an unfortunate experience in volunteering needs to reassess the assignment and hopefully avoid the same mistake the next time.

AS AN EXAMPLE of the nationwide interest in volunteering is the fact that the month of February was designated Voluntary Action Month by Gov. Ogilvie, and the week of Feb. 28 thru March 4 will be dedicated to the volunteer program. On March 1 and 2 there will be a workshop in Springfield giving basic instructions in volunteer service administration.

Mrs. Josephine Oblinger, executive director of the Governor's Committee on Voluntary Action, has arranged for Dr. Eva Stundler-Rahman, author of "The Volunteer Community: Creative Use of Human Resources," and staff member of the Center for a Voluntary Society and National Training Laboratory to be present for the workshops. Establishing assignments, recruiting volunteers, interview and placement, training, retention of volunteers, records and evaluation are some of the items to be discussed at the workshops. Mrs. Oblinger will be the guest of the Volunteer Service Bureau of Northwest Cook County at its annual meeting March 21 at 8 p.m. in the Dist. 214 Administration Building, 700 W. Kensington Rd., Mt. Prospect.

The new board of directors will be elected at this meeting and the new officers installed. Roderick McLennan of Arlington Heights, assistant superintendent of Dist. 214, has been nominated to serve a second term as president of the bureau. Mrs. Marilyn Marler of Arlington Heights is recommended to repeat a term as vice president; Robert Kaczmarek of Des Plaines is recommended to repeat a term as treasurer, and Donald Stipe, Palatine, is recommended as recording secretary. The board members serve three-year terms with staggered terms. Officers serve one-year terms with a subsequent one-year term permissible.

Equal Employment Act Is Debated

by BOB LAHEY

The Senate continued debate last week on the Equal Employment Opportunity Act, with continuing disputes over amendments designed to strengthen or weaken the quasi-judiciary functions of the Equal Employment Opportunity Council.

In the House, there were only two record votes, one of the approving extension of programs authorized under the Economic Opportunity Act.

Following is a summary of the voting records and other activities of Illinois' two senators, Republican Charles H. Percy and Adlai E. Stevenson III, and Northwest suburban congressmen Philip M. Crane, R-13; Robert McClory, R-12th; and Harold Collier, R-10th.

MEASURES SPONSORED

Percy, a bill to promote the effective operation and management of the federal corrections system by reorganizing certain functions and creating new organizations.

MEASURES CO-SPONSORED

Percy and Stevenson, a bill to amend the Public Health Services Act to provide for the prevention and control of venereal disease.

Stevenson, a bill to provide for continuation of programs authorized under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964.

Stevenson, a joint resolution relating to the infant death syndrome.

QUORUM CALLS

Senate, none.
House, four, with Crane present at all; Collier absent at all; McClory present for two.

RECORD VOTES

An amendment to the Equal Employment Opportunity Act providing an Equal Employment Opportunity Council (EEOC) determination that is unable to secure a conciliation agreement will not be reviewable by the courts, rejected 49-14.

Percy ..... No
Stevenson ..... No
Resolution ratifying treaty prohibiting emplacement of nuclear weapons and other weapons of mass destruction on the seabed, passed 83-0.

Percy ..... Yes
Stevenson ..... Yes
Motion to reconsider earlier tie vote by which Senate rejected, 33-33, an amendment to provide that a charge filed with the EEOC shall be the exclusive remedy of any persons claiming to be aggrieved by an unlawful employment practice, rejected 50-37.

Percy ..... No
Stevenson ..... No
Amendment to provide that in cases where the EEOC is unable to secure a conciliation agreement, it shall notify the general counsel, who then may bring a civil action in the appropriate U.S. district court against any respondent other than those in category of a governmental entity, passed 45-30.

Percy ..... No
Stevenson ..... No
Amendment to strike provisions transferring the attorney general's "pattern and practice" authority to the EEOC, rejected 43-33.

Percy ..... No
Stevenson ..... No
Bill requiring transmittal to Congress of international agreements other than treaties within 60 days of their execution, passed 81-0.

Percy ..... Yes
Stevenson ..... Yes
Amendment to provide that the term "employee" shall not include elected state officials or personal assistants chosen to render legal advice, passed 69-2.
Percy ..... Yes
Stevenson ..... Yes

Amendment to provide the Civil Rights Act shall not be applicable to state or local government employees as long as congressional employees are exempted, rejected 44-21.

Percy ..... No
Stevenson ..... No
Amendment to provide a straight to year extension of programs authorized under the Equal Opportunity Act of 1964, rejected 206-159.

Collier ..... Absent
Crane ..... Yes
McClory ..... Yes
Bill for continuation of programs authorized under the act, passed 234-127.

CBS Playhouse 9. "Look Homeward Angel" 90-minute adaption of the play based on Thomas Wolfe's autobiographical novel about a discontented 1916 North Carolina family striving individually for something beyond its shabby existence. With Geraldine Page, E. G. Marshall, Timothy Bottoms. 8:30 p.m. CST

"To All My Friends on Shore" CBS 90-minute original drama about a black airport porter whose dream of providing his small family with a better way of life is shattered when he learns his son is stricken with sickle-cell anemia. With Bill Cosby, Gloria Foster, Dennis Hines. 7:30 CST.

Sanford and Son, NBC. Lamont leaves home when his father interrupts his date. Once he leaves, the father is besieged by neighborhood widows. 7 p.m. CST.

"Sound of Dolphins" ABC Dolphins are the subject of this one-hour Jacques Cousteau special. 7 p.m. CST.

Chronology, NBC. Subjects include the Center for Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery in Saigon; what has been called "the biggest mistake in the history of Naval ship procurement"; and Bella Abzug, New York congresswoman 7:30 p.m. CST

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — NBC-TV formally confirmed Wednesday that Johnny Carson and his "Tonight" show will move permanently from New York to southern California in the spring.

Carson, for nearly a decade the most popular entertainer in late-night television, will originate his Monday-through-Friday 90-minute series from the NBC-TV studio complex in Burbank, near Hollywood.

His first broadcast from the West Coast on a regular basis will take place May 1. He currently is in the second week of one of his series' periodic visits to southern California. He returns to New York March 6.

Carson, whose series emphasizes show business as opposed to the more cerebral approach of his ABC-TV competitor, Dick Cavett, comes across on the screen as very much at home with Hollywood's top entertainers.

He is highly respected as a comedian in the traditional vein by such veteran Hollywood-based performers as Jack Benny and Bob Hope, and the rapport shows when they are on. He also is a big hit when he plays Las Vegas.

NBC-TV says that Carson will make periodic visits to New York with his series, just as he has been taking regular trips to Hollywood. He became the regular "Tonight" show host Oct. 1, 1962, replacing Jack Paar.

Now Carson will fill the vacuum in Hollywood late-night entertainment left by the canceled Merv Griffin. And, in terms of network competitors, Cavett will have New York all to himself.

THE BALLET performed in Peking this week for President and Mrs. Nixon "The Red Detachment of Women," will be presented as a two-hour special on NBC-TV Sunday, March 12, at 2 p.m. EST, with Gene Kelly as the host and narrator. A network announcement Wednesday stated: "This was arranged between NBC-TV and the United Nations delegation from the People's Republic of China."

NBC-TV notes that the ballet, "set in a village on Hainan island during the 1930s, deals with a young slave girl who escapes and joins the women's volunteers of the Red army."

The Hollywood Scene

by Vernon Scott

by VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Raquel Welch has reached that artistic plateau where a sex goddess, sex symbol, sexpot, sex kitten decides that she is, beneath the expanse of epidermis, an actress of great magnitude.

The only trouble, in the eyes of United Artists and producer Martin Ransohoff, is that Raquel came to this truth in the middle of a movie.

has reached that artistic plateau where a She balked at appearing in a scene which called for her to wear bra and panties. Shocked, Raquel said "never" or something equally adamant. She is, indeed, more than a body.

The picture is "Fuzz," a detective story co-starring Yul Brynner and Burt Reynolds. Producer Ransohoff said, "When the deal was made we agreed to pay Raquel $100,000 for 10-11 days work. Her role is limited to a few scenes. But one of them required her to be found by a police commissioner in her bra and panties in the precinct men's room.

"IT'S A GAG shot, played strictly for laughs. There's nothing indecent or immoral about the scene. Vulgarly isn't involved at all.

"Raquel plays a female cop used as halt to trap a rapist. So you know right away she's not playing a Sarah Bernhardt role. Well, suddenly Raquel decided she didn't want to do it.

"She felt she needed a change of image.

Order Your 'Lox Box' From ORT

Interested in a "Lox Box?"

The Woodfield chapter of the Women's Organization through Rehabilitation Training (ORT) is accepting orders now for April 15 delivery of the box treat.

Members are mailing an area telephone and may be reached by calling 358-5585.

A "Lox Box" of smoked salmon, bagels, cream cheese, onion, orange juice and dessert costs $3.75.

The ORT group plans to use the funds for the national organization's philanthropic rehabilitation programs throughout the world.

The women are accepting orders throughout Schaumburg, Palatine, Wheeling and Elk Grove townships and Des Plaines and will make deliveries on April 15.

But that was two-thirds of the way through our picture and after we'd paid her almost all her salary.

"Her agent said she was very sensitive about doing the scene as written. We laughed, then struck a compromise to finish the picture. She would be less of a scene in a half-slip.

"We re-shot the scene, but she was wearing a slip that fell below the knee and held a towel over the top of her.

"When we looked at the rushes it was crazy. It was unacceptable. Her agent told her to go back and shoot the scene right. She refused. Raquel wouldn't discuss the matter with me.

"Finally we refused to pay the balance of her salary unless she reshot the scene. A month after the film had been completed she agreed to re-shoot. But it was too late. It would have cost another $10,000.

"That's too expensive for a scene that plays about eight seconds.

"What we have on film now is a question mark. If it doesn't get laughs in the previews we'll cut it. If it gets laughs for the wrong reasons we'll leave it in," he said.

Ransohoff should see Raquel in "Myra Breckinridge." Some of her scenes in that would make a bra and panties scene look Victorian.

Win At Bridge

by Oswald and James Jacoby

Only an expert or a real dud could get himself set at four hearts. Any ordinary player would take the club finesse and repeat it.

When a certain great player held the South hand in a west coast duplicate he refused to take the club finesse and wound up with one of those zero scores. He did have a good reason for his play. It happened that West led the ten of clubs!

South looked the hand over carefully, decided that West just could not hold the club king so South let the ten hold the trick.

West shifted to the ace of spades and the defense collected two spades and a diamond plus the club lost at trick one.

What was his good reason? He had decided that West would never lead from a king of a suit bid by dummy. Then East had to have the club king. It might well be a doubleton. In that case it would fall under the ace at the next lead and there would be two discards on clubs waiting for him. He would make four hearts. All other declarers who got a club lead would be one down.

Unsuccessful, but expert reasoning anyway.

Harper Closer To New Facilities

Harper College is one step closer to breaking ground for new music and science facilities costing $3,300,000.

A state task force has granted tentative approval for cost cutbacks in construction plans for the two facilities. Once the plans are finally approved, construction will begin. College officials are shooting for a spring groundbreaking.

The plans are being reviewed by a special task force appointed by the governor. The governor will not release the state's $2,400,000 share of the project without first trying to trim costs. The two facilities, comprising the first half of Phase II of the construction, were approved by two state education boards in 1970 and 1971.

Harper officials have taken their plans before the task force twice. At the second meeting, held earlier this week, the state officials approved certain cost cutbacks proposed by the Harper board. However, according to Erie Jones, task force chairman, the state will not release the funds until the technical aspects of the proposals are clarified.

"We have approved general construction revisions," said Jones, "but we still have to clear up how these revisions will be made. This is completely normal procedure. The Harper review is going along faster than most."

THE TASK force's main concern, Jones said, is that "Harper just stays within state budget guidelines." These guidelines are set at $30 per square foot. Actual savings in the Harper project will "not be that great," said Jones.

Harper officials have proposed cutting $103,200 from the construction budget. They will save $90,000 by postponing construction of a watering system for a later project. And they will save another $12,000 by reducing the size of an outdoor court area near the music building.

The college's concessions are only two of 18 redesign measures proposed by the task force. The force questioned the necessity of a peripheral road around the campus; the amount of sidewalks; the brick exterior of the building and an elevator in the music building.

The force also proposed cost cuts in the structural frame of the buildings (presently it is concrete); the special roofing; the mechanical, electrical and plumbing equipment, and the number of separate buildings.

ACCORDING TO Harper Board President Milton Hansen, some of the force's proposals were dismissed because they were "future considerations." Other proposals, such as the peripheral road, were justified by the college officials.

If the college receives state funds in time for a spring groundbreaking, the two new facilities should open in the fall of 1973. In order to tide the college over until that time, the board has decided to construct an interim classroom building. Local funds will be used for the $141,116 project in order to avoid the delay of an application for state aid.

The 6,000-square-foot facility is slated for completion next fall. It will include classrooms and laboratories, designed chiefly for career programs. Later, after more buildings are constructed, the new facility will be converted to its original design — a grounds maintenance building.

The college officials presented plans for the new building to the task force at the joint meeting. The force gave construction of the building final approval.

According to College President Robert Lahti, the new building is an emergency measure needed to meet a projected 15 per cent rise in enrollment next year. But he says it will serve as a stopgap for only one year.

China Happily Entered 'Open Door'

Russia...has the undisputed right to the lion's share of the expected prey...The absorption by Russia of a considerable portion of the Chinese Empire is only a matter of time.

—Charles Minister Serge Witte
Of all the humiliations the Celestial Empire suffered in the 19th Century, the worst was defeat by the "dwarfs from beyond the Eastern Sea." In 1894, newly industrialized Japan launched war, quickly showing herself the most rapacious of all the wolves circling China.

This set off a new scramble for concessions and "spheres of influence." Fearful of the commercial consequences if China were carved up into colonies, the United States in 1899 enunciated the principle of the "Open Door." Though essentially an extension of the most-favored-nation clauses guaranteeing equal rights of exploitation to all powers, it to reforms, including a promised constitution and parliament. It was too late, if not too little.

That same year also saw the founding of a revolutionary party, the Kuomintang, by a patriot and expatriate named Sun Yat-sen, who envisioned a thoroughgoing social revolution.

On a fund-raising tour among overseas Chinese in 1911 when revolt erupted in the city of Wuchang on Oct. 10 (the famous "Double Ten"), Sun hurried home to accept the provisional presidency of the newly proclaimed Republic of China. By the end of 1911, most of southern China had thrown off the rule of the Manchus. A long period of anarchy ensued.

Rejecting both capitalism and Marxism, Sun Yat-sen sought something between the two. As later outlined in his "Three Principles of the People," first arise after the fall of the Manchus. Then, alarmed at the growing influence of the Communists, he took the decisive step of his career.

In April, 1927, his troops seized the voiced America's desire to preserve China as a territorial and political entity. For this, China was grateful.

By this time, it was quite clear to many Chinese that their country was doomed unless it rapidly modernized. They gained the support of the well-intentioned but weak Emperor Kuang Hsu. In 1898, for a period of three months, he issued decrees reforming the civil service examinations, streamlining the government, establishing Western-type schools, banks and industries and modernizing the army.

THE "HUNDRED DAYS' Reform" was nullified as quickly as it had begun. For the real power behind the throne was the emperor's aunt, the foreign-hating Dowager Empress Tz'u Hsi. She imprisoned Kuang Hsu and executed many of the reform leaders.

As if in answer to her prayers, there had arisen in north China an anti-foreign, grass-roots movement called the Society of Righteous and Harmonious Fists — "Boxers" to the West. Believing themselves immune to bullets, they massacred thousands of Chinese Christians and hundreds of the hated missionaries who disturbed the spirits of the land with must come national greatness during a period of tutelage by the Kuomintang, or Nationalist Party. The Chinese must substitute national loyalty for family and clan loyalty.

A NEW CHINA was indeed emerging, at least among the urbanized and educated. The everyday language began to be used in literature and the authoritarian family structure to break down. (One rebel against parental authority was an assistant librarian at the University of Peking — Mao Tse-tung.)

Another epic revolution — the Russian — took place in this decade. When the Bolsheviks offered to give up the special privileges (but not the territories) wrung from China by the czars, Sun believed China had finally found a friend.

He agreed to a formal alliance with the Soviet Union in 1923. The Chinese Communists, who had founded their party in 1921, were ordered by the Kremlin to join the Kuomintang.

Sun sent his young chief-of-staff, Chiang Kai-shek, to Moscow to study the Red army.

Sun died in 1925, his dream of a renewed, reunited China unrealized. In 1926, Chiang launched a successful expedition against the warlords, who had

AN IMPORTANT SEMINAR ON MIND CONTROL & ESP

for Everyone Interested in Developing Mental Powers

Recently, many national publications such as Glamour, Life, and the Wall Street Journal featured articles titled "BRAIN WAVES" and "BRAIN TRAINING." These articles discussed a fantastic breakthrough, a new science dealing with the conscious control of brain waves. This new science is called AlphaGenics and concerns itself with the Alpha rhythms of brain. Noted researchers discussed how any person can learn to control brain waves and revealed some of the phenomenal capabilities of man with self-control of his brain waves. Exploration of this almost unknown continent — the human brain — has been pioneered by a soft-spoken para-psychologist, Jose Silva, of the Institute of Psychorhetology in Laredo, Texas. This sincere dedicated scientist has been training people to control their brain waves for many years.

ALPHA BRAIN WAVE CONTROL—Twenty-six years ago Silva and his associates began their research in Mind Control to see if it was possible to increase a person's IQ factor. Amazingly, Silva discovered that not only could IQ be increased, but a person trained in this technique could even control certain areas of the Autonomic System — heart beat, respiration, blood pressure, etc. The implications of this breakthrough with regard to health and disease were staggering. With Mind Control a person could banish pain, accelerate healing, eliminate insomnia, migraine headaches, as well as untold psychosomatic problems, in-depth studies also revealed that anyone with a normal brain and sufficient training could develop so-called ESP and clairvoyance.

45,000 GRADUATES — COAST TO COAST — Five years ago the Institute decided to release their findings to the general public. Techniques have been refined to where only a few hours of class time were all that was required to become a truly effective person.

On August 23, The National Observer discussed Silva mind control in a lengthy article. It describes how once you have mastered actual mind control you can totally relax any time you desire, banish insomnia, anxiety, tensions. Eliminate pain, enhance your learning capacity and memory. Eliminate bad habits, create good habits, control weight and smoking.

Results Guaranteed — By learning to control your alpha waves you will easily develop psychic power and learn practical applications of ESP, become a better student, parent, employee or employer and more effective problem solver.

their ugly churches. They tore down telegraph lines and dug up the railroad tracks that desecrated the graves of their ancestors.

In June, 1900, the Boxers laid siege to the foreign legations in Peking while Tz'u Hsi, violating both Confucian and international morality, looked on approvingly.

"The foreigners are like fish in the stew pan," she said.

After 55 days, an allied rescue force of 20,000 troops reached Peking, which they promptly plundered, and heavy indemnities were levied against the now-doomed Manchus.

IN 1905, a momentous thing happened in China: The ancient Confucianist civil service examinations were abolished.

Finally convinced of China's weakness, the Dowager Empress Tz'u Hsi assented

It's an old saying, but it's never made more sense. There are some jobs in life that you just don't tackle by yourself. The preparation of your income tax should be one of them.

And that's where H & R Block, The Income Tax People, come in. H & R Block is America's largest tax service with more than 6,000 conveniently located offices to serve you. Your H & R Block representative is specially trained and can provide information on legitimate income tax benefits and opportunities that the average man on the street doesn't even know exists.

For instance, do you know all about deductions for child care or casualty losses? Or, that if your income increased over the last few years, you may save tax dollars by "income averaging"? And even if you did, would you know how to go about "income averaging"? To begin with? Probably not. And there's no reason why you should. After all, you're an amateur when it comes to doing income tax.

H & R Block's charges start at $5 and last year averaged under $12.50 for over 7 million returns we prepared.

And, if we make any error in the preparation of your tax return that costs you any interest or penalty on additional taxes due, while we do not assume the liability for the additional taxes, we will pay that interest and penalty. Our one time fee entitles you to year 'round tax service and assistance.

Schools Lead VD, Drug War

School officials are waging battle in health education classes to curb the spiraling spread of venereal disease and drug abuse.

One out of ten high school and college students has reportedly been a victim of venereal disease and one out of four has experimented with illegal drugs. County health officials have declared venereal disease an epidemic. And law officials are losing ground in their efforts to clamp down on drug sales.

Drug abuse and venereal disease are not problems common only to our youth. But the teens — experimenting in sex and synthetic highs — are easy targets.

School officials say they are not moralizing about the two health problems but they feel it is important to give their students information on drugs and venereal disease so they can make responsible decisions.

Traditionally, drugs and venereal disease are discussed in a six week segment of health education sandwiched into a semester-long physical education course.

Recently, however, the High School Dist. 214 Curriculum Council proposed a semester-long course in human development to focus on the psychological, not the physiological, aspects of the health problems. Teachers say the course is designed to explore interpersonal relationships and personal responsibility.

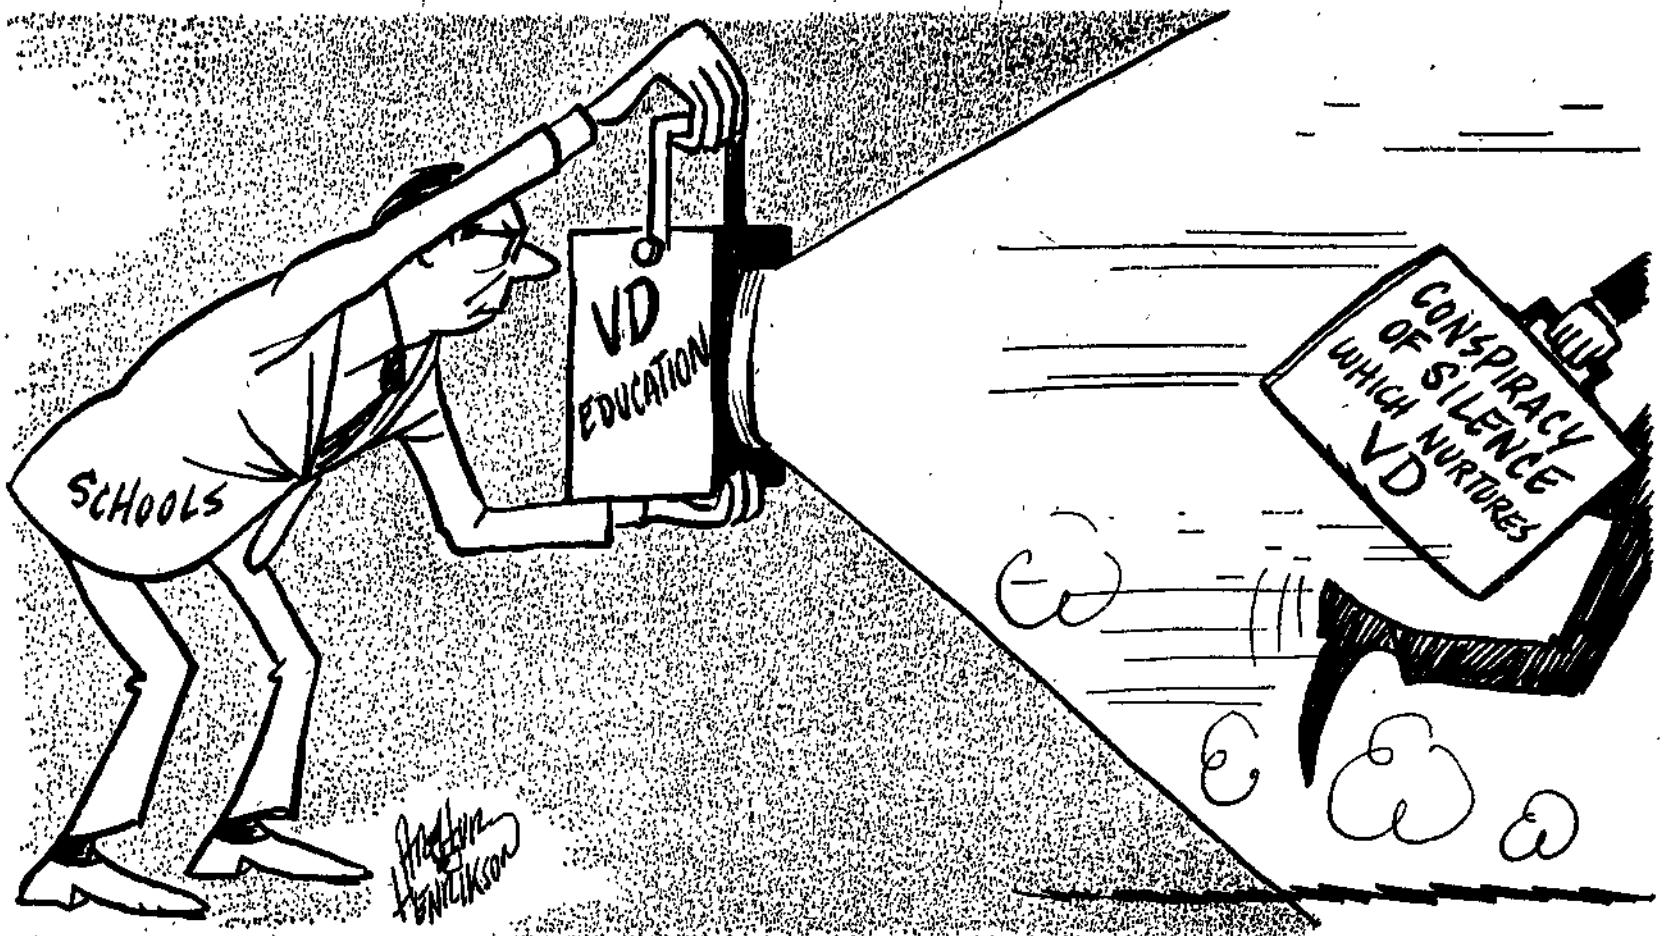

Dist. 214 has taken a progressive step — one that should make its mark. It takes more than a health warning to caution people, as America's millions of tobacco smokers have proven. To be successful, an education program must also delve into motives and factors creating the problem.

But it is important to remember that it is not the sole responsibility of the schools to fight these two health problems. It is a multi-faceted responsibility that begins in the home and extends to the doctor's office.

The doctor's role is important, particularly in the case of venereal disease. The American Medical Association reports that only ten per cent of the private doctors report venereal disease cases to county health departments. Their negligence makes it doubly difficult for the health department to track an infected person's sexual contacts.

Until all private doctors share the schools' commitment to curb the disease, it will be a losing battle. It is only by curing all infected persons that the epidemic can be stopped. The physicians' laxity is near criminal.

A team effort involving parents along with school, government and medical officials is essential to defeat drug abuse and venereal disease. The schools are trying to set an example. It is time the rest of the community followed.

Voting Machines: Who Won?

by ROGER CAPELLINI
Metropolitan Editor

Rivalry in importance only by the President's trip to China, the efficiency and honesty of elections in Cook County this week took a giant step toward perfection.

Actually that stride, taken by the county board at its meeting Tuesday, only got us back to where we were a few weeks ago.

Or even maybe a little shy of that point.

What the board did Tuesday, in its wisdom, was to approve a motion made by Comr. Floyd T. Fulle of Des Plaines, designed to bail the county clerk's election division out of its most recent crisis.

The problem started several weeks ago with the now famous newspaper reports on widespread waste and mismanagement in the county government. Among others, the finger of blame was pointed at the election division for employing too many voting machine mechanics.

The next chapter of this story had Fulle recommending certain reductions in the county budget, including one to fire 23 of the 27 voting machine workers, thereby saving $174,000.

As part of that amendment, Fulle included a clause which would permit Edward J. Barrett, county clerk, to hire 24 part-time workers for a total of one month a year.

For once the 10 Democrats on the board did not gang up on their Republican counterpart. Not in their customary manner, that is.

Instead of voting against the Fulle amendment, most simply did not vote.

Two of them voted against Fulle just to make it look good and the rest of them sat around in their velvet chairs saying things like, "Okay, if that's what you suburban (meaning Republican) commissioners want, that's what you'll get. Far be it for us city commissioners (read that Daleyites) to tell you what is best for elections in suburban Cook County."

After all, it did not affect them. They control only the machines which are used to get Republicans elected. The more befuddled the election in suburbia, the better.

Barrett & Company said it could not work. "All suburban voting districts will use paper ballots for the primary," they waived publicly. Privately, they thought it was a pretty good idea.

That brings us back to Tuesday — the day for the giant step for mankind, or at least for mankind in Cook County.

County Board Pres. George W. Dunne

reviewed reports during the meeting from both Barrett and a consulting firm hired to study the county operation. Both said the same thing — additional men and money is needed if the machines are to be ready in time for the election. Surprise.

And then the board decided to approve Fulle's motion.

A remarkable, progressive and enlightened advance to say the least. Right back to where we started a few weeks ago.

"Not so," some will cry. "These men who will do this work now will be on the county payroll only long enough to complete this task."

Good point. Except those 15 men are not the run-of-the-mill type political hacks found loitering around city hall waiting for a handout or a patronage job, whichever comes first.

No, these men will come from Philadelphia to do the job.

You see, they are expert mechanics from the Shoup Voting Machine factory just outside Philadelphia.

Now they don't come cheap. And rest assured some vague promise and a glad-hand from some alderman is not going to satisfy them.

The last time anyone checked, the going price for these experts was $7.50 an hour. For the first eight hours of course. And that was the price two years ago. The current rate and the overtime rate is unknown right now, but you can bet it hasn't gone down.

Even if these men work only eight-hour days between now and the election, their combined pay from Cook County will exceed $20,000. But before the voting machines are going to be ready for this election someone is going to work a lot of overtime, Saturdays and Sundays.

Add to the salaries about $9 per man per day for meals.

Don't forget the cost of their motel rooms.

And who do you think is going to pick up the tab for their round-trip air tabs? You guessed it — Cook County.

All of this is on top of the 24 part-time workers hired about 10 days ago to lend a hand. Their pay is no longer included in the budget, either.

We won't know what happened to us until the election is over. We saved $174,000 by firing almost 80 per cent of the work force. Now we fly in experts at super pay rates to do the work.

Did we save or lose? We'll know in a few weeks.

But if you're the type who may be inclined to enter into a little oddsmaking on these possibilities, you might consider this: If the machines are ready, but the preparation costs more money and thereby embarrasses some Republicans, the Democrats win.

What do you think will happen? Yiz puts down yer moneys and yiz takes yer chances.

Citizens Praised

Last evening, Monday, February 21, I had the pleasure of participating in a ceremony honoring Schaumburg citizens who volunteered in the "Clean Creek" program of last September. The Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago was pleased to honor these wonderful citizens through its "Clean Water" Department.

It was my pleasure to join Trustee Valentine Janicki in presenting the certificates of appreciation, clean water pins and membership cards. Your newspaper played an important role in getting this "Clean Creek" program properly advertised and moving to a successful conclusion.

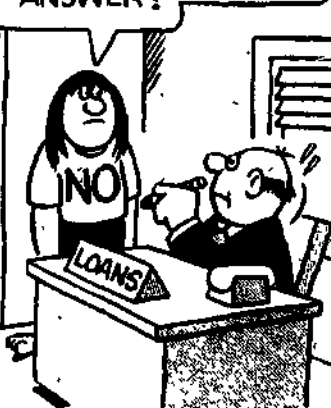

Your community must be hailed for what was achieved and will encourage surrounding communities to do something similar. Your Mayor Robert O. Atcher must be highly complimented, along with Ken Dopp and Jack Larsen and all who worked on last year's "Clean Creek."

I was proud to be a part of the ceremony honoring those wonderful volunteers — Schaumburg's finest.

Rats And Children

A psychologist has discovered that both children and rats prefer to work for their rewards rather than get them for free.

Dr. Devendra Singh, assistant professor of psychology at the University of Texas, reports in Psychology Today magazine that when given a choice between getting marbles by pressing a bar or merely sitting and waiting for them to roll out, children, "regardless of their culture, sex, IQ, and need-achievement," preferred to get their rewards by working.

Similarly, he found that a majority of rats tested preferred to obtain food pellets by working for them — that is, by pressing bars — than through free-loading.

However, when the test was rigged so that the rats got twice as many pellets by not working, a large majority of them turned to free-loading.

Every rat has its price, says

Singh, and if we make the temptation attractive enough it will begin to free-load.

Nevertheless, he sums up, "It appears that the desire to work for a living is quite widespread. An organism likes to be active and control its environment."

He cites as an example the superstitious magic of primitive tribes in which people stage elaborate rituals to get a good crop or to bring rain, etc.

"Objectively none of this behavior changes anything," says Singh, "but the important thing is that these rituals give persons the feeling that they — somehow — control the environment and hence can get what they want."

Presumably this applies also to psychologists and their sometimes elaborate rituals — opps, experiments — which really change nothing, including the sum total of human knowledge.

One Shiny Penny

If you're having thoughts about the metric system, and more and more people are as it becomes clear that the United States must eventually adopt this system of measurement, here's a penny for them:

A penny is a handy way of visualizing two of the metric scale units, says Carl E. Dutton of the U.S. Geological Survey. He points out that the figure "1" in the date is one millimeter long. The letters "ONE CENT" on the reverse are two millimeters high. The top of the Lincoln Memorial is one centimeter (10 millimeters) wide.

Well, it's a start.

Wheeling Government Draws Fire

Way back in May, 1971, after the Wheeling Village election, Mr. James Stavros was quoted as saying, "... we're in. We'll do as we want." Since then I have watched with disbelief the machinations in the village hall as "we" have been doing "as we want." Personnel within the "family" is being shifted about in an apparent effort to make "our" executive and administrative groups a tight little unit, impenetrable from outsiders like the citizens of Wheeling whose taxes support the operation of the village and whom they supposedly represent. "Our" machine could almost out-Daley Daley's.

Over a year ago it was common gossip that "we" had chosen a certain man to be the next village manager. Somehow, that plan didn't work at that time. Now, that same "chosen one" seems to be approaching the manager spot in a series of moves from Trustee to Administrative Assistant to Director of Public Safety with most of the duties and powers of Manager as outlined in the state statutes. So "we" seem to be working "our" man around to Manager under another title.

One ex-Trustee, a loyal supporter, was placed on the Police and Fire Commission to replace the Commissioner appointed Trustee to replace the above mentioned "chosen one" on the Board. Do you follow that? It has been said that "we" have long wanted more say-so in the Police and Fire Departments. Now, with "our" man on the Commission and "our" Director of Public Safety, one wonders what "we" plan for these departments. It is also said that the present Chief of Police is retiring in September after twenty years of service. The juggling and shuffling of people at that time will no doubt be something to behold as "we" do "as we want."

Another ex-Trustee has returned here after about a year and a half residence in another state. Time will tell whether his "quip" about returning in time to be able to run for office in the next village election was really a quip or if in reality his return is not a recall to active "family" duty.

Local Woman Hits Day Care Centers

I am against day care centers. This country will be heading into a state-controlled care of children and probably the collapse of the democratic way of life. Availability to day care centers only tempts the mothers to get away, instead of facing the responsibility of raising their own children.

Parents of two- and three-year-old children, who leave the training and molding of their children in the hands of strangers, are contributing to the breakdown of American family life. More emphasis should be put on the pride, challenges and rewards there are to be found in the serious business of loving and guiding your own children.

The liberation movement of League of Women Voters have opened Pandora's box. Along with their so-called freedom, they have lost sight of their responsibilities and dignity.

Business Today

by LEROY POPE
NEW YORK (UPI) — Productivity bargaining between labor and management, now practiced in Europe but little known on this side of the Atlantic, may be the real savior of American industry, two experts said today.

"Most American management officials who bargain with unions have become 'professional losers' because they don't expect to get anything in return for the wage increases they grant," said E. G. Fremont, Jr., chairman of the Emerson Co., a management consulting firm.

Labor, management and the government all will have to face up to the peril caused by the productive muscle of Europe and Japan and the serious drop in the late 1960s in the productivity of American labor, says Jerome M. Rosow, former assistant secretary of labor, now an important official of Standard Oil Co., New Jersey.

Fremont said free collective bargaining in the United States now seldom is bargaining at all, since management doesn't set out with any clear goals and doesn't expect to achieve anything by negotiating with the union. It just hopes to lose as little as possible and pass the added cost on to the customers. But the country has reached a stage where this process won't work any longer; the public and the nation can't afford to keep on paying the higher prices.

THIS STAGE WAS reached at least a decade ago in Europe, says Rosow, and European employers began, first in Britain and then on the Continent, to bargain successfully for real productivity increases in return for wage boosts, better working conditions and guarantees against layoffs.

Rosow took part in the landmark negotiations that introduced the new art of productivity bargaining in 1961 at Esso's Fawley refinery in England. In the 10 years since that agreement, output per manhour at Fawley has grown 182 per cent. Production has increased 43 per cent and the working force has been reduced 50 per cent with the agreement of the unions.

Rosow doesn't credit productivity bargaining at Fawley for the whole gain. There was considerable engineering modernization at the refinery during this period. But he said in a recent article in the Harvard Business Review that the gain due to productivity bargaining was substantial. He listed 14 areas of rules, procedures and policies in which the British unions negotiated changes to increase productivity in return for higher wages and job security at Fawley.

Fremont and Rosow listed more than 30 successful examples of productivity bargaining in Britain and Europe in the past decade.

FREMONT SAYS the big distinction between productivity bargaining and the kind of labor bargaining that goes on in the United States is in the side that takes the initiative.

Under the older system, labor holds the initiative throughout, usually demanding considerably more than union leaders really think they can get and backing the demand with a strike threat.

Under the new system, management takes the initiative, making an offer to the union of so much money in return for certain changes and operational improvements that will boost productivity.

The union, of course, seeks to raise the price but in order to do so it must bargain on the requested changes and even agree to ultimate proportional reduction of the working force by attrition.

Fremont and Rosow both see productivity bargaining greatly reducing strike threats and at the same time raising the output per man hour of American industry rather fast.

by JOHN M. WILLIAMS
UPI Business Writer
NEW YORK (UPI) — The ski industry in the northeastern United States already is some $104 million in the red this season because of unseasonably warm weather in the early months, according to a UPI survey.

The lack of snow has hurt nearly every segment of the industry. Some spokesmen remain optimistic. But the facts show that it will take a lot of snow to undo the damage done by the spring-like weather the area had in December, January and the first half of February.

According to Ski Industry of America, gross retail sales, including lodging, travel, lift tickets, all ski related business, ran about $1.3 billion in 1971. According to the survey, 40 per cent of that business came from the Northeast.

IT WOULD BE safe to assume then that if the loss, this season was on a 20 per cent average, as indicated in the survey, the Northeast ski industry has lost about $204 million.

The industry is uneasy. Well it should be. Skiing without snow is like sailing without wind. You go nowhere. Likewise the profits.

The problem, curiously, is limited only to certain areas of the Northeast. There are some ski resorts which claim to be having "fantastic" seasons. According to them, they've had plenty of snow.

According to the National Weather Service, the reason for the odd, warm winter lies in the pattern of the jetstream, or flow of upper atmosphere air. Spokesmen say the cold, Arctic air, which usually dips into the Northeast in December, is late. It has remained further north, covering Canada and upper portions of the northeastern states.

CANADIAN SKI resorts, and those U.S. resorts bordering Canada, have had an excellent season, according to the survey. For example, Mt. Tremblant, 80 miles north of Montreal, reported "record attendance." A spokesman there said 95 per cent of its skiers were American.

While the northern resorts have benefited from the winter, the ski industry to the south has scrambled for what profits it can glean from those who will put up with man-made snow, icy slopes, bare spots, rain and slush.

'68 Chevy Recall Under Way

Chevrolet has begun mailing certified letters to nearly 1.3 million owners of 1968 Chevrolet, Camaro and Nova cars with V-8 engines urging them to take the cars to a dealer for free installation of restraints to limit rotation of the engine should an engine mount separate.

Following completion of that mailing, similar notification will be sent to owners of another 4.3 million cars of other model years in the following sequence: Chevrolet, Camaro, and Nova models — 1967 and then 1969 — Chevrolet and Nova (Chevy II) models — 1966 and then 1965. Owners of about 570,000 certain light Chevrolet and GMC trucks also will be notified when the passenger car mailings are completed.

Only vehicles with V-8 engines are included in the recall. Chevelles, Corvettes, and six-cylinder models are not involved.

It is estimated that the mailing will require from 60 to 90 days to complete. For that reason, a spokesman said, owners of vehicles involved in the recall should keep in mind the order in which their particular model year notification is scheduled for mailing.

Upon receipt of the notification, owners are requested to make an appointment with the dealer's service department to establish a time for the modification. In most cases, the modification itself takes less than 30 minutes to install.

by CARLTON SMITH
At first you just don't believe it. After all, why should these two very prosperous-looking characters sit down and start confessing to you — or to Murray Bloom — all the sordid (if fascinating) details of how they've been rigging stocks, pushing off dogs on "the mooches," knocking off $50,000 here, a quarter of a million there?

But after a bit you know that Phil and Jerry are real. They name names, relate their stories to checkable facts. Among them is the fact that Jerry Allen was under indictment for stock manipulation while he was talking — and that's something you can check in the newspaper clips.

Why they talk so freely may continue to puzzle you, right to the end, but you'll have no doubts about it all being real, and they come very much alive in a book that's not going to make Wall Street very happy: "Rogues to Riches," by Murray Teigh Bloom.

HOW HE GOT them to talk in his own secret, but Murray Bloom is a superb reporter who ranged from New York to Montreal to Paris and Zurich putting together the pieces of his story.

While federal authorities were still looking, unsuccessfully, for the "bag-man" in the $150-million collapse of the Atlantic Acceptance Corp., Bloom flew to a rendezvous in Canada to meet him — and again here was someone who would, unaccountably, talk — giving names, dates, the amounts of money that had changed hands.

You meet "Bluntschli," rogueland's code name for a Swiss banker who officially earns $12,000 a year. Unofficially, $200,000 — and he tells you how the secret Swiss bank accounts really work, which is much hairier than you thought.

There aren't many code names, or anonymous singers. Most of it's on the record, and the names include those of a number of Wall Street firms that cherish respectable reputations. If you ever expect to invest more than $10 in the stock market, we recommend that you read "Rogues to Riches," hitting the bookstores just about now.

EVEN IF you're not a potential investor you'll find it some of this season's most delightful reading. Murray Bloom, the author of last year's bestseller, "The Trouble With Lawyers," is a writer who can spin a tale right along with Scheherazade. But funnier. If you can get through the book without falling off your chair at least once, you have to be wearing a seat belt.

Most of all, though, it's a different kind of Wall Street book because it's not written about Wall Street, like the others, but from inside Wall Street. As the author says in his introduction, these are people who "spend most of their time making money — or trying to — by speculating, by looking for The Method, by persuading others they've found it." And they talk, and they tell all — or very close to it.

"While the book is, in part, a how-to on moneymaking," says Murray Bloom, "it is also a guide for the prudent man in the marketplace."

Amen.

O'Hare Won't Be Shut Down

Shutting down the night jet traffic at O'Hare International Airport, one suggestion for curbing the bothersome round-the-clock noise in the airport environs, was discounted by Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) chairman Secor Brown in favor of other, long-range plans.

An airport curfew could bring prompt relief to the residents of communities near the airport. The (CAB) and other agencies have other plans in mind however. Brown, in Chicago Thursday for a speech before the Commerce Club, indicated that long-range solutions are in the planning stages.

Brown said he is looking toward the development of "good neighbor" aircraft as the answer to the noise pollution complaints of an "articulate, voting population." The imposition of a curfew on flights would be more likely in the jurisdiction of local government, rather than federal officials, he said.

Curfew on jet flights already are in effect at the London and Paris airports and the present Tokyo airport, said Brown. Stating that this would discourage international carriers from servicing an airport, Brown said a curfew would only be a stumbling block for international passenger service and hurt the air freight industry.

"The answer to the noise problem is the continuing effort to make a better aircraft," said Brown. He cited the DC-10 and the 747 jets and the Lockheed L1011 jets as improved versions.

ANOTHER MEANS of dealing with the noise pollution problem in airport areas is to devote the land use to industrial purposes. He cited the Dallas-Fort Worth, Texas area as an example of this plan.

In the meantime what consolation could he give the apartment dwellers and homeowners living near O'Hare who cannot benefit from the long range plans for some time? Brown said, "This same noise level that would diminish the value of a house could mean that the property would later be more valuable as an industrial property."

William Downes Jr., Chicago's aviation commissioner who accompanied Brown on part of his Chicago visit agreed that a curfew is "out of the question for the city of Chicago. There are some cities where this is done but we can't see this for O'Hare," he said.

Downes said a better solution is the determination by the federal government of acceptable noise levels at the nation's airports. "Local controls would confuse the scheduling procedures, adversely affect the airline payrolls and hurt property values," he said.

Brown also discussed the development of supersonic aircraft. He said the nation should commit itself to this project but added that any SST flights should not be directed over populous areas.

Harry Bouras First Exhibit

Countryside In New Home

by GENIE CAMPBELL

Members of Countryside Art Center are smiling. Why not? A new home almost three times as big as their former one and offering all kinds of added comforts and facilities is indeed cause enough to crack a lot of grins and exude a great deal of pride.

Arlington Heights Village Manager L. A. Hanson cut the ribbon last Sunday to officially open the new gallery.

Once Countryside was notified by the village, which owns the property, that the center could move into the vacated nursing home at 414 N. Vail, artists traded in their small brushes and palette knives for more substantial tools in remodeling the large two-story frame house to suit their own special needs.

IN ADDITION TO a complete paint job upstairs and down, special lighting has also been installed in the front rooms of the lower level to provide the best environment for exhibiting purposes.

Upstairs the rooms have been sectioned off for art classes that begin next Monday. Drawing, painting, photography, weaving and special instruction for children are included in this 10-week session.

It is the first time that Countryside has not had to enlist outside help in finding locations in which to hold classes. Members no longer have to for now their own facilities are adequate.

But there was more available for guests attending last Sunday afternoon's festivities than partaking in the champagne reception.

AS NOTEWORTHY as the actual dedication is the first exhibit to be shown in the new gallery, "DVs," by Chicago artist Harry Bouras.

He is primarily known as a regal sculptor and teacher and a most gregarious personality. Yet the matter at hand at Countryside is an exhibit of his provoking mushroom drawings.

It's impossible to lightly brush off Bouras' work. There's much more than meets the untrained eye... much more than a rubber-stamped mushroom figure being smeared amid a tangle of red dots. The interpretation is far more important than the visible mechanics.

In fact Bouras is even more concerned that the message in his work be grasped than that his work be recognized as art.

"IF PEOPLE OVERLOOK the art part, that's all right if they see roughly what they're about," he said in explaining several pieces of his work at the opening Sunday.

"The thing that brought them into existence is the use of art. But the content is by far more important to me than any identification of art."

Many of Bouras' mushroom drawings are made up of a series of frame-by-frame sequences showing an individual figure (man is symbolized as a mushroom) smashing against obstacles and barriers in search of escape.

It is a commentary on our society, pointing out how any form of "deviate" behavior is thwarted. It culminates in a plea for people to assert their individuality in a rapidly dehumanizing world.

"The use of the mushroom in symbolizing man started by mistake in 1964," said Bouras. Although a noted sculptor he draws in order to stay fresh. Mushrooms began to interest him as an item to sketch when he found them in abundance near a home he owns in Galena.

GRADUALLY THE diversity of the symbolism attached to the mushroom began to unravel for him. And in the last three years the mushroom has taken on more serious meaning.

"It turned into a rivet, a mushroom cloud (denoting man's destructive capacities), proliferation and then man himself," he said.

The grid marks in his pieces are all very relevant in depicting isolation and imprisonment. The red dots in so many of his drawings represent the reconnaissance scanning devices used in charting people's motion... "today's snooping devices" as he refers to them.

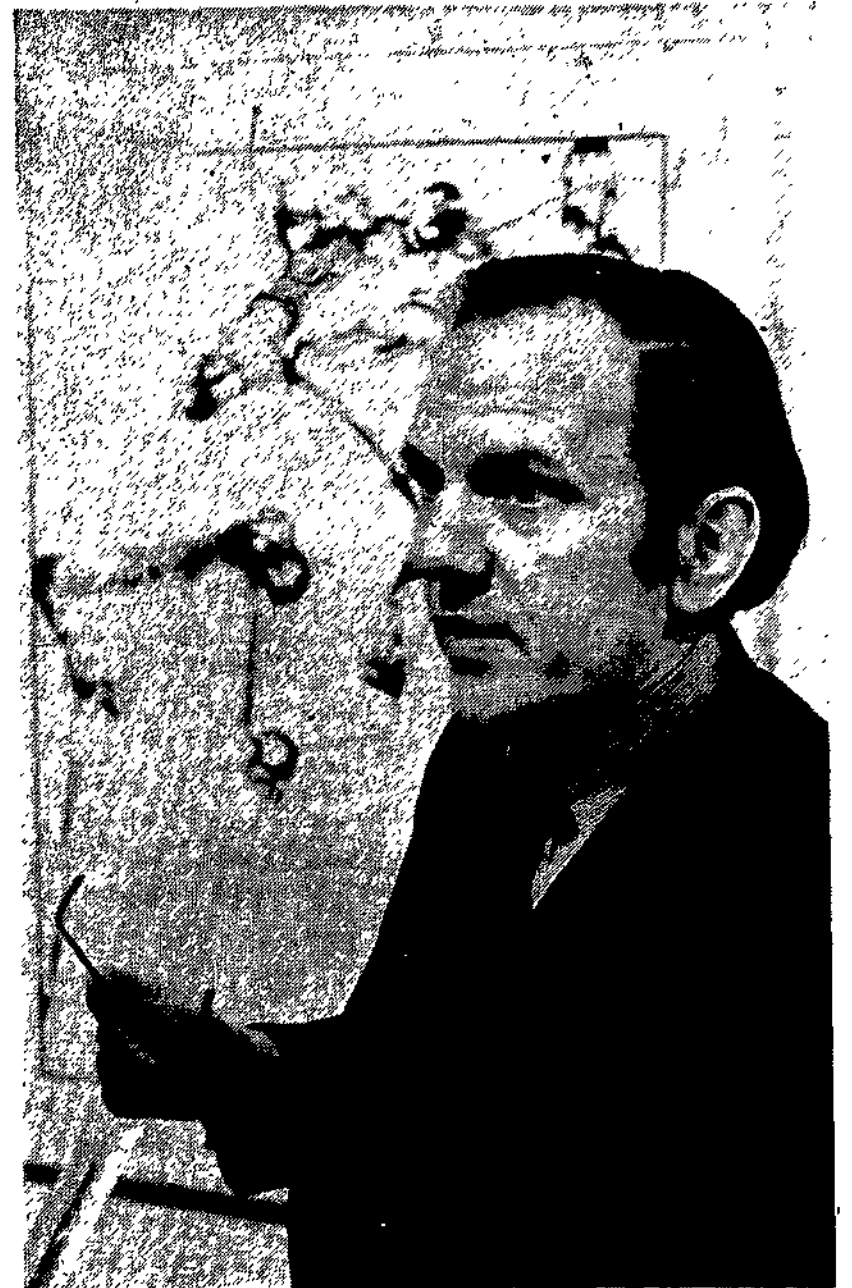

In one drawing Bouras traces the movement of one mushroom "probing to get out... going around hysterically and as it moves, totally shattering itself trying to escape its constant surveillance. "Why should someone be under surveillance for any form of deviate or hysterical behavior? For instance, deviation is fundamental to artists in our society," Bouras declared.

IN OTHER SERIES of drawings, Bouras has the mushroom or man imprisoned on a plane... resisting at first but gradually losing momentum and finally wasting away altogether. He is singled out by a heavy beam of light in another.

Once one realizes what Bouras is saying... the day becomes a bit more depressing.

The host of WFMT's "Critic's Choice" is currently doing a series of eight by 12-foot very intricate grid mushroom drawings in order to sum up his statements for museums.

"DVs" will continue on exhibit at Countryside Art Gallery through March 20.

COMMUNICATING his ideas. Well-known Chicago artist Harry Bouras attended the opening of his own exhibit, the first to be hung in the new residence of Countryside Art Center.

A CHAMPAGNE PUNCH greeted guests as they came through the door of the new gallery.

SURROUNDED BY the mushroom invasion of Harry Bouras, Karen Lundie of Niles and Tom Phillips of Mount Prospect survey the exhibiting facilities of Countryside Art Center's new gallery at 414 N. Vail in Arlington Heights. An official dedication was held last Sunday to introduce community residents to the new location. Countryside originally was housed across the street at 407 N. Vail.

Medley

"THEY WROTE some of the 'Cabaret' songs for me. I waited five years to sing them in a movie."

Liza Minnelli In 'Cabaret'

Finally, The Role She Wanted

by JOYCE GABRIEL

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The year is 1931. In a smoke-filled night club in Berlin, Sally Bowles sings her young heart out to a jaded audience. Her green-enamelled fingernails catch the rays of the spotlight, an eerie color in the night club's gloom. Her eyes — huge brown orbs — are fringed with incredibly long, obviously false lashes. A green sequin dots her cheek. "Come to the Cabaret, old chum," she pleads.

"Life is a Cabaret."

It is, of course, all illusion. Sally Bowles has never existed except in the mind of novelist Christopher Isherwood, who immortalized her in his "Berlin Stories," and in the hearts of those who saw the two plays and the movies about her. Sally Bowles is brought to life by Liza Minnelli, courtesy of Allied Artists' new movie musical, "Cabaret."

SALLY BOWLES is a kook, a whore, a role-player, a vulnerable young girl who longs to be a femme fatale. And Liza Minnelli plays the role with just the right combination of 'jadedness' and innocence. A whitful portrait. One is convinced that surely Liza must be Sally to portray her so well.

Surely she is not. The bellboy and I arrived at Liza Minnelli's Plaza suite at the same time. He had come to take Steve for a walk. Steve is Liza's Sheltie, one of Liza's four dogs, a frisky, gawky puppy.

The stark white 1930s make-up worn by Liza in the film, is gone. What is left is Liza Minnelli, looking fresh and tailored: little make-up, a green knit pantsuit with a black sweater, simple silver bracelets on her wrists. Her large brown eyes dominate her small face.

SALLY BOWLES immediately would have told the visitor her entire life story, made up to shock and startle. But Liza Minnelli is not Sally Bowles. What she does talk about is her film. She is pleased with it. She loved director Bob Fosse, who helped her tremendously with her performance.

Liza has known for a long time that she would play the lead in the movie, "Cabaret."

"Actually," she says, "some of the songs were written with me in mind. John Kander and Fred Webb (the composers) are good friends. When they decided to write the musical, they wanted me for the lead. That was five years ago. Then they decided a British girl would be better."

Jill Haworth did the role on Broadway.

But Liza hadn't given up on playing Sally.

"I KNEW THERE would be a movie made from the play," she said, "and I wanted it. I decided I'd just have to have enough film credits by then to get the part."

She did "The Sterile Cuckoo" and then "Tell Me That You Love Me, Junie Moon" and, voila, by the time the movie producers were ready, so was Liza.

"Cabaret" has been my theme song for five years," she explained. "When I get requests from the audience at clubs they always ask for it. In fact, when I was performing in Paris, the producers of the movie were in the audience. When I sang 'Cabaret,' they sent a note back saying, 'If you sing it that way in the movie, you'll be the greatest Sally ever.'"

The night I saw the movie, after Liza Minnelli sang "Cabaret," the audience burst into applause.

IF SALLY BOWLES WERE asked if she liked interviews, she would say, "Of course; I just love to talk about myself."

When Liza Minnelli is asked the same question, she says, "No. I hate them."

Liza's life, unlike Sally's, is not for all comers. She does not prepackage answers.

The strange little tilt you feel and that certain something in the air as you step outside these mornings means you can start watching for the first robin. With spring, comes vacation planning, and if you're addicted to wading in history, I have a few suggestions.

We are a young country, but we have many historic settings in good preservation. True, we don't have pyramids or palaces, but we do respect our heritage, as you'll see when visiting these spots:

Old Deerfield, Deerfield, Mass. This is not an organized restoration, as such, but is simply a typical 18th century town, preserved by its citizens for the enjoyment of all.

Shelburne Museum, Shelburne, Vt. Thirty-five buildings and the sidewheeler S.S. Ticonderoga, covering three centuries of American life.

Do I need mention Colonial Williamsburg, Williamsburg, Va.? Everything about this place is superlative. Try it in the spring.

The Henry F. DuPont Winterthur Museum, Winterthur, Del. A home of over one hundred period rooms, painstakingly furnished. One of the richest assemblage of American decorative arts ever brought together.

Old Salem, Winston-Salem, N.C. Site of the Moravian congregation town founded in 1766. Restorations of southern homes dating from 1690 to 1818.

Mystic Seaport, Mystic, Conn. Features major waterborne vessels, including a wooden whaleship and numerous small craft. Planetarium and craft shops related to shipping industry. The children will love it!

Plymouth Plantation, Plymouth, Mass. Home of the Mayflower II and a 1627 colony in action. Nearby fort and Indian camp are open to visitors.

Old Starbridge Village, Starbridge, Mass. Two hundred acres of rolling meadow and woodland with a collection of 30 exhibit buildings. Life in a typical Yankee community in the years directly following the Revolution.

Historic Salem, Salem, Mass. Don't mention the witches — they would rather you enjoy the architecture, sailing ships and legends of Nathaniel Hawthorne. For dinner, try the scrod, anywhere in the Boston area. Delicious!

Greenfield Village, Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, Mich. Somewhat closer to home and unique in setting, this is a panorama of American life from Colonial times to the dawn of the 20th century. Our children's favorite place.

Historic Georgetown, Washington, D.C. Combine your trip to the Capitol with a visit to this beautiful area for a blending of history and unique architecture. Two tips: There is no parking; take a cab. And don't trip over the hippies.

Sleepy Hollow and Phillips Manor, Tarrytown, N.Y. America's newest restoration, just recently completed. A little gem.

The Farmers' Museum, Cooperstown, N.Y. A stirring story of our agrarian past with a museum of American history and folk art.

Nantucket Island, Mass. Hard to reach but worth the trip. Not just an amusement park or "plasticland." This is what it was all about in early New England days when whaling and strong men of the sea were shaping an important economy.

If you have questions on any of these restorations, I have further information. Please write Grace Carolyn Dahlberg in care of Suburban Living, Paddock Publications, Box 280, Arlington Heights, Ill. 60006.

The Book Stall

"FIRST DAY ON THE SOMME," BY MARTIN MIDDLEBROOK.

Norton, $8.95

On July 1, 1916, at dawn, the World War I British army in France sent 15 divisions out of their trenches against the German army. It was to be The Great Breakthrough. By nightfall, the remnants of the divisions were back in those trenches.

The one day the British army suffered some 60,000 casualties.

Author Middlebrook takes the reader through that day when almost everything went wrong. Bad security had tipped off the Germans to the attack. The artillery barrage before the attack failed to break the German fortifications. The men were told to attack too late. Tanks were not used. The Germans had superior positions, the British too few medical supplies.

Middlebrook paints his canvas with hundreds of anecdotes and incidents, bringing alive the men in the mud and dugouts and shellholes and command posts. And that produces one of the most effective books of military history on World War I.

When "Wully" Robertson, chief of Britain's Imperial General Staff, in an incident not in this book, visited the muddy mooncape that was the battleground, he surveyed the miles of mire and blood and burst into tears. "You mean we sent men into that?" he asked an aide.

Richard H. Grawald (UPI)

"BICYCLE ON THE BEACH," BY PETER VIERTEL.

Delacorte, $7.95

This is the tale of the young man drawn from his innocence by an older woman.

One summer in California, just before the outbreak of World War II, 15-year-old Carl Woolf goes for a bicycle ride and encounters Pamela Gordon, the 27-year-old wife of an actor. One tryst leads to another and before long the two are madly in love. Unfortunately, the romance is cut short when Pam is summoned back to London where she remains for the next 25 years.

In the interval, Carl goes to college and to war and finally to the film industry. During this quarter of a century, he meets and loves many women, but his mind never leaves his first love, until one day, almost by chance, they meet again, reminisce and part forever.

Viertel, who is married to actress Deborah Kerr, unravels a convincing tale, well written in its love scenes and enhanced by today's penchant for nostalgia.

"THE SCORPION GOD," BY WILLIAM GOLDING.

Harcourt Brace Jovanovich, $8.95

The first, and little piece, of these three short novels by the author of "Lord of the Flies," takes place in ancient Egypt. The God-King ruler must prove himself able to hold up the sky, bring the annual spring floods in the right amount to provide prosperous times and take his young daughter as his bride. Royalty is allowed only incestuous relations.

One of these responsibilities proves too much for him and he is allowed to commit suicide. The God-King's son, a sub-teen, doesn't feel he can hold up the sky and doesn't like the idea of marrying his older sister either.

"Clong Clong" goes even further back, to just post-caveman times. The ladies of the tribe run things and allow the men their nights out for hunting while they cook up some home brew and wait for the men's return. Having the ladies run things doesn't work out as well as fem-lies would think.

"Envoy Extraordinary," we are promised in the cover notes, shows Golding as a writer of "exuberant comedy." This story is set in the time of an aging Roman emperor. Perhaps, instead of Caesar III, he might better have been named Mackius Sennett(us).

Scott Peters (UPI)

"HIGH ARCTIC," BY GEORGE MIKSCH SUTTON.

Paul S. Eriksson, $12.95

An expedition to the northernmost region of the Western Hemisphere may not seem to be as exciting as a jungle safari or an onslaught on a treacherous mountain because the only drawback is the weather.

But the weather near the Arctic Circle is inhospitable except for a brief time during the "summer."

George Miksch Sutton, internationally respected ornithologist and professor emeritus of zoology at the University of Oklahoma, braved the awesome cold which adventures many years has junior might shun to describe his journey to uninhabited Bathurst Island.

Sutton took the trip in late spring at the invitation of the National Museum of Natural Sciences in Ottawa to observe the wildlife of the Arctic.

Along with expedition members who were familiar with the snowy wasteland, Sutton shared the enjoyment of spotting rock ptarmigan, ivory gulls, purple sandpipers and other birds.

Although he is not a fancy writer, Sutton spins a narrative that builds up suspense in describing the struggle of this animal kingdom against the elements.

Sutton also is well known as an artist and the book contains 11 full color paintings which may be obtained for framing in a limited supply of portfolios at $14.95.

"High Arctic" is a refreshing book.

William D. Laffler (UPI)

"THE FOREST AND WETLANDS OF NEW YORK CITY," BY ELIZABETH BARLOW.

Little Brown, $5.95

Where the New York of skyscrapers and sprawling highways gives way to nature, something almost magical occurs. Civilization disappeared. The reader, though, may be somewhat repelled at what man has done to the land.

The author offers a combined historical and guided tour through the remaining open areas of the nation's largest city, and the result is a delight. Ordinary salt marshes, boulders left by the Great Glacier and bird sanctuaries take on an extra aura of wonder because of their proximity to all that cement, steel and smog.

Miss Barlow records the individual brand of person who takes advantage of these nature refuges and the struggles of those who have fought to save them from development, too often fruitlessly. A highly enjoyable book that, with today's sensitivity concern in the environment, is also a significant one.

COMING: KOTCH

The current success of religious-based rock music has spawned the inevitable school of imitators and successors. Thus it becomes the task of the listener to separate the wheat from the chaff. "Godspell" (Bell 1102), the musical play based on St. Matthew's Gospel, must fall by the wayside with the chaff.

Very few of the songs work in the low-key style that predominates the arrangements. It is fine to limit the orchestra to piano, organ, guitars, drum and bass, but then a heavier burden is placed on the songs' lyrics. Those not taken from the Bible and the music are mainly supplied by Stephen Schwartz.

Often Schwartz has tried to be clever, only to come across as cute. A good example of this is the last song on side one, "Light of the World," which includes: "You are the salt of the earth but if that salt loses its flavor it hasn't got much in its favor" and "You are the light of the world but the tallest candlestick isn't much good without a wick."

IN "FINALE," the line "Long live God" seems particularly silly. Yet this is one of the better songs in the score. It has both the flavor of religious music and rock as it depicts Christ's death on the cross.

Another effective song is "Turn Back, O Man." Sung by Sonia Manzano, it is a torch song in the grand tradition. "We Beseech Thee" is fairly lively and the country and western flavor really helps.

But the best song was written by somebody other than Schwartz. Jay Hamburger and Peggy Gordon's "By My Side" is a very pretty duet plus chorus, backed by three acoustic guitars. It is a nice folk song.

DESPITE ITS faults though, when the show comes to Chicago (sometime in the near future) it will probably do a good business. Gospel rock will be with us for awhile longer.

An album of pure joy has to be the "Concert For Bangla Desh" (Apple STCX 3385), a three-record set. It was recorded live at last August's two benefit concerts in New York for the Bangla Desh refugees.

The album took many months to appear, mainly because of financial hassles from a couple of the record companies. But it's here now and is simply a miracle. Up to 44 microphones were used at one time, but the sound quality is excellent.

There are many high points in the set, including Ravi Shankar's exciting sitar and sarod duet with Ali Akbar Khan. It was Shankar who conceived the idea of having the Madison Square Garden concerts.

THE BEST SIDE has to be Bob Dylan's surprise appearance and his return to some of his classic protest songs, such as "A Hard Rain's Gonna Fall" and "Blowin' in the Wind." He also sings "Mr. Tamborine Man," "Just Like a Woman" and "It Takes a Lot to Laugh." They all sound as good and as exciting as ever too.

Leon Russell brings some good old rock 'n' roll to the show with "Jumpin' Jack Flash" and "Youngblood." Billy Preston does a great version of his song, "That's the Way God Planned It." And former Beatle Ringo Starr does his "It Don't Come Easy."

But the rest is George Harrison and he picked his best songs to do — "My Sweet Lord," "Wah-Wah" (which sounds so much more exciting when it's taken outside the studio), "Awaiting On You All," "Beware of Darkness" and "Something."

MY TWO FAVORITE songs from the concert are Harrison's slightly higher pitched version of "While My Guitar Gently Weeps" and Dylan's "Just Like a Woman." What makes the Harrison song special is Eric Clapton's guitar playing. For me, Harrison and Clapton are the two best guitarists going, and to have them working together on the same song, each complementing the other as they do, it's great.

"Just Like a Woman" is made special because of the vocal backing given to Dylan by Harrison and Russell.

Throughout the six sides, ending with Harrison's "Bangla Desh," the immediacy of the live performance is there. It's an album you can't afford to miss.

DPTG First With 'Boys In Band'

Des Plaines Theatre Guild will be the first theater group in Chicago and suburbs to present Mart Crowley's controversial play, "The Boys in the Band."

The play that ran for 1,000 performances on Broadway over a 2½ year period and later was a hit motion picture will be given for three consecutive weekends, starting March 18, in the Guild Playhouse on Lee Street in downtown Des Plaines.

"Boys in the Band," first successful American play to deal forthrightly with homosexuals as homosexuals, will be directed for the Guild by Ken MacCowan. His job will be to blend the wisecracking and outlandish situations of the play with the poignancy of men whose way of life is disapproved by society.

There are no star parts in this play, though each actor has at least one stand-out scene. Kenneth Karp of Chicago (Michael) plays the host for the birthday party that is the play's setting. He is wittily epigrammatic until his mask is peeled and he is seen to be especially self-tortured by his sexual bent because he clings to his religion.

OTHERS IN THE cast include Stuart Alyn of Skokie (Donald) as an intellectual who scrubs floors for a living but reads constantly, Dan Lawrence of Chicago (Hank) as a pipe-smoking college professor who has abandoned his wife and children for a life with Tom Wagner of Schaumburg (Larry) who repays his devotion with random promiscuities and Shelly Saffir of Chicago (Emory) as an interior decorator who unabashedly enjoys swish behavior.

Dennis Allen of Chicago (Benard) will be seen as the good guy Black of the circle, Mearl Gable II of Chicago (Harold) as the Jewish cool cat whose birthday is being celebrated and Tom Preibis of Northbrook (Cowboy) is a stupid hustler who has been picked up to be one of the birthday boy's presents.

Mert Staley of Palestine (Alan) will portray an old college chum of the party host, presumably a "straight." He turns up at the party unexpectedly to the embarrassment of Michael, who would have preferred his old classmate not know the truth about him.

BILL SHADINGER is designing the scenery for the play's single set, a Greenwich Village apartment which reflects the campiness of its occupants.

During the New York run of "The Boys in the Band" and at all the showings of the film made from it, critics emphasized that its straightforward and moving revelation of a milieu not previously presented on stage contains no elements overtly offensive, except a certain frankness of language, said director MacCowan.

The play opens Friday, March 10, and will have performances on March 11, 17, 18, 24 and 25. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. Admission is $2.50 with students $1.25 on Fridays only. Group sales are available. Ticket and reservation information may be obtained by calling 296-1211 from noon to 8 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Slides Lecture For Allied Arts

Artist Aloise Zehner will present a slide lecture program at next Tuesday's meeting of Allied Arts of Arlington Heights. The lecture will be entitled "Let Your Eyes Do the Walking Through the Paintings of Time."

Mrs. Zehner, a resident of Arlington Heights, has been exhibiting professionally for over 30 years in the Chicago area, and a grouping of her collages are now being shown in Florence, Italy.

She is a member of the Chicago Society of Artists and was its president for four years. She is a co-founder of Countryside Art Center.

The meeting starts at 1:15 p.m. in the Duntun Room at the Arlington Heights Memorial Library.

Entr'acte

By popular demand, the Hoffman Guild Players are breaking a long-standing tradition.

For the past 10 years the cast and crew members of individual productions have voted to pick their own recipient of the "Hammie," the Players' equivalent of the Hollywood Oscar. Because many patrons of the community theater group have indicated a desire to participate in the ritual, the audience attending "Plaza Suite" will have the option of individually voting for the awarding of the "Hammie." "Plaza Suite" opens tonight. See billboard for listing.

Some openings are still available for Countryside Art Center's photography class beginning March 1. The class, to be taught by Madeleine Dugas, a graduate of Bradley University, will be held Tuesdays 7-10 p.m.

"The course is basically creative photography," said Miss Dugas. "It's learning by doing. I want my students to use their cameras to look at things in new ways."

Countryside will hold all of its classes in the new gallery, 414 N. Vail in Arlington Heights. Other class openings are available in painting, drawing, weaving and children's classes.

The gallery is open for registration and information, 1-5 p.m., Tuesday through Saturday, CL 3-3005.

The annual Mid-Winter Hobby and Crafts Fair will be presented by Hillside Shopping Center this weekend, tomorrow and Sunday.

Ninety-five craftsmen will show their work between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. both days.

The Hillside Shopping Center is located at Eisenhower Expressway and Wolf Road in Hillside. Mrs. Shirley Klein of Palatine will be in the show exhibiting her 3-d pictures.

TV 'Miracle'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Some visitors to the "Ironside" television set think they're seeing a miracle. It's when Raymond Burr gets out of his wheelchair.

They're among people who are so used to seeing the video detective wheelchair-bound that they believe he's really crippled. "They're stunned whenever I leave the wheelchair and walk to my dressing room," Burr told the National Enquirer.

THE RAFTERS OF THE Schaumburg Great Hall, 231 S. Civic Drive, will echo with trumpet blasts and harp music tomorrow night when Schaumburg Festival Theatre opens its production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream." In this scene are Gerry Rubinkowski, Frank Getz, Barbara Ashby and Sherri Isaacson. Tickets, 882-1894.

Crews Named For Guild Play

The production crews who've been working behind scenes to see that Guild Players of Hoffman Estates have a successful opening night for "Plaza Suite" this evening have been announced.

Vic Simone is directing the play that will run two consecutive weekends, this Friday and Saturday and again March 3 and 4, in the Voegel Barn, 150 Higgins Rd., Hoffman Estates.

Sarah Levin has been serving in two capacities, as set designer and as production manager. Irene Kaufman is stage manager. Art Blackaller has charge of set construction and decor.

Janus Fantetti has had the job of rounding up the furniture. Danny Kaufman and Billy Roche are handling lighting. Debbie Boutelle is in charge of props, and Rita Stephens has done costumes.

Marvin Kaufman is ticket chairman, and Susan Harris has handled publicity.

Night Out

Maitre d' Restaurant Turns Back The Clock

Looking for a night out for 1932 menu prices? The MAITRE D' RESTAURANT in Elk Grove Village is turning the clock back 10 years on Tuesday and offering 1932 menu prices to kick off the week-long celebration of its 10th anniversary year.

Located at Higgins and Arlington Heights Roads, the Maitre d' is owned and operated by Bill and Lucille Rose. The restaurant offers "steak by weight" and features a display of decanters, the "meat block and salami" corner, art exhibits and fashion shows.

Every day during the anniversary week, special receptions will be held from 5 to 7 p.m. There will be "ingles" observances every afternoon and music and entertainment every evening, with songs of a decade ago being heard along with contemporary numbers.

A nightclub act not to be missed during its run in the BLUE MAX of the REGENCY HYATT HOUSE is the off-cuff comedy group, THE ACE TRUCKING COMPANY.

The group, made up of five members, is neither sophisticated nor intent on proving an issue. That's what makes them so funny together and individually. They have a good time on stage and the audience has a good time following their simple antics. Their improvisations, with suggestions coming from the audience, are highly amusing.

Maureen Lee

The five got together in New York City and were just horsing around doing their medley of acts for a lark, until a spot on the Tonight Show brought instant success. In three years they have moved through 17 Tonight Shows and recently completed a season as regulars on "This Is Tom Jones." The Ace Trucking Company will be performing through next week.

Singer CATHY JOHNSON precedes the act on stage.

MAUREEN LEE of Palatine is currently appearing in two bit parts in "PLAZA SUITE" at COUNTRY CLUB THEATRE, Rand and Euclid Roads in Mount Prospect. She plays the two roles of Jenn McCormack and Mimsey Hubley.

In real life, Maureen is the wife of Norman Rice, director of Country Club Theatre plays. The Neil Simon comedy has been nominated for two Joseph Jefferson awards. The Country Club Theatre performance is a good one.

Opening Tuesday at LANDERS CHALET RESTAURANT in Elk Grove Village is the entertainment group DAVE MAJOR AND THE MINORS. They will be appearing nightly through April 1. The restaurant is located at 1916 E. Higgins Road.

Performing for patrons in the SEVEN EAGLES LOUNGE is RICHARD FULLMAN, whose style of singing is reminiscent of the late Nat King Cole. The Seven Eagles Restaurant is located at 1850 Oakton St. in Des Plaines.

THE LINDA MERRILL SHOW, featuring LINDA MERRILL with ED TOSSING on the piano and organ, DAN SMITH on guitar and JIM KNAPP on drums, opens Monday in the TACK ROOM SHOW LOUNGE of the ARLINGTON PARK TOWERS.

Children's Benefit With Host Ned Locke

Ringmaster of "Bozo's Circus," Ned Locke, will headline two shows in the Barrington High School gymnasium, 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. Sunday, March 5.

Appearing with Locke will be his sidekick, Roy Brown, better known as "Cooky the Clown." Their show will be filled with clown skits, band numbers and a variety of circus acts.

A highlight at each performance will be the selection of one boy and one girl from the audience to play "The Grand Prize Game."

The two afternoon performances are being sponsored by the Barrington High School Music Boosters. Proceeds from the shows will go towards the purchase of new concert and marching band uniforms for the school.

Tickets for either performance are available through 381-6143 or 381-5315.

FRAN BLAIR AND Joe Lawrey of the Tudor Troupers appear together in a scene from "The Absence of a Cello" being staged tomorrow at St. Johns Apartments in Mount Prospect.

Touring Company On Stage

The Theatre Enthusiasts of St. Johns Apartments in Mount Prospect are presenting the Tudor Troupers in "The Absence of a Cello" tomorrow in the clubhouse of the apartment complex.

The evening begins with cocktails at 7 o'clock followed by the play and then a fried chicken supper.

The Tudor Troupers, together since 1967, tour Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Kentucky and Florida performing plays. This is their fourth appearance at St. Johns.

"The Absence of a Cello" is about a physicist who, because he needs a lot of money, turns to a $80,000 a year job offered by a big corporation. He wants the job but does the company want him? Mr. Personnel is sent to find out. What seems to be a shopworn target . . . individuality versus conformity . . . turns into a comical discussion of honesty and truth.

After being coached by a gray-flannelled collegiate on how to be what every company wants, the scientist is prepared to confront the enemy after trading in his rolled-up trousers and flapping shirt for a neat brown suit.

St. Johns Apartments are located at 1500 Busse Road in Mount Prospect. Tickets are available through 438-4151 or 438-3514. Audition and production dates of the next show being staged by the Theatre Enthusiasts themselves will be announced tomorrow evening at the play.

Kid's Korner CHARCOAL GARDEN

Marilyn Hallman

Imagine a garden with no green plants and no soil! You can grow this odd garden from a few lumps of charcoal, coal, porous brick or damp synthetic sponge. Put them in the center of a shallow bowl or pan at least six inches across. In a glass jar mix ¼ cup salt, ¼ cup bluing, ¼ cup water and 1 tablespoon household ammonia.

Pour this mixture over the charcoal. For extra color, put a few drops of different food colors on the charcoal lumps. Put the pan in a place where it won't be bumped. Soon airy clusters of crystals will form. Keep the edge of the pan wiped clean so the crystals won't spill over.

When crystal growth slows down, you can start it up again. Gently pour 2 tablespoons of water and 2 tablespoons of ammonia in the pan. Don't pour it over the crystals. They crumble easily!

New Orleans Jazz Band To Perform At Harper

Seven men who have lived with and helped create New Orleans jazz will bring their music from Preservation Hall to Harper College in Palatine Friday, March 3.

The Kid Thomas Valentine Band is one of several groups which carry on the traditional music at Preservation Hall in New Orleans. The concert will be held in the college center beginning at 8 p.m. Public admission is $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students. Harper students, staff and faculty are admitted free with their ID card.

According to Preservation Hall officials, New Orleans jazz is called happy music, simple in technical terms and complex in performance. They say it is not the straw hats and display of the Dixieland bands.

BAND LEADER Kid Thomas Valentine was born in Reserve, La., in 1896 and at the age of 20 began playing cornet in clubs. His own band began a 20-year stint at the Moulin Rouge in 1936. Valentine recorded in England in 1964 and toured Japan with the late George Lewis Band in 1965.

It was trumpeter Valentine's band which began the series of rehearsals for the "kitty" in an art gallery that has become Preservation Hall.

The "youngster" of the band is Alonzo Stewart, who is in charge of drums and vocals. He is a graduate of Alabama State where he played with the Translars.

Bass player Joseph Butler made his first instrument, a one-string bass. He played with four of the early bands and with parade bands. For 35 years he has been with Kid Thomas.

Louis Nelson, 49, had his first music lessons from his mother, a graduate of Boston Conservatory. He developed his distinctive trombone style while playing with riverboat bands.

CHARLES HAMILTON's solo piano style brought him a loyal following before he joined the Kid Thomas Band. He is known as one of the best of the New Orleans band pianists.

Saxophonist Albert Burbank, born in New Orleans in 1902, was taught by Gig Eye Louis Nelson. At the age of 21, Burbank joined the Olympia Band where he played with Alphonse Picou.

Emanuel Paul began his career at 17 as a violinist in a church band. He later played banjo with dance groups and began on tenor sax in a WPA band. He recorded with Kid Thomas and with the Eureka Brass Band.

PRESERVATION HALL, at the entrance to the French Quarter, was originally a private home, built about 1760. It was a tavern in 1812 and has since been occupied by many people. In 1952 it became an art gallery where the proprietor invited original musicians to come and "rehearse" for an audience with a free-will offering at the door.

In 1961 Preservation Hall was founded to enable the public to hear real New Orleans jazz in an informal atmosphere, played by those who have lived it.

Community residents should purchase tickets for the concert in advance by contacting the Student Activities Office, 359-4200, extension 243.

Film Critic Judith Crist Speaks At Harper Monday

Film critic Judith Crist will call the shots as she sees them when she discusses "Current Trends in Film Making" at Harper College in Palatine Monday at 8 p.m.

Judith Crist, who is film and drama commentator on the NBC-TV Today Show and film critic for TV Guide magazine, is known for her direct, hard-hitting language peppered with wit.

Mrs. Crist's appearance is one in a series of cultural arts programs administered by the Harper Student Activities Office. Her lecture will take place in Harper's lecture-demonstration center, Room E-108. Public admission is $1.50 for adults and .75 for students. Harper students, faculty and staff are admitted free with their ID card.

Author of "The Private Eye" and "The Cowboy and the Very Naked Girl: Movies from Cleo to Clyde," Mrs. Crist was reported to be the most influential film critic in the country through a 1970 poll conducted by the United Church of Christ.

IN MRS CRIST'S view, the film industry permits teenagers to exert an undue influence detrimental to American films. "The industry caters to youth's affluence and appetites instead of to its aspirations and potentials and is perpetually creating 'down' to its audience."

On the other hand, she feels that many persons are over-impressed with foreign films. "In certain areas the American film is unsurpassed — and the potential of American cinema cannot be over-estimated."

Mrs. Crist is an adjunct professor at the Columbia School of Journalism, where she received her master's degree in 1945. She held various reporting, drama and film critic positions on the New York Herald Tribune and continued as film critic on the New York World Journal Tribune.

Vinegar For Sparkle

For the shine and sparkle that looks so good on your hair, wash your hair as usual then give yourself a vinegar rinse.

The film critic has won three New York Newspaper Women's Club "Front Page" awards for critical writing.

During her career, Mrs. Crist has taught at the State College of Washington and served as civilian instructor with the Air Force.

In 1970 Mrs. Crist was one of 12 alumnae who received the Hunter College President's Medal for distinguished service, and in 1971 she was elected to the board of trustees of the Eugene O'Neill Memorial Theater Center.

MRS. DONALD ERIKSON and Arlington Heights Mayor Jack Walsh gaze at a billboard of Burt Reynolds who will star shortly in "The Rainmaker" at Arlington Park Theatre. St. Peter Lutheran School PTL of Arlington is planning a theater benefit party for the 7 p.m. March 12 performance. Mrs. Erikson is chairman.

Theater Benefit To Aid School

The St. Peter Lutheran School PTL is holding a theater benefit party at Arlington Park Theatre Sunday, March 12.

Tickets are available now through the ticket chairmen, Mrs. Thomas Wade, 392-7945, and Mrs. Donald Erikson, 358-6146, for "The Rainmaker" to star Burt Reynolds and Lois Nettleton.

Mrs. Robert Blitter is general chairman of the party, and Mrs. George Michehl Jr. is publicity chairman.

Proceeds from the benefit will be used to purchase teaching aids for the school. Tickets, $6.50 per person, must be purchased by Sunday, March 5.

'Sesame Street' Teaches Ecology

NEW YORK (UPI) — The producers of "Sesame Street," the award-winning television series for children, believe it is never too early to start learning about the environment. So they have added ecology themes to their curriculum this year. Producer Jon Stone reports ecology elements of the show stress the interdependence of living things and the finiteness of the earth's resources.

"Pre-schoolers are extremely curious about the world around them," he says, "so we think they'll be interested in how the things they see are related to each other." In one sequence, Mr. Hooper is seen economizing on water while washing dishes and relates this to conservation. In another, Oscar the Grouch learns about air pollution and is moved to capture dirty air in bottles.

Dear Dorothy: The seals around the bathtubs in our home need regrouting. Am curious about a few things. Will the mold that keeps showing up reoccur with new grouting? If I can't completely scrub off moldy spots, will it harm the new grout? Are there any hints on how to get out the old grouting? —Mrs. H.W.D.

It's doubtful new grouting will stick unless the old grout is completely removed. When our grouting got pretty bad, I took it upon myself to remove it. It took a good part of the day but it was done properly. Got into the tub and pried out every little bit of the old caulking with the pointed end of a beer can opener. Then scrubbed the area thoroughly with a mild chlorine solution, rinsed and let dry. That has been a good while and the new grouting still looks fine. If you keep the area clean and as dry as possible, and occasionally use a spray disinfectant which specifically deters mildew growth, you ought not to have any more trouble.

Dear Dorothy: When you say you use blue cheese to make Roquefort dressing, you are using product names loosely. Blue cheese and Roquefort cheese are not the same. Roquefort cheese is made from sheep's milk and cured only at Roquefort, France. Blue cheese is made from cow's milk and can be and is cured in many parts of the world. True, there is some similarity, but they are different cheeses and even one who isn't a cheese connoisseur can tell the difference in taste. —Frank O. Fredericks.

REHEARSALS ARE underway for "Good Grief! Let's Have Fun," a variety show being presented by St. Thomas of Villanova Women's Club of Palatine Friday and Saturday, March 3 and 4. Tickets at $2 are available through Mrs. Jane Hochhalter, 358-6797. The show, beginning at 8 both nights, is under the direction of Mrs. Edward McKeown and Ken Ball. Jim Gerdes and Mrs. Henry Putek are in the cast.

Next On The Agenda

ROSE SOCIETY
Northwest suburban members of Fox River Valley Rose Society are reminded of the dinner meeting tonight which celebrates the first anniversary of the rose fanciers. Dr. Bruce Eckersberg of Palatine is a director of the society. The group will have dinner at 7 in St. Paul United Church of Christ, Elgin, and see movies on pruning, grooming and care of roses. Anyone interested is welcome.

PALATINE NURSES
A program on Sudden Infant Death Syndrome will be given by Mrs. Lois Warren, R.N., Schaumburg, at Monday's meeting of Palatine Registered Nurses Club. Mrs. Warren, a mother of a SIDS victim, was formerly head nurse of the pediatric unit at Alexian Brothers Hospital.

The 8 p.m. meeting is open to all interested persons. Any R.N. who has recently moved into the Palatine area is invited to join the club and may get further information by calling 359-1088.

The club maintains a lending closet and residents wishing to borrow sick room equipment may call Mrs. Krotek, 358-6912.

ELK GROVE GARDENERS
The making of artificial roses is on the February agenda of the Garden Club of Elk Grove. The group meets at 8:30 p.m. Monday in the Elk Grove Library.

PLUM GROVE GARDENERS
Mrs. Joe Stude will be hostess to the Plum Grove Garden Club which will meet at her home Monday at 8 p.m. Mrs. Donald Arntzen will serve as co-hostess.

Project for the evening will be a workshop with members making various types of hurlap flowers. Guests are welcome.

ST. ZACHARY A & R
St. Zachary Altar and Rosary Society has planned an evening of exercise, diet ideas, fun and games for Monday in the Parish Room. The program will follow the 8 p.m. meeting.

Those planning to attend are advised to wear exercise clothes or slacks.

B'NAI B'RITH
B'nai B'rith Women, Aura Chapter, will hold a Scotch Bowl at Striker Lanes, Buffalo Grove, Saturday, March 4.

Donation of $10 per couple will include dinner, bowling and prizes. Mrs. Fred Share, 358-6897, may be called for reservations for the 8 p.m. party.

Program Topic Conservation

The Garden Center of the Garden Club of Illinois, Niles, will present a program on conservation today at 10 a.m. at the Golf Mill Theater, 9210 Milwaukee Ave., Niles.

Mrs. Harold Johnson of Glenview will discuss "Conservation, Our Depleted National Resources and What Can Be Done to Restore Them."

Mrs. Johnson was formerly chairman of conservation on the board of the Garden Club of Illinois. She conducted the Garden Club of Illinois School for four years. Currently participating in many conservation activities, she will tell about them and answer any questions. All interested persons are invited.

Bamboo Band

MANILA (UPI) — A group of Filipino youngsters called Pangkat Kawayan (Bamboo Band), which uses bamboo musical instruments, is expected to leave in April on a world tour.

The group, ranging in age from 7 to 14, is composed of students of an elementary school in nearby Quezon City. It is said to be the only band of its kind in the world.

Birth Notes

Double News In Triplicate

Holy Family Hospital found itself holding a two for one "sale" in the maternity ward last Friday, Feb. 18, and three area families took advantage of the offer, adding twins to their households.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fogarty of Buffalo Grove added twin girls, Carrie Ann and Corrie Ann, to their family which already consisted of Thomas Robert, 8, Kelley Ann, 5, and Christopher John, 3. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dean of Mount Prospect added identical twin boys, Craig Warren and Brian William, to their offspring: Donna, 14, Richard Jr., 12, Diana, 10, and Robert, 5. The former Annmarie Costello of Arlington Heights and her husband Ronald Zullo now have twin brothers, Ronald Joseph and Vincent Paul for 10-month-old Johnnie Michelle.

THE FOGARTYS, who reside at 203 Timber Hill Road, have 6 pound 3 ounce Carrie at home, but 7 pound 6 ounce Corrie Ann is still in the hospital, expected home this weekend. Grandparents of the Fogarty children are Mr. and Mrs. John Rourke, Hoffman Estates, and Mrs. Walter Fogarty, Elmwood Park.

Both of the Dean twins are still in the hospital, but their brothers and sisters are busy making plans for their arrival at 1114 S. Fern sometime soon. Craig, 4 pounds 2 ounces, is just 12 minutes older than Brian William, 5 pounds 3 1/2 ounces. Only grandparent of the children is Mrs. Elizabeth Pralas of Chicago.

The little Zullo boys, Ronald, 4 pounds 15 ounces, and Vincent, 4 pounds 6 ounces, are also still in the hospital. The family resides in Algonquin. Grandparents of the babies and their sister are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Costello, Arlington Heights and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zullo, Lake Villa.

O yes, the three sets of twins on one day set a record for the hospital!

HOLY FAMILY
Michael Donald Taylor was a 7 pound 5 ounce arrival Feb. 15 for Mr. and Mrs. Michael James Taylor of Bensenville. The baby is a grandson for the Donald Turschmans of Elk Grove Village and the George Taylors, Bensenville.

NORTHWEST COMMUNITY
Douglas Kendrick Hall has joined a 3-year-old sister Linnea in the Douglas M. Hall home at 1807 Fenwick Court, Schaumburg. Born Feb. 16, the baby weighed 7 pounds 3 ounces. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sandstrom, Downers Grove, and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hall, Brookfield, are the grandparents of the children.

Jason John Staffin is a second son for Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Staffin, 5 Brucewood Drive, Buffalo Grove. Jason was born Feb. 17 and weighed 7 pounds 6 ounces. Raymond, 2, is the couple's older son. Grandparents of the boys are the John Jozefski, Nridge, and the Anthony Pureckis, Chicago.

Tracey Eileen Malburg's birth Feb. 18 makes it a trio of daughters for Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Malburg, 583 Bernard Drive, Buffalo Grove. Tracey joins Jennifer and Michelle, 27-month-old twins. Grandparents of the 7 pound 6 1/2 ounce baby and her sisters are the Gus O. Johnsons and the B. J. Malburgs, all of Arlington Heights. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Meierhofer, also of Arlington Heights, are the great-grandparents of the girls.

Michael Douglas Sammons, weighing 7 pounds, was born Feb. 17 to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald C. Sammons, 2420 Brandenberg, Arlington Heights. Grandparents of Michael are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Sammons, Alamogordo, N. M., and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McPherson, Columbia, S. C.

Susan Heilig Is Feb. 12 Bride Of Tom Lauvetz

Omaha, Neb., will be the first home for newlyweds Susan and Thomas Lauvetz. They are getting settled there since their Feb. 12 wedding in Southminster Presbyterian Church in Arlington Heights.

Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Heilig of Arlington Heights. She is a graduate of Arlington High School and Moser Business College, then worked in Chicago before her marriage.

The bridegroom, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. R. Lauvetz of Denver, Colo., was graduated from the University of Nebraska and works in Omaha for Northern Gas Co.

AFTER THEIR 6:30 p.m. candlelight wedding service performed by Dr. William Jones, the couple received guests at a dinner at Casa Royale in Des Plaines.

Susan chose a white satin Empire gown applied in Alencon lace for her wedding day. The dress was styled with a high neckline, long sleeves and a semi-bell skirt with train, all accented with floral appliques of the lace which was studded with seed pearls and crystals. The bride's headpiece was a lace bonnet, and her veil was two-tiered with a blusher.

She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, carnations, baby's breath and stephanotis.

HER SISTER NANCY was her maid of honor, while George Barney of Chicago served as best man. Also in the wedding party were Terry Soelter of Chicago, cousin of the bride, as bridesmaid and two ushers, Leonard Vysokil of Massachusetts and Paul Blanda of Palatine.

The maid of honor and bridesmaid appeared alike in two-toned gowns with ruby red velvet bodice and pink chiffon skirt. The girls wore red velvet bows with matching veils over their hair and carried colonial arrangements of red Sweetheart roses with white carnations.

Mrs. Thomas Lauvetz

"SPRING IS BUSTING Out All Over" — at least for Sacred Heart of Mary Mothers Club. Mrs. John Langhenry, Mary Beth Shanahan and Mrs. James Welch set the scene for a spring luncheon and fashion show Saturday, March 4, at the school in Rolling Meadows. Cocktails will be served at 11:30 a.m., luncheon at 12:30, followed by a showing from the Fashion Tree. Mrs. Ralph Bosch, 253-1976, and Mrs. Patrick Keane, 255-8714, are taking reservations.

Plastic Protects Potted Plants Best

Protect your container-grown plants, especially ornamentals, with plastic during the severe winter months. The film prevents sudden changes in root temperature.

Agricultural engineers at the Washington State University Agricultural Experiment Station found that container-grown plants could stand very low temperatures when properly hardened. But rapid changes in temperature severely damaged roots. Even a brief exposure to a mild temperature harmed the plants.

During the last three years, the engineers, cooperating with horticulturists, experimented with four plots of container-grown plants to determine various temperature effects. One was covered with plastic, another with saran. The third plot was the control plot, and the fourth had an insulation barrier.

Under freezing and near freezing conditions, the plastic covered plots fared best.

Hersey Battles Prospect For Cage Crown

by THE HERALD SPORTS STAFF

The center of attention, of course, is at Hersey tonight where all the marbles are at stake.

Meanwhile, other teams will be jockeying for the best positions still possible to them to round out the rest of the standings as the Mid-Suburban League basketball season roars to a climax.

While the division winners — the Huskies and Knights of Prospect — square off for the top prize for the second straight year, there are some other attractive matchups on tap offering plenty of variety.

Both the familiar and unknown will be the order of the evening in the pairings.

Hersey and Prospect have not gotten together since that little tussle a year ago, so opponents in the Huskies' den will be new to one another. The same will be true of the Conant-Arlington (for third place in the league) and Elk Grove-Fremont matchups.

Meanwhile, revenge contests in which the respective teams already have met earlier in the season include Forest View-Wheeling, Glenbard North-Palatine and Schaumburg-Rolling Meadows.

Read on for a further look into each battle:

PROSPECT AT HERSEY

In 1963, the Mid-Suburban came into being with Maine West among the membership. That winter, the Warriors stepped onto the basketball court and began winning conference games.

Maine wasn't stopped until the 66-66 campaign began. In the meantime they had put together two undefeated seasons — 24 victories in a row — and the MSL has not had another unbeaten team since.

Now, Hersey comes along with 11 loop conquests in succession. If they can stop visiting Prospect tonight, they will have put together the loop's first unblemished cage season in seven years.

Huskie mentor Roger Steingraber and several of his charges — notably Andy Pancratz, Mark Leonhard and Dave Corzine — don't have to peer seven years into the past to find strong motivation for this second cross-division championship contest, however. They need only recall last February when they met the same club with the same title riding on the outcome.

"I really don't feel I'll have any problem getting the kids up for this one," Steingraber observed. Still smarting himself from the 84-81 setback pinned on his outfit by the Knights at the conclusion of last season, Steingraber will probably be leading the charge anyway this evening.

"We played them under less than ideal circumstances last year in the playoffs and I was kind of hoping we'd earn another crack at them. Prospect is just as good if not better than they were a year ago, but I feel our team has been work-

BRAD SMITH REMEMBERS the match very well.

Jim Ortman also remembers it well.

It was a February evening in 1970, Friday the 13th to be exact for you superstitious folks, when Smith of Hersey and Ortman of Maine East battled in a 123-pound match at the district wrestling tournament.

That was two years ago, but Smith hasn't forgotten that district. You don't forget those certain matches that grow in significance with each passing day, or, in Smith's case, with each passing victory.

That was the last time Brad Smith lost a match in wrestling.

He has walked out to the mat 66 times since that February evening in 1970 and has walked off with 60 straight victories in high school competition. No draw, just victories.

Can he make it 67?

Smith will walk out to the mat again this afternoon at Illinois State University in Normal. He hopes to walk off the mat Hersey's Smith has wrestled 96 varsity bouts in four years of high school (63-13-2), but he also vividly remembers this one particular match, the last time he lost in varsity competition, a loss he avenged the following year.

"I took him down quick," Smith recalls, "but he escaped and took me down. In the second period I was up but he escaped again and then I took him down. He escaped and I escaped and then it came down to about 45 seconds left. There was some question about whether we were on the mat but Jim took me down. I tried to go after him but still lost, 7-5."

The pressure of the 66-match string doesn't bother Hersey's Smith. "I try not to worry about it," he says, "although it's just natural to think more and more about everything with the state meet coming up. There are a couple in particular who look strong at 132. Jeff Camp of Chippewee was second at 132 last year and Doug Wilson of Granite City was fourth at 126. My weight has been a problem this year, but I feel good. I'm in good shape, and you just can't let up now. It's too important with us having a chance to win the state team title again too."

Hersey has a solid shot at repeating as stat champion. "I still can't believe we won it last year," Brad says. "It all came as such a surprise. But we know what we have to do this weekend and we just hope we can repeat. Everybody's worked hard for this for so many years."

From the moment he first discovered wrestling, Brad Smith was inspired. He wanted to be the best. He had his first introduction to the sport at Thomas Jr. High in Arlington Heights and in the Arlington park program.

"I started about the seventh grade. I don't remember exactly what first got me interested in wrestling but I knew I liked it from the beginning. Then when I got cut from the eighth grade basketball team, I really started to concentrate."

Smith was pinned in his first high school match. He had a 6-11 record with the varsity as a freshman at 120 pounds. He was 17-2-2 as a soph and, of course, 60-0 over his junior and senior years. That's 77-2-2 over the past three years, a record even Dan Gable would have to applaud.

Gable is Smith's idol. If you haven't heard of Dan Gable, you obviously don't know what a predicament or near-fall is. You obviously don't follow wrestling.

Gable is wrestling's superstar. He lost once, just once, through high school and college. Smith has 60 straight victories. Gable had 183 straight before he was shocked in the finals of the NCAA tournament.

Pattern yourself after a winner and maybe it'll rub off. Dan Gable is a winner. Brad Smith is a winner but win or lose in Normal this weekend, he'll still be remembered as one of the most remarkable competitors in the history of the sport in Illinois.

Although he's made his name state-wide in wrestling, Smith doesn't restrict himself to one sport. That's not his way. This solid 5-foot-5½ senior also quarterbacked Hersey to the North Division football title in the fall and is an infield regular in baseball.

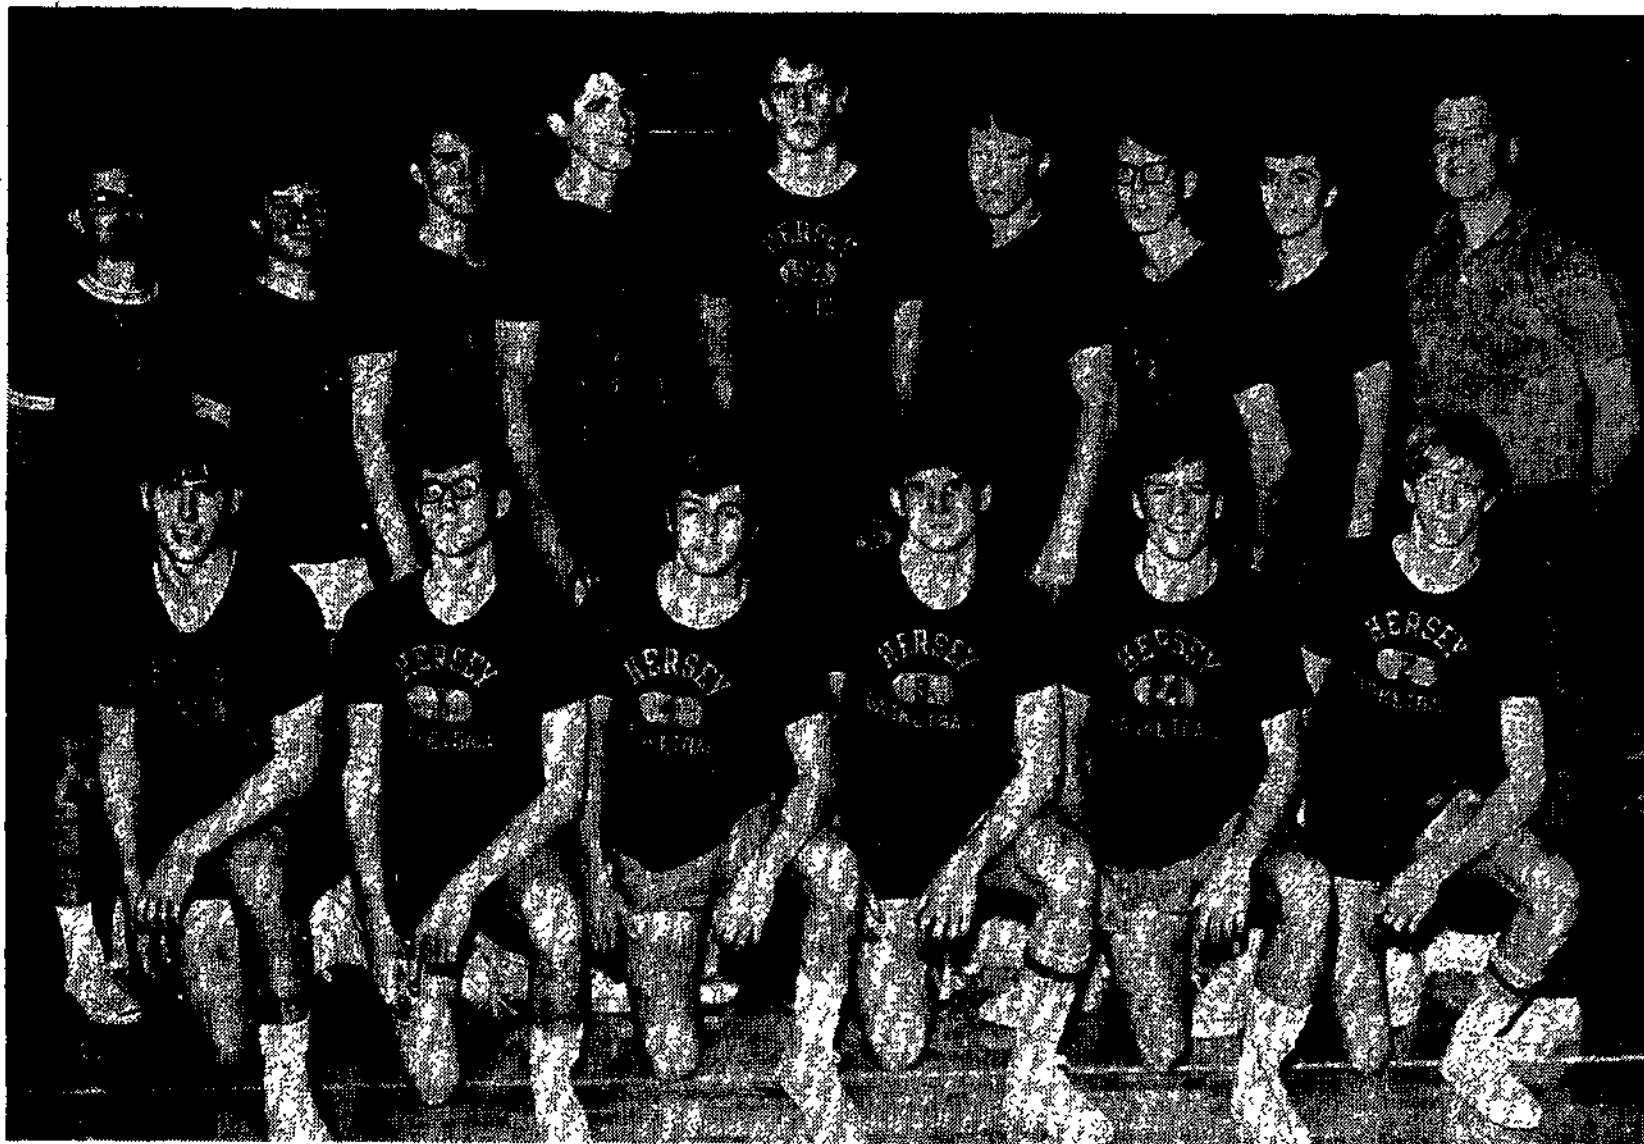

"I like to keep myself active," he says. "It relaxes me more. It is a big adjustment though going from football to wrestling because you try to fatten yourself up for football. I played at 153 this year and it has caused a weight problem in wrestling."

The colleges are very interested in this Hersey star, and he favors the University of Iowa, Michigan, or Oklahoma State. There's nothing definite. He's got other things to think about, starting this afternoon at the 1972 state finals.

Wrestling teaches so much self-discipline and responsibility. You have to work hard to be great. It takes a lot of dedication. It's you and your opponent out there on the mat. You have only yourself to blame if something goes wrong.

With wrestlers there is no in-between. There is no use going through that ordeal of conditioning and strength-building just for physical fitness. Running around the yard is easier.

The idea is to win. Brad Smith likes the idea. Winning is what he knows best.

Brad Smith

Saturday night with his second straight state wrestling championship, winning at 126 as a junior, shooting for 132 honors this time.

The crown of a champion rests precariously in sports. Everybody wants to knock it off. Everybody wants a shot at the champ, the best.

Jim Ortman is pulling for Brad Smith. He wants him to reach 64 straight. It's only natural. They still remember Ortman today as the last boy to beat Smith in wrestling.

"I know Brad real well and have worked with him a couple times since that match," says Ortman, who now works in radiology at Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge. "Sure, I want to see him keep going. It is something special for me to be the last one to beat him. I still have the newspaper clipping. I'll be at the state this weekend and just hope he goes all the way. What makes him so good? Among other things, it's his tremendous desire."

Ortman remembers that 1970 match. "I had wrestled earlier that night before I met Brad in the district. There was about 45 minutes between bouts and then came our match. He got the jump on me and was leading but it was close all the way and near the end we were near the edge of the mat. He did something. I think he thought we were off the mat and maybe we were, but I turned him over and finally won, 7-5."

Frisk On WEEF Tourney Show

Herald Sports Editor Bob Frisk will host a show called "Tourney Time" from 7:05 to 7:15 p.m. on WEEF-FM, 103.1 on the dial, before each game of the Wheeling Regional Basketball Tournament.

Frisk, who has followed Illinois high school basketball for 22 years, will discuss the upcoming games and other items of interest on the tournament scene in the 10-minute segment. The shows will be carried Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday evenings.

Dick Thomas will follow with play-by-play of all the regional games at Wheeling with Harper basketball coach Dave Etienne handling the color and analysis. WEEF Program Director Terry Slane will also work the broadcasts.

The regional games are sponsored by Harper College.

WEEF — Radio North will also cover the Arlington Sectional tournament and the Super-Sectional at McGraw Hall in Evanston.

Wrestlers Meet At Illinois State University

Hersey Launches Defense Of State Crown

by KEITH REINHARD
Wrestling Editor

East Leyden and Waukegan appear to be the chief barriers in Hersey's path this weekend as coach Tom Porter and his four-man contingent dig in to protect the Illinois state wrestling championship hardware they stalked off with one short year ago.

In terms of numbers the Huskies will be coming on stronger this time than they did in 1971. Last winter Porter brought just three grapplers down to the finals at Champaign but Jim Battaglia came away with top honors at 119 pounds, Brad Smith did likewise at 128 and Tad DeLuca garnered a fourth place prize at 145, giving Hersey a 35-point tally that outdistanced Addison Trail by six for the number one team position.

This year the finals are being conducted at Illinois State University in Normal at the Horton Fieldhouse. Four seasons, beginning at 1 p.m. today with the finals starting at 7:30 tomorrow evening will unfold before a 1972 state champion is crowned. Hersey will take four grapplers into combat including repeat state qualifiers Smith and DeLuca.

Chicago Fenger, Granite City, Joliet West and Pekin will all field five-man squads at the finals and East Moline has four representatives but judging by past performances, none will make as strong an impact as the Eagles or Bulldogs, with three contenders each.

East Leyden placed eleventh in state last year and then too they were sectional champs over Hersey prior to the final showdown. Waukegan, a perennial mat power, placed fourth in state two years ago.

Hopefully, Hersey will be likened to a north Chicago outfit two years ago which brought four wrestlers into the championship fray and every one of them made it to the finals, wrapping up squad honors even before the last sessions of the tournament.

In addition to Smith and DeLuca, unbeaten Pat Teehey and once defeated Kevin Pancratz will carry Hersey colors into battle this afternoon. They join with a number of other individual grapplers from the area poised for the rugged two day grind!

At 96 pounds DeKalb's defending champion Dan Cliffe (30-6) is an odds-on favorite to repeat. A likely opponent for him in the finals might be the winner of an opening bout between Cliff Bode of Antioch (26-1) and Rick Torres of Lake Park (24-2).

At 105 the field appears to be wide open. Lonnie Parker of North Chicago (31-9-1), younger brother of a state champion, is one of the strong bets at 112 and he's in the same bracket at Jim Sylverne of Maine East (21-3) who opens against senior Ken Woodward of Washington at 27-3-1.

In the other 112-pound bracket is Fremd's Jeff Alvis, who puts his 27-2 mark on the line against Dana Mariani, a senior from Bloomington sporting a 27-2 state.

Kevin Mathey of Sycamore reached the quarterfinals of the state meet last year at 119. Malcom Milligan of Rochelle reached the finals in '71 a weight lighter and they could just come up with a repeat of their sectional showdown (which

Mathey captured 5-1 for the 119-pound state title this year.

Mark Hysman of Forest View (25-1) opens against Washington's Dan Wagner (21-4-1) and is very much in the running at 126 pounds. In the same bracket with Mark is Clyde Ruffin of Dixon at 37-0 while Carmel's Bob Sutton (31-4) looks dangerous on the other side.

Among Brad Smith's competition for the 132-pound prize is Doug Wilson of Granite City, the winningest matman of the tourney at 40-1. Smith will open against Phil Goodman of Carbondale (28-2). At 138 pounds both local entries are in the same bracket with Wheeling's Kent Lewis tackling Mike Prentice of Mendota, also a junior and 33-3-2.

Arlington's Pete Anderson, meanwhile, goes against Joe Williams of Fenger (24-3). Brian Castle of East Leyden, fourth in state last year and 25-0 this time including a win over Anderson, is favored at 138.

Tad DeLuca's leadoff bout pits him against Ramon Ortega (16-4-1) of Schurz in a 145-pound division considered wide open. At 155 Elk Grove's Dennis Byrne (24-2) opens against Dave Neher of Princeton at 30-6. Byrne is in the opposite bracket from Carmel's Jim O'Connell (32-1) who figures to be one of the main contenders

At 167 pounds Dan Wagemann of Mundelein (23-0) appears to be headed for one berth in the finals after finishing runnerup in the state meet a year ago at 155. Aiming at the other slot will be Marc Grant of Maine East who opens against sophomore John Skonlles of Seann at 25-4.

The 185-pound division could be one of the very interesting ones. In the same bracket with Pat Teehey is Glenbard North's Frank Savegnago (23-2) whom Teehey beat in the conference meet finals. First Teehey will have to get by Steve Dobberstein of Ottawa (16-7-1) and Savegnago must win his opener. One would then possibly move on to the finals where undoubtedly Waukegan's Mark Tiffany (23-0) will be waiting.

Kevin Pancratz of Hersey starts off on the heavyweight trail against Ames Martin of Thornwood, also a junior and sporting a 23-1 log. Jim Franz of Crystal Lake (30-0) who nosed out Pancratz in sectional action and is very strong in the running, comes out of the opposite bracket.

CHONES DID RIGHT THING

Dear Sirs:
A lot of people may look on Marquette's Jim Chones as a villain for signing with the New York Nets and thus leaving his college team ("disloyalty," as some would say), undoubtedly killing the Warriors' chances in post-season tournament play.

However, I feel Chones is to be commended for openly announcing his signing right away instead of causing a foul-up like that of Howard Porter last year. Porter was dishonest and unfair to his school by trying to keep his pro status secret while still playing college ball. When he was later found out, most of his school's victories and its third-place finish in the NCAA tourney were forfeited. At least Marquette knows where it stands with Chones and he and the school can hold their heads high.

I don't feel there was anything ethically wrong with Chones signing now. He is truly a hardship case and his family and promising career should come first. An athlete has earning power for a limited time only and never knows if he is going to be seriously injured or not make it at all. I say, more power to Chones for grabbing the loot while he still has the chance.

Good luck to Marquette — though it is just another team without its former fabulous center.

WANTS JR. HIGH COVERAGE

Dear Sirs:
Why don't you print the scores from junior big basketball games? Lots of people are interested. I'm from Grove junior high basketball games? Lots of disappointed that only the high schools get to be in the paper. After all, junior highs are part of Elk Grove and other towns and they deserve to be in the paper too. Please consider this proposal. Thank you.

Name Withheld by Request

The Herald prints scores and highlights of junior high games in a roundup report every Friday. Because of the great number of junior highs and other youth programs in our circulation area, it is impossible for our sports staff to track down results. Our policy in all programs younger than high school level is and always has been to print whatever is mailed or dropped off at our office (by Wednesday noon in the case of basketball). Reports should be typed and double spaced. If news on your school is not appearing, don't call us. Arrange for someone to submit the results. Thanks for your interest — Bob Frisk.

SCHENKEL PUZZLING

Dear Sirs:
Have you seen Chris Schenkel's first annual publication of "SportsScene Baseball '72"? His prediction concerning the White Sox is puzzling to say the least.

Schenkel picked Richie Allen, the White Sox's newly-acquired slugger from the Dodgers, to become the Most Valuable Player in the American League this year. That may not be so surprising, but he picked the Sox to finish fifth in their division.

It is curious logic that would arrive at the conclusion that the addition of a Most Valuable Player will drop the Sox two places lower!

While I'm on the subject of Schenkel, someone should tell him that the Milwaukee Bucks' center last year changed his name to Abdul-Jabbar. Chris was still calling him "Alcindor" in the nationally-televised Bulls vs. Bucks game last Sunday.

GENEROSITY COUNTS

Dear Sirs:
It's good to see that both Chicago baseball teams, the Cubs and Sox, are being generous with salaries this season. Too many professional managements are falling back on the convenient excuse of President Nixon's economic policies and are not paying some players what they are worth. To their credit, the Sox and Cubs are not using this phony guise like a certain Chicago Bears owner I could name (who is so stingy that he appears about to cheat loyal fans by letting an all-pro receiver get away).

The Cubs always have been generous with contracts and given all their name players every penny they are worth (indeed, perhaps more than they are worth in some cases). Again this year, as always, they are way ahead of other teams in signing key players. The only unsigned Cub at this writing is Billy Williams who reportedly wants at least $125,000.

The Sox, although they still have eight unsigned players, have also been kind in shelling out dough. Twenty of the 25 players they have signed, according to a report last week, got raises of more than 5.5 per cent.

I feel such generosity is important in keeping ballplayers performing up to their abilities.

Cold Shooting Costly Against Rugged Triton

Harper Campaign Ends With 92-67 Sectional Loss

by MIKE HUSTON

The basketball season came to an abrupt end for Harper College Wednesday night with a 92-67 loss to host Triton in the NJCAA Sectional Tournament at Provision East High School.

The Hawks, who had beaten Triton only four nights earlier 91-85, had a poor shooting night, hitting on only 40.3 per cent of their shots from the floor. In contrast, the Hawks had shot 65.6 per cent only 24 hours earlier, defeating Fond du Lac 113-59.

The Triton players were well prepared mentally for the game, as they scrapped for offensive and defensive rebounds, scrambled after loose balls, played aggressive defense and shot 55.6 per cent from the floor.

Bob Larsen and Larry Moore paced Triton with 30 and 26 points respectively. The combination of Larsen's fine outside shooting and Moore's aggressive offensive rebounding and scoring was trouble for the Hawks.

"Larsen was outstanding tonight," Harper Coach Dave Etienne commented. "I couldn't believe how far out he could go to shoot and the ball kept going in. Moore did an outstanding job working for his points on the offensive boards."

As well as their offense worked, it was Triton's defense which made most of the difference. The Warriors opened the game playing a four man zone defense with one man playing Harper's leading scorer Kevin Barthule man-to-man.

Barthule's teammates had difficulty hitting their shots over the four man zone and Kevin had trouble getting loose to get the ball. Scott Feige led the Harper attack with 16 points and Barthule and Jeff Algaier were each held to 14.

"I was getting pressure from everywhere," explained Barthule. "Every time I got the ball I was getting two or three men around me. They didn't stay in that combination defense very long but I still got a lot of pressure after that, some even from their bench."

Etienne analyzed the game in terms of Harper's poor shooting. "We had a lot of good shots that just didn't go in," he coach explained.

The Hawks also lost the statistical battle of the boards, 54-38. Again, however, the difference can be measured in terms of Harper's cold shooting. Both teams recovered 16 offensive rebounds. Triton built their margin recovering Harper's missed shots.

Harper led for the last time at 5-4, stayed within a point for about four minutes, then Triton began to pull away. The Warriors led 48-30 at half.

Triton's largest lead was 70-40 with 11 minutes remaining, but the Hawks made their only serious rally cutting the margin to 72-51 at 8:15.

The battle of the pivot men was nearly a standoff. Triton's Dave MacIn scored 17 points and grabbed eleven rebounds while Harper's Don Spry scored 12, got eleven caroms and blocked three shots. Moore also collected eleven rebounds for Triton.

Etienne felt that another key to the game for Triton was their ability to beat Harper's zone defense better than they could Saturday night.

"Triton went inside with the ball against our zone better today than they did Saturday," Etienne explained.

Harper closed its season with an 18-11 record and finished in a second place tie with Wauhansee in the Skyway Conference at 11-3. The Hawks, under the coaching of Etienne, won only one less game this season than they had won in their entire history coming into the year.

"Well, 18 ballgames is a lot to win, and we should be very proud of that," said Etienne. "But more importantly, I felt that this team was the closest group that I've ever coached. Everyone of these men is a gentleman and it has been a pleasure to coach them. I just can't express my personal feelings for them."

Barthule ended his career at Harper with 1255 points in only two years, and he set another record for points in one season with 716.

"The best thing about this season, to me, has been the team's attitude overall," Barthule said. "The '62' guard plans to continue playing basketball at a four year college next year."

State Swimming, Diving Opens At New Trier East

There will be 23 area athletes trying to pass the tough preliminary tests this afternoon and evening at the state swimming and diving meet at New Trier East.

The Winnetka hosted championships get underway at 1 p.m. today with the diving prelims. Swimmers compete for the 12 final berths tonight beginning at 7:00.

Forest View will send the largest contingent into the prelims with seven individuals and two relays. Right behind are St. Viator with five and two and Elk Grove with five and one. Arlington has four qualifiers individuals and Prospect has two.

Those youngsters who survive the challenge and crack the exclusive dozen will advance to the finals Saturday afternoon beginning at 1:00.

Since only those who get by the prelims receive tickets, many swimming and diving buffs won't be able to crowd into the 1,200 capacity stands. Because of this, the meet will be televised.

Those interested in finding out how well the area teams did can call 394-1700 after 8 p.m. Saturday. Complete results will be published in Monday's Herald.

Harper Wrestlers Open In Region Tournament

Wrestlers representing 30 two-year colleges across Illinois and Wisconsin will come together at Triton this weekend for the National Junior College Athletic Association's Region IV Tournament.

Harper is expected to be one of the front-runners for championship honors.

Three grapplers at each weight bracket will qualify for the NJCAA finals, to be conducted in Worthington, Minn. this year. The Ron Bessmer-coached Hawks will join with Black Hawk, Waubesa and host Triton in rating the strongest chances of grabbing team honors and advancing the most individual representatives by tomorrow evening.

Last week Harper churned past both the Warriors and the Chiefs in ringing up league honors at the Skyway Conference gathering. Bessmer's outfit will take a 19-2 dual record into the regional tournament.

The probable Hawk lineup will include
 Jerry Ancona at 118 pounds, Mal Squires at 126, Fred Wideman at 134, Mike Weber at 142 and Mike Squires at 150.

Also Al Vaccarello at 159, John Majors at 167, Scott Raven at 177, Andy Locken at 190 and Tryst Anderson at heavyweight.

Courtney Posts Consistent 8's

Guy Courtney, Illinois State University freshman and a grad of Prospect High School, has come a long way according to ISU gymnastics coach Al Weith.

"Guy is our No. 2 man in floor exercise and has been scoring in the high 8's consistently," said Weith. "Guy is very tall and this looks good when he performs." he has improved a great deal since the season began."

Staying Ahead

The last time UCLA's basketball team had a losing season was 1945-46, when the Bruins ran up an 8-16 record under coach Wilbur Johns.

Ormsbee Selects Illinois

Terry Ormsbee

Terry Ormsbee, All-State quarterback at Arlington High School, will attend the University of Illinois next fall on a football scholarship.

Ormsbee's announcement came late Wednesday evening after he had narrowed his choices to Illinois and Missouri.

Behind his signal calling the past two and a half years Arlington was 17-8-1. He also helped lead the Cardinals to a great 8-0 year in 1970 as the team finished ranked second in the Chicagoland area.

After breaking in midway through his sophomore year, Ormsbee accounted for 1810 yards passing and a total offense mark of 2256. His 20 touchdown passes tied former Arlington great Steve Allen.

Ormsbee, a 6-2, 196 pounder, was honored on all-state teams last fall. Selected by the Champaign News-Gazette and Rockford Morning Star-Register Republic.

Palatine's Jim Stauner, also an All-State quarterback, had previously announced for Illinois earlier this week.

The last area product to figure prominently in Illinois football was Arlington's Mike Dundy on the Rose Bowl team of 1964.

the bass boat, and New York's National Boat Show is crowded with these jazzed-up modern log canoes with a motor at each end.

Running 12 to 18 feet long, the low-sided skimmers mount a powerful outboard of as much as 65 horsepower to speed out to where the lunkers are. Then the fisherman tilts up his big mill in back, tilts down a tiny electric kicker mounted on the bow and sneaks up silently on the waiting fish — you hope.

Rigged with all the latest gear, the bass boat may have pedestal swivel chairs just like the big offshore sport-fishing machines. Foot controls can speed up, slow down and steer the electric trolling eggbeater up front while the fisherman uses both hands for rod and reel. Meantime a battery-operated depth-finder reads sonar pulses to become a fish locator as well and reveal if some big ones are below and just the depth where they are waiting. Unlucky fishermen will need new excuses.

And while inflation is unpopular ashore, it is the next-biggest news afloat as compact little blow-up boats turn even the smallest apartment closet or car trunk into a boatyard. Unfold them, pump them up, and the small ones become kayaks and canoes and large models mount outboards big enough for water skiing speeds. Long popular in Europe with backpackers, yachtsmen, bicycle campers and sportsmen who run white water rapids, the rubber boats are now flooding in from France, Great Britain, Germany and Japan. This year many are marked "Made in U.S.A." as well.

Only a few large yachts, small runabouts and do-it-yourself hulls are made of wood any more. A survey by Popular Mechanics magazine shows the largest number of boats — the cartoppers, johnboat punts and utilities — are made of marine aluminum. But the wider varieties of craft, from smallest dinghies to cabin cruisers and houseboats, use fiberglass-reinforced plastic construction.

Says Former Pro Coach, Star Otto Graham

Winning ISN'T The Only Thing

by IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Editor

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico — (NEA) — After teaming with Joe DiMaggio in the recent American Airlines Golf Classic here, Otto Graham returned quietly to the U.S. Coast Guard Academy in New London, Conn.

Graham is the athletic director at the Academy, and knows when he returns that he will not be the object of a stadiumful of boos, will not have to hide like a vile knave when the football team loses, will not have to be "an S.O.B. all the time." In short, Otto Graham is no longer a professional football head coach.

Graham coached the Washington Redskins from 1966 through 1968, his first and only full-time experience as a pro head coach. "And I'll never do it again," said Graham. "Not the way the pro game is now."

Graham said he used to have talks about theory with his successor at Washington, Vince Lombardi. "Vince told me that it was a dog-eat-dog business," recalls Graham. "He said that to be successful at it you've got to be an S.O.B. 100 per cent of the time. I think he's right. That's why I'm glad I'm out of it. I like to win, sure, but I don't want to win at any cost."

One of the finest quarterbacks in pro football history, Graham led the Cleveland Browns to a league or division title in each of his 10 playing seasons (from 1946-1955). He was inducted into the Hall of Fame at Canton in 1965. At age 51, Graham remains competitive, playing golf and tennis and handball often and, he says, intensely. He says he also tries to instill a winning spirit in the coaches under him at the Academy.

"But when the game is over, you've got to get on with the other facets of your life — like your family," said Graham. "You can't do that as a pro football coach. Football has to be your whole life, almost every minute of every day, year-round. Football is just not that important to me."

"I'll never forget something Don Shula told me when he was coaching the Baltimore Colts. The Colts had lost a couple games in a row at the start of this season. Shula got a call from Vice President Agnew, who wanted Shula to play golf with him and Bob Hope. I think most people would've jumped at that chance. I know I would. But Shula turned it down. He told me, 'Fans would be thinking how come I'm playing golf? How come I'm not home working on new plays?'"

"I remember when the Redskins were losing and how guilty I'd feel going to a movie at night. I'd practically walk into the theater with my coat over my head."

In three seasons, the Redskins' best record under Graham was 7-7. He was booed with gusto, called inglorious names. The press belted him, too.

"They all took it so seriously," said Graham. "I remember the first pro football game Lyndon Johnson came to; it was the first game ever attended by a president of the United States. We lost 35-0. In the post-game press conference I tried to make a joke. I said, 'If that's the kind of luck the president is going to bring us, I wish he'd stay home in the future.' This made headlines."

"Quite frankly, Lombardi was right. To be a winner, you've got to be an S.O.B. all the time. But I couldn't have turned it off when I got home, and I don't think the other coaches today can, either. What kind of life is that?"

"Lombardi said, 'You've got to treat all the players equally — like dogs.' Sure, pro players today are so coddled by owners, paid such fantastic bonuses and salaries, that they aren't going to put out unless you put the screws to them at every turn. Who wants to run a chain gang?"

Graham added that the owners respond to the fans and the press. "Winning seems to be more important than ever," he said. "And I hated the boos. I can't deny it. I don't think that just because a man pays money for a ticket to a sporting event that he has the right to boo, to tear another human being apart like that."

Powerful Evanston Runs Past Palatine, Conant

Evanston, as usual one of the state's elite in track, was too much for Palatine or Conant to handle in indoor competition in a triangular meet. The Wildcats rolled up 63 points to 49 for Palatine and just five for Conant.

The Pirates managed three first places. Scott Williams won the two-mile run in 9:53.8, Jan Fitzgerald took the low hurdles in :7.6 and Phil Lindberg was the pole vault winner with 12-6.

Palatine racked up seven second places. Individual runners-up for coach Joe Johnson's squad were Fred Miller with 2:06.0 in the 880-yard run, Jim Brandt with 5-10 in the high jump, Larry Mennes with :54.1 in the 440-yard dash, Brian Barnett with 4:36.6 in the mile and Paul Streater with 12-0 in the pole vault.

Both Pirate relay teams were second also. The four-lap team of Fitzgerald, Barry Schultz, J. Dubiago and Streater had a 1:25.0 time and the mile relay unit of Williams, Miller, Steve Patterson and Mennes were clocked in 3:47.6.

Conant's highest finish was third by Warren Olson with :54.5 in the 440. Other Cougars who placed were Scott Clark with 10-6 in the pole vault for fourth, Russ Windholz with 44-4 1/4 in the shot put for fourth and George Swegles with :6.0 in the 50-yard dash for fifth.

Third places for Palatine came on Patterson's 10:19.6 in the two-mile, Lindberg's :8.1 in the high hurdles, Dubiago's :5.9 in the 50, Lindberg's 5-6 in the high jump and Kearns' 4:42.8 in the mile.

Schultz was fourth in two events — the long jump with 18-10 1/4 and the low hurdles with :8.2. Fitzgerald finished fifth in the high hurdles with :8.2.

Evanston also won both lower level meets easily. The Kits had 77 points in the sophomore meet to 38 for Palatine and 29 for Conant. The freshmen affair saw Evanston collect 74 points, Conant 35 and Palatine 15.

Palatine will be at Glenbard North Thursday and at Maine East Saturday while Conant contests Niles East and Notre Dame Saturday morning.

Maine East Tops Wildcats, Knights

Joe Cosentino captured firsts in both hurdles events as the meet's only double winner to pace Maine East to a triangular indoor track victory over Wheeling and Prospect Tuesday.

Maine East scored 70 points, Wheeling had 34 and Prospect 27 in the meet which was held in the winner's field house.

Cosentino nabbed first place in the 50-yard low hurdles in 6.7 and first in the 50-yard high hurdles in 7.1.

Gene Marshak of Maine East won the two-mile run in 9:46.5 and teammate Chris Bednarowicz was second in 9:57.0. Prospect's Anthony Brocato was third in 10:12.0 and Don Burger was fourth in 10:29.8.

Bob Schueller of Maine East was second to Cosentino in the high hurdles with a 7.2 while Greg Plehl of Wheeling was third in 7.2 and Gary Kozimor of Wheeling was fourth in 7.6.

In the 60-yard dash, Paul Hacker took first place in 5.7 and Wheeling's Kevin Danielson was second in 5.8. Maine East took third with Doug Tucker in 6.0 and fourth with Dean Granat in 6.6.

Bill Schumann of Wheeling finished first in the 800-yard run in 2:00.1, Mike Bell of Maine East was second in 2:01.2, Mike Seifert of Maine East was third in 2:03.4 and Tom Schiesser of Prospect was fourth in 2:11.4. Wheeling won the four-lap relay in 1:18.4 and Maine East was second in 1:19.1.

George Busse of Prospect captured first place in the 440-yard dash in 53.5. Steve Drake of Wheeling was second in 53.6, Tucker of Maine East was third in 54.1 and Dave Helmer of Wheeling was fourth in 54.3. Schueller took second to Cosentino in the low hurdles while Plehl was third in 6.8 and Murray of Wheeling was fourth in 7.2.

Pat Moyer of Maine East won the two-mile run in 4:30.1 and John Lovasz, also of Maine East, was right behind in 4:30.2. Steve Wilhelm of Wheeling was third in 4:41.0 and Brocato was fourth in 4:50.4.

Wheeling won the mile relay in 3:36.6 and Prospect was second in 3:44.5. Maine East's Mike Smith won the high jump with a 5-10, Jeff Schroeder of East was second with a 5-6, Plehl was third with a 5-4 and Gerry McGlothlin was fourth with a 5-4.

Maine East's Ken Wolf won the shot put with a 45-10½, Schleiber was second for Wheeling with a 45-6½, Mike Bailargeon of Wheeling was third with a 45-4 and Ed Spacapan was fourth with a 44-10½.

The long jump was won by Dave Lampert with a 20-2½, Busse was second with a 19-3½, Ray Nee was third for Prospect with a 19-3 and Danielson was fourth with an 18-10½. Rick Gurelnick won the pole vault for Maine East with a 12-6 and Wheeling's McGlothlin was second with an 11-0.

Maine East won the sophomore meet with 96 points, Wheeling was second with 23 and Prospect third with 15. Maine East defeated Wheeling in the freshman meet 111½ to 11½.

Milton Richman

NEW YORK (UPI) — Al McGuire cuts through all the pollution. He hits you like a breath of fresh air.

He has this special little thing going for him. It's called the truth, and with him it seems built-in. He tells the truth no matter what.

Now you take the best player he has, for example. You'd better make that the best player he had. The kid's name is Jim Chones. He's in his junior year at Marquette University in Milwaukee and you probably noticed where the New York Nets of the ABA signed him for $1.5 million the other day. This wasn't the usual wallpaper type money you hear of in so many of these basketball deals. Jim Chones got most of his in hard cold cash.

By taking him the way they did, the Nets yanked the very guts out of Al McGuire's team, which has won 22 straight without being beaten and ranks second in the entire nation.

Some other coach would've hollered bloody murder. McGuire didn't holler at all. He had promised he'd help Chones make all the money he could and he stuck to his promise. Some other coach would've told a kid who signed that way he had wrecked the team when he finally got him alone in his private office. Maybe he'd also tell him what a terrible ingrate he was. McGuire didn't do that at all. What he actually said to 6-11, 21-year-old Jim Chones when they were alone was simply this:

"I congratulate you, Jimmy. I think you'll have a nice life. Sometime I hope you'll help us with recruiting."

"Anytime," said Jim Chones.

There isn't a coach who ever lived who didn't feel that he was different, in some way at least, from all the other coaches.

Al McGuire actually is.

For one thing, he takes care of his kids but he doesn't wear that on his sleeve. He takes care of himself, too. He'd be the first to tell you that. Another thing, he isn't afraid of losing his job. He doesn't have to be. He's so good at what he does the pros are standing in line to hire him.

Now it just so happens Al McGuire's own son plays basketball for Marquette also. He's 20, he's a junior and everybody calls him "Allie."

Say, for example, Allie McGuire was faced with the same decision Jim Chones had to make. It isn't likely to happen that way because there's a big difference in their abilities, but what would Al McGuire's feeling be if his son, Allie, suddenly came to him and told him he was quitting school to sign with a professional club the same way his teammate, Jim Chones, did?

"The environment is different," Al McGuire says. "I have grass in front of my house. I have a mother with some money. She's Allie's grandmother. I personally think Allie would go a little stronger to stay in school because of his environment. I think I'm not sure. Whatever decision he'd make would be okay with me, though."

No sooner had the Nets announced the signing of Jim Chones when all the other coaches began cluck-clucking. They called the episode "regrettable." That was the mildest thing they called it. They all said a player makes a big mistake leaving school the way Chones did.

"They're probably right in 99 per cent of the cases," Al McGuire concedes. "This was an individual case, however. It was a case of need, great need. Everything was done above-board. It wasn't done in a closet. Another thing, we expect Jimmy to continue his schooling. He's in school today."

Jim Chones, the oldest of six children, watched his father die of cancer when he was a freshman at Marquette and has been watching his mother work in the kitchen of a Racine, Wis., restaurant. With rumors of a merger between the NBA and ABA and of a common draft continuously around him, Chones constantly was teased by the question of should he or shouldn't he?

"It was like Raquel Welch standing around in a nightgown," McGuire says. "Sooner or later the boy had to stand up and at least ask her what her name was."

Al McGuire not only has a way with kids, he also has a way with words. His words are honest ones.

About Jim Chones' future with the pros, he says:

"I think he's two years away. From producing, I mean. That's by NBA standards. I don't see the ABA. I'm in an NBA town."

PLAYOFF PREVIEW

Championship playoffs will be held Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 26 and 27 at St. Victor High School to culminate the 17-game season.

In the eighth grade playoffs Saturday, Our Lady of the Wayside of Arlington Heights will meet St. Anne of Barrington at 4 p.m. and St. Hubert of Hoffman Estates will face St. Thomas of Villa Park at 6 p.m. The championship game will be played Sunday at 5 p.m. with the consolation game preceding at 3 p.m.

In the seventh grade playoffs Saturday at 12 noon St. Thomas will meet the winner of the St. Hubert at Maryville between St. Hubert and St. Raymond of Mount Prospect. Our Lady of the Wayside, only undefeated team in any of the four divisions in the conference, will meet St. Collette of Rolling Meadows at 1 p.m.

In addition, cheerleaders of all schools will meet in special competition Saturday and Sunday to determine champions. Competition will be judged by cheerleaders from Harper College.

The public is invited. Admission is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Highlights

St. Hubert's Knights rolled over St. Collette's Tigers 45-22 despite the loss of their guard Jon Gajewski. The team's leading scorer with 23 points in 12 conference games Tom Schmitz led the Knights with 22 points and 10 rebounds, followed by Joe Kuzysk with 17 points and 10 rebounds. In a rough game marked by 50 personal fouls, Waish led the Tigers with 16 points.

In seventh grade play, wins by both St. Hubert and St. Raymond necessitated a playoff to break the tie. St. Hubert, led by Eddie Rech with 19 points and Rob Totten with nine, won 6, seven over St. Collette whose scoring was led by Rose and Sander with eight points each. Collette's Jeff Sbrock controlled the board, with 11 rebounds.

Road Rally At Harper

The Harper College Sports Car Club will hold a road rally Sunday, March 5, entitled "The Tortoise and the Hare."

The rally will begin in the front parking lot of the school at 11 a.m. for a charge of $2.50 per car. It will last for three to four hours. There will be prizes, the nature of which have not yet been determined.

The rally will be scored strictly on mileage which goes according to directions which must be followed by each driver and his passengers. There will be no timing involved. A road rally is not a race.

10 Years Ago . . .

Palatine won the sectional wrestling tournament with four champions: Mike Gluck at 95 pounds, Seth Norton at 127, Jim Smith at 145, and George McCreery at 154. Other sectional winners from area schools were Prospect's Doug Vaughan at 133 and Arlington's Hal Sellack at 160. . . . Arlington's Doug Rice qualified for the state swimming finals in the 400 free and 200 individual medley.

St. James' eighth graders were led by Mark LaManna's 10 points in their easy win over St. Alphonsus. Mike Schell and Tim Farrell had eight each for the victors.

St. James' seventh grade squad won a closer game as Bob Plinski led scoring with 11 points. Hatterson had nine for St. Alphonsus.

Paul Gillette exploded for 20 points as Pad-dock School defeated St. Thomas 46-32.

St. Theresa (Palatine) For the fourth time this season, the St. Theresa sixth grade Trojans were involved in a one-point game. And for the fourth time, the Trojans were victorious — 13-12 over St. Thomas of Palatine.

The win was St. Theresa's 18th of the season and was accomplished without the services of the top two Trojan scorers. Center John Martin was out of town and forward Chris Plank was ill. Kevin Weaver led the way with six points and John Jansen added five.

St. Theresa is slated to play the Rolling Meadows Invitational Tournament during the first week in March.

Arlington Heights Minor Hockey Facts

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS MINOR HOCKEY ASSOCIATION

MINORS

The Arlington Heights Minors, which included six boys who had never played hockey, turned back the Saddle & Cycle Club 2-0. Bob Anderson scored the first goal unassisted and Scotty Paulsen got the insurance goal on a pass from Andy Lund. The star of the game was Jim Aiello playing his first game in goal. He played without a goal for two periods before Billy Mitchell took over the last period and preserved the shutout.

SQUADS

Arlington's Century Computer extended their unbeaten string to three games by stopping the first time this season the Rolling Meadows Bruins 4-2. The string ended the very next day when the Computers were blanked 3-0 by the Rolling Meadows Sabres.

In the first game, Ron Cullenpepper scored a hat trick with two unassisted goals and a goal set up by Ed Canni. The other goal was scored from a very difficult angle by George Kostopoulos with an assist going to Bob Anderson. Pending goal for the Computers was Kevin McGuire, who has allowed just five goals in the last five games. Giving McGuire the help he needs are the two defensive tandems of Jeff Price and Bob Kaskuski, Dave Gardner and Rob Patterson.

In the next game, the Computers ran into just too many penalties and found themselves short at the end. Although the Computers were blanked 3-0, the game was by no means uneventful. All three Sabre goals came on pointblank shots which McGuire had no chance of saving. The Computers have become a well-balanced team after a very rough beginning.

The Arlington Jaycees unleashed a flurry of 19 shots on the Dundee Demons to come out the victor 6-2. Rick Garber scored twice as did Ron Cullenpepper. Dan Porowinski and Tom Rielly both had a single goal. Ski Barbano, Tony Aiello, Joe Kuhn and Cullenpepper all had assists.

The first period, loaded with penalties, saw lots of action from wingmen Kevin Breen, John Sitchell and Mike Aiello. During a more quiet second period, Jim Aiello, Tony Aiello, Jim and Peter Mannix, Brian Riecke, and Ed Pecula all made frequent appearances.

Arlington's Latot Chevrolet dropped a tough 2-1 decision to the first-place Elk Grove team. Elk Grove scored early in the first period and kept the lead until 24 minutes remained in the game when Paul Stollner tied it up on an assist from Chris Lidge. With just 24 seconds remaining, Elk Grove scored the winner. Jim Murphy was in goal and played a fine game.

The Arlington Squirt All-Stars battled the Saddle & Cycle Club to a 2-2 tie when regulation time ended. The game then went into sudden death overtime and Arlington scored to win 4-2. Ricky Garber scored twice on assists from Andy Chalkin and Ron Cullenpepper. The overtime winner came off the stick of Cullenpepper with the assist going to Tony Aiello. Jim Murphy was in goal.

PEWEEES

Arlington's Franklin Glue and Elk Grove played to a 1-1 standoff. Mark Butler, Warren Johnson and Curt Bailey were the goal scorers with assists going to Jim Byers, Mark Burkmyer and Bob More. Outstanding defensive performances were turned in by Paul Grassman and Bob More.

Arlington's McEnerney Insurance dropped a 2-0 decision to a fine Dundee team. John Jordan had a busy night in goal and was outstanding.

Arlington Firefighters were defeated 9-0 by the Rolling Meadows Maple Leafs. Fine performance was turned in by Mike Weber, Chuck Lynch, Ian Williams and Scott Whittinghill despite the lopsided score.

The Arlington Pee Wee All-Stars were defeated by the Saddle & Cycle Club 10-3. Goal scorers for the Stars were Ricky Palmer with two, and Curt Bailey with a single tally. Single assists went to Rusty Gould, Bruce Olson, Larry Hermanson, and Bryan Schumann. Strong performance was turned in by John Olson and Rusty Gould.

Arlington's Prim Cleaners beat Elk Grove 4-0 with a well-balanced attack and fine goalkeeping. Goal scorers for Prim were John Laundry, Scott Chalkin, Jim Ryan, and Mike Retzer. Assists went to Scott Whittinghill with two and singles went to John McLaurine, Wayne Johnson, Kent McLeish, and Retzer. The tremendous goaltending was shared by Fred Mark and John Roth.

Arlington Soft Water lost a 5-2 contest to the Dundee Demons. Will Conway and Jim Fenderson were the goal scorers with assists going to John Walsh, Jerry Dudzink and John Carberry.

Baseball Coaches Clinic At Morton E. Saturday

The Illinois High School Baseball Coaches Association will hold its ninth annual coaching clinic this Saturday, Feb. 26, at Morton East High School, 2423 S. Austin Blvd., Cicero.

After registration at 8:30 a.m. and a welcoming, a panel on pitching will be presented at 9:30. Speakers will be Billy Pierce, former White Sox great; Jim Broanan, noted author and formerly of the Cubs, Reds and Sox; Terry Gellinger, coach of Fremd's defending Mid-Suburban League champions; and Bob Schmitt of Peoria Limestone High.

Jack Mallory, coach of Waukegan's defending state champions, will speak at 11:00. In the afternoon, Gordon Gillespie of Lewis College will head full-scale demonstrations and discussions on special conditioning, infield drills, pressure pitching situations and base running.

Door prizes will be presented. Coaches must be present to win. After the program at 4:30 p.m. there will be a smoker, compliments of Miller High Life Beer. Location will be announced at the clinic.

Herb Ward of Maine East is President of the Association and Larry Pohlmann, head coach at Prospect, is Secretary. Summer baseball Commissioner is Jim Phipps of Niles West.

Arlington's Schlemming Oil team hustled and played well last Thursday night at Rolling Meadows, but bowed to the Wings 4-1. Arlington lost a lone goal (none of the sticks of Jeff Gardner, with an assist by Bob Botti, Ben Matton, and Brett Carlson were outstanding on defense and Jeff Weber played a fine game in the nets turning back a number of hard shots.

Arlington's Bantam All-Stars outshot the Saddle & Cycle Club 11-20 but wound up on the short end of a 4-1 score. The game was played at the usual, but well-equipped rink at the fashionable Saddle & Cycle club on Chicago's north side. It was a fast-moving and hard-checking game. Captain John Walsh put Arlington ahead in the first period with an unassisted goal. However this was not to stand up as the hosts came back with two goals in the second period and two in the third period for the decision.

The Arlington Jaycees earned a 3-2 decision over Elk Grove. Tom Cronin led the way with two goals and Steve Lear also lit the lamp. Mark Purckan had two assists and a single assist went to Marc Klomp. Outstanding games were turned in by Pete Wuerl in goal and Cronin, Klomp, and Turkman.

The Arlington Arco were turned back 3-1 by Rolling Meadows' John Verdecio was the lone scorer for the Arco's.

Arlington's Checker Oil played the hockey but lost a 4-0 battle to an excellent Dundee Demon squad.

Arlington's Midget All-Stars shut out the Mundelein "G's," 5-0. Tim Paulsen and Jack Conway shared the goaltending and were excellent. Steve Lear and Jeff Palmer were the goal scorers with assists going to Dave Retzer and Dick Glass.

The Arlington Midget All-Stars posted another win with a 5-2 decision over Winfield. Rob Hudce played an outstanding game, scoring two goals. Single tallies went to Dick Glass, Marc Klomp and Steve Lear. Assists went to Rob Hendry, Dave Retzer, Mike Brawley, Dan Farrell, Lear, and Klomp.

Mike Brawley scored the lone goal, unassisted, in a 4-1 Midget All-Star loss to Evanston. The Arlington Midget All-Stars lost 6-3 to the Saddle & Cycle Club. Dave Retzer, Dick Glass and Mike Brawley were the goal scorers with assists going to Bill Ridgeway, Marc Klomp, Retzer, and Glass.

Arlington's Rob Roy Golf Club has entered the Rolling Meadows Hockey league replacing a team that dropped out. Their baptism was a 5-3 loss to the Rolling Meadows Americans. Rob Roy jumped out to a 3-0 lead but couldn't hold it. Mike Geddis, Keith McDonald, and Vic Incinelli scored with assists going to Chris Maun and Geddis with two each. A single assist was registered by McDonald.

Arlington's Rob Roy Golf Club after a slow start beat Elk Grove 5-2. Goal scorers were Mike Geddis, Terry Nied, Terry McDonald, Keith McDonald, (on a beautiful second effort) and Mike Schold. Assists went to Vic Incinelli, McDonald, Tim Cook and Schold. George Moldenhauer and Tom McGuire shared the goaltending.

ing up to a peak since Christmas and there's no doubt in my mind about our being ready for this game."

Pancratz, Leonard and Corzine were all members of the Husky alignment last year which fell in the Prospect fieldhouse after sailing to a divisional crown with a 12-1 record.

That setback turned out to be the beginning of the end for Hersey. Two games later they were eliminated from regional action and what ended off as a highly successful campaign, started on a somewhat sour note.

While the teams met in a regular cross-over contest prior to the championship clash last season, tonight will be the first confrontation between the two this year and staling each other up is the first order of business.

"I guess they haven't shrunk any," Prospect coach Bill Slayton quipped in obvious reference to 6-9 Pancratz and 6-11 Corzine.

"We've got to have the ball to play our fun and shoot game," Slayton continued. "It's no secret that we like to put the ball up there and run, but if we don't hit and rebound, we're assuredly only going to get one shot."

Hersey obliged by playing Prospect's stepped-up style of ball last season and it cost them the title. "Unless we keep them off the boards, those guys will be able to do anything they want to," Slayton admitted. "If we don't hit the defensive boards as well, it'll just be a matter of time before they tip them in."

In a capsule, this is how Slayton views each of the starting Huskies:

Steve Heldt — coming off a pretty good game. His job is to set things up out there for them.

Leonard — as good an outside shooter as (Ken) Peters or (Bob) Prince.

Pancratz — worthy of all of the superlatives you could give him. Potential prolific scorer, tremendous boarder, complete team player.

Corzine — aggressively physical on offense and intimidating on defense. One of the real future superstars of the league if he isn't already.

Jeff Kozei — overshadowed by Leonard and the big boys, but is key to getting ball inside.

Slayton has accepted another "underdog" tag for the championship game, but despite only a mediocre 12-7 overall record, added, "I think we have made ourselves more rounded in the last three or four games. We're not relying as much on the scoring from our guards (John vonBerg and Andy Bitta) and are getting much steadier performances from our frontliners (Jack Brink, Mike Keane and Tom Bergen)."

"Our best possible matchup might be to insert (Tom) Riendl in there against them," Slayton said. "He's been patient all season and at 6-5, could probably help us on the boards. We'll just have to see what the situation dictates."

CONANT AT ARLINGTON

When asked how much meaning the cross-over game with Conant had, Arlington coach George Zigman cited four reasons — both teams have good seasons going, want to have a win heading into the regional, could possibly win 20 games and have a lot of pride.

With four motives like that, the Cougars (15-5) and Cardinals (14-6) should mix it up as if they were contending for the MSL title instead of for third place.

"We feel they're a real fine defensive rebounding ball club," says Zigman. "They don't give you too many second shots."

One of the chief reasons — Chet Pudlosky, a 6-4, 210 pound forward who leads the league with a 16.7 rebounding average.

"If he gets his hand on the ball, he's got it," says Zigman. "Probably next to (Dave) Corzine and (Andy) Pancratz, he's one of those I'd call a physically strong rebounder in the league."

The Arlington coach is also impressed by the fine scoring balance Conant displays — Pudlosky 15.2, Bill Arkus 15.1 and 6-7 Dave Schmitt 10.8.

And then there's Rick Pearson, a 6-8 speed demon who's a "good driver," according to Zigman. He also is second in the league in assists with 5.3 per game.

Arlington is coming off of a 10-day rest. Its last game was a victory over Wheeling in two overtimes. Having a fine defensive game was Terry Ormsbee. The 6-2 senior forward was matched against 6-11 Roger Wood and "did a good job again," according to Zigman. "He checked him pretty well and didn't let him get a lot of cheap ones. Wood had eight in the first quarter and only 12 the rest of the way."

Leading the way offensively again was Ken Peters with 22 points.

"I think we know pretty much what they're going to do," said Conant coach Dick Redinger of the Cards. "Pressing is their defense and we've been working against their half and three-quarter court presses. They're very quick. We're going to try to work for the good percentage shot."

As to defending an explosive scorer as Ken Peters (easily leading the league with a 24.2 average), plus dangerous Mike Cleveland and Tim Will, Redinger said, "We may use a combination man-to-man and zone. You have to have someone right on Peters all the time."

Morale may be a Cougar problem after they lost the South Division title in heartbreaking fashion last week with a 79-78 loss to Elk Grove. It was especially disappointing since Redinger felt his charges played quite well. They had held first place almost the entire season before dropping their last two games to the other contenders.

"I'd like to see us get the ball off the boards faster and run more," remarked Redinger. Hopes for doing that will center on Pudlosky, leading the league in rebounding by a wide margin with a 16.7 board average per game.

Upon being wished good luck, Redinger admitted, "We're gonna need it."

FOREST VIEW AT WHEELING

One basket from the championship game — that thought has to have haunted the Forest View basketball team over the week. Falcon coach Ted Wissen is hoping his youngsters have erased the 40-39 loss to Prospect from their minds before tonight.

"Our kids were really disappointed," says Wissen of the Friday night letdown. "They're real tired and have been kind of dead this week. I hope we can get up and play a good game. I think they'll snap out of it."

This will be the second time Wheeling and Forest View have met. The game before Christmas went the Wildcats' way, 64-60, but it was exciting right to the finish.

The Falcons then had to contend with Tony Schuld, a speedy guard who only stands in at 5-6½. His three quick layups turned the game around, but he won't be around tonight because of an appendectomy.

Asked if the Falcons might press more with Schuld on the sidelines, Wissen said he wasn't sure if it depended on what kind of physical condition his team was in.

As for defending against 6-11 Roger Wood, Wissen had this to say, "We'll probably play him like everybody else does — sag in on him."

The 'Cats are getting better outside shooting now than they did in the first meeting, according to Wissen, because of the marksmanship of Jim Kass and Jay Rusek.

"The game, under the division setup, is kind of hard to get mentally prepared for," says Wissen. "You tend to look by it toward the tournaments. It's a ball game, though, and we want to win it."

Ted Ecker's Wildcats are in just about the same boat as Forest View — discouraged over a less than successful windup in regular league action and hoping to use this playoff contest as a springboard to better things next week when regional competition begins.

Wheeling dropped their final two divisional bouts within a span of four days, yielding a heartbreaker in double overtime to Arlington and capping their campaign on the losing end of a 55-47 verdict with Hersey. What had begun with all the earmarks of becoming a highly successful MSL season flamed up at a mediocre 6-5 clip.

"We can't look back now though," Ecker shrugged. "It's too late to dwell on any of our past misfortunes and much too soon to call it quits. We're going to try picking up the pieces beginning tonight. I firmly believe we've got the best part of our season still ahead of us."

To shore up his squad the 'Cat pilot has elevated Scott Keenan to varsity status. The 5-10 sophomore playmaker is one of the top scorers on the jayvee circuit this winter with a 14.5 average per game. He'll be replacing Schuld, who is out the remainder of the season.

Wheeling will be hoping to extend their dominance over Forest View to eight games in this rematch, the first time in three years the clubs have had a second crack at one another in the same season. The Falcons swept two-game series' with the 'Cats for three years when Wheeling first opened. Since then the Wildcats captured a pair in 67-68, two more in 68-69, one each in 69-70 and 70-71 and the first meeting this season to assume a 7-6 advantage in the series.

ELK GROVE AT FREM'D Elk Grove head coach Bill Parmender will be the first to admit that some of the sparkle of the MSL playoff system is lost in the battle for seventh place.

But he'll also be the first to defend its importance as a state regional stepping stone and another opportunity to play another North Division opponent. "I really don't know that much about Fremd," Parmentier leveled. "All I know is that they got their playoff spot by a coin flip."

Parmentier wants this game badly because his team is fresh off what he calls "our best game of the year." Conant will vouch for his opinion since the Grenadiers squashed its dreams for a divisional title with a near-perfect performance.

"We'd like to develop as much momentum for the state tournament as we can," Parmentier said. "I'm sure we're doing for a letdown after the game against Conant but I'm daring our kids to prove me wrong. They've done that before."

The Grenadiers also have a great chance to finish over the 500 mark for the first time in their history. They'll carry a 10-9 record into tonight's clash and need a victory to insure a winning standard for the campaign.

Last year, Elk Grove went 4-18 but basically the same type of team — small but quick. It'll encounter a similar cast against Fremd.

Fremd coach Leon Kasuboske is in the same boat as Parmentier as far as the opponent being an unknown quantity. "I haven't seen them play but we know what they can do," says Kasuboske.

The two squads have something else in common — each is coming off a satisfying, spirit-boosting victory last week. Fremd played its finest game in some time in routing Palatine 79-56, so in this regard the Vikings are in reasonable shape to enter tourney play with momentum — dangerous as Elk Grove is.

Highest scorer for either team in MSL play is Fremd forward Mark Hollinger with a 14.3 average. For Elk Grove forward Dave Chernick carries a 13.5 MSL average and flashy guard Bob Prince has a 13.1 standard.

Fremd guard Terry Kukla leads the league in assists and has been gradually improving his scoring in the last few games. Running mate Doug Pettit, capable of getting hot from outside, paced the win over Palatine with 23 points while Kukla had 20.

Neither team had a distinct height advantage so this game probably will be decided by aggressiveness on the boards, minimizing turnovers and shooting.

The Vikings' victory last week snapped a five-game winning streak and improved the team's overall record to 7-13.

GLENBARD NORTH AT PALATINE
"We know each other pretty well by now," said Glenbard coach Bill Connors of tonight's opponents, who already have tangled twice this season.

Palatine was the winner both times, by scores of 55-45 and 80-70, but that does not by any means make the Pirates shoo-ins tonight. Neither win came easy and as Connors says, "We feel we're stronger than the last time we played them."

"We've been coming along in the last three weeks. We still have too many turnovers, but we've been doing other things well."

Curiously, the two previous clashes between the teams were "entirely different types of games," as Connors said. The first was a slow, deliberate affair while the second featured swift action and blazing shooting on both sides.

In that 80-70 Pirate triumph, the winners hit a stunning 61 per cent from the field while Glenbard hit 34 per cent, good enough to win nine times out of 10.

Probably Palatine's main concern will be Glenbard's sterling 6-5 center Bob Witucki. He's the sixth best scorer in the MSL with a 16-point average and has been pulling down 10 rebounds per league outing. Witucki had totals of 15 and 22 in the previous two games against Palatine.

Another Pirate concern has to be morale. They have now lost four in a row and 10 of their last 13 to slip to an 8-11 record. Most recent setback was a 79-56 whipping by Fremd last Friday.

Steve Garoutte continues as leading scorer for the Pirates with ninth place in the league on a 15.4 average. He ranks 15th in all-time MSL scoring with 400 points in three seasons and could move up a notch if he can score at least 13 tonight. Steve was the only accurate Pirate against Fremd with a game-high 24 points.

In that last win over Glenbard, Doug Fyfe led the way with 23 and paces mate Jim Sander had 22. These two big men are averaging 12 and 11, respectively, in league outings and have combined for about 21 rebounds per MSL game.

"Garoutte and Sander both hurt us a lot the other two times we played them," said Connors, "and they can all shoot well. We'll have to play tighter defense."

SCHAUMBURG AT ROLLING MEADOWS
Although Schaumburg doesn't start one player over 5-11, the Saxons look pretty big to Rolling Meadows coach Ken Arneson.

"They're giants," says Arneson of the fifth game on his junior varsity's abbreviated varsity level schedule. "They've got the seasoning, man."

The Saxons carry a 2-14 overall record, but those 14 games were played against "some darn good clubs," according to Arneson. Meanwhile, the Mustangs have an 8-4 mark in varsity action and a 6-10 mark against jayvee teams.

"I've got to compare them to our team," says Arneson. "They're far superior to us in terms of speed. They also seem to have three boys who score pretty well — (John) Blasco, (Larry) Weller

At Elk Grove

Thom McCann is in first place with Gullett Lock 'N Key very close behind in second for this half on play in the Elk Grove Ladies Majors league at Elk Grove Bowl. There were a total of 14 series of 500 or better in recent action, with Barb Schroeder leading all ladies with 553. Others were Flo Zielinski's 542, Joyce Michalak's 538, Joan Hoag's 533, Marilyn Trieb's 530, Louise Lawrence's 528, Sandy Norum's 513, Carol Gerich's 514, Marilyn Elliott's 510, Gail Thullen's 504, Dale Shoemaker's 522, Lois Brewer's 525, Carol Bischof's 508 and Dot Wilkens' 508.

and (Marty) Hjertstedt."

Arneson has a height advantage with center Gary Lesley (6-3) and 6-1 forwards Jack Lloyd and Len Link. The latter leads the team in scoring with 12.6. Lloyd is right behind with 10.7.

"One of our problems all year long has been a lack of rebounding," says Arneson. "Our scouting report says that Schaumburg does real well for its size."

Coming off the bench to help out will be 6-3 John Kruser, a sophomore, and 6-1 John Hogan, a freshman.

Schaumburg mentor Joe Bresault and his charges are allowed the rare experience of being something other than an underdog tonight but they're still approaching the game from their usual guarded standpoint. "This isn't going to be any pushover," Bresault observed, "We've got more to prove in fact, than we have, and I have tremendous respect for the way coach Arneson has brought that club along.

The Saxons, in any event, know how much a varsity win would mean to the Mustangs, having celebrated few of these occasions themselves. "We're hungry but so are they," added Bresault.

Another rare experience to be afforded Schaumburg's pilot tonight will be the sight of a full compliment of players. All season long the Saxons have gone with a seven or eight man crew but tonight Bresault will have a dozen charges at his disposal.

"I don't know if I can keep track of them all," he kidded, adding on a more serious note, "This is the group we'll be taking in to regional play."

The group, in addition to starters John

Blasco, Larry Weller, Marty Hjertstedt, Kevin Joy and Jeff Larson, and regular reservists Bill Papastefan, Mike Miller and Trent Tucker will include four youngsters brought up from the jayvee unit. Two of them, juniors Randy Gosell and Art Abraham were with the jayvee unit all last season when it was the school's main club.

The other two are sophomores Bill Springer and Dave Hill, both carrying about 18-point scoring averages. Hill was starting quarterback on the Saxons varsity football team this past fall.

Hill, Gosell and Abraham will have a little added incentive tonight inasmuch as they were on a team victimized by the Mustangs 73-46 during a jayvee holiday tournament hosted by Rolling Meadows.

Boat Pennants To Fly At Horse Racing Site

Boat pennants will be flying at Arlington Park, scene of summer horse racing, as the Third Annual Midwest Boat Show attracts a mammoth flotilla of hundreds of boats of every kind and size in the Arlington Park Exposition Center.

For ten days, starting Friday, March 10, more than 100 marine dealers will display all the latest in boats — power and sailboats, cabin cruisers, houseboats, canoes, rafts, and row boats, ATVs that travel on water or land, motors, snowmobiles and boating accessories.

Boating fans from throughout Chicago and its suburbs, northern Illinois, southern Wisconsin and Indiana come to the Midwest Boat Show every year to get a running start on the Spring and Summer season, and to enjoy all the family entertainment as well as to see the newest in boats.

All the name brands of boats and motors, and many lesser-known boating products, will be shown. Munson Marine, for example, will display the Pleasure Island Flote-Bote line of twin pontoon craft, and the flote-bike. Terri's West Side Marine is exhibiting its sleek and speedy Arrowglass boats. Sporty Checkmate outboards also will be seen, along with a host of other colorful boats.

Besides the pretty girls that always are present at boat shows to whet the appetite for warm weather fun, plenty of family entertainment will be available at the boat show. Daily beachwear and cruisewear style shows will give men and women, boys and girls, a glimpse at the latest in bathing suits and deck and dock party fashions.

Quen Cukra, adventurous Onarga, Ill. youth who recently returned from a 40,000-mile, round-the-world voyage on his home-made Trimaran, will tell all about his odyssey on the Oceans in a picture-presentation on Sunday evening, March 12. He'll kick off the Boat Show's "Best Boating Story" contest.

Boating fans are urged to write about their favorite boating adventure in 500 words or less, and turn it in to their marine dealer, who in turn, will enter it for them in the Midwest Boat Show contest. Winner will receive $100 and three runners-up each will win $50, according to Edward P. Hansen, president of the Midwest Boat Show.

To celebrate St. Patrick's Day on March 17, a "Cutest Colleen" contest will be held among all of the lady visitors to the show.

March 13 will be observed as Good Luck Day, with appropriate fanfare.

Show hours are: Friday, March 10, 6-11 p.m., Saturday and Sunday, March 11-12, Noon-11 p.m., Monday through Friday, March 13-17, 4-11 p.m., Saturday, March 18, Noon-11 p.m., and Sunday, March 19, Noon-7 p.m.

Admission prices will be $2.00 for adults and 75 cents for students; advance sale tickets of $1.25 are available at marine dealers and sporting goods stores.

Schaumburg Kings Ice Hockey Results

Schaumburg Kings hockey team enjoyed a perfect week against the Tri-City Royals with four wins in as many games. In Juvenile play, Schaumburg played Rob Roy of Arlington Heights to a 1-1 tie.

SQUADS
The Schaumburg Kings defeated Tri-City 2-1. The winners scored first on a goal by Scott Phillips assisted by Mike Gaylor and Boyd Archibald. Tri-City tied the score but the Kings got the winner with 12 seconds left in the first period by Gaylor, with Glen Fanout getting an assist. The second period play was scoreless, featuring five saves by goalie Mike Gorman.

FREE WEBS
Schaumburg was a 6-3 winner over Tri-City with four different players getting into the scoring column and Jeff Ross tallying twice. The Royals scored first, three minutes into the game, before the Kings came back four minutes later on a goal by Kurt Deppner unassisted.
Ray Garwon put Schaumburg ahead with an assist from Rich Waltschek but Tri-City tied it again. The last four minutes of the first period belonged to Schaumburg as Steve Murphy got the lead again on an assist from Dave Dusek. In the final period Tri-City tied the game once more before the Kings took over with the last two goals by Ross. Carl Collin assisted both times. Goalie Danny Gorman came up with his third win.

BANTAMS
Schaumburg clinched its most decisive win of the day in this division, 6-3 over Tri-City. The winners scored three times in each period with five different boys putting the puck in the net. Mike Pollard netted a pair of goals.
Accounting for the other scores were Mike Waggoner, Ciccia, Jim Wilson, Tom Sapak and Gary Dickson. The team played well overall in a fast skating game as goalie Ed Waggoner held the fort.

MIDGETS
Schaumburg clinched second place by edging Tri-City 4-3. Dennis Pollard scored twice, Gary Zarko had another and Dan Killen put in the winning score. Assists were by Joe Vaghar, Zarko, Kirk Cunningham, Jack Kramer and John Rebera. The Kings had 31 shots on goal to Tri-City's 11.

JUVENILES
In a hard-hitting, well-played game, the Kings and Rob Roy ended with a goal apiece. Rich Garwon was Schaumburg's only goal-scorer with assists from Steve Bird and Tom Mithusen.

Monroe Unbeaten On Mats

Ken Monroe of Arlington Heights, a junior at Wayne State College in Wayne, Neb., recently ran his unbeaten wrestling record to a dazzling 15-0-1. Ken, who wrestles at 167 pounds, is a former national champion. Wayne State had a 7-4 dual meet record at last report.

Gerke In Umpire School

Robert L. Gerke, 1966 Rosita Dr., Palatine, has enrolled as a student in the Baseball Umpire Development specialization course at St. Petersburg, Fla. This is an intensive program of training sponsored by the major leagues.

The course runs for five weeks with major league umpires as supervisors. The students will work spring training games of the Cardinals, Red Sox, Mets, Phillies, Reds, Tigers and Royals as part of their training program.

The present class is comprised of 78 students who were thoroughly screened out of 1150 applicants. Upon graduation, if qualified, each student will be sent out to a minor league for the beginning of his professional career.

Big Ones Don't Get Away

James Collins, 1824 N. Mitchell St., Arlington Heights, hooked a 137-pound Blue Marlin in the Metropolitan Miami Fishing Tournament. He fished with Capt. Tony Lentz out of Castaways Decks. Collins will be awarded a citation for his catch. Richard Dale, 16 E. Willow Rd., Wheeling, caught a 22-pound dolphin in the same tournament.

Brandel Ski Patrolman

Richard K. Brandel, 1224 Berkenshire Lane, Elk Grove Village, recently was named a Senior ski patrolman with the National Ski Patrol System. He will work at Fox Trails ski area in Cary, Ill.

The advancement to the rank of Senior Patrolman gives Richard the privilege of being a guest patrolman at any ski area in the central division.

A First On Gridiron

Northwestern and Northern Illinois Universities recently scheduled a football game for the Wildcats' Dyche Stadium Sept. 20, 1975. Athletic Directors Tippy Dye of Northwestern and Bob Brigham of Northern announced.

It will be the first game ever between the schools. The game was arranged after the University of California at Santa Barbara, which had been scheduled to play Northwestern on that date, dropped football.

New Home For Western

The Western Open Golf Championship has a new home for three years — maybe even permanently — at the brand-new Butler National Golf Club in west suburban Oak Brook.

Details of a unique long-term agreement were announced by the Western Golf Association, sponsor of the nation's second oldest tournament, and by Paul Butler, millionaire sportsman who developed Butler National.

Completed in recent months and the first new major club in the Chicago area in several years, Butler National will hold its first Western Open in either 1973 or 1974.

Changes At Sox Park

New changes at White Sox Park will not cause one to feel he is lost, but they will be noticeable when fans attend the 1972 games.

For example, the lighting system has been improved with the addition of several lights; and over 12,000 seats received a new coat of paint.

Nancy Faust, the popular White Sox organist, will not only play on a new X-68 Hammond Organ, but she will now play from the upper grandstands, below the press box.

The pretty young musician — who has a fan club named after her — previously played in the center field bleachers.

Boat Show March 1-5

The annual Randhurst Boat Show comes to the shopping center March 1-5 this year, with more than 50 different types of crafts to be displayed by suburban boat dealers.

Hours of operation: 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays; from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturday, and from noon to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Exhibitors will include Barney's Reco Marine of Palatine, Viking Marine of Roselle, Fox Lake Harbor and Arctic All Sports of Des Plaines.

In conjunction with the boat show, the Suburban Aquarist Society will sponsor an exhibit of tropical and exotic fish. There will be 20 different aquarium settings presented by members of the society.

On Sunday, March 5, the "S.O.S." (Save Our Sight) vision conservation clinic will be available at Randhurst for children and adults. The free tests will be given in the Carson Pirie Scott Tree-top Restaurant. Participating in the clinic will be the Des Plaines Kiwanis Club, the Des Plaines Lions Club, the Morton Grove Lions Club, the Mount Prospect Rotary Club, the Arlington Heights Rotary Club and the Wheeling Township Kiwanis Club.

reno Cortico Tropic Hormone. Andreno Cortico refers to the adrenal cortex, the small gland over the kidney which produces cortisone naturally. Prednisone is a purified medicine which has many of the effects of cortisone but not quite as many adverse side effects. Tropic refers to stimulating and H to Hormone, so basically ACTH is a hormone from the pituitary gland beneath the brain (the master gland) that stimulates production of the adrenal hormone. Thus, prednisone and ACTH have similar effects.

It is usually not good to stay on high doses of cortisone, prednisone, or ACTH for arthritis. I would suspect that your doctor has changed your husband's medication to keep him from having undesirable complications and still try to help control his arthritis. These hormones must be used carefully if one is to avoid having serious complications. They do not cure the arthritis. They may relieve a person's symptoms.

Drum, Bugle Corps Plans Pancake Fest

The Guardsmen Drum and Bugle Corps of Explorer Scout Post 245 will sponsor a pancake breakfast at the Arlington Heights American Legion Hall on Sunday.

People from all surrounding communities are invited to the breakfast which will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. The scout post is from Elk Grove Township.

Donations are $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children from five to 10 years of age. All proceeds will go to the Guardsmen fund.

The Lighter Side

by Dr. William Shakespeare

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Incredible as it may seem, there is one China expert who still has not been interviewed about President Nixon's trip to Peking.

I hasten to correct that oversight by calling in Dr. William Shakespeare, professor of sinological clarification at the Stratford Institute of Far Eastern Elucidation.

Q—DO YOU FEEL, sir that Nixon's visit to China was the best way to go about improving Sino-American relations?

A—"It is not so deep as a well, nor so wide as a churchdoor. But it will serve."

Q—I SEEM to detect a certain amount of Oriental inscrutableness in your reply. Please answer flatly whether you believe it possible for the United States and China to reconcile their differences.

A—"All those woes shall serve for sweet discourses in our time to come."

Q—THAT'S BETTER. What were your impressions of Mao Tse-tung?

A—"He was a scholar, and a ripe and good one. Exceeding wise, fair spoken, and persuading—lofty and sour to them that loved him not, but to those men that sought him sweet as summer."

Q—HOW ABOUT Chou En-lai?

A—"He reads much — he is a great observer, and he looks quite through the deeds of men. On the tip of his subduing tongue all kinds of arguments and questions deep."

Q—YEAH, but aren't those guys also bloody revolutionaries?

A—"They say best men are moulded out of faults, and, for the most, become much more the better for being a little bad."

Q—NIXON HAS drawn some criticism, for his turnabout on the China question. Would you comment on that?

A—"Were man but constant, he were perfect. The bitter past, more welcome is the sweet."

Q—BUT DON'T you agree there was a high degree of risk involved?

A—"Small have continual plodders ever won. Our doubts are traitors and make us lose the good we oft might win by fearing to attempt."

Q—DID YOU think there will be anything significant in the official communications on the talks?

A—"The best of this kind are shadows. 'Tis a kind of good deed to say well — and yet words are not deeds."

Q—AND WHAT do you think the trip will lead to?

A—"To unpathed waters, undreamed shores. Thus we may see how the world wags."

Thank you, Dr. Shakespeare.

PEP Slates Seminar Tonight

Larry Hardin of the Illinois Institute of Environmental Equality will speak at a special discussion program at 8 tonight at the Arlington Heights Memorial Library.

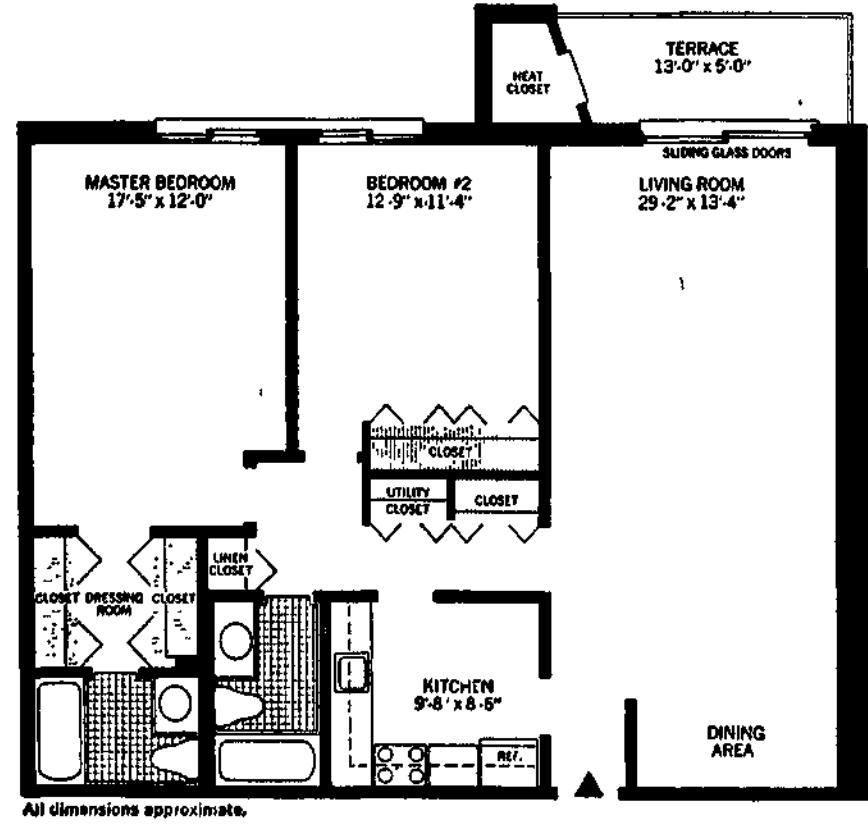

Sponsored by Pollution and Environmental Problems (PEP), an area-wide ecology group, the program is planned to inform residents on Hardin's current study of solid waste disposal and alternatives to solving the impending problems with disposal.

A special task force directed by Hardin for a year has been studying existing disposal methods used throughout the state and will make proposals for future waste elimination.

This is one of four general programs planned by PEP open to the public for discussion of environmental problems. The next seminar, to be held in May, will feature State Rep. David Regner and State Rep. Robert Mann in a discussion of possible legislation to improve the environmental situation.

what makes us the no. 1 newspaper? ... again

again . . . in 1971, The Herald newspapers published by Paddock Publications won the top award for general excellence among all Illinois daily newspapers.*

The prize, awarded this year to The Des Plaines Herald, was based on superior local news and features, reader service and special interest columns, general newspaper design, format, editorial pages, sports and women's pages, and advertising layouts.

This is the second straight year that Paddock has won the best daily newspaper honor. First place in 1970 was awarded to the Arlington Heights Herald. Other awards in the 1971 state competition presented to the daily Heralds included first place for best women's pages, first place in best sports coverage, first place in best promotion of newspaper, second place in best use of illustrative material, third place in best news story, and fifth place in best photography.

When you're a Herald reader, you know you're enjoying the paper that's

FIRST
IN GENERAL EXCELLENCE

FIRST
IN DAILY ADVERTISING

FIRST
IN DAILY NEWS COVERAGE

FIRST
IN DESIGN AND FORMAT

These are some of the reasons why the Herald is rated the number one daily newspaper in Illinois.
But the important award we are most interested in is your acceptance. We publish The Herald for you, our readers, and our ever increasing circulation and advertising is our most significant award. Thank you for your acceptance.

Jim West

The finals of the 41st Illinois High School Association Swimming Championship will be colorcast from New Trier East High School, Winnetka, by WGN Television from 3 to 5 p.m., Saturday, February 26. This is the 10th consecutive year that Channel 9 has covered the Swimming Championship.

Jim West and Adolph Kiefer will give the names of those competing and describe the events as they take place for viewers of this WGN Television Sports Special.

Central High School in Hinsdale, won the 1967, '68, '69, '70 and '71 championships with this year's host school, New Trier East High School in Winnetka, placing second in 1968, '69, '70 and '71. Evanston High School placed third in last year's championship meet. All three schools will be strong contenders again this year.

Events to be covered include diving, two relays, four freestyle events, and individual events in the 100 yard butterfly, breaststroke, backstroke categories, and a 200 yard individual medley.

'Mystery' of aviatrix Earhart is CBS special

PHOTO COPY—Geraldine Brooks stars as Amelia Earhart, the famed aviatrix whose photo is on the right, in "The Mystery of Amelia Earhart," to be rebroadcast on "You Are There" Saturday, Feb. 26, 11:30 a.m.-12 noon on the CBS Television Network.

Cousteau special studies dolphin abilities

The Dolphin, legendary friend of gods and humans, comes under scrutiny on "The Undersea World of Jacques Cousteau," ABC News documentary special airing on the ABC Television Network, Friday, Feb. 25, 7-8:00 p.m.

In "A Sound of Dolphins," in sequences photographed in the Straits of Gibraltar and Mauretania, East Africa, Capt. Cousteau and the divers of the Calypso study the creatures' sonar system and their unusual ability to find their way by echo location, and explore the continuing relationship between them and Man.

FILMING FREE dolphins is a challenge even to Capt. Cousteau and his crew. The air-breathing mammals are too swift for divers to approach them. They never stay behind or alongside a ship but they are attracted to the bow as to a magnet.

An underwater camera aimed backward toward the nose of the ship is attached to the Calypso and for the first time front view shots of dolphins swimming freely toward the camera are obtained by underwater cameraman Yves Omer.

Another phase of the Calypso's operation is the isolation of a dolphin from the herd for study in semi-captivity. The animals are identified as saddleback dolphins, one of 50 dolphin species belonging to the whale family.

THE MEN in the Calypso's satellite, Zodiac, slowly haul in a dolphin whose heart is beating abnormally fast due to shock. The highly sensitive creature is lowered into a specially designed pool and named Babille by the crew.

Bright and quick to learn, depending on both sight and sound, Babille surveys her environment as television cameras are installed to film dolphin echo-location.

THE CALLS OF the dolphin are analyzed on a multi-channel tape recorder so that we may learn how their signals and behavior patterns are correlated.

Also on the hour program is a sequence filmed in Birmingham, England, showing how, thanks to dolphin research, a blind man "sees with his ears."

Can I quote you on that?

What does it take for a simple expression or quotation to become a "household word" like Agnewism? Many times television programs contribute their fair share to the American colloquial vocabulary.

Remember Don Adams, as Maxwell Smart on "Get Smart"? "Sorry 'bout that, Chief" almost overnight was shortened to a convenient "sorry 'bout that" and virtually everyone was throwing it into a conversation. Then of course there was that gal Judy Carne on "Laugh-In." Waiting for a bucket of water to be tossed at her, Judy uttered "Sock it to me." That expression still lives on...Then there's Lawrence Welk and his "Wunnerful, wunnerful."

GRANTED, while the bulk of those expressions we use cannot be attributed to television, one can hardly keep from wondering if fellows like Voltaire, Hugo, Fromm, Franklin, etc. didn't have super-sensory powers. Could they have seen specific television programs ahead...and planned their quotations accordingly?

Cases in point can be made...
"WE MUST MAKE THE BEST OF THOSE ILLS WHICH CANNOT BE AVOIDED"—(Alexander Hamilton on all those commercial breaks?)

"ALL AUTHORITY BELONGS TO THE PEOPLE"—(Thomas Jefferson in arguing that people were indeed watching "The Senator" on NBC, despite the network's claim that the show had low ratings?)

"A GOOD LAUGH IS SUNSHINE IN A HOUSE"—(William Thackeray on the Archie Bunker household?)

"POLITICS HAS BECOME SO EXPENSIVE THAT IT TAKES A LOT OF MONEY EVEN TO BE DEFEATED"—(Will Rogers on the outrageous cost of television advertising campaigns?)

"CLOTHES DON'T MAKE THE MAN, BUT CLOTHES HAVE GOT MANY A MAN A GOOD

Judy Carne: sock it to me...

JOB"—(Herbert Vreeland on Doc Severinsen's jump in popularity since he shed the traditional coat and tie?)

"THAT WHICH IS EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS IS NOBODY'S BUSINESS"—(Izaak Walton on Rona Barrett?)

"A MAN'S BEST FRIENDS ARE HIS TEN FINGERS"—(Robert Collyer on Liberace's ability to not only play the piano, but to also show off eight or nine diamond-studded rings?)

"IT IS WITH WORDS AS WITH SUNBEAMS—THE MORE THEY ARE CONDENSED, THE DEEPER THEY BURN"—(Robert Southey must have been thinking of Howard Cosell, don't you think?)

Orson Welles, of course, has lived during the age of television's birth and its rising prominence. Perhaps he hit it on the head, referring to himself and the thousands of viewers who claim that they can't stand television. Says Welles: "I hate television. I hate it as much as peanuts. But I can't stop eating peanuts."

Enough said?

Liberace: my friends, my fingers...

SPEAKING OF EATING, we see more and more of the fattening delicacies featured on television shows and commercials, but recently a good number of features have been devoted to reports on the merits of dieting.

Locally, a WLS-TV news series by Channel 7 newsman John Drury—entitled "The Vast Waist Land"—was a pretty good report on what people put themselves through to lose weight.

According to Channel 7 press relations, Drury himself is now a waist 38, down from a 42 three months ago, thanks to Weight Watchers.

ON THE COVER: Sonny and Cher, the husband and wife singing duo, are going great guns in their new show. Their variety program is seen on Monday at 9 p.m. on the CBS Television Network.

'Tough Texan' Foyt featured

"One Tough Texan—A. J. Foyt at Phoenix," a presentation of "ABC's Championship Auto Racing" series, will air on the ABC Television Network, SUNDAY, FEB. 27.

Foyt, one of the great drivers in the United States for many years and a three-time winner of the Indianapolis '500', had gone nearly two years without a USAC victory on pavement when he entered the Bobby Ball '150' at the Phoenix International Raceway last fall.

ABC SPORTS' color cameras pick up Foyt in his garage in Houston, Texas, a few days prior to the race and go behind the scenes to examine Championship cars—the big turbocharged machines more familiarly known as Indianapolis-Cars.

Keith Jackson narrates Foyt's preparations for the Phoenix race, and, ultimately, for the Indy '500'. Tony Foyt, A. J.'s father, and other members of his crew are seen planning strategy and race tactics.

Garagiola recalls 'funnies'...

Those athletes and their classic quotes

Some of the more humorous sports quotes of last year were recalled by Joe Garagiola during recent broadcasts on the NBC Radio Network.

One of Garagiola's favorite quotes came from ex-boxer Jake LaMotta. Joe reported: "We've all heard the cliché reactions of athletes when they find out they've won some kind of award. But leave it to Jake La Motta to come up with something different. Jake was named 'The Noblest Roman of Them All,' and when somebody asked him why, Jake said, 'I guess it's because I haven't been arrested in a long time.'"

JOE RECALLED that when a report circulated that Willie Pep, the ex-featherweight champion, had died, a reporter called to check the story. Pep himself answered the phone and said: "Naw, I didn't die last night. I wasn't even out of the house."

Garagiola told one about San Francisco quarterback John Brodie. When Brodie was asked why he, a million dollar quarterback, has to hold the ball for field goals and points after touchdown, Brodie said, "Well, if I didn't, it would fall over."

Joe Garagiola

"In Italy," said the NBC Radio sports reporter, "there's a soccer coach who makes $240,000 a year. His name is Helenio Herrera. Somebody asked Signor Herrera how he felt about the fact that he was paid ten times as much as a government minister and the coach said, 'In modern society, one earns what one is worth.'"

"THAT REMINDS me," said Joe, "of Babe Ruth's answer when they mentioned to him that he was making a bigger salary than President Hoover. The Babe said, 'I had a better year than he did'."

Garagiola remembers this quote from Washington Redskins President, Edward Bennett Williams. Talking about his deal with his new coach, he said: "When I hired George Allen, I gave him an unlimited expense account. He's already exceeded it."

There is one quote that Joe thinks says a lot in a few words. "We've heard," Joe said, "about what life in the minor leagues can be like, but a guy who really figures to know is pitcher Joe (Grzenda,) who finally got to the big leagues after having spent 11 years in the minor leagues. Asked what his ambition was, Joe (Grzenda) said, 'I'd like to stay in baseball long enough to buy a bus—and then set fire to it.'"

GARAGIOLA received a letter from a listener who turned out to be an old friend, Cincinnati shortstop Woody Woodward. Joe said that Woody had a nomination for best quote: "It seems that on last opening day, the Reds played the Atlanta Braves. Woodward had one of those days. Not only did the Reds lose, but Woody chipped in with three errors. Well, a couple of days later, a letter arrived at the clubhouse for Woodward.

"It read, 'Dear Mr. Woodward, the Florida State University Seminoles are playing very good ball these days, so after today's performance please don't tell anyone that you played there. It wouldn't help in recruiting baseball players...'"

Joe Garagiola is heard 10 times a week on the NBC Radio Network with his sports reports.

Stephen Brooks (left) and Robert Hooks, as private investigators searching for an alleged mass murderer, examine wanted posters in a scene from "Two For The Money" on the ABC Television Network's "MOVIE OF THE WEEKEND," Saturday, Feb. 26, 7:30-9 p.m.

Miss Illinois of 1971 readies for piano concerto on WGN-TV

Pianist Anita Pankratz—Miss Illinois of 1971—and baritone James Javore will be the featured performers on "Artists' Showcase," a WGN Television fine arts presentation, with noted host Louis Sudler, on Sunday evening, March 5, at 7:30 p.m.

Miss Pankratz, who is making her second appearance on "Artists' Showcase," will play the First Movement of the Concerto in F-Major for Piano and Orchestra by George Gershwin.

James Javore, baritone, will sing the aria "O Vin Dissipe La Triste," known as the drinking song from "Hamlet" by Ambrose Thomas, and "Stranger in Paradise" from "Kismet." Mr. Javore has won many scholarships, including the Illinois Opera Guild Musical Education Grant for 1971.

Robert Trendler and the WGN accompany the performers on the monthly colorcasts of this series.

Specials tonight

Babar, Bob & Bing too!

Bing Crosby

Bing Crosby and his guests—Bob Hope, Carol Burnett and Pearl Bailey—trapped in a stalled elevator and crowded into a single dressing room, reveal their true feelings toward each other in "Bing Crosby and His Friends," a musical-comedy special to be colorcast on the NBC Television Network Sunday, Feb. 27, 9-10 p.m.

Capping an "All-Special Night" on NBC-TV Feb. 27, the Crosby special will be preceded by an encore colorcast of "Babar Comes to America" (6:30 to 7 p.m.) the new "Bell System Family Theatre" presentation of "Highlights of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus" (7-8 p.m.) and "The Bob Hope Special" (8-9 p.m.)

THE ENTIRE cast sets the theme of the show singing "You've Got Good Friends," written for the program by Ray Charles. Then they reveal humorous aspects of their true natures when they are trapped between floors in a stalled elevator at NBC-TV's Burbank Studios.

Pearl and Carol sing "Little Things We Do Together," and wind up sharing a single dressing room with Bob and Bing in the second comedy sketch of the show.

Bing and Bob chat about their many "Road" pictures, and sing songs from several of them including "Road to Morocco," "Put it There, Pal" and "Apalachicola, Fla."

Pearl does "Here's That Rainy Day," Bing and Carol sing "Saturday Morning Confusion" and the entire cast joins in a medley that includes "Side by Side by Side" and "What Would I do Without You?"

At auto show

Singers Tony Sandler & Ralph Young will be appearing in the preview of the 64th Annual Chicago Automobile Show on WGN Television, Channel 9, Sunday, February 27 from 5:30 to 7 p.m. in color.

tv MAILBAG

I noticed at the end of one of my 'soaps' that Melba Rae who played Marge Bergman on SEARCH FOR TOMORROW passed away. Could you give me more information? Was it an accident or what?

—M. Branski
Buffalo Grove

MELBA RAE

Melba Rae who played Marge Bergman died of a cerebral hemorrhage in New York at the age of 49.

Born in Willard, Utah, she attended Stanford University and worked in radio in both San Francisco and New York. She appeared in other television productions including the ARMSTRONG CIRCLE THEATRE, and also did dubbing-in on foreign productions. At the time of her death CBS affiliates were swamped with calls from her fans.

The part of Marge has been written-out and according to CBS will not be re-cast. Larry Haines will remain a widower

A friend and I have a bet. He says that Sandy Duncan of FUNNY FACE had an eye operation. I say she had problems with her eyes because of a brain tumor. Please tell me who is right.

—Julie Dotts
Palatine

Miss Duncan underwent an operation last November to remove a tumor lodged behind the eye. Her series, FUNNY FACE, was discontinued until next fall so she could recuperate.

As a result of the surgery and the 'haircut' that accompanied it, she is now wearing a wig "I look like I ought to be in the Army or something. Even soldiers wear their hair longer than mine," Miss Duncan commented.

When did James Brolin make his debut on television? How old is he? I say he's in his 30's.

—Amy Oswald
Palatine

JAMES BROLIN

You're close. he's 29! An appearance in a BUS

STOP episode put Brolin on the tube for the first time. James had studied to be an aeronautical engineer but switched his sights to acting and has learned his craft well. He received an Emmy Award in 1970 and a nomination in '71 for Best Supporting Actor in a Dramatic Series. He was also given the Golden Globe Award and the Photoplay and Fame Magazine awards for the Most Promising Actor of 1970. Brolin plays Dr. Steven Kiley on MARCUS WELBY, M.D.

MITCH VOGEL

You bet he has! Mitch as appeared in THE VIRGINIAN, DEATH VALLEY DAYS, IRONSIDE, HERE COME THE BRIDES, and ADAM-12. His movie credits include "Yours, Mine and Ours," starring Henry Fonda and Lucille Ball.

The 15-year-old actor can be written in-care-of NBC, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, N.Y. 10020

I would like to know something about Mary Tyler Moore. How old is she? Does she have any children? Where does she live? When is her birthday?

—Vivian Laga
Elk Grove Village

MARY TYLER MOORE

Here are a few 'somethings' for you Vivian. Mary was born in Brooklyn, N.Y. on Dec 29, 1937; is married to Grant Tinker, a television producer, and has a son, Ritchie, born in 1957.

Mary's legs drew viewers appreciation as the secretary with the sexy voice and beautiful legs, who face was never shown, when she played 'Sam' on the RICHARD DIAMOND series.

The Tinker family lives in Beverly Hills.

How old is Mark on THE RIFLEMAN?

—K.D.
Mount Prospect

Mark never seems to get any older; but Johnny Crawford who played the role is now 24-years-old. Did you know that Crawford was one of the original Mousketeers in Walt Disney's Club?

'Nostalgia is in' claims the ol' Pea-picker Ernie

"Nostalgia is in now," commented Tennessee Ernie Ford, explaining why the golden era of movie musicals was selected as the theme for his special, "The Fabulous Fordies," to be colorcast on the NBC Television Network Tuesday, Feb. 29.

"Just look at the success of 'No, No, Nanette' on Broadway. And 'Showboat' is sold out for about 37 years to come in London," he continued.

OPERATING ON his conviction that nostalgia is "in," Ford will be host to three of the top musical stars of the 1940's in his special—Betty Grable, Dick Haymes and Maureen O'Hara.

A fourth guest star, Frank Gorshin, will offer re-creations of such musical favorites of the decade as James Cagney portraying writer-composer-performer George M. Cohan in the film "Yankee Doodle Dandy," and the songs of Al Jolson as presented in "The Jolson Story."

"Betty Grable looks great—those legs—and Dick Haymes sings better than he did 30 years ago. And Maureen O'Hara is still the greatest," Ford said. "These are the movie stars I was looking at when I was just a little old disk jockey in Knoxville."

"THERE'S AN entire generation that wants to remember those days, and there's another generation grown up that's never had the chance to hear the kind of music we'll be making."

Nostalgic highlights of the show include a bare-legged Betty Grable singing and dancing to "Steppin' Out with My Baby" from her "Mother Wore Tights" film. She joins Haymes in their love ballad, "The More I See You," from "State Fair" and a medley of other songs from his best-known motion pictures, embracing "On a Slow Boat to China," "All of Me" and "Always."

Ford said: "The golden era of Hollywood musicals introduced many famous singers, but the fellow with the easiest singing style of them all was, without a doubt, Dick Haymes.

"THIS IS HIS first appearance in America in more than a decade. The producers (Digby Wolfe and Bob Wynn) and I heard a recording of his in London when we were over there doing our 'Peapicker in Picadilly' special, and he sounded wonderful. We finally located him living in Madrid, and he agreed to come over to do this show.

"When I first introduced Haymes to our studio audience, they gave him a standing ovation that lasted three minutes. And he still sings so great; if you close your eyes and listen to him you think you're watching a movie from 30 years ago."

Ford closed his eyes for a minute, as though he was listening.

"We're really going to bring back some memories for people," he said.

☆ StarSpot ☆

For suave Stewart, new roles are challenges

Stewart Granger never wanted to be an actor—his real love has always been directing. He was sidetracked by necessity.

The suave, literate performer expounded on his fate while filming "The Hound of the Baskervilles," an all-new dramatization of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's classic tale, which aired recently on the ABC Television Network's "Movie of the Weekend." Granger stars as Doyle's supersleuth, Sherlock Holmes.

"I HAD BEEN making films in England, but really wasn't happy about it," Granger explained. "I took time out to direct a play called 'Power of Darkness,' starring Jean Simmons and Peter Glenville. We toured England and then opened at the Lyric in London.

"I believed in the play even though the critics didn't, so, I kept it going at my own expense, hoping it would catch on. Before long, I was hopelessly in debt. Then came the film, 'King Solomon's Mines,' in 1950 with Deborah Kerr and an offer of a seven-year contract at MGM. Being a realist, I knew the bills had to be paid, so I signed with the studio."

"King Solomon's Mines," of course, made Granger an international star overnight. There was no turning back.

"I'M STILL very proud of that film," the silver-haired actor stated. It's my favorite. I saw it again on TV recently, 21 years after we made it, and it couldn't be done any better today. It had romance, action and fantastic production value. I can't understand why they don't make such films anymore.

"Frankly, I'm sick of much of what is on the theater screen today. I don't know why they make films only for an audience of between the ages of 17 and 23 or movies that are so way out to attract a crowd. It's silly."

For the star of last season's "The Men from Shiloh" series, "The Hound of the Baskervilles" offered something completely new.

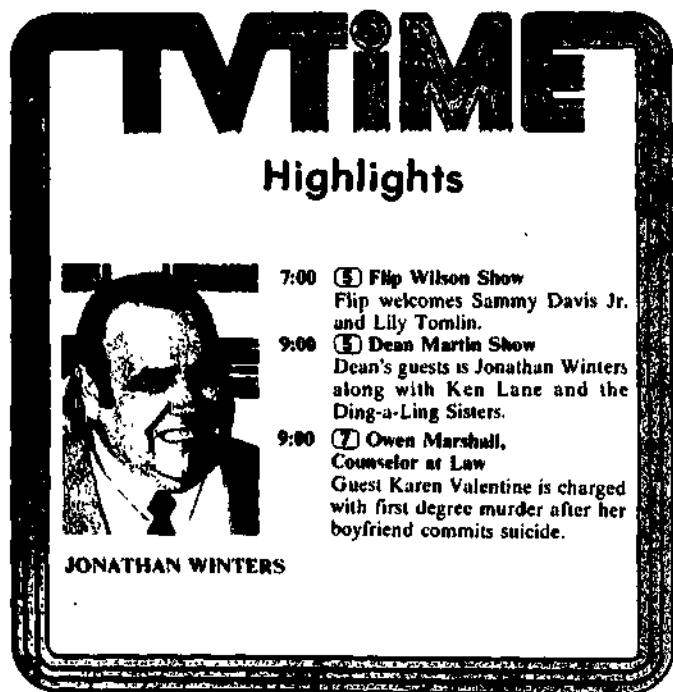

Stewart Granger

Northwest Suburbs To Get Driver Testing Facility

Residents of the Northwest suburbs can look forward to greater convenience in obtaining or renewing drivers' licenses in the near future, according to plans announced yesterday by Illinois Secretary of State John W. Lewis.

State officials yesterday signed an option to purchase land for a new driver testing station on Quentin Road, between Northwest Highway and Dundee Road, just north of Palatine. At present, the nearest testing stations are in Libertyville and Elgin.

Lewis, accompanied by State Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman, R-Arlington Heights, and Sen. John A. Graham, R-Barrington, inspected the site yesterday before signing the purchase option.

Schlickman was a prime mover in putting the long-pending plans for the new testing station in motion. The state had approved the concept of a new testing location in the Northwest suburbs nearly two years ago. Schlickman began working closely with the secretary of state's office in locating a site after editorials in the Herald urged action by the state office.

The state obtained an option on a 40.53-acre tract from Edwin M. Koop of Palatine, at a purchase price of $359,505.

LEWIS SAID THE new facility will provide complete motor vehicle services, including behind-the-wheel testing on a closed course. Schlickman said that when completed, the facility will be the finest testing station in the state.

Purchase of the property and construction of the facility are subject to approval of the General Assembly. "If the legislature grants its approval before it adjourns in June, plans can proceed so that bids may be let by late this year for construction," Lewis said.

"Selection of the site follows a study of more than a year for a location that would best serve the public and that could be obtained at a reasonable price," Lewis said. "Need for such a facility has been present for some time to serve this heavily populated area. Numerous sites were examined for size, cost, usefulness and convenience, and the one selected fits requirements the best."

Schlickman said that a search for privately owned land was undertaken after a survey of all state, county and federal agencies revealed there was no publicly owned land available in the area.

Schlickman said the site was also cleared with the Northeast Illinois Planning Commission at his request.

IN ADDITION TO the testing facility, Lewis also announced that a walk-in office for motorists will be established on the street level of the State of Illinois Building at Randolph and LaSalle streets in Chicago's Loop. He said that office would enable thousands of persons who work or visit the Loop to have licenses renewed or to take written driving tests and eye examinations.

He said his office is also searching for a location of a facility to serve the far Southwest suburbs of the city.

Dr. Middleton Gets 5-10 Years In Assault Case

by ROGER CAPETTINI

Dr. James G. Middleton of Des Plaines was sentenced yesterday to 5 to 10 years in a state penitentiary for drugging and then sexually assaulting a former woman patient in his office.

Circuit Court Judge Robert J. Downing also sentenced the doctor to pay all the costs of the prosecution of the trial.

Dr. Middleton, whose offices are at 969 S. Elmhurst Rd., Des Plaines, was allowed to remain free on bond pending appeal, however. In sentencing the 46-year-old physician, Downing also raised the doctor's bond from $15,000 to $25,000 and gave the doctor until Monday to post the additional amount.

The sentencing came early in the afternoon yesterday after Judge Downing denied a defense motion for a new trial. Defense lawyers Edward Genson and Sam Adam submitted a motion to the court containing 26 points to justify their motion. James Kavanaugh, assistant state's attorney, argued all of the points were argued either before or during the trial and already had received rulings.

When asked if he had any statement to make before he was sentenced, Dr. Middleton replied, "The extortionists who initiated this have succeeded in what they intended to do." The doctor, who has flatly denied all charges throughout the trial, has stated repeatedly that he is the subject of an extortion conspiracy.

AFTER THE judge denied the motion for a new trial, Kavanaugh was granted a motion to drop, with leave to reinstate, additional charges against the doctor. Dr. Middleton was charged with a similar attack on a second woman, but those charges were not a part of this trial.

Legal observers yesterday described the assessment of the costs of the prosecution an "unusual" move. They said such an assessment is provided for in the law and not unheard of, but certainly not common. Initial estimates were that those costs could average $1,000 a day.

The sentencing yesterday followed recommendations by attorneys for both sides.

Kavanaugh recommended the judge sentence the doctor to not less than 6 and not more than 14 years for the deviate sexual assault and 2 to 5 years for the aggravated battery, to be served concurrently.

Kavanaugh said a minimum sentence

Foreign Exchange Student Making Adjustments

by NANCY COWGER

If Muriel Laurent was home now, she would be watching crocus bloom around her house. But grass would not be greening, even in the 50-degree spring weather.

Where Muriel comes from, people do not waste their front yards on grass, but grow flowers and vegetables instead.

Muriel, 19, is a foreign exchange student from Roanne, in the southeast portion of France, a town about 150 miles from the Swiss Alps. During the current school year she is living with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Huber and two of their three children at 337 Rosedale Ln., Hoffman Estates.

Compared with Muriel's home, Hoffman Estates is like an infant. When Caesar divided Gaul into three sectors, said Muriel, Roanne already was a town. The Roanne city hall is 500 years old, and a local landmark is a small castle built during the 12th Century. One of the trips she has taken with her American family was to the Hoffman Estates village hall, where they saw documents from 1960, the village's earliest days.

Muriel has had to make a few adjustments since her arrival. Age computation is different in France, for example. A person's age is computed to the closest birthday, so that while Muriel only reached her nineteenth birthday Dec. 26, she considered herself 19 as of last June 26, and will be 20 as of next June. In France, ages are listed that way even on official documents, while the actual birthdate also is recorded.

LANGUAGE also has been a bit difficult, although Muriel studied English seven years at the Lycee near her home. What she studied was English, but what she now is learning to speak is American. The Hubers tease Muriel a great deal about her "beeg French accent," and one day Mrs. Huber told her not to be "buffaloed" when 16-year-old Laura Huber was teasing extra hard. "But buffalo are animals," Muriel responded, unable to comprehend the jargon.

The accent sometimes gets Muriel into trouble. She babysits occasionally, and now and then children try to get around her by saying they do not understand what she's saying. One child told her she "talks a funny language," and learning Muriel is foreign they "treated me like the baby," Muriel said.

Muriel's real family is a bit larger than her American family. She has four sister and two brothers at home, all younger than herself. With the Hubers, she has sister Laura, brother Richard, 20, and brother Edward, 26, who is married and lives in Pennsylvania, and whom Muriel will not meet until summer.

While Muriel misses her family, and spent one month being very homesick, what she misses most is France. Muriel

Youth Group Sets Priorities

Expansion of a venereal disease education program to include all junior high schools in Schaumburg Twp. School Dist. 54, and a local Youth in Government Day are two priorities for the Hoffman Estates Youth Commission.

Chairman Frank Alexa, reporting to the Hoffman Estates Village Board Tuesday, said the first VD program at Helen Keller Junior High, sponsored jointly by the commission and school district, was well-received. Other schools have indicated an interest in a fall program, said Alexa.

Youth in Government Day should involve over 50 Conant High School students who will take local village offices, act as department heads commission and board members on May 1.

Dist. 54 and the Hoffman Estates Park District will also observe Youth in Government Day on the same date.

Alexa added that the Teen Club plans to repair and auction unclaimed bicycles collected by Police, but set no date for the project. The local teens will sponsor a dance at Helen Keller March 24.

Bryan Syer, the Hoffman Estates Youth Outreach worker, will temporarily use office space in the Hoffman Estates Park District, said Alexa.

A Junior Achievement program is being studied by the commission with Alexa reporting that 25 teens from Conant participated in JA last year through the Northwest Area JA office in Des Plaines.

This Morning In Brief

The World

In their fourth secret session, President Nixon and Premier Chou En-lai sought a formula for sidestepping the crucial issue of Taiwan in a way that would permit expanded Sino-American diplomatic contacts. . . In one of its first comments, Russia voiced strong official suspicion of the talks, saying "there must be doubts about the ultimate outcome of this exercise in presidential diplomacy and its results for world peace."

Vietnamese Communists in Paris denounced the President's alleged intensification of the Indochina War and walked out of the peace talks session without waiting for the allied side to speak. Observers said the action apparently was tied to the China visit.

Gunmen wounded a soldier and blasted an oxygen plant in a series of attacks in Northern Ireland. Masked raiders set fire to the town hall in Strabane.

The Nation

The Senate Judiciary Committee unanimously approved the nomination of Richard G. Kleindienst to succeed John N. Mitchell as U.S. attorney general. The nomination is expected to be reported to the Senate floor next week. Confirmation appears certain.

Presidential candidates Sen. George S. McGovern and Rep. Paul N. McCloskey criticized President Nixon's defense spending policies and charged the administration is failing to plan for conversion to a peacetime economy.

The State

Dan Walker, independent candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said Lt. Gov. Paul Simon's tax proposals could triple the state income tax if implemented. . . Simon, meanwhile, outlined plans for a consumer protection council he said he would create if elected governor.

U.S. Rep. Abner Mikva, D-Ill., introduced a bill he says will close $12 billion worth of loopholes in the U.S. tax law and give the savings to states to raise the standards of local education and lower property taxes. His formula would have the federal government pay $2 for every $1 the state spends to bring below-average schools up to the state standard.

A Circuit Court judge denied motions by State Sen. Bernard Neistein, D-Chicago, and former State Sen. Everett Peters, R-St. Joseph, to quash racing-related indictments against them on grounds they are unconstitutional and an invasion of privacy.

The War

The Viet Cong, commenting on President Nixon's Peking visit, accused him of trying to split the Communist world by capitalizing on "internal disagreement in the socialist camp." . . In Saigon, the U.S. command said two Americans were killed in Indochina action last week while South Vietnamese and Communist casualties decreased sharply, apparently due to the Vietnamese Tet lunar new year observance.

The Market

The stock market registered a slight gain despite computer problems, some profit taking and lack of buying interest. Trading was halted for 24 minutes in the morning when a computer and backup unit failed. Because of the breakdown, the New York Stock Exchange said volume figures on all issues may be inaccurate, thus affecting the most-active stock list. The Dow Jones industrial average edged up 0.82 to 912.70.

Community Center To Be Dedicated This Sunday

by STEVE BROWN

A milestone in the growth and expansion of the Schaumburg Park District will take place at 1:30 p.m. Sunday with the dedication of the Ellsworth Meineke Community Center.

"The opening of the new building will culminate a 1½-year development program which we undertook to fill the recreation needs of the people of the community," said Paul Derda, park district director.

Derda, busy with last minute details before the weekend dedication outlined the growth of the district during the past few years.

"Most of the development has taken place during the past two years," Derda explained. He said the $225,000 community center was one of the two major projects approved in a $1.2 million referendum in 1970. The other was the Atcher is proud of her French heritage, and "there is nothing here that is French," explains Mrs. Huber. Infrequently she meets people who speak French like Frenchmen, and feels a sense of release in being able to speak her own language. If the occasions are too infrequent, however, she finds she has difficulty speaking it herself.

MURIEL CAME to the Hubers through the sponsorship of Schaumburg Rotary Club. They had applied for a student through Conant High School, which Muriel is attending. But before their turn came up on the list, the school called to ask if they would accept a Rotary student. This is the Hubers' first experience with an exchange student, and they have accepted Muriel "like our own daughter," Mrs. Huber said.

The adjustments for Muriel have been many and varied. At home, everybody drinks wine with lunch and dinner, even the youngest child. The Hubers have "put her on the wagon," and only occasionally allow her a small glass of wine. In France schools and medical care are free, and college entrance exams are given without charge. Large families are subsidized by the government, and her mother receives about $240 per month, not as welfare or aid, but only in recognition that many children require more funds than do few children said Muriel.

Elections are less frequent in France, and voters do not go to primaries. Nearly anyone can get on a national ballot, if they meet the age requirements, she said, and the people chose from among those on the ballot. The winner, in national or local elections, selects men who will work with him, filling posts similar to our Congress or village board, she said.

Muriel disagrees with some American policies, and finds racial dissension disturbing. But, she added, there are no blacks in France, and prejudices exist but take a different form.

But she finds some differences pleasing. "The French are known as the most undisciplined people in Europe," she said. Discipline here, with children and adults, is stronger.

And before Muriel leaves the Hubers late next summer, she expects to find more to swell her file of impressions of the United States.

Pool completed last summer.

DURING THE implementation of a master plan for development, the district added numerous new parks and improved many park/school sites, along with the pool and community center.

"We have worked to provide the best programs for the residents of the park district for their tax dollars," Derda said. "We have tried to get maximum use from the facilities we have had," he added.

In the past few months, the park district has been completing final plans for the community center, which is located at 220 E. Weathersfield Way., and purchasing play equipment for the new and existing parks.

The new community center will house the administrative offices for the park district as well as recreational and conference rooms. The building will be used for many of the district's programs and will also be available to community groups, such as homeowners associations, for meetings and social events.

THE MEETING rooms will accommodate groups from 5 to 45 persons and the large multi-purpose room will hold 200 persons, according to Jeff Fox, superintendent of recreation.

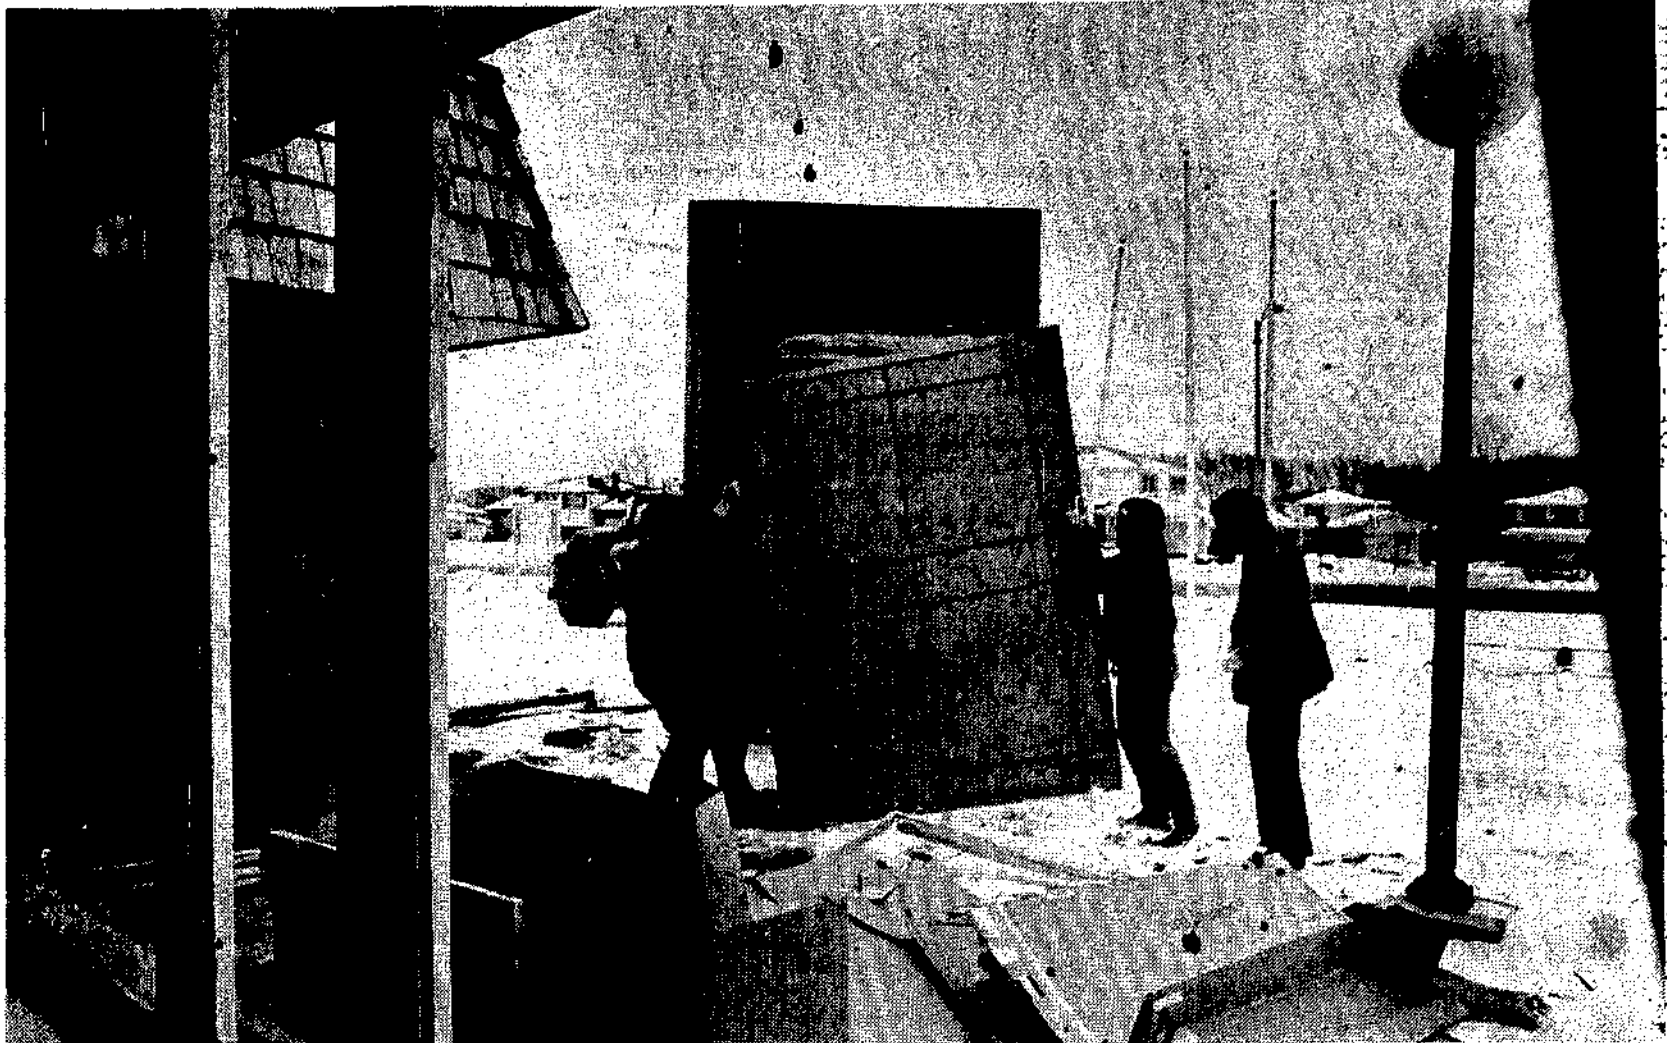

The man for which the new facility is named, Ellsworth Meineke, is a 17 year resident of the community. He has long been known for his interests in conservation and wildlife. For many years, Meineke operated a bee farm in the area.

He is past president and a member of the Schaumburg Zoning Board and has been a member of the Schaumburg Village Board and the plan commission. He is presently the associate director of the Northern Cook County Soil and Water Conservation District.

Derda said the new facility will allow the district to expand its program to fill the leisure needs of the community.

Looking ahead, Derda said plans are now being made for the Spring Valley Nature Area. He explained the program, which is under the direction of Meineke, will include many of the trees and plants that are native to this area.

The program Sunday will include several speeches by community leaders, including Schaumburg Mayor Robert O. Atcher, guided tours of the center, entertainment and refreshments.

EASY DOES IT . . . Paul Derda, right, director of the Schaumburg Park District, might be saying as workers unload some of the new equipment for the district's new Ellsworth Meineke Community Center to be dedicated at 1:30 p.m. Sunday. The facility is located at 220 Weathersfield Way.

Two Library Board Openings Exist

The Schaumburg Township Library Board has two vacant board seats with the announced resignation of Mrs. Elaine Robinder of Hanover Park.

Mrs. Robinder's resignation comes close on the heels of Board Pres. Richard Grote's resignation this month.

An out-of-state move to Boston prompted her resignation, said Mrs. Robinder in a letter to the library board.

Grote also is moving after accepting a position in Dallas, Tex.

Mrs. Robinder served as a board member since 1970 when she was appointed. She won election to a two-year term in 1971 and her term would have expired in 1973.

The remaining members of the library board now must appoint two new members since the next election is in 1973.

An appointment is expected at the March 1 meeting of the board.

Grote's term as a board member would have expired in 1975 but his term as president would have ended April 5 when the board elects officers.

Schaumburg Township residents interested in serving on the library board should write to Michael Madden, librarian, 32 W. Library Ln., Schaumburg.

Madden said applicants will be contacted by him and interviews with the board will be scheduled.

Quadrominium Ruling Due In Month

A decision is to be made within 30 days about the proposed cluster quadrominium development on 21 acres along Grand Canyon Boulevard between Higgins and Bode roads, Hoffman Estates.

Final testimony in a hearing for plan approval to allow multiple-family development on the commercially zoned site was presented Wednesday night by traffic, tax and engineering consultants representing I. Simon and Son, developer. The hearing opened before the village plan commission Jan. 26, and was continued to this week.

The commission will take all evidence presented in the two sessions under advisement, and report a decision within 30 days, said Richard Regan, chairman.

Letters objecting to specific parts of the plan were read by Regan at the opening of the session. Among concerns by Police Chief John O'Connell and Public Works Supt. John W. Hossack was the traffic pattern shown in preliminary plans.

BOTH MEN suggested an access road proposed for the western edge of the development should be made into a through street.

O'Connell also requested widening of driveways to better accommodate emergency vehicles from police and fire departments. Hossack commented on a planned dry water retention area, saying a permanent wet pond would be more desirable. He also requested more street lighting and questioned claims by the developer the population increase would bring the village $17,000 additional yearly revenue.

Village Building Inspector Dan Murphy also raised questions, focusing on lighting, construction materials to be used in stairs and walkways, emergency exits and traffic patterns.

Commission Member Don Rudd, also a member of the Schaumburg Township

Dist. 54 board, read a letter from Simon detailing donations the firm will make to the school district of $74,900 plus $20,000 in lieu of land, and said the district would not oppose the development. The offered donations comply with district guidelines, said Rudd.

WILLARD ALROTH, traffic consultant, testified concerning the impact on traffic outside of the proposed development, and said existing traffic indicated a signal light is needed at the Grand Canyon-Higgins intersection now, and the development would contribute to that need. He also said it would be best to retain existing traffic patterns, and not open another through street west of Grand Canyon, although he recommended realignment of Grand Canyon to coincide with its extension south of Bode. The developer already has agreed to the realignment.

The commission cross-examined witnesses who testified at the earlier session relative to tax revenue increases, the retention pond and construction materials.

Thomas Moody, consulting engineer, said while the developer would prefer to work up a unique design for a dry retention pond, he likely would not refuse to install a wet pond instead.

Commission Member Carl Shoemaker contested a claim by Robert Olson, tax consultant and city planner, that assessments would be increased to 55 per cent of property value, resulting in an increase in tax revenues.

Access for emergency vehicles could be provided by a disguised route, explained another consultant. A nine-inch grade of compacted gravel would be covered with four inches of sod, and then outlined with markers, he said. Emergency vehicles would be the only ones permitted to drive over the area, he said.

Other comments related to adequacy of parking and storage areas, stairway construction for upstairs units, bedroom size and density.

THE FIRST SERVICE at the new building of Our Redeemer United Methodist Church will be held at 10:45 a.m. Sunday. The new church facility at Schaumburg and Springinsguth roads cost $250,000. The congregation has met for services at Schaumburg's Great Hall since being chartered in 1964. Consecration of the new church will be in May, said the Rev. Wayne MacArthur, pastor.

In a world burdened with immense turmoil and conflict, there exists an urgent need to know... believe... trust.

Mental Health 'Outpost' Approved

A temporary mental health "outpost" can be established in Schaumburg Township of the Northwest Mental Health Center is willing to schedule its psychiatric counseling sessions to conform with the township office staff's regular hours.

Northwest's central offices are at 1711 W. Campbell St., Arlington Heights.

The Schaumburg Township Board of Auditors Wednesday gave Northwest permission to establish the service at township offices, 105 S. Roselle Rd., Schaumburg.

However, the auditors said, the Northwest staff will have to make the "judgment" on how the psychiatric appointments, mainly of a counseling and screening nature, are to be scheduled.

A bone of contention on the Northwest proposal has been whether the township offices can privately and with discretion accommodate psychiatric sessions considering their small size and the fact they are occupied four days a week by staff.

AS PROPOSED, the outpost would be staffed from 12 to a maximum 16 hours a week. The auditors noted the township offices are unoccupied on Wednesdays and Saturday plus would be empty from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. on the rest of the week-days. The office staff is through for the day at 4 p.m.

It is hoped Northwest can schedule the sessions to take advantage of the free hours, the auditor said.

Northwest Mental Health Center, located in Arlington Heights, is considering building a permanent mental health clinic on the southside of Algonquin Road, just east of Roselle Road in unincorporated Palatine Township.

Tentative plans for the building have been drawn up, zoning has been obtained from Cook County and the Northwest Mental Health Association, which operates the center, has leased a one-acre site from Catholic Charities for $1 a year.

THE ASSOCIATION offices has applied for a federal grant through the state for $100,000 to continue clinic services next year. The fiscal year starts July 1.

The $100,000 is to serve Schaumburg, Elk Grove, Palatine and Wheeling townships, areas now included in the center's jurisdiction.

However Elk Grove Community Services has also submitted a $52,000 state grant to finance a new mental health center to service Elk Grove and Schaumburg townships. The application was possible because the state just declared both townships a separate mental health planning area.

If the Elk Grove application is approved, it is likely the Northwest application will be cut. For this reason Northwest will wait six months before making a final decision on the proposed clinic here.

Approve Plans For Office Building At Woodfield

Plans for a 10-story office building at Woodfield, to be located just north of Woodfield Theatre, were approved by the Schaumburg Village board Tuesday night.

Parking was a major concern in discussion of the building, and Mayor Robert O. Atcher congratulated the village plan commission for its success in negotiating with developers to increase the parking ratio. The building is to have 200,000 square feet of floor space, and 162,000 square feet of usable floor space. While zoning for the site, termed transitional, does not specify parking requirements for office buildings, the commission convinced developers to increase proposed parking from two spaces to three spaces per 1,000 usable square feet.

Harry Mammach, commission chairman, said the area around the building also will include a 100-square-foot green area, which could be removed to add to the 465 parking spaces if necessary. Owners of the building have agreed to increase parking later if they and the village concur more is needed.

A second office building is to be constructed further north later, said Mammach, but parking there will be negotiated as a separate matter, based on the intended uses of the building. A decked parking lot could be required there, he said.

The village board also approved plans for industrial park development and a new service station, awarded a contract for purchase of an ambulance, reviewed bids for an Algonquin Road water main and approved two liquor licenses and two fund raising drives.

In Center-Schaumburg Industrial Park, five lots were approved for development. While the industrial park itself previously was approved by the board, development of each lot also must be approved individually.

they did not think this would be too many.

Only two firms bid to sell the village's new ambulance, and one of those, located in Tennessee, did not submit a performance bond as required in specifications. After review by Fire Chief Lloyd Abrahamson, the board awarded the contract to Veto Sales and Service, Arlington Heights, which quoted a price of $14,696.90, with 17 weeks required for delivery.

Six firms bid on the contract for the water main, with quotes ranging from $19,694 to $23,561, and promised completion schedules ranging from 15 days to 90 days. Village Engineer Joe Zgonina requested the board authorize Mayor Atcher to award a contract after Zgonina has investigated low bidders and studied bids.

The main is to connect the loop servicing Walden and International Village, to allow work on parts of the main without service interruptions to all locations it supplies with water.

The board will not meet again until March 14, and to avoid delay in awarding the contract, it authorized the mayor and village clerk to contract for the work as soon as study is completed.

No bids were received for the purchase of the village's old sewage treatment plant. Zgonina said the village likely would advertise for bids again later.

LIQUOR LICENSES were approved for the Jewel food stores to be located at Turnstyle Shopping Center and Weathersfield Commons.

The board also agreed to allow Camp Fire Girls in the village to sell candy in their annual fund raising project March 17 to April 3. Also approved was a "Walkathon" by the March of Dimes May 7 in the village.

THE NEWLY APPROVED Clark Oil service station is to be located at Wise Road and Mercury Drive on a 20,000-square-foot lot. Trustee Herb Aigner, who voted against the service station, said he objected to its proximity to five other stations, which he said are within a four-block area. Other trustees, particularly James Guthrie, responded that

Northwest Suburbs To Get Driver License Test Center

Residents of the Northwest suburbs can look forward to greater convenience in obtaining or renewing drivers' licenses in the near future, according to plans announced yesterday by Illinois Secretary of State John W. Lewis.

State officials yesterday signed an option to purchase land for a new driver testing station on Quentin Road, between Northwest Highway and Dundee Road, just north of Palatine. At present, the nearest testing stations are in Libertyville and Elgin.

Lewis, accompanied by State Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman, R-Arlington

Heights, and Sen. John A. Graham, R-Barrington, inspected the site yesterday before signing the purchase option.

Schlickman was a prime mover in putting the long-pending plans for the new testing station in motion. The state had approved the concept of a new testing location in the Northwest suburbs nearly two years ago. Schlickman began working closely with the secretary of state's office in locating a site after editorials in the Herald urged action by the state office.

The state obtained an option on a 40.53-acre tract from Edwin M. Koop of Pala-line, at a purchase price of $359,505.

LEWIS SAID THE new facility will provide complete motor vehicle services, including behind-the-wheel testing in a closed course. Schlickman said that when completed, the facility will be the finest testing station in the state.

Purchase of the property and construction of the facility are subject to approval of the General Assembly. "If the legislature grants its approval before it adjourns in June, plans can proceed so that bids may be let by late this year for construction," Lewis said.

"Selection of the site follows a study of more than a year for a location that would best serve the public and that could be obtained at a reasonable price," Lewis said. "Need for such a facility has been present for some time to serve this heavily populated area. Numerous sites were examined for size, cost, usefulness and convenience, and the one selected fits requirements the best."

Schlickman said that a search for privately owned land was undertaken after a survey of all state, county and federal agencies revealed there was no publicly owned land available in the area.

Schlickman said the site was also cleared with the Northeast Illinois Planning Commission at his request.

IN ADDITION to the testing facility, Lewis also announced that a walk-in office for motorists will be established on the street level of the State of Illinois Building at Randolph and LaSalle streets in Chicago's Loop. He said that office would enable thousands of persons who work or visit the Loop to have licenses renewed or to take written driving tests and eye examinations.

He said his office is also searching for a location of a facility to serve the far Southwest suburbs of the city.

'Lot Of Work To Do,' But Youth Bureau Opens Soon

The Youth Services Bureau should be open in the next month or two — all things considered.

"We would like to open it tomorrow," said Richard Wynn, spokesman for the bureau, "but we still have a lot of work to do."

The bureau has three major steps to climb before opening the doors of the proposed center at 516 N. Milwaukee Ave. in Wheeling.

"Our major hurdle at this point is to get a staff and have them start working on a constitution with the youth of the area," said Wynn. "We hope to have the staff hired within the month."

Wynn said the bureau has received a few applications from interested parties who "answer all of our qualifications." He said the bureau will interview these applicants as soon as possible.

The youth bureau has been advertising for personnel regionally. For the director and assistant director the bureau is looking for individuals with a master's degree in a field allied with youth service.

"WE WANT someone with a degree in psychology, sociology or any other youth-oriented field," said Wynn. "We would like these individuals to have five years experience in working with youth. We also expect them to have wide skills."

The full-time directors and assistant directors will make a yearly salary of "somewhere between $15,000 and $18,000. They will also be expected to give us a commitment beyond the first year," Wynn said.

He said the bureau is also looking for a few CPA's who would like to volunteer their time. They will help keep the finances of the bureau correct and up to date so "anytime the taxpayers would like to see where their money goes they can."

The second step the bureau would like to settle is the zoning of the center.

They have petitioned the Village of Wheeling to receive a "special use permit." The permit is needed before the building can be used as a youth center.

The village zoning board held a public hearing earlier this month and unanimously accepted the idea of the youth center. The petition will come up before the village board Monday night.

SHOULD THE board decide to accept

Niro Joins Youth Bureau

The Youth Services Bureau solved a "major problem" yesterday when it acquired the volunteer services of attorney Ray Niro.

Niro, who earlier had considered running in the Dist. 21 school board election, will start work with the bureau immediately. He is a patent attorney with the firm of Hume, Clement, Hume & Lee, Ltd.

Richard Wynn, spokesman for the bureau, said finding Niro "solves a major problem for us. The bureau has been trying to start incorporating procedures, but could not get an attorney to volunteer his services."

the center it will instruct its attorney, Paul Hamer, to draw up the special permit needed to operate at the Milwaukee Avenue site.

The village board will then present a motion to accept or reject the idea of the Youth Services Center in a future meeting.

According to Evelyn R. Diens, Wheeling village clerk, "The action of the board to accept or reject the permit will come in the next two weeks. It should be final by March 13 at the latest."

Wynn said, "We hope the board doesn't turn us down, so we are planning our third step already — beginning work on the building itself."

He said the bureau is in "desperate need of carpenters, electricians and anyone who has any skill in these areas and would like to donate some time."

The center has 37 building code violations but many of them are minor. "We have a few broken window panes, doors that need the hinges reversed and a porch that needs to be torn down," said Wynn.

The building has two floors. The first floor is a large hall that the youth of the center may use in any way they wish.

The second story is divided into four sections.

Niro graduated magna cum laude from the University of Pittsburgh in 1964 with a bachelor's degree in engineering, and has a law degree from George Washington University, Washington, D.C.

He graduated with honors in 1969 and has resided in Arlington Heights since.

He and his wife, Judith, have two children.

Niro said he is looking forward to becoming involved with the bureau. "It is a very worthwhile community program. It is something of which the youth of the area can be proud," he said.

He added that he has hopes of getting another attorney involved with the program.

"IT IS ENTIRELY paneled and is in great shape," said Wynn.

"One room will be used for the Omnihouse HOTLINE and another for group counseling sessions. It will be up to the members of the center to decide what goes in the other two rooms."

Wynn explained that the basic theory of the center is to handle youth-oriented problems in the community. "We shouldn't shove our problems off to the Audy Home or the Cook County jail," he said.

"We will give parents and youth the opportunity to identify the resources available to them. We want them to work together with us and these resources to solve problems and prevent those that may come up," he added.

"The center is a community program and we want the entire community to take part — parents, kids, teachers and anyone else interested in bettering the community," Wynn concluded.

The Youth Service Bureau will serve Wheeling, Buffalo Grove, Prospect Heights, part of Arlington Heights and part of Northbrook.

It is a non-profit organization supported by private donations and a $131,000 grant from the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission.

Middleton Sentenced To 5-10 Years

by ROGER CAPETTINI

Dr. James G. Middleton of Des Plaines was sentenced yesterday to 5 to 10 years in a state penitentiary for drugging and then sexually assaulting a former woman patient in his office.

Circuit Court Judge Robert J. Downing also sentenced the doctor to pay all the costs of the prosecution of the trial.

Dr. Middleton, whose offices are at 969 S. Elmhurst Rd., Des Plaines, was allowed to remain free on bond pending appeal, however. In sentencing the 46-year-old physician, Downing also raised the doctor's bond from $15,000 to $25,000 and gave the doctor until Monday to post the additional amount.

The sentencing came early in the afternoon yesterday after Judge Downing denied a defense motion for a new trial. Defense lawyers Edward Genson and Sam Adam submitted a motion to the court containing 26 points to justify their motion. James Kavanaugh, assistant state's attorney, argued all of the points were argued either before or during the trial and already had received rulings.

When asked if he had any statement to make before he was sentenced, Dr. Middleton replied, "The extortionists who initiated this case succeeded in what they intended to do." The doctor, who has flatly denied all charges throughout the trial, has stated repeatedly that he is the subject of an extortion conspiracy.

AFTER THE judge denied the motion for a new trial, Kavanaugh was granted a motion to drop, with leave to restate, additional charges against the doctor. Dr. Middleton was charged with a similar attack on a second woman, but those charges were not a part of this trial.

Legal observers yesterday described the assessment of the costs of the prosecution an "unusual" move. They said such an assessment is provided for in the law and not unheard of, but certainly not common. Initial estimates were that those costs could average $1,000 a day.

The sentencing yesterday followed recommendations by attorneys for both sides.

Kavanaugh recommended the judge sentence the doctor to not less than 6 and not more than 14 years for the deviate sexual assault and 2 to 5 years for the aggravated battery, to be served concurrently.

Kavanaugh said a minimum sentence

This Morning In Brief

The World

In their fourth secret session, President Nixon and Premier Chou En-lai sought a formula for sidestepping the crucial issue of Taiwan in a way that would permit expanded Sino-American diplomatic contacts. . . In one of its first comments, Russia voiced strong official suspicion of the talks, saying "there must be doubts about the ultimate outcome of this exercise in presidential diplomacy and its results for world peace."

Vietnamese Communists in Paris denounced the President's alleged intensification of the Indochina War and walked out of the peace talks session without waiting for the allied side to speak. Observers said the action apparently was tied to the China visit.

Gunmen wounded a soldier and blasted

an oxygen plant in a series of attacks in Northern Ireland. Masked raiders set fire to the town hall in Strabane.

The Nation

The Senate Judiciary Committee unanimously approved the nomination of Richard G. Kleindienst to succeed John N. Mitchell as U.S. attorney general. The nomination is expected to be reported to the Senate floor next week. Confirmation appears certain.

Presidential candidates Sen. George S. McGovern and Rep. Paul N. McCloskey criticized President Nixon's defense spending policies and charged the administration is failing to plan for conversion to a peacetime economy.

The State

Dan Walker, independent candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said Lt. Gov. Paul Simon's tax proposals could triple the state income tax if implemented. Simon, meanwhile, outlined plans for a consumer protection council he said he would create if elected governor.

U.S. Rep. Abner Mikva, D-Ill., introduced a bill he says will close $12 billion worth of loopholes in the U.S. tax law and give the savings to states to raise the standards of local education and lower property taxes. His formula would have the federal government pay $2 for every $1 the state spends to bring below-average schools up to the state standard.

A Circuit Court judge denied motions by State Sen. Bernard Neleten, D-Chicago, and former State Sen. Everett Peters, R-St. Joseph, to quash racing-related indictments against them on grounds they are unconstitutional and an invasion of privacy.

The War

The Viet Cong, commenting on President Nixon's Peking visit, accused him of trying to split the Communist world by capitalizing on "internal disagreement in the socialist camp." . . . In Saigon, the U.S. command said two Americans were killed in Indochina action last week while South Vietnamese and Communist casualties decreased sharply, apparently due to the Vietnamese Tet lunar new year observance.

The Market

The stock market registered a slight gain despite computer problems, some profit taking and lack of buying interest. Trading was halted for 24 minutes in the morning when a computer and backup unit failed. Because of the breakdown, the New York Stock Exchange said volume figures on all issues may be inaccurate, thus affecting the most-active-stock list. The Dow Jones industrial average edged up 0.82 to 121.70.

General Caucus Chairman Is 'Woman With Many Goals'

by RICH HONACK
Nancy Silberman, chairman of the Dist. 21 general caucus, is a woman with many goals. Most of her goals are "aimed at giving the caucus a better name in the district."

word," she said. "My administration is trying to change this image. We want the residents of Dist. 21 to become involved in their school district."

Mrs. Silberman became the chairman of the caucus at its first general meeting, Jan. 25. She will remain in that post until next January when a new caucus chairman is elected.

"We are only allowed to run for one term and then must either become a delegate or leave the caucus completely," said Mrs. Silberman. "I hope during my year I can initiate some changes that will better the caucus for the future."

Mrs. Silberman looks at her job as a service to the community. "The caucus should not be a political party or even give that impression. Our job is to give the people of Dist. 21 a selection of good candidates for the school board elections."

"I FEEL IN order to do this we must change some by-laws and get a good representation of civic groups at our meetings," she said.

The caucus is made up entirely of residents from the Dist. 21 area who belong to civic organizations: PTA's, homeowners groups, church groups, etc.

According to Mrs. Silberman, representation of these groups has been poor in the past. "There are roughly 75 civic groups in Dist. 21. In our last meeting we only had a representation of 27."

"Some groups answer that it is impossible to attend, while others give no answer, one way or the other," she added.

"In the past the caucus has dropped out of sight after the elections," she said. "We hope to change that this year by holding a meeting to revise some of our by-laws and plan some action for the future."

"For example, I would like to see the caucus represented at every school board meeting. This way when a person seeks our support we will know the issues and what the board is doing about them a little better," she said.

Caucus representatives have already attended both school board meetings since the new administration has been in control.

"OUR BIGGEST problem will be to change the by-law stating we can only select the number of candidates for the number of openings on the board," she commented. "I don't think the present by-law is fair to the voters or to ourselves."

Mrs. Silberman said she thinks the better selection of candidates the caucus can give the better the school board will be. "I only hope the rest of the people on the revision committee and general caucus will feel the same way when we vote on this by-law."

Mrs. Silberman is also looking ahead to the future when she will give up her office.

"I hope this caucus administration can start some programs and set up some type of continuity for the next one. This way they can either pick up where we left off or will just need to make minor changes. In the past every caucus administration had to start from scratch," she said.

All of Mrs. Silberman's ideas may not be accepted by the general caucus, but she said she at least knows she tried. "Even if we get a few new groups interested in the caucus all the work will be worth it," she concluded.

Wheeling Independent Party Begins Planning For 1973

"National elections won't help you with your local problems," Harold Fagan told an audience of 18 Wheeling residents Tuesday evening at a reorganization of the Wheeling Independent Party.

Fagan, who conducted the informal meeting, explained that by starting now the party could firmly establish its aims and goals before the 1973 village election campaign begins.

Various members of the audience suggested that the party goal should be to win, and/or to present a solid, unified front.

"We need workers and we need to organize," Fagan said.

One of the three WHIP candidates who sought election in 1971, Fagan noted that when the Wheeling population reaches 25,000 the village will be eligible for home rule.

At that time he will propose that the village hold a referendum to adopt an aldermanic form of government with council members being elected from various wards rather than at-large, he said.

He said he envisioned the party as a forum to which local citizens can turn for help if they are not getting cooperation from village government.

THE GROUP agreed to have Robert Deering, treasurer for the party last year, continue in the post temporarily.

Fagan said new officers would be elected at the next meeting of the party March 28.

A committee was formed to search for candidates for the village presidency, village clerk and three village trustee posts that will be up for election.

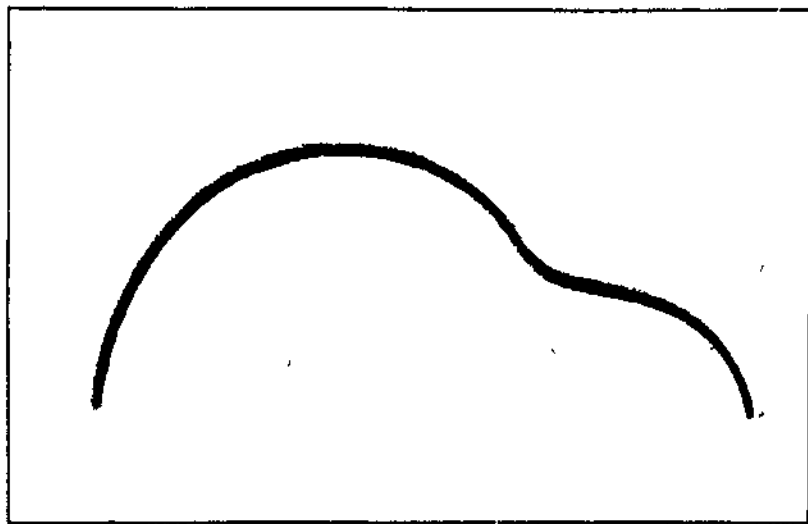

The group decided to operate using the bylaws from last year's campaign, but said the rules would be updated at the next meeting.

Fagan, who is chairman of a group of residents from the Strong street area, also asked those at the WHIP meeting to attend the March 14 zoning board hearing to oppose the apartment project proposed in the Strong Street area.

Ambulance Loaned

The Village of Wheeling has been loaned an ambulance while the village ambulance is being repaired after a recent electrical fire.

Superior Coach Co., which originally sold the ambulance to the village, is providing the substitute ambulance free.

New Ordinance Regulates Businesses

'Beauty Parlors' Not For Immoral

If you're immoral, you can't frequent a beauty shop in Buffalo Grove, according to a new village ordinance.

Furthermore, if you own a beauty shop, you can't use it for immoral purposes. If you do you can lose your license.

Those are just two of the restrictions laid down in the package of rules, entitled, "an ordinance establishing sanitary rules for beauty culture shops."

Prepared by Village Sanitarian Donald Schindler, the ordinance was patterned after a similar one in effect in Rolling Meadows.

The ordinance sets down a number of rules for the operation of beauty shops, although there appears to be some question whether the village can pass such an ordinance.

Village Mgr. Daniel Larson said the village has the authority to regulate barber shops, but the law is unclear on the regulation of beauty shops.

DURING DISCUSSION of the ordinance, the trustees amended a section to allow the operation of beauty shops in private homes.

However, the trustees did acknowledge that any business operated in a home is in violation of zoning laws. The board did not want to close down common businesses in residences, such as real estate and insurance sales, although they too are in violation of zoning regulations.

"We don't want to crack down on that type of free enterprise in Buffalo Grove," Village Pres. Gary Armstrong said during the discussion.

The beauty shop ordinance regulates sanitary standards and gives the sanitarian the authority to make inspections.

THE ORDINANCE will be published in pamphlet form and will be available at the village hall for the information of beauty operators.

The village also adopted another ordinance, updating village building codes. The new code was prepared by the Building Officials Conference of America, and is a recognized standard for construction.

A third ordinance, covering the construction of flashing signs, was tabled and sent to the village attorney for revision.

Board And Commission Appointments To Be Eyed

The Wheeling Village Board will meet at 8 p.m. Monday for a judiciary and purchasing committee meeting to decide appointments to various volunteer boards and commissions.

The board members interviewed four local residents last Monday for appointments to the village health commission and electrical commission.

The board is expected to decide on the appointments at the committee meeting and then formalize their decision at the 8:30 p.m. board meeting Monday.

Mary Therese Burns of 1411 S. Wolf Rd. was interviewed by the board for a post on the village health board which is being reactivated.

A STAFF NURSE in Lutheran General Hospital's intensive care unit, she told the trustees she has also been working with the women's auxiliary of the village civil defense organization.

Richard Jamolkowski of 151 Laurel Ct. was interviewed by the board for a vacancy on the village's electrical commission.

A field engineer for IBM Co., Jamolkowski has lived in Wheeling for six years. President of the "Friends of The Wheeling Library," Jamolkowski also is a diving coach for the Wheeling Park District.

G. Arthur Applequist, 648 Elmwood Dr., Buffalo Grove, also was interviewed for a post on the board of health.

APPLEQUIST is an assistant administrator at the Addolorata Villa Home in Wheeling. He told the trustees he volunteered for the health board because he thought the villa, as a medical facility, could contribute something to the board.

Robert B. Neukrantz of 400 S. Milwaukee Ave. was interviewed for the electrical commission vacancy.

A civil engineering consultant who works in land developing engineering, Neukrantz recently opened a Wheeling office for his firm.

Wheeling Road Remap Being Negotiated

Negotiations to obtain the easements for the realignment of Wheeling Road to meet McHenry Road in Wheeling are continuing, a Wheeling trustee said this week.

Village Trustee Edward Berger said that of the nine easements needed to complete the work on the road, one has been obtained. Negotiations on five other easements are near completion and negotiations are in progress on the remaining three.

The new road would extend from Wheeling Road in the village's industrial section west of the Soo Line tracks, north to meet McHenry Road to Dundee Road.

The new extension would be named South McHenry Road.

Work to have a design for the road has been under way since 1965.

In addition to building the next extension the village and the state are studying plans for a new system of stoplights at the intersection of Dundee and McHenry Roads.

Pancake Breakfast To Benefit Band

Half the proceeds from a pancake and sausage breakfast March 19 in the Wheeling High School cafeteria will be donated to the fund to send the school band to the summer Olympic Games in Munich, Germany.

The breakfast will be sponsored by the Michael R. Blanchfield American Legion Post 1968.

The breakfast, "all you can eat," will be from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Piggy Banks Stolen From Wheeling Home

Two piggy banks containing between $200 and $225 in quarters were stolen from a home in Wheeling last Friday.

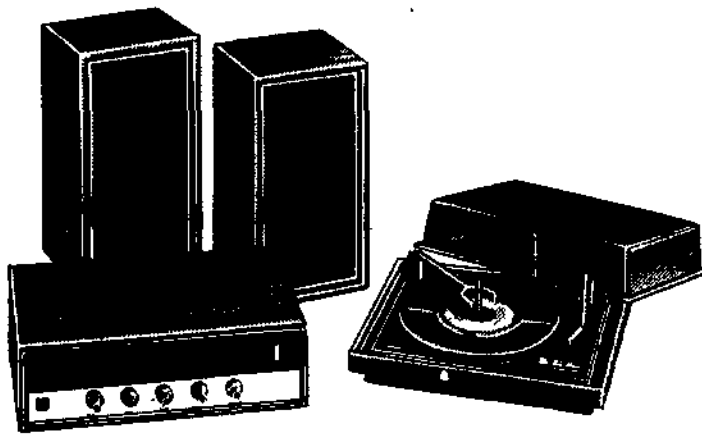

The money was taken from a bedroom in the home of Carl J. Lemont, 905 Beverly Dr., Wheeling.

Police said the house was entered by breaking a storm window on the front of the house.

Northwest Suburbs To Get Driver License Test Center

Residents of the Northwest suburbs can look forward to greater convenience in obtaining or renewing drivers' licenses in the near future, according to plans announced yesterday by Illinois Secretary of State John W. Lewis.

State officials yesterday signed an option to purchase land for a new driver testing station on Quentin Road, between Northwest Highway and Dundee Road, just north of Palatine. At present, the nearest testing stations are in Libertyville and Elgin.

Lewis, accompanied by State Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman, R-Arlington

Heights, and Sen. John A. Graham, R-Barrington, inspected the site yesterday before signing the purchase option.

Schlickman was a prime mover in putting the long-pending plans for the new testing station in motion. The state had approved the concept of a new testing location in the Northwest suburbs nearly two years ago. Schlickman began working closely with the secretary of state's office in locating a site after editorials in the Herald urged action by the state office.

The state obtained an option on a 40.53-acre tract from Edwin M. Koop of Pala-time, at a purchase price of $359,505.

LEWIS SAID THE new facility will provide complete motor vehicle services, including behind-the-wheel testing in a closed course. Schlickman said that when completed, the facility will be the finest testing station in the state.

Purchase of the property and construction of the facility are subject to approval of the General Assembly. "If the legislature grants its approval before it adjourns in June, plans can proceed so that bids may be let by late this year for construction," Lewis said.

"Selection of the site follows a study of more than a year for a location that would best serve the public and that could be obtained at a reasonable price," Lewis said. "Need for such a facility has been present for some time to serve this heavily populated area. Numerous sites were examined for size, cost, usefulness and convenience, and the one selected fits requirements the best."

Schlickman said that a search for privately owned land was undertaken after a survey of all state, county and federal agencies revealed there was no publicly owned land available in the area.

Schlickman said the site was also cleared with the Northeast Illinois Planning Commission at his request.

IN ADDITION TO the testing facility, Lewis also announced that a walk-in office for motorists will be established on the street level of the State of Illinois Building at Randolph and LaSalle streets in Chicago's Loop. He said that office would enable thousands of persons who work or visit the Loop to have licenses renewed or to take written driving tests and eye examinations.

He said his office is also searching for a location of a facility to serve the far Southwest suburbs of the city.

'Lot Of Work To Do,' But Youth Bureau Opens Soon

The Youth Services Bureau should be open in the next month or two — all things considered.

"We would like to open it tomorrow," said Richard Wynn, spokesman for the bureau, "but we still have a lot of work to do."

The bureau has three major steps to climb before opening the doors of the proposed center at 516 N. Milwaukee Ave. in Wheeling.

"Our major hurdle at this point is to get a staff and have them start working on a constitution with the youth of the area," said Wynn. "We hope to have the staff hired within the month."

Wynn said the bureau has received a few applications from interested parties who "answer all of our qualifications." He said the bureau will interview these applicants as soon as possible.

The youth bureau has been advertising for personnel regionally. For the director and assistant director the bureau is looking for individuals with a master's degree in a field allied with youth service.

"WE WANT someone with a degree in psychology, sociology or any other youth-oriented field," said Wynn. "We would like these individuals to have five years experience in working with youth. We also expect them to have wide skills."

The full-time directors and assistant directors will make a yearly salary of "somewhere between $15,000 and $18,000. They will also be expected to give us a commitment beyond the first year," Wynn said.

He said the bureau is also looking for a few CPA's who would like to volunteer their time. They will help keep the finances of the bureau correct and up to date so "anytime the taxpayers would like to see where their money goes they can."

The second step the bureau would like to settle is the zoning of the center.

They have petitioned the Village of Wheeling to receive a "special use permit." The permit is needed before the building can be used as a youth center.

The village zoning board held a public hearing earlier this month and unanimously accepted the idea of the youth center. The petition will come up before the village board Monday night.

SHOULD THE board decide to accept

Niro Joins Youth Bureau

The Youth Services Bureau solved a "major problem" yesterday when it acquired the volunteer services of attorney Ray Niro.

Niro, who earlier had considered running in the Dist. 21 school board election, will start work with the bureau immediately. He is a patent attorney with the firm of Hume, Clement, Hume & Lee, Ltd.

Richard Wynn, spokesman for the bureau, said finding Niro "solves a major problem for us. The bureau has been trying to start incorporating procedures, but could not get an attorney to volunteer his services."

the center it will instruct its attorney, Paul Hamer, to draw up the special permit needed to operate at the Milwaukee Avenue site.

The village board will then present a motion to accept or reject the idea of the Youth Services Center in a future meeting.

According to Evelyn R. Diens, Wheeling village clerk, "The action of the board to accept or reject the permit will come in the next two weeks. It should be final by March 13 at the latest."

Wynn said, "We hope the board doesn't turn us down, so we are planning our third step already — beginning work on the building itself."

He said the bureau is in "desperate need of carpenters, electricians and anyone who has any skill in these areas and would like to donate some time."

The center has 37 building code violations but many of them are minor. "We have a few broken window panes, doors that need the hinges reversed and a porch that needs to be torn down," said Wynn.

The building has two floors. The first floor is a large hall that the youth of the center may use in any way they wish.

The second story is divided into four sections.

Niro graduated magna cum laude from the University of Pittsburgh in 1964 with a bachelor's degree in engineering, and has a law degree from George Washington University, Washington, D.C.

He graduated with honors in 1969 and has resided in Arlington Heights since.

He and his wife, Judith, have two children.

Niro said he is looking forward to becoming involved with the bureau. "It is a very worthwhile community program. It is something of which the youth of the area can be proud," he said.

He added that he has hopes of getting another attorney involved with the program.

"IT IS ENTIRELY paneled and is in great shape," said Wynn.

"One room will be used for the Omnibus HOTLINE and another for group counseling sessions. It will be up to the members of the center to decide what goes in the other two rooms."

Wynn explained that the basic theory of the center is to handle youth-oriented problems in the community. "We shouldn't shove our problems off to the Andy Home or the Cook County jail," he said.

"We will give parents and youth the opportunity to identify the resources available to them. We want them to work together with us and these resources to solve problems and prevent those that may come up," he added.

"The center is a community program and we want the entire community to take part — parents, kids, teachers and anyone else interested in bettering the community," Wynn concluded.

The Youth Service Bureau will serve Wheeling, Buffalo Grove, Prospect Heights, part of Arlington Heights and part of Northbrook.

It is a non-profit organization supported by private donations and a $31,000 grant from the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission.

Middleton Sentenced To 5-10 Years

by ROGER CAPETTINI
Dr. James G. Middleton of Des Plaines was sentenced yesterday to 5 to 10 years in a state penitentiary for drugging and then sexually assaulting a former woman patient in his office.

Circuit Court Judge Robert J. Downing also sentenced the doctor to pay all the costs of the prosecution of the trial.

Dr. Middleton, whose offices are at 969 S. Elmhurst Rd., Des Plaines, was allowed to remain free on bond pending appeal, however. In sentencing the 46-year-old physician, Downing also raised the doctor's bond from $15,000 to $25,000 and gave the doctor until Monday to post the additional amount.

The sentencing came early in the afternoon yesterday after Judge Downing denied a defense motion for a new trial. Defense lawyers Edward Genson and Sam Adam submitted a motion to the court containing 26 points to justify their motion. James Kavanaugh, assistant state's attorney, argued all of the points were argued either before or during the trial and already had received rulings.

When asked if he had any statement to make before he was sentenced, Dr. Middleton replied, "The extortionists who initiated this have succeeded in what they intended to do." The doctor, who has flatly denied all charges throughout the trial, has stated repeatedly that he is the subject of an extortion conspiracy.

AFTER THE judge denied the motion for a new trial, Kavanaugh was granted a motion to drop, with leave to reinstate, additional charges against the doctor. Dr. Middleton was charged with a similar attack on a second woman, but those charges were not a part of this trial.

Legal observers yesterday described the assessment of the costs of the prosecution an "unusual" move. They said such an assessment is provided for in the law and not unheard of, but certainly not common. Initial estimates were that those costs could average $1,000 a day.

The sentencing yesterday followed recommendations by attorneys for both sides.

Kavanaugh recommended the judge sentence the doctor to not less than 6 and not more than 14 years for the deviate sexual assault and 2 to 5 years for the aggravated battery, to be served concurrently.

Kavanaugh said a minimum sentence

The Nation

The Senate Judiciary Committee unanimously approved the nomination of Richard G. Kleindienst to succeed John N. Mitchell as U.S. attorney general. The nomination is expected to be reported to the Senate floor next week. Confirmation appears certain.

Presidential candidates Sen. George S. McGovern and Rep. Paul N. McCloskey criticized President Nixon's defense spending policies and charged the administration is failing to plan for conversion to a peacetime economy.

The State

Dan Walker, independent candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said Lt. Gov. Paul Simon's tax proposals could triple the state income tax if implemented. Simon, meanwhile, outlined plans for a consumer protection council he said he would create if elected governor.

U.S. Rep. Abner Mikva, D-Ill., introduced a bill he says will close $12 billion worth of loopholes in the U.S. tax law and give the savings to states to raise the standards of local education and lower property taxes. His formula would have the federal government pay $2 for every $1 the state spends to bring below-average schools up to the state standard.

A Circuit Court judge denied motions by State Sen. Bernard Neistein, D-Chicago, and former State Sen. Everett Peters, R-St. Joseph, to quash racing-related indictments against them on grounds they are unconstitutional and an invasion of privacy.

'Rat' Column Just A Spoof

There is no rat epidemic in Palatine's Pebble Creek subdivision.

There has been some misinterpretation of a column which appeared in Wednesday's Herald concerning Pebble Creek, apparently causing some misapprehension that there are rats in the area.

The Palatine Health Department has received many calls from residents questioning whether there is a rat epidemic in the subdivision. Some residents evidently became concerned about rats breeding there because they misread the column, "Palatine Today."

The column was written to describe a hypothetical situation and did not mean to imply rats really are in Pebble Creek. Any belief that there are rats there is unfounded.

A SHOE DRIVE at Winston Park School in Palatine turned out to be a "tremendous success" as 5,180 pairs of shoes were collected by students. Loading the shoes onto a truck for shipment to the Cathedral Shelter Social Agency and a halfway house run by the Episcopal Church in Chicago, are from left: Jai Ehler, Paul Soderquist and Paul Koehn. The shoe drive was sponsored by the student council and the shoes were formally presented to the Rev. Vincent Eckholm, assistant director of the agency, at an assembly this week. Shoes were cited as the biggest need the agency and halfway house have by the Rev. Eckholm. Section 8-10 won the contest for collecting the most shoes with 783 pairs of shoes. Section 7-6 finished second, collecting 699 pairs of shoes.

MAIN LINE TO CHINA. The champagne was flowing freely at a reception this week marking the grand opening of the remodeled law offices of former Palatine Trustee Tom Kearns and his partners. Not only was the building expanded and redesigned, but also was Kearns' telephone, which resembled a small switchboard. Impressed with the flashing lights and buttons on the telephone and also with President Nixon's current Far Eastern travels, Trustee Tom Ahern got on the phone, started to dial, then asked, "What's the area code for China?"

WHATSA MATTER with kids nowadays? A candidate for Miss Illinois Teenager indicated on her application as her ambition becoming an elementary education or mathematics teacher. Immediately after that was the notation: "and later a mother." Hope she's not forgetting any legal technicalities.

I WILL, I WILL... Raymond Bilski, a member of the Countryside YMCA Board of Directors, "volunteered" to head up the planning for the Y's fourth annual meeting April 28. Bilski appeared to be grinning during most of the introduction and when board chairman William T. Branham turned to him for a "progress report," Bilski's only comment was: "Now would you get off of my foot?"

Environment Unit Head Resigns

Dr. Thomas Sammons, the first chairman of Palatine's Environmental Control Board (ECB), resigned this week from his position on the board because of his commitments to his medical profession.

In his letter of resignation to Mayor Jack Moodie, Dr. Sammons explained his obligations as a physician made him unable to devote as much time as necessary to the new board.

"The board needs leadership and time," Dr. Sammons told the Herald. "I hesitate to be at board meetings when I find it difficult to go to the committee meetings."

"Because of the newness of the board, there are many areas to be explored," he said. "It's unfair to the rest of the board. They need someone who can devote the time the operation of the board needs."

DR. SAMMONS SAID he would like to continue some involvement with the ECB. "If I can help as a consultant, I would be more than happy to do it," he said.

Dr. Sammons, who served as chairman of the ECB since August, is also past chairman of the now defunct Palatine Board of Health, which was replaced by the ECB.

According to bylaws for the ECB, a registered physician is required to fill one seat on the board. With Dr. Sam-mons' resignation, there will be a vacancy that must be filled by another physician.

A new chairman could be named from ECB, or could be the new member to be appointed by Moodie to replace Dr. Sammons. Final appointment would be subject to approval by the village board.

Dr. Sammons currently works as a resident physician at the Hines Veterans Hospital in Maywood. He is a graduate of the Stritch School of Medicine at Loyola University and has served on the staff of Holy Family Hospital in Des Plaines. He also has been attending physician at Little City in Palatine, a home for retarded children.

Gunmen wounded a soldier and blasted an oxygen plant in a series of attacks in Northern Ireland. Masked raiders set fire to the town hall in Strabane.

The Nation

The Senate Judiciary Committee unanimously approved the nomination of Richard G. Kleindinst to succeed John N. Mitchell as U.S. attorney general. The nomination is expected to be reported to the Senate floor next week. Confirmation appears certain.

Presidential candidates Sen. George S. McGovern and Rep. Paul N. McCloskey criticized President Nixon's defense spending policies and charged the administration is failing to plan for conversion to a peacetime economy.

The State

Dan Walker, independent candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said Lt. Gov. Paul Simon's tax proposals could triple the state income tax if implemented. . . Simon, meanwhile, outlined plans for a consumer protection council he said he would create if elected governor.

U.S. Rep. Abner Mikva, D-Ill., introduced a bill he says will close $12 billion worth of loopholes in the U.S. tax law and give the savings to states to raise the standards of local education and lower property taxes. His formula would have the federal government pay $2 for every $1 the state spends to bring below-average schools up to the state standard.

A Circuit Court judge denied motions by State Sen. Bernard Neistein, D-Chicago, and former State Sen. Everett Peters, R-St. Joseph, to quash racing-related indictments against them on grounds they are unconstitutional and an invasion of privacy.

The War

The Viet Cong, commenting on President Nixon's Peking visit, accused him of trying to split the Communist world by capitalizing on "internal disagreement in the socialist camp." . . In Saigon, the U.S. command said two Americans were killed in Indochina action last week while South Vietnamese and Communist casualties decreased sharply, apparently due to the Vietnamese Tet lunar new year observance.

The Market

The stock market registered a slight gain despite computer problems, some profit taking and lack of buying interest. Trading was halted for 24 minutes in the morning when a computer and backup unit failed. Because of the breakdown, the New York Stock Exchange said volume figures on all issues may be inaccurate, thus affecting the most-active-stock list. The Dow Jones industrial average edged up 0.82 to 912.70.

Yvonne Storer

Is it possible that Christmas is two months gone? It's hard to believe, yet here we are in the Lenten season already, and Easter is fast approaching. Got your spring outfits out? I took a look at my spring and summer clothes and decided it's time for a new wardrobe. After I got out of shock he agreed I do need some new clothes. Now as soon as I lose these excess pounds...

Plan ahead now for another night out of the kitchen. Take the family to St. Thomas of Villanova Lower Hall on Anderson Drive for a family fish fry. March 11 from 4 to 9 p.m. is the time to keep in mind. Mark your calendar so you won't forget.

Men of St. Thomas are doing the cooking! Children 12 and under can eat for 75 cents and adults are $1. Beverages will be available. If you would rather take it home to eat that will also be available. If you need further information call Al Wendel at 358-6358.

Tomorrow there will be another fun fair. This one will be at Winston Churchill School from noon to 4 p.m. Tickets will be available in the gym at 10 cents each. Live Goldfish will be featured prizes.

In addition to the fun fair, a bake sale featuring homemade bread and pies to tempt your palate will be in the gym also.

Don't forget as you are cleaning out the closets, drawers, etc. to save all your rummage for the Brownies, Jrs., Cadets, and Seniors of Service Unit No. 513. They are holding a rummage and bake sale on April 8.

You can take your items to Mrs. James Mephram at 938 Marsha Dr. or Mrs. James Carroll, 1054 Williams. If you need further information call Mrs. Carroll at 358-2015.

The Palatine Public Library has recently begun a shut-in service for village residents. Persons of any age confined to their homes for extended periods of time may contact the library and arrange for a visit to their home. The library personnel will determine the person's reading interests or needs. Books, including large-print editions, phonograph records, magazines and films may be requested.

Now isn't that just like our library to think of such a nice thing to do? If you know of someone who might be interested in this service tell them about it or call the library at 358-5881.

My number is 358-1025 for you to call and give me your news.

DAVE LECKIE, 13, practices his scare tactics in a coffin on Lynda Leckie, 8, (holding candle) and Lori Langhenry, 8, for the upcoming Virginia Lake School PTA Fun Fair on Saturday from noon to 4 p.m. The coffin will be part of the spook house. There will also be a cake walk, white elephant sale and many booths. Tickets are 10 cents.

Mobile Heart Care Unit Gets Setback

by MARCIA KRAMER

Plans for a mobile heart care unit involving six area communities have been dealt a temporary setback by doctors at Northwest Community Hospital in Arlington Heights.

Members of the hospital's internal medicine staff agreed Thursday to meet with Harper College officials on the possibility of setting up an emergency medical training course for non-professionals who may be called upon to treat the injured or ill.

Malcolm D. MacCoun, president of the hospital, said that approach was recommended because the staff regards the heart care proposal as "part of an overall program that needs some attention."

He described that program as "the whole question of the competence of people taking care of the injured and the ill outside of the hospital."

Under the heart care proposal, devised by an Inverness woman, trained firemen would operate ambulance equipment for measuring the condition of the heart attack victim and for administering an electrical shock to restore his heartbeat.

As outlined by Mrs. Janet Schwettman, the firemen would be trained by doctors at Northwest Community Hospital and would be under the physicians' authority whenever they used the equipment.

Mrs. Schwettman obtained a written opinion from William J. Monaghan, staff associate in the American Medical Association's law division, who said it was his "presumption" that physical-trained firemen would be covered under the so-called Good Samaritan law in the Illinois Revised Statutes.

MacCoun said the hospital staff did not indicate a negative feeling on the proposal, but felt "if we're going to do this thing, let's do it in nice, logical steps."

He added: "There's a lot of ground-work that needs to be covered and we believe this (a training course at Harper) is the place to start."

MacCoun said he spoke with Robert E. Lahti, president of the college, and "we're encouraged by his response."

Another meeting has been set up for next week to discuss in greater detail possible plans for an emergency medical technician training course.

MacCoun said he assumed some of the doctors at the hospital would volunteer to assist in teaching it.

He said the hospital and the college will have to determine how long the course should be and what it should cover.

The setting up of the course is expected to delay initiation of the proposed mobile heart care system.

Mrs. Schwettman had set June as a target date for starting the service, but setting up and teaching the training course may push that date back several weeks.

A training course had been included in the plans for the service, but it probably would have been a 40-to 80-hour instructional period.

Three of the participating communities, — Hoffman Estates, Inverness and Rolling Meadows — approved of the proposal and appropriated their share of its cost.

The Village of Palatine endorsed the proposal's concept but has not voted it any funds. The Arlington Heights Village Board was awaiting approval by the hospital before considering the matter and the Mount Prospect village board has not yet considered it either.

Question Industrial Park Annexation

by JOANN VAN WYE

The annexation of an industrial park assessed at $6.9 million to the Rolling Meadows Park District in 1959 is being challenged by the Salt Creek Rural Park District.

The property in question is a 6.5-acre parcel located on Rohlwing Road, northwest of Arlington Park Race Track.

In a petition for a writ of mandamus, the Salt Creek Rural Park District claims the property was within its boundaries in 1959 and the requirements for annexation were not fulfilled by the Rolling Meadows Park District.

The petition was filed on Jan. 13 in the law division of the Circuit Court by Mike Stronberg, attorney for the Salt Creek Rural Park District.

ATTORNEYS FOR the Rolling Meadows owns Park District have not answered the petition yet nor has a hearing date been set or a judge assigned to the case.

In the petition, Salt Creek Rural Park District officials are asking that the annexation be ruled invalid and the property returned to their district.

Reparations for tax revenue lost by the Salt Creek Rural Park District during the 13 years (1959-1972) are also being sought. This is estimated at $78,000.

"We really don't expect to get the back taxes but we certainly would like to because we feel we are entitled to them," said Stronberg.

The annexation question arose last fall. On Oct. 5 a letter was sent to the Rolling Meadows Park District concerning the property and discussions have been going on since then in an attempt to settle out of court.

STRONBERG SAID every attempt had been made to settle out of court and attorneys for both park districts had even gone to the Illinois State Park Association for assistance. He said the two districts were on good terms and had both decided the question would have to be answered in a court.

Bluebird Wing Ding Is Monday

A Bluebird Wink Ding, open to all first grade girls and their mothers from all Palatine schools, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Methodist Church Hall, 123 N. Plum Grove Rd.

A short program will be presented by current members of Bluebird, Camp Fire Girls, Discovery Club and Horizon Club to show the first graders what types of activities are open to them if they join the organization. Bluebirds are the first level of the Camp Fire program.

Current Bluebirds will pantomime a mini-Bluebird meeting for the new girls. Camp Fire Girls will be dressed in ceremonial jackets to explain their program and rank requirements. Junior high girls will tell of Discovery Club activities, and Horizon Club members (high school), dressed in their Indian Ceremonial gowns, will explain some of the programs open in all levels of Camp Fire.

The Wink Ding will give new girls a chance to sign up and reserve a place for themselves in a Bluebird group for fall. All older girls interested in joining other levels of Campfire should also attend the program. Further information is available from Mrs. Warren Rogers at 358-1922.

Young Musicians In Gurnee Contest

Youthful musicians from Palatine will participate in a state solo and ensemble contest this weekend in Gurnee, Ill., near Waukegan.

About 70 students from Palatine High School and more than 100 from Fremd High School will enter the contest, to be held at Warren Township High School.

Palatine's entries include 19 in the vocal competition, 7 in orchestral and 14 in symphonic band. Fremd will send 35 soloists and 23 ensembles, including members of the chorus, band and orchestra.

Pleasant Hill Group Elects New Officers

Pleasant Hill Homeowners Association recently elected officers for the current year.

They are: Larry Wray, president; Art Graf, vice president; Shirley Pollard, secretary; and Carole Zempel, treasurer.

The six board members and committee heads are Richard Martinson, chairman of water and sewer committee; Charles Burke, village liaison chairman; Nancy Kriebie, social committee; Robert Evans, membership committee; Russ Smith, school liaison committee; and Mary Pomplun, publicity committee.

The homeowners association was originally formed to deal with the flooding conditions within the subdivision. All new residents and interested parties are invited to join.

May 1 Target Date For 'Y' Facility

The Countryside YMCA has set a target date of May 1 for beginning construction on its multi-faceted facility, though an entire wing may be left out because of insufficient funds.

The Y is $216,000 short of meeting its $1.75 million building fund goal, which has in the meantime increased by some $350,000.

And that $2.2 million total does not include $500,000 for two fitness centers. They originally were to be built after the rest of the building, but now are scheduled to be built at the same time in the hope that they can generate additional contributions.

YMCA executive director Herman M. Hertog said the cost of the building has gone up because of alterations in the original plans calling for a larger swimming pool and gymnasium.

As such, the $1.75 million goal "is not adequate," he said, and "should be more like $2 million."

ARRANGEMENTS are being made with local banks to obtain loans based on yet-to-be-paid pledges to the building fund.

The Y's board of directors has not yet decided whether to omit construction of the south wing of the building until enough funds are secured.

The south wing includes an all-purpose room, club rooms, a kitchen and a nursery. Leonard P. Newendorp, a board member who heads the building committee, said the wing "seems to be expendable if we're in a real crunch."

Bids are to be estimated for construction costs with and without the wing and fitness centers, though the board has taken a stand in favor of building the fitness centers along with the rest of the facilities.

Bids are to be submitted by 4 p.m.

Passport Agency Now Open In Area Post Office

Planning a European vacation was made a little easier this week for Mr. and Mrs. William Banta of Arlington Heights.

The Bantas were the first local residents to apply for passports at the Arlington Heights Post Office, 909 W. Euclid. The Arlington Heights Post Office began service as one of 19 branch offices of the United States Passport Agency this week to relieve congestion at the main passport office at the Federal Building in Chicago.

Formerly, all persons seeking passports were required to travel to the main office where as many as 1,000 applications were processed during peak vacation months of spring and early summer.

An Arlington Heights Post Office spokesman said "All of the largest post offices in the state will give the service."

Postal clerks will accept passport applications Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to noon in Arlington Heights. The Des Plaines Post Office on Graceland Avenue is also designated as a passport agency branch office.

Countryside 'Y' Adds Directors

Five members have been added to the Countryside YMCA Board of Directors.

They succeed directors who have resigned for business or personal reasons. Their nominations were approved this week to allow the five to serve until the annual meeting April 28 when they are expected to be named to full terms.

Three of the new members of the board are lawyers who live in Palatine:

Mark H. Beaubien Jr. and Harrington J. Pierce, who both practice in Palatine, and David Smith, a member of the firm of Peat, Marwick & Mitchell, Chicago.

The other two new members live in Barrington. They are William Johnson, president of Dearborn Chemical Co., Lake Zurich, and J. Hall Skeen, who is associated with United Air Lines.

Past, Present Hunting Ridge Homeowner Members Cited

Hunting Ridge homeowners honored new and past members of the homeowners association board of directors on Feb. 13 with a "poverty punch party" in the home of social chairman Mrs. John Anderson.

The party was the first event on the Hunting Ridge Homeowners Association calendar for 1972.

The board of directors, which elected officers last month, met for the first time Feb. 9 with many of the area representatives of the subdivision.

Area representatives, headed by Mrs. John Kleeman, have the job of greeting newcomers to the subdivision, passing out Hunting Ridge newspapers and announcements and channeling ideas between the board and the homeowners.

Winston Park Wins Basketball Tourney

First place in the Palatine-Rolling Meadows Dist. 15 Invitational Tournament was captured by the Winston Park School's basketball team last weekend.

Finishing second was Stuart Paddock School's basketball team. St. Thomas of Villanova finished third and Plum Grove School took fourth place.

1963 Auto Is Stolen

A 1963 Buick Skylark was reported stolen early Thursday from a parking lot near the Palatine train station.

Joseph Quinn of Long Grove reported the loss of the car to Palatine police at 2 a.m. It had been parked in Municipal Parking Lot No. 4 for most of the day and night, he said.

The car bears Illinois license plate No. 874341.

March 23.

With ground breaking scheduled for around May 1, the YMCA building at Northwest Highway and Baldwin Road northwest of Palatine would be completed in September, 1973.

It is to serve residents of Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Barrington, Lake Zurich and parts of Arlington Heights.

Northwest Suburbs To Get Driver License Test Center

Residents of the Northwest suburbs can look forward to greater convenience in obtaining or renewing drivers' licenses in the near future, according to plans announced yesterday by Illinois Secretary of State John W. Lewis.

State officials yesterday signed an option to purchase land for a new driver testing station on Quentin Road, between Northwest Highway and Dundee Road, just north of Palatine. At present, the nearest testing stations are in Libertyville and Elgin.

Lewis, accompanied by State Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman, R-Arlington

Heights, and Sen. John A. Graham, R-Barrington, inspected the site yesterday before signing the purchase option.

Schlickman was a prime mover in putting the long-pending plans for the new testing station in motion. The state had approved the concept of a new testing location in the Northwest suburbs nearly two years ago. Schlickman began working closely with the secretary of state's office in locating a site after editorials in the Herald urged action by the state office.

The state obtained an option on a 40.53-acre tract from Edwin M. Koop of Pala-heights, at a purchase price of $350,505. LEWIS SAID THE new facility will provide complete motor vehicle services, including behind-the-wheel testing in a closed course. Schlickman said that when completed, the facility will be the finest testing station in the state.

Purchase of the property and construction of the facility are subject to approval of the General Assembly. "If the legislature grants its approval before it adjourns in June, plans can proceed so that bids may be let by late this year for construction," Lewis said.

"Selection of the site follows a study of more than a year for a location that would best serve the public and that could be obtained at a reasonable price," Lewis said. "Need for such a facility has been present for some time to serve this heavily populated area. Numerous sites were examined for size, cost, usefulness and convenience, and the one selected fits requirements the best."

Schlickman said that a search for privately owned land was undertaken after a survey of all state, county and federal agencies revealed there was no publicly owned land available in the area.

Schlickman said the site was also cleared with the Northeast Illinois Planning Commission at his request.

IN ADDITION TO the testing facility, Lewis also announced that a walk-in office for motorists will be established on the street level of the State of Illinois Building at Randolph and LaSalle streets in Chicago's Loop. He said that office would enable thousands of persons who work or visit the Loop to have licenses renewed or to take written driving tests and eye examinations.

He said his office is also searching for a location of a facility to serve the far Southwest suburbs of the city.

Annexation Of Industrial Park Is Being Challenged

by JOANN VAN WYE

The annexation of an industrial park assessed at $6.9 million to the Rolling Meadows Park District in 1959 is being challenged by the Salt Creek Rural Park District.

The property in question is a 6.5-acre parcel located on Rohlfing Road, northwest of Arlington Park Race Track.

In a petition for a writ of mandamus, the Salt Creek Rural Park District claims the property was within its boundaries in 1959 and the requirements for annexation were not fulfilled by the Rolling Meadows Park District.

The petition was filed on Jan. 13 in the law division of the Circuit Court by Mike Stronberg, attorney for the Salt Creek Rural Park District.

ATTORNEYS FOR the Rolling Meadows Park District have not answered the petition yet nor has a hearing date been set or a judge assigned to the case.

In the petition, Salt Creek Rural Park

District officials are asking that the annexation be ruled invalid and the property returned to their district.

Reparations for tax revenue lost by the Salt Creek Rural Park District during the 13 years (1959-1972) are also being sought. This is estimated at $78,000.

"We really don't expect to get the back taxes but we certainly would like to because we feel we are entitled to them," said Stronberg.

The annexation question arose last fall. On Oct. 5 a letter was sent to the Rolling Meadows Park District concerning the property and discussions have been going on since then in an attempt to settle out of court.

STRONBERG SAID every attempt had been made to settle out of court and attorneys for both park districts had even gone to the Illinois State Park Association for assistance. He said the two districts were on good terms and had both decided the question would have to be answered in a court.

Stronberg said the case could take up to three years to be settled and he wouldn't be surprised if it reached the Illinois Supreme Court.

The tax base of the Salt Creek Rural Park District is currently about $20 million. In addition to enlarging the park district's tax base, reversion of the property to the Salt Creek Rural Park District would result in a tax break to property in the area in question since the assessment rate for the Salt Creek Rural Park District is 21.3 cents per $100 of assessed valuation opposed to 45.54 cents per $100 of assessed valuation in the Rolling Meadows Park District.

Cracker Barrel

WRITING WORTH reading at Tuesday's city council meeting, Ald. Fred Jacobson proposed an ordinance to amend the city's personnel regulations. Jacobson asked to waive the first reading of the ordinance, not an unusual procedure, and vote on the minor amendments. The councilmen agreed but as Jacobson began explaining the proposal, the aldermen, shuffling through their papers, discovered that none of them had a copy of the ordinance. Although a vote on the ordinance sight unseen might have been a noble gesture of trust, the aldermen decided that maybe that first reading wasn't such a bad idea after all.

CAR 54 WHERE ARE YOU? If you happened to be on a local tollroad or expressway some nights this week you might have seen Rolling Meadows cops zooming along at 70 or 80 miles an hour or more. No big time cops and robbers chase. The department's two head honchos, Chief Lew Case and Capt. Ralph Evans have just been spending their evenings breaking in the city's new propane powered squad cars.

GIMME A SCOTCH an' putter. The Countryside YMCA announced last week that is forming its 1972 golf teams. The press release concluded that "We may not all be scratch golfers, but we are well above par at the 19th hole. We'll drink to that."

Dr. Middleton Gets 5-10 Years In Assault Case

by ROGER CAPETTINI

Dr. James G. Middleton of Des Plaines was sentenced yesterday to 5 to 10 years in a state penitentiary for drugging and then sexually assaulting a former woman patient in his office.

Circuit Court Judge Robert J. Downing also sentenced the doctor to pay all the costs of the prosecution of the trial.

Dr. Middleton, whose offices are at 969 S. Elmhurst Rd., Des Plaines, was allowed to remain free on bond pending appeal, however. In sentencing the 46-year-old physician, Downing also raised the doctor's bond from $15,000 to $25,000 and gave the doctor until Monday to post the additional amount.

The sentencing came early in the afternoon yesterday after Judge Downing denied a defense motion for a new trial. Defense lawyers Edward Genson and Sam Adam submitted a motion to the court containing 26 points to justify their motion. James Kavanaugh, assistant state's attorney, argued all of the points were argued either before or during the trial and already had received rulings.

When asked if he had any statement to make before he was sentenced, Dr. Middleton replied, "The extortionists who inflated this have succeeded in what they intended to do." The doctor, who has flatly denied all charges throughout the trial, has stated repeatedly that he is the subject of an extortion conspiracy.

AFTER THE judge denied the motion for a new trial, Kavanaugh was granted a motion to drop, with leave to reinstate, additional charges against the doctor. Dr. Middleton was charged with a similar attack on a second woman, but those charges were not a part of this trial.

Legal observers yesterday described the assessment of the costs of the prosecution an "unusual" move. They said such an assessment is provided for in the law and not unheard of, but certainly not common. Initial estimates were that those costs could average $1,000 a day.

The sentencing yesterday followed recommendations by attorneys for both sides.

Kavanaugh recommended the judge sentence the doctor to not less than 6 and not more than 14 years for the deviate sexual assault and 2 to 5 years for the aggravated battery, to be served concurrently.

This Morning In Brief

The World

In their fourth secret session, President Nixon and Premier Chou En-lai sought a formula for sidestepping the crucial issue of Taiwan in a way that would permit expanded Sino-American diplomatic contacts. . . In one of its first comments, Russia voiced strong official suspicion of the talks, saying "there must be doubts about the ultimate outcome of this exercise in presidential diplomacy and its results for world peace."

Vietnamese Communists in Paris denounced the President's alleged internationalization of the Indochina War and walked out of the peace talks session without waiting for the allied side to speak. Observers said the action apparently was tied to the China visit.

Gunmen wounded a soldier and blasted an oxygen plant in a series of attacks in Northern Ireland. Masked raiders set fire to the town hall in Strabane.

The Nation

The Senate Judiciary Committee unanimously approved the nomination of Richard G. Kleindienst to succeed John N. Mitchell as U.S. attorney general. The nomination is expected to be reported to the Senate floor next week. Confirmation appears certain.

Presidential candidates Sen. George S. McGovern and Rep. Paul N. McCloskey criticized President Nixon's defense spending policies and charged the administration is failing to plan for conversion to a peacetime economy.

The State

Dan Walker, independent candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said Lt. Gov. Paul Simon's tax proposals could triple the state income tax if implemented. . . Simon, meanwhile, outlined plans for a consumer protection council he said he would create if elected governor.

U.S. Rep. Abner Mikva, D-Ill., introduced a bill he says will close $12 billion worth of loopholes in the U.S. tax law and give the savings to states to raise the standards of local education and lower property taxes. His formula would have the federal government pay $2 for every $1 the state spends to bring below-average schools up to the state standard.

A Circuit Court judge denied motions by State Sen. Bernard Neiseman, D-Chicago, and former State Sen. Everett Peters, R-St. Joseph, to quash racing-related indictments against them on grounds they are unconstitutional and an invasion of privacy.

The War

The Viet Cong, commenting on President Nixon's Peking visit, accused him of trying to split the Communist world by capitalizing on "internal disagreement in the socialist camp." . . In Saigon, the U.S. command said two Americans were killed in Indochina action last week while South Vietnamese and Communist casualties decreased sharply, apparently due to the Vietnamese Tet lunar new year observance.

The Market

The stock market registered a slight gain despite computer problems, some profit taking and lack of buying interest. Trading was halted for 24 minutes in the morning when a computer and backup unit failed. Because of the breakdown, the New York Stock Exchange said volume figures on all issues may be inaccurate, thus affecting the most-active stock list. The Dow Jones industrial average edged up 0.82 to 912.70.

An evening of card and game playing, door prizes, table prizes, and give-away bags is being planned by Mrs. Camille Bates, ways and means chairman for Carl Sandburg PTA tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Camille, along with a committee of Elaine Crawford, Carol Rakstang, and Betty Van Antwerp have been busy this past week arranging for the benefit.

MRS. PAT HALLERUD'S Camp Fire Girls' group entitled Nun-ko-i-da-ka (which means little women go to serve) will serve cupcakes and coffee. Pop and snacks will also be available. If you're unable to attend buy a ticket anyway. You'll be helping the PTA meet their budget.

To purchase tickets or for more information call Camille at 259-2838, Diane Campbell at 255-0945, or Fran Sanchez at 253-2330.

IF YOU'RE looking for something for the kids to do Saturday afternoon, here are two activities to solve your problem.

Countryside YMCA, which includes the areas between Lake Zurich and Rolling Meadows, is sponsoring a swimming and skating party for third graders and older children. The bus will pick the kids up at Trinity Lutheran Church at 11:10 a.m. and return them at 4:15 p.m. The group will travel to the Northbrook YMCA where they will enjoy swimming, roller skating and also view a full length movie, all for $3.50 for members and $4 for non-members. The fee includes skate rental, bus, and movie, but the kids are asked to bring a sack lunch, swimming suits, caps for girls, and towels.

The other activity planned for Saturday by Countryside 'Y' is a full length popular Walt Disney movie which will be shown at the Palatine Presbyterian Church at Rohlfing and Palatine roads. The full length feature will begin at 12:30 until 2:30 p.m. for only 50 cents per person. Popcorn, candy, and pop will be sold, according to Gary Meier, Program director for Countryside Y.

Gary also suggests that younger children be accompanied by an older brother or sister or that perhaps, the entire family may enjoy the film.

For more information on either of these activities, please call 359-2400.

MEADOWS BAPTIST Church, 2401 Kirchoff, begins their 16th Annual Missions Conference this Sunday when Richard Winchell, assistant director for the Evangelical Alliance Mission (TEAM), located in Wheaton, will be speaking at the 10:30 a.m. service at the church.

Winchell was a former missionary to South Africa for 18 years and has visited many of the 940 missions around the world.

Jim Fasold, a missionary supported by Meadows Baptist Church, just returned home after serving four years in Spain, and will speak at Sunday evening services at 7 p.m. Fasold is affiliated with the Greater Europe Missions, which also has headquarters in Wheaton.

Pastor Michael Green, pastor of the church extends an invitation to friends to attend and hear these interesting men.

Mini-Courses Include Building And Baking

by JOANN VAN WYE

Whether their interest is in building model airplanes or baking a batch of cookies, students at St. Colette School in Rolling Meadows look forward to Friday afternoons.

A variety of 18 mini-courses ranging from model airplane building to the stock market, cooking to Spanish, bridge to sewing and including many other creative classes are being offered this semester for the first time.

Sister Donna, principal, said there were two reasons the school decided to offer mini-courses on Friday afternoon this semester. First, it gives the students an opportunity to study something besides the standard curriculum with reading, writing and arithmetic. Second, students are given an opportunity to interact with different age groups.

The mini-courses are being taught by faculty members, teachers from Sacred Heart Of Mary High School and parents.

IN ORDER to get as much interaction as possible between the grade levels, third and eighth grade students were allowed to sign up for their courses first. Sister Donna said at least 80 per cent of all the students got their first or second choice. If the mini-courses are continued next semester the other grades will be given first choice.

Spanish was the first course to be filled up. Popular with the younger boys was the model airplane class.

A sewing machine was purchased for the sewing class. Sister Donna explained the machine is used for demonstration purposes and most of the students have access to a sewing machine at home.

At the end of the semester the mini-course program will be evaluated by teachers and students and on the basis of the evaluations a decision made on whether the courses should be continued. Sister Donna said that, judging from the initial response, there is little doubt the mini-courses will be continued another semester.

Ask State's Attorney Aspirants To Speak

Palatine Township democrats have invited the three men seeking the Democratic nomination for state's attorney of Cook County to address the local organization.

Invitations were recently sent to Raymond K. Berg, chief traffic court judge who has been endorsed by the regular Democratic organization; Edward V. Hanrahan, the current state's attorney who was dumped by the party in the midst of his indictment for allegedly attempting to cover up the raid in which two Black Panther Party leaders were killed; and Donald Page Moore, a Chicago lawyer and independent candidate.

Berg and Hanrahan in particular have been the object of charges and counter-charges relating to nominating petition forgeries and past conduct in office.

The three candidates were asked to speak at the March 7 meeting of the Palatine Township Regular Democratic Organization. The local party does not make endorsements.

Mobile Heart Care Unit Gets Setback

by MARCIA KRAMER

Plans for a mobile heart care unit involving six area communities have been dealt a temporary setback by doctors at Northwest Community Hospital in Arlington Heights.

Members of the hospital's internal medicine staff agreed Thursday to meet with Harper College officials on the possibility of setting up an emergency medical training course for non-professionals who may be called upon to treat the injured or ill.

Malcolm D. MacCoun, president of the hospital, said that approach was recommended because the staff regards the heart care proposal as "part of an overall program that needs some attention."

He described that program as "the whole question of the competence of people taking care of the injured and the ill outside of the hospital."

Under the heart care proposal, devised by an Inverness woman, trained firemen would operate ambulance equipment for measuring the condition of the heart attack victim and for administering an electrical shock to restore his heartbeat.

As outlined by Mrs. Janet Schwettman, the firemen would be trained by doctors at Northwest Community Hospital and would be under the physicians' authority whenever they used the equipment.

Mrs. Schwettman obtained a written opinion from William J. Monaghan, staff associate in the American Medical Association's law division, who said it was his "presumption" that physical-trained firemen would be covered under the so-called Good Samaritan law in the Illinois Revised Statutes.

MacCoun said the hospital staff did not indicate a negative feeling on the proposal, but felt "if we're going to do this thing, let's do it in nice, logical steps."

He added: "There's a lot of groundwork that needs to be covered and we believe this (a training course at Harper) is the place to start."

MacCoun said he spoke with Robert E. Lahti, president of the college, and "we're encouraged by his response."

Another meeting has been set up for next week to discuss in greater detail possible plans for an emergency medical technician training course.

MacCoun said he assumed some of the doctors at the hospital would volunteer to assist in teaching it.

He said the hospital and the college will have to determine how long the course should be and what it should cover.

The setting up of the course is expected to delay initiation of the proposed mobile heart care system.

Mrs. Schwettman had set June as a target date for starting the service, but setting up and teaching the training course may push that date back several weeks.

A training course had been included in the plans for the service, but it probably would have been a 40-to 80-hour instructional period.

Three of the participating communities, — Hoffman Estates, Inverness and Rolling Meadows — approved of the proposal and appropriated their share of its cost.

The Village of Palatine endorsed the proposal's concept but has not voted it any funds. The Arlington Heights Village Board was awaiting approval by the hospital before considering the matter and the Mount Prospect village board has not yet considered it either.

Village Board Discusses Beauty Shop Ordinances

If you're immoral, you can't frequent a beauty shop in Buffalo Grove, according to a new village ordinance.

Furthermore, if you own a beauty shop, you can't use it for immoral purposes. If you do you can lose your license.

Those are just two of the restrictions laid down in the package of rules, entitled, "an ordinance establishing sanitary rules for beauty culture shops."

Prepared by Village Sanitarian Donald Schindler, the ordinance was patterned after a similar one in effect in Rolling Meadows.

The ordinance sets down a number of other rules for the operation of beauty shops, although there appears to be some question whether the village can pass such an ordinance.

Village Mgr. Daniel Larson said the village has the authority to regulate barber shops, but the law is unclear on the regulation of beauty shops.

DURING DISCUSSION of the ordinance, the trustees amended a section to allow the operation of beauty shops in private homes.

However, the trustees did acknowledge that any business operated in a home is in violation of zoning laws. The board did not want to close down common businesses in residences, such as real estate and insurance sales, although they too are in violation of zoning regulations.

"We don't want to crack down on that type of free enterprise in Buffalo

'Y' Program Chiefs To Attend Meetings

The two program directors of the Countryside YMCA plan to attend conferences on camping and swimming.

Gary Meier will attend the American Camping Association conference in New York for five days. He is serving as head of the Chicago branch of the association.

Roberto Turcotte will attend a national aquatic conference in Colorado, representing the Far Northwest District of the Metropolitan YMCA of Chicago.

She will have the responsibility of explaining to suburban 'Y' swimming directors the new aquatic progress program expected to be discussed at the conference.

Library Board Sets Special Meet Monday

A special meeting of the Rolling Meadows Library Board of Trustees has been called for 7:30 p.m. Monday at the library. The trustees will discuss the board's annual budget.

At 8:30 p.m. Monday, members of "Project Bookmobile" will meet at the library to discuss plans for the proposed bookmobile.

Northwest Area To Get Driver Testing Center

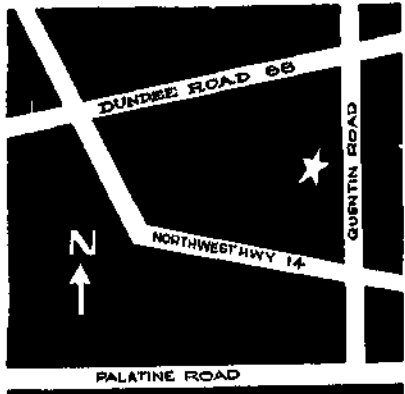

Residents of the Northwest suburbs can look forward to greater convenience in obtaining or renewing drivers' licenses in the near future, according to plans announced yesterday by Illinois Secretary of State John W. Lewis.

State officials yesterday signed an option to purchase land for a new driver testing station on Quentin Road, between Northwest Highway and Dundee Road, just north of Palatine. At present, the nearest testing stations are in Libertyville and Elgin.

Lewis, accompanied by State Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman, R-Arlington Heights, and Sen. John A. Graham, R-Barrington, inspected the site yesterday before signing the purchase option.

Schlickman was a prime mover in putting the long-pending plans for the new testing station in motion. The state had approved the concept of a new testing location in the Northwest suburbs nearly two years ago. Schlickman began working closely with the secretary of state's office in locating a site after editorials in the Herald urged action by the state office.

The state obtained an option on a 40.53-acre tract from Edwin M. Koop of Palatine, at a purchase price of $399,505.

LEWIS SAID THE new facility will provide complete motor vehicle services, including behind-the-wheel testing on a closed course. Schlickman said that when completed, the facility will be the finest testing station in the state.

Purchase of the property and construction of the facility are subject to approval of the General Assembly. "If the legislature grants its approval before it adjourns in June, plans can proceed so that bids may be let by late this year for construction," Lewis said.

"Selection of the site follows a study of more than a year for a location that would best serve the public and that could be obtained at a reasonable price," Lewis said. "Need for such a facility has been present for some time to serve this heavily populated area. Numerous sites were examined for size, cost, usefulness and convenience, and the one selected fits requirements the best."

Schlickman said that a search for privately owned land was undertaken after a survey of all state, county and federal agencies revealed there was no publicly owned land available in the area.

Schlickman said the site was also cleared with the Northeast Illinois Planning Commission at his request.

IN ADDITION TO the testing facility, Lewis also announced that a walk-in office for motorists will be established on the street level of the State of Illinois Building at Randolph and LaSalle streets in Chicago's Loop. He said that office would enable thousands of persons who work or visit the Loop to have licenses renewed or to take written driving tests and eye examinations.

He said his office is also searching for a location of a facility to serve the far Southwest suburbs of the city.

Middleton Sentenced To 5-10 Years

by ROGER CAPETTINI

Dr. James G. Middleton of Des Plaines was sentenced yesterday to 5 to 10 years in a state penitentiary for drugging and then sexually assaulting a former woman patient in his office.

Circuit Court Judge Robert J. Downing also sentenced the doctor to pay all the costs of the prosecution of the trial.

Dr. Middleton, whose offices are at 969 S. Elmhurst Rd., Des Plaines, was allowed to remain free on bond pending appeal, however. In sentencing the 46-year-old physician, Downing also raised the doctor's bond from $15,000 to $25,000 and gave the doctor until Monday to post the additional amount.

The sentencing came early in the afternoon yesterday after Judge Downing denied a defense motion for a new trial. Defense lawyers Edward Genson and Sam Adam submitted a motion to the court containing 26 points to justify their motion. James Kavanaugh, assistant state's attorney, argued all of the points were argued either before or during the trial and already had received rulings.

When asked if he had any statement to make before he was sentenced, Dr. Middleton replied, "The extortionists who initiated this have succeeded in what they intended to do." The doctor, who has flatly denied all charges throughout the trial, has stated repeatedly that he is the subject of an extortion conspiracy.

AFTER THE judge denied the motion for a new trial, Kavanaugh was granted a motion to drop, with leave to reinstate, additional charges against the doctor. Dr. Middleton was charged with a similar attack on a second woman, but those charges were not a part of this trial.

Legal observers yesterday described the assessment of the costs of the prosecution an "unusual" move. They said such an assessment is provided for in the law and not unheard of, but certainly not common. Initial estimates were that those costs could average $1,000 a day.

The sentencing yesterday followed recommendations by attorneys for both sides.

Orientation March 5 For New 'Hotliners'

An orientation meeting for new volunteers for the Mount Prospect Pump House Hotline, a telephone crisis intervention center, will be held March 5 at Forest Hospital in Des Plaines.

Anyone wishing to volunteer to handle telephone calls at the hotline is invited to attend the meeting at 7 p.m. The hotline is looking for persons who can work at least eight hours a week.

Screening of volunteers will then be conducted by Michael Meehan, social therapist, now working with hotline volunteers. After screening, volunteers will be given 18 hours of training from Meehan and the staff of the postgraduate studies unit at Forest, 555 Wilson Ln., Des Plaines.

The hotline is a project of the Mount Prospect Community Action Plan (CAP). Besides handling drug problems, the hotline also gives medical, legal and draft referral information.

Marilyn Hallman

After a 13-week stay in Washington, D.C., Dan Beste is now completing his senior year back at Coe College in Cedar Rapids. He spent the fall term in a special Washington term program sponsored by the college.

During this time he took part in a political science seminar directed by lobbyist David A. Cohen. He also participated in an art seminar led by a former National Gallery staff member. In addition, he was enrolled in the professional officers' course (for Air Force ROTC) at Catholic University.

One particularly interesting "extra" during Dan's stay were the two days a week he spent as a volunteer in the office of Rep. Philip Crane.

Dan is now looking forward to two special events. During spring vacation he will be a guest at the annual meeting of the Arnold Air Society in Dallas, Tex. Then, upon graduation, he will receive his commission in the U.S. Air Force. He also was honored recently by being selected as a distinguished Air Force ROTC cadet.

Dan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Den Beste, 13 N. Elmhurst, Prospect Heights.

WITH UNCLE SAM ... Army Spec. 4 Patrick Duran has been assigned to the 1st Signal Brigade in Vietnam. His wife, Judith, lives at 20 N. Lancaster.

Army Spec. 4 Richard Doyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Doyle of 104 S. Albert St., is now stationed at the Finance Center in Indianapolis, Ind. He is a 1967 graduate of Prospect High School and received his B.A. degree in political science from Drake University in Des Moines, Iowa.

Army Pfc. Anthony Koegel has recently been on tank maneuvers in Yakima, Wash. He is assigned to Fort Lewis, Washington, where he has been taking advanced training. Pfc. Koegel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koegel of 1002 Pendleton.

EIGHT PROSPECT High School students competed in individual speech events last weekend at Bradley University. Junior Janice Pearce reached the semi-finals in extemporaneous speaking.

Other students taking part in the competition were Bill Karicek and Dave Chakorian, boys' extemporaneous speaking; Carol Kiner and Carol Gering in original oration; Carol Flores and Carol Kiner in declamation; Penny Proctor in comedy reading; and John Anderson in serious reading.

On March 4 Prospect High School will host the district speech contest sponsored by the Illinois High School Assn. Eight area high schools will compete in play presentations and individual speech events.

Students Get Firsthand Look At Local Government

Several Forest View High School students are taking an inside look at local government. Around the Mount Prospect Village Hall, they're known as interns.

"Everybody's been really co-operative. I expected less. After all, we're just high school students and they are professionals," said Mark Gonzalez, a senior in the program.

The program was created "to give students a firsthand look at how local government is run," according to Mount Prospect Mayor Robert Teichert. The program is an outgrowth of the Mount Prospect Community Action Plan (CAP).

Since November, Gonzalez has been working on the administrative side of village government. For about four to six hours a week, he's been helping out in the finance department and the clerk's office.

"We're here to learn about how local government functions. And I'm learning part of it," said Gonzalez, who's been selling vehicle and dog stickers, stuffing envelopes and stapling forms.

Chad Henderson and Joel Soderberg, both seniors, are learning another side. They are among a group of interns studying village commissions and examining the legislative part of local government.

"We're getting a good idea of how government acts," said Henderson. "We get a good insight. We have complete access to the files. Most people don't encounter local government until they've had a problem."

SOON BOTH STUDENTS will select a village project, research it and may even participate in the final solution to the problem. All interns are asked to keep diaries of the meetings they attend so at the end of the program they can make recommendations to village officials.

Right now no one knows if the experimental program will succeed. Henderson and Soderberg are optimistic, but Gonzalez isn't too sure. Since he's started, he thinks he's had to do too much paperwork.

"I think there should be more guidance in the program," he said. "If I keep on stuffing papers and doing odd jobs, I'm not going to like the program. But if what I think is going to happen and I get to work in other department, like police and fire, then it will turn out pretty good."

County Official Praises Schools

An official of the Cook County Education office said recently Mount Prospect Dist. 57 "is providing its students with an excellent educational program."

Richard Mozier, assistant superintendent in the Cook County office, recently spent two days visiting the district's seven schools. During that time, he said he was able to evaluate the administration, instructional staff, teaching strategies, and overall curriculum.

"The instructional staff is extremely competent and effective. Teachers displayed evidence of creativity and motivation in many facets of the instructional program," he said in a letter sent to Board Pres. Harrison Hanson. "The emphasis and concern is centered around individual child growth and development."

Mozier also pointed out "each administrator visited demonstrated exceptional ability and competence in the total operation of their educational programs."

Asst. Supt. Richard Percy said Mozier's visit was to make sure recommendations made on a state report made last June were being implemented into the curriculum. Mozier confirmed that they were.

Eight Bids In For Work On Weller Creek

Eight bids have been received by the Illinois Division of Waterways (IDW) for work on Weller Creek between Mount Prospect Road and School Street in Mount Prospect.

John Guillou, chief engineer for the IDW, told the Herald yesterday that at least one of the bids was below the original $83,265 cost estimate. Guillou said he could not reveal any of the bids, however, until they were verified and checked for accuracy.

The final bid analysis should be ready by noon Monday, Guillou said. Then a contract will be awarded and work could begin within two or three weeks, he said.

The eight bids received, Guillou said, covered "quite a broad spread" of costs. "It was a good response and I am confident we will have a contract," he said.

Originally scheduled to begin late last summer, the widening and dredging work on the creek was delayed when the only bid received for the work was higher than the amount of available funds. A second bid letting period was then authorized.

The state has already released $100,000 for this portion of creek work. The whole project, which will eventually run the entire length of the creek, is aimed at increasing the creek's drainage capacity.

PTA Notes

The annual Lincoln Junior High School Fun Fair will be held 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. tomorrow at the school, 700 W. Lincoln St., Mount Prospect. Games and refreshments will be available. Profits from the fair, sponsored by the PTA, will be used for PTA activities and school projects.

Eric Sahlborg, superintendent of Mount Prospect Dist. 57, will be at an informal coffee next Tuesday evening in the multipurpose room at Fairview School, 300 N. Fairview Ave., Mount Prospect to answer questions on school staffing, teacher negotiations and the upcoming referendum. Parents from Fairview, Busso and Gregory schools are invited.

"Jack and the Beanstalk" will be presented by the Cole Marionettes at 9:30 and 10:30 a.m. March 21 at Fairview School in Mount Prospect. The program is sponsored by the PTA.

ONE GOOD CRACK will do it! A student at Fairview School in Mount Prospect swings at a pinata, a papier-mache figure filled with toys and candy.

The pinata was part of an old-style Mexican fiesta and taco lunch held recently at the school to help sixth graders learn more about Mexico.

Schaumburg Tops Valuation Increase

Assessed valuation in Schaumburg Township jumped 23.5 per cent constituting the largest increase in 38 Cook County Townships last year, according to the county assessor's office.

Schaumburg Township's assessed valuation rose from $100.7 million in 1970 to $124 million last year. The figures given do not include the state's equalizer applied for uniform tax bills.

According to surveys Schaumburg Township led in the number of residential housing starts in the greater Chicago metropolitan area last year. A surge in industrial and commercial development also was a major factor in the increase in real estate property assessments.

An increase in building activity also pushed Elk Grove Township real estate property valuations to $265.7 from $246.4 million in 1970, Charles Hodtmair, township assessor, said.

Hodtmair said commercial building permits approved two years ago are being reflected as finished offices on the real estate rolls this year.

IN PALATINE TOWNSHIP real estate property valuations increased 11.5 per cent from $131 million to $146 million while in Wheeling Township there was a $20 million increase in assessments from $261 million to $281 million.

Along with a rise in real estate valuations, Elk Grove Township personal property assessments rose 28.2 per cent from $30.5 million in 1970 to $38 million last year.

Hodtmair attributed the rise in personal property assessments to additional equipment purchased by corporations such as machinery, trucks, electronic equipment and computers. He said individual personal property was not a major factor in the valuation increase although individual property is assessed.

Assessing individual personal property is usually more of an approximation when persons fail to file a report of their taxable property. Under Illinois law, township assessors have the authority to estimate the value of personal property when the owner does not return a form declaring personal property.

Individual personal property assessments are most easily based on the number of cars owned by a family. Each household is allowed to exempt one car and one household of furniture from taxation.

For instance, in Wheeling Township Assessor Marshal Theroux said the $225 standard personal property assessment is based on $150 assessed value on the number of cars above one plus a $75 penalty for failing to return a schedule of personal property.

Prospect Heights Approves Plans For Four New Parks

The Prospect Heights Park Commission approved plans Wednesday to develop and equip four neighborhood parks and a picnic site at a cost of $27,874.

Ron Greenberg, park director, said the district plans to file for 50 per cent federal funding to help finance the parks in the next few weeks.

"Hopefully we will have the parks finished by the end of June or the beginning of July," he said. "We want to complete the parks in time to enjoy them this summer and not wait another year."

The layout and design of the park sites were drawn up by Ira Berke, of Max W. Matz & Associates, following a guideline prepared by the park commissioners.

THE PARKS include a site on Maple Lane south of Camp McDonald Road, one south of the Old Orchard Country Club in Mount Prospect and a third on Elm Street south of Palatine Road.

Greenberg said the district is negotiating for a long-term lease from Commonwealth Edison Inc. on 5½ acres east of Schoenbeck Road and north of Palatine Road. He said the land is being offered to the park district for $150 a year plus $300 per year for insurance.

The project also calls for developing property off Elmhurst Road adjacent to the south Hillcrest Slough with picnic tables and a parking lot.

Park Commissioner Max Lyle has said that the parks have been planned to be within walking distance for the greatest number of people.

Boundary Change To Be Examined

A citizens' committee to study boundary changes needed when Friendship Junior High School in Des Plaines opens next year is being formed by Elk Grove Township School Dist. 59.

The board of education Monday night agreed to ask parent-teacher organizations in each of the district's 16 elementary schools to recommend a representative to the committee.

The committee will study changes in the attendance boundaries of the junior high schools which will be needed when Friendship opens in the fall of 1973.

In addition to the representatives from the individual elementary schools, board members may recommend other members to the committee, Board Pres. Harold Harvey said.

THE BOARD also agreed to ask that the school representatives have children currently in both the junior high schools and in elementary school, so they will have a perspective on the impact of boundary changes.

Supt. James Erviti has said in the past boundary changes to accommodate the new junior high school will probably mean revisions in the attendance boundaries for all four existing junior highs.

Friendship is under construction near Algonquin and Elmhurst roads in Des Plaines. The board heard a report Monday night that excavation has been delayed by weather and because soggy clay must be removed and fill added before construction can begin.

OK To File Petitions For Other Candidates

In response to a request from a school board candidate on attorney for River Trails School Dist. 26 said yesterday it is legal for one person to file nominating petitions for other candidates.

John Haeger, attorney with the firm of Norman and Bilek, gave the opinion. The opinion was requested Wednesday by William Kurman independent candidate for the Dist. 26 school board.

Kurman protested because Lloyd Demel, a caucus-backed candidate for the board, filed his petition plus those of Leora Rosen and Ted Wattenberg, other caucus-backed candidates. As a result, the three caucus-supported candidates will receive the first three places on the ballot. Kurman will be fourth.

Gale Sayers To Speak Tonight

The second annual Sports Night Banquet, with Gale Sayers as featured speaker, will be held tonight at the Mark Center, 205 S. Wille, Mount Prospect.

The program, open to the public, will include dinner, a film, and Sayer's talk. It begins at 7 p.m. Tickets for the event at $5 each can be bought at the door tonight.

The film, called the "Spectacular Sixties," features some of the football achievements of Sayers, a Chicago Bears running back.

Board Moves To Fire Tenured Teacher

The board of education of Elk Grove Township Dist. 50 took the initial step Monday toward what may become the first case of dismissal of a tenured teacher in the district's history.

Following a 14-hour closed executive session in which it discussed the case, the board unanimously passed a "resolution of remediation" involving Catherine McNamara, a first-grade teacher at Robert Frost School in Mount Prospect.

The resolution provides that a letter will be sent to Miss McNamara, who is in her fourth year with the district, telling her what things the board wants her to change if she is to continue to be employed by the district.

Supt. James Ervitt and Albeon Waltman, assistant superintendent for personnel, confirmed the action is the first step toward a possible dismissal, but Waltman added, "We hope this is the only step we'll have to take."

THE DISTRICT has a policy of regularly evaluating all teachers, with minimum procedures outlined in the contract with the Elk Grove Teachers Council, Waltman said.

Under Illinois law, very few cases of dismissal for tenured teachers are brought by school boards, because the law provides for quasi-judicial public hearings by the school board and appeal to regular courts, according to a spokesman for the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction yesterday.

Jeff Winton, director of professional relations for the office, said, "It's possible to dismiss someone following the law, but it can be rather complicated."

Waltman said he knew of no dismissal case of a tenured teacher being brought in Dist. 59.

Generally, a teacher is placed on tenure following a two-year probation period, although some teachers are placed on a third-year probation before being granted tenure. A probationary teacher may be dismissed by a school district without cause and without reference to the legal procedures required in the case of a tenured teacher.

ROBERT BEAUPRE, president of the Teachers Council, the teachers' bargaining unit affiliated with the Illinois Education Association, said Tuesday he was not aware of the facts in Miss McNamara's case but said the council will look into it.

"We will investigate the entire proceeding to make sure the individual rights of the teacher have not been violated," he said.

From The Library

by LAURIE ROSSI

For any traveler to foreign lands, the name Fodor is a household word. He's the author of those famous travel guides that have been guiding Americans through foreign countries for years. Now the Mount Prospect library has the new 1972 Fodor guides for Germany, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, France, Switzerland, Turkey, Austria, Luxembourg and Belgium, Yugoslavia, Portugal, Greece and India.

Of his 35 titles, 25 are published annually in completely revised editions. They are also available in six foreign languages.

I selected one of the Fodor guides (on South America) to use as a report on Fodor's format and the information he includes in his books.

One of his features is guest writers. This makes it possible for specialized experts to report firsthand on what they know best. In this book he included five city plans, eight pages of color illustrations, 16 pages of black-and-white photos, one foldout area map in full color and numerous drawings.

TWO LARGE SECTIONS in the beginning of the book deal with background of the countries trip planning. In the latter section you'll find practical information and 10-minute Spanish and Portuguese (which gives the English, Spanish or Portuguese and phonetic pronunciation in three columns).

The largest section, "The Face of South America" deals with what to buy in the South American countries, where to stay and eat, medical services, and useful addresses.

Panama, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia, Chile, Argentina, Brazil, and many other South American countries are included in this one Fodor book.

The library is open weekdays 9-9, Saturdays 9-5, and Sundays 2-5. On the third Thursday of each month through May, 10:30-11 a.m., the pre-school story hour will feature a guest storyteller from the Mount Prospect Junior Woman's Club.

The children's room has been adding to its collection. In the mystery line, we've acquired the "Alfred Hitchcock and the Three Investigators" series, plus some more Nancy Drew and Dana Girls selections. They've also got this year's winners of the Newbery and Caldecott awards. Robert C. O'Brien's "Mrs. Frisby and the Rats of Nimi" has won the Newbery Award, and "One Fine Day," illustrated by Nonny Hogrogian, has won the Caldecott Award. Because so many children enjoyed this story during the story hour, the library has more than one copy.

Annual Hersey Band Apple Sale Coming

Some 42,000 apples are being shipped from Washington for the Hersey High School band apple sale next month to raise money for a trip to Disney World in Orlando, Fla. in June.

Donald Caneva, band director, said students would be selling bags of apples for $1 each starting March 6 door-to-door in Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Prospect Heights to make $4,500 to pay part of the cost of the trip.

This is the fourth year for the apple sale which is sponsored by the Hersey Instrumental Association, a band booster club.

Caneva said the band is trying to raise $30,000 to pay for the trip. Other fundraising projects include special concerts with Arthur Fiedler of the Boston Pops Symphony Orchestra April 3 and 4.

Self-Defense Class Set At Park District

Women and high school age female residents of the Mount Prospect Park District can now register for self-defense classes.

The eight-week Saturday program, to be held from 10:30 a.m. to noon, begins March 11 in the basement of Lions Park Recreation Center, 411 S. Maple St. Classes will be conducted by John Martindale, a black belt holder in judo.

Residents can register at the park district office in the center. Fee is $4.

Northwest Suburbs To Get Driver License Test Center

Residents of the Northwest suburbs can look forward to greater convenience in obtaining or renewing drivers' licenses in the near future, according to plans announced yesterday by Illinois Secretary of State John W. Lewis.

State officials yesterday signed an option to purchase land for a new driver testing station on Quentin Road, between Northwest Highway and Dundee Road, just north of Palatine. At present, the nearest testing stations are in Libertyville and Elgin.

Lewis, accompanied by State Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman, R-Arlington

Heights, and Sen. John A. Graham, R-Barrington, inspected the site yesterday before signing the purchase option.

Schlickman was a prime mover in putting the long-pending plans for the new testing station in motion. The state had approved the concept of a new testing location in the Northwest suburbs nearly two years ago. Schlickman began working closely with the secretary of state's office in locating a site after editorials in the Herald urged action by the state office.

The state obtained an option on a 40.53-acre tract from Edwin M. Koop of Pala-time, at a purchase price of $359,505.

LEWIS SAID THE new facility will provide complete motor vehicle services, including behind-the-wheel testing in a closed course. Schlickman said that when completed, the facility will be the finest testing station in the state.

Purchase of the property and construction of the facility are subject to approval of the General Assembly. "If the legislature grants its approval before it adjourns in June, plans can proceed so that bids may be let by late this year for construction," Lewis said.

"Selection of the site follows a study of more than a year for a location that would best serve the public and that could be obtained at a reasonable price," Lewis said. "Need for such a facility has been present for some time to serve this heavily populated area. Numerous sites were examined for size, cost, usefulness and convenience, and the one selected fits requirements the best."

Schlickman said that a search for privately owned land was undertaken after a survey of all state, county and federal agencies revealed there was no publicly owned land available in the area.

Schlickman said the site was also cleared with the Northeast Illinois Planning Commission at his request.

IN ADDITION to the testing facility, Lewis also announced that a walk-in office for motorists will be established on the street level of the State of Illinois Building at Randolph and LaSalle streets in Chicago's Loop. He said that office would enable thousands of persons who work or visit the Loop to have licenses renewed or to take written driving tests and eye examinations.

He said his office is also searching for a location of a facility to serve the far Southwest suburbs of the city.

Hospital Staff Tables Mobile Heart Unit Plan

Staff members of Northwest Community Hospital in Arlington Heights have deferred a recommendation on a proposal to set up a mobile heart care unit.

Doctors in the hospital's internal medicine department Monday agreed to further study the proposal, which is intended to provide emergency treatment for heart attack victims in six area communities.

As planned, the system would include Arlington Heights, Inverness, Mount Prospect, Palatine, Rolling Meadows and Schaumburg.

Malcolm D. MacCoun, president of the hospital, said Monday: "We didn't feel we could make a decision. It's really much more complicated than it seems."

THE HOSPITAL'S involvement in the plan is basically two-fold. It has the responsibility of training fire department personnel to use emergency equipment which would be contained in ambulances.

In addition, the hospital's doctors would give instructions over a two-way radio on how to care for the patient pending his arrival at the hospital.

The instructions would be based on information about the patient's condition measured by the ambulance's equip-

Dr. Middleton Gets 5-10 Years In Assault Case

by ROGER CAPETTINI

Dr. James G. Middleton of Des Plaines was sentenced yesterday to 5 to 10 years in a state penitentiary for drugging and then sexually assaulting a former woman patient in his office.

Circuit Court Judge Robert J. Downing also sentenced the doctor to pay all the costs of the prosecution of the trial.

Dr. Middleton, whose offices are at 969 S. Elmhurst Rd., Des Plaines, was allowed to remain free on bond pending appeal, however. In sentencing the 46-year-old physician, Downing also raised the doctor's bond from $15,000 to $25,000 and gave the doctor until Monday to post the additional amount.

The sentencing came early in the afternoon yesterday after Judge Downing denied a defense motion for a new trial. Defense lawyers Edward Genson and Sam Adam submitted a motion to the court containing 26 points to justify their motion. James Kavanaugh, assistant state's attorney, argued all of the points were argued either before or during the trial and already had received rulings.

When asked if he had any statement to make before he was sentenced, Dr. Middleton replied, "The extortionists who initiated this have succeeded in what they intended to do." The doctor, who has flatly denied all charges throughout the trial, has stated repeatedly that he is the subject of an extortion conspiracy.

AFTER THE judge denied the motion for a new trial, Kavanaugh was granted a motion to drop, with leave to reinstate, additional charges against the doctor. Dr. Middleton was charged with a similar attack on a second woman, but those charges were not a part of this trial.

Legal observers yesterday described the assessment of the costs of the prosecution an "unusual" move. They said such an assessment is provided for in the law and not unheard of, but certainly not common. Initial estimates were that those costs could average $1,000 a day.

The sentencing yesterday followed recommendations by attorneys for both sides.

Kavanaugh recommended the judge sentence the doctor to not less than 6 and not more than 14 years for the deviate sexual assault and 2 to 5 years for the aggravated battery, to be served concurrently.

Eighty to 100 men are working on the multi-million addition which a hospital spokesman said should be finished sometime early this summer.

ORDER IN THE COURT. Village Pres. Jack Walsh had a surprised look on his face Monday night when he picked up the gavel to call the Board of Trustees' regular meeting to order. "What's this?" he asked quizzically staring at an undersized and slightly misshapen gavel. Someone has stolen the old heftier gavel from the dais which also serves as the judge's bench when the Arlington Heights branch of Cook County Circuit Court is in session.

AT WELL-MARKED RESIDENCE. Several residents who live near Martin J. Kelly Oldsmobile dealer on Northwest Highway were at Monday night's Village Board meeting to protest the car dealer's plans to put up some new signs identifying his franchise. A number of residents said they felt the dealership was already well marked. "When people come to our house we just say, 'Look for Martin J. Kelly Olds' and nobody has had trouble finding us yet," one woman said.

ON THE ROAD TO BUFFALO GROVE. Anyone who has driven it knows that Arlington Heights Road north of Dundee Road is one of the most punishing stretches of highway in the Northwest suburbs. Or as Village Pres. Jack Walsh put it during a recent Board of Trustees meeting, "Traveling up there is like driving the Baja or the Burma Trail."

POLITICAL BASEBALL. In this very political year, who could blame the Arlington Heights Park District softball teams from a little campaigning in an effort to be in the best leagues last Tuesday when all the captains met to discuss the upcoming season. Last year's winning team, however, is planning to take their bats and balls and go home if they don't get to play on a lighted diamond. After all, all the park districts in the surrounding areas have lighted diamonds.

This Morning In Brief

The World

In their fourth secret session, President Nixon and Premier Chou En-lai sought a formula for sidestepping the crucial issue of Taiwan in a way that would permit expanded Sino-American diplomatic contacts. . . In one of its first comments, Russia voiced strong official suspicion of the talks, saying "there must be doubts about the ultimate outcome of this exercise in presidential diplomacy and its results for world peace."

Vietnamese Communists in Paris denounced the President's alleged intensification of the Indochina War and walked out of the peace talks session without waiting for the allied side to speak. Observers said the action apparently was tied to the China visit.

Gunmen wounded a soldier and blasted an oxygen plant in a series of attacks in Northern Ireland. Masked raiders set fire to the town hall in Strabane.

The Nation

The Senate Judiciary Committee unanimously approved the nomination of Richard G. Kleindienst to succeed John N. Mitchell as U.S. attorney general. The nomination is expected to be reported to the Senate floor next week. Confirmation appears certain.

Presidential candidates Sen. George S. McGovern and Rep. Paul N. McCloskey criticized President Nixon's defense spending policies and charged the administration is failing to plan for conversion to a peacetime economy.

The State

U.S. Rep. Abner Mikva, D-Ill., introduced a bill he says will close $12 billion worth of loopholes in the U.S. tax law and give the savings to states to raise the standards of local education and lower property taxes. His formula would have the federal government pay $2 for every $1 the state spends to bring below-average schools up to the state standard.

A Circuit Court judge denied motions by State Sen. Bernard Neistein, D-Chicago, and former State Sen. Everett Peters, R-St. Joseph, to quash racing-related indictments against them on grounds they are unconstitutional and an invasion of privacy.

The War

The Viet Cong, commenting on President Nixon's Peking visit, accused him of trying to split the Communist world by capitalizing on "internal disagreement in the socialist camp." . . . In Saigon, the U.S. command said two Americans were killed in Indochina action last week while South Vietnamese and Communist casualties decreased sharply, apparently due to the Vietnamese Tet lunar new year observance.

The Market

The stock market registered a slight gain despite computer problems, some profit taking and lack of buying interest. Trading was halted for 24 minutes in the morning when a computer and backup unit failed. Because of the breakdown, the New York Stock Exchange said volume figures on all issues may be inaccurate, thus affecting the most-active-stock list. The Dow Jones industrial average edged up 0.32 to 912.70.

Dist. Teachers To Get Retroactive Pay Soon

All retroactive pay for employees in Elementary School Dist. 25 will be paid as soon as possible, said district Supt. Donald V. Strong.

"In the case that the extra pay can't be run through the computer fast enough to make the March 1 payday, the retroactive pay will be with the March 15 pay-check," Strong said.

He said the school district's attorney said that the regulations of the Pay Board now clearly provide the basis for paying the balance of retroactivity for all employees.

On Feb. 15, retroactive pay representing the automatic progression for increased time on the job under the 1970-71 contract, which was frozen under Phase I, was paid to all school district employees. Employees who work under a 10 or 12-month contract, including administration and custodial staffs, were also paid their frozen 1971-72 contract pay.

Among employees who did not receive all their back pay were the district's 480 teachers, and other staff members who signed their contract after Aug. 15, 1971. The pay board has now given the go-ahead to pay these employees retroactive pay, Strong said.

"A fund of $34,000 which has been set aside for the retroactive pay since the freeze started, will be used to pay the remaining retroactive pay," Dan Suffoletto said.

The school board gave the district administration authorization to follow the advice of the district's attorney and rulings of the pay board in the paying of retroactive pay several months ago.

"We're taking essentially the same action as High School Dist. 214 with regard to retroactive pay," Strong said.

Tax Collection On Car Sales Bid Succeeds

Arlington Heights Village Atty. Jack Siegel has succeeded in his effort to have Cook County taxes collected on the sale of new cars in the village placed in a special account.

Circuit Court Judge Nathan M. Cohen Wednesday ordered the county to put the money it has collected on new car sales in Arlington Heights, Evanston and Oak Park into a special fund until a suit on the village's power to preempt the tax is settled.

Siegel, who is also corporation counsel for the City of Evanston, is contending that under the Illinois Constitution home rule municipalities can preempt the county tax by enacting a similar measure of their own.

The county has said that if the suburbs levy their own tax it should be in addition to the county tax.

Effective Jan. 1, the county began collecting $5 on new motorcycles, $10 on new passenger cars and $15 on trucks.

There was no estimate yesterday on the amount of money the county has collected in the three municipalities.

Caucus-Backed Candidates' Petitions Filed

The nominating petitions of School Dist. 25 Caucus candidates Nicholas Raino and Richard Soby were filed Thursday by Caucus vice president Robert Anderson.

The petitions were filed a day after the first filing day because the signatures of the two candidates were needed for a petition for candidacy form. Neither Caucus candidate was available to sign the form Wednesday.

According to officials in the office of the school district's business office, no other candidates have filed or taken out petitions. Each candidate must have a nominating petition filled with 50 signatures filed by March 17 to be placed on the April school board ballot.

Passport Agency Now Open In Area Post Office

Planning a European vacation was made a little easier this week for Mr. and Mrs. William Banta of Arlington Heights.

The Bantas were the first local residents to apply for passports at the Arlington Heights Post Office, 909 W. Euclid. The Arlington Heights Post Office began service as one of 19 branch offices of the United States Passport Agency this week to relieve congestion at the main passport office at the Federal Building in Chicago.

Formerly, all persons seeking passports were required to travel to the main office where as many as 1,000 applications were processed during peak vacation months of spring and early summer.

An Arlington Heights Post Office spokesman said "All of the largest post offices in the state will give the service." He said Arlington Heights is among the 22 largest postal installations in Illinois.

Postal clerks will accept passport applications Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturdays from 8:30 to noon in Arlington Heights. The Des Plaines Post Office on Graceland Avenue is also designated as a passport agency branch office.

The Blemished Coin: A Collector's Dream

Every so often the coin-making machines in the United States mints go haywire, and a small group of coins are distributed throughout the country with noticeable flaws.

To the average spender, a smudged letter of overset type on their pocket change doesn't mean much. But finding a blemished coin in a dream come true for the collector.

Dick Egan of Arlington Heights recently.

He purchased a 1971 proof coin set from the San Francisco mint for $5. Upon inspection of the set, 14-year-old Egan found that the S (designating San Francisco) was missing from the nickel. He received one of 1,855 such S-less proof sets which were distributed before the error was detected.

Young Egan, who has been collecting for about a year, began reading weekly trade journals to find out what the set was worth. "It began at $200," he said, and then jumped to $500. "The value kept fluctuating."

This week, Egan decided to sell and received $450 from an Illinois coin dealer.

The Prospect High School freshman plans to put the profit from the sale back into his coin collection. "I think coins are a good investment," he said. "But it's also fun."

Concordia Choir To Perform At Area Churches

The Concordia Choir of Concordia Lutheran College will perform at two Arlington Heights churches this Sunday.

The choir will be featured at the 9:15 and 10:45 Sunday morning services at Faith Lutheran Church, 431 S. Arlington Heights Rd. The group also will perform at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at Saint Peter Lutheran Church, 111 W. Olive.

The Concordia Choir is a widely traveled 65 voice group from Ann Arbor, Mich., featuring works by Eccard, Disler, Bach and Brahms.

MacCoun indicated that the doctors did not appear to be either for or against the plan, but simply wanted more information.

"WE JUST want to make sure we know what we're getting into, so if we do go ahead and set this thing up, we'd do a good job," he said.

"It's a brand-new kind of service, and there are an awful lot of questions that need to be answered."

MacCoun said the questions do not involve the equipment, because "we know its medical capacity," but rather, they involve the medical judgment aspect.

The only connection the doctor has with the patient, MacCoun said, is "a piece of electronic gear."

"The doctor is at a great disadvantage. He has to take personal responsibility for making a diagnosis of a patient he can't see."

MacCOUN said the staff has read in medical journals about similar heart care units in other communities, and "the experiences from one area to another are quite different. There are different ways of setting this thing up."

"Obviously, we're interested in providing the best possible service to our patients so we're looking at all aspects of this."

Thursday's regular medical meeting will be devoted to the mobile heart care proposal, MacCoun said, but it is unlikely a recommendation will emerge from that session.

The hospital's staff does not have the authority to commit the hospital to new programs, but its recommendations on medical matters are generally approved by the decision-making board.

'Community Office' Hours For Juckett

State Rep. Robert S. Juckett, R-Park Ridge, will conduct "community office hours" in Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights Saturday.

Juckett will meet with residents on the second floor of the Mount Prospect Village Hall from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. Saturday to discuss local problems.

He will be at the Arlington Heights Village Hall from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Juckett is a candidate for reelection in the new 4th Legislative District, which include Mount Prospect and the southeastern portion of Arlington Heights.

An Old Toothbrush Should Be Replaced

Brushing your teeth with a worn out toothbrush is not only making it difficult to clean your teeth, but can actually be harmful as well. You cannot do a good job with a bad toothbrush, and this will most often lead to a heavy build up of calculus. At the same time there is a serious risk of damage to your gums.

Ask your dentist to select the type of toothbrush he wants you to use. He will know what style and texture will be best for your teeth and gums. We have a complete dental needs section and carry those brands of toothbrushes most often recommended by dentists.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

The shape of things to come.

Prediction
The Beetle will be around for years to come.

Prediction
Someone else somewhere will introduce a new economy car and there will be lots of excitement.

Prediction
The excitement will die down.

Prediction
As in the past, people who own old Volkswagens will trade them in for new Volkswagens because they guess they like Volkswagens.

Prediction
Our engineers will continue to improve the way the car works and our stylists will continue to be frustrated.

Prediction
Sometime in 1972, the Beetle will become the most popular single model automobile ever made in the world, surpassing the Model T Ford with production of over 15 million vehicles.

Prediction
We won't let that last prediction go to our heads.

Question Industrial Park Annexation

by JOANN VAN WYE

The annexation of an industrial park assessed at $6.9 million to the Rolling Meadows Park District in 1959 is being challenged by the Salt Creek Rural Park District.

The property in question is a 6.5-acre parcel located on Rolling Road, northwest of Arlington Park Race Track.

In a petition for a writ of mandamus, the Salt Creek Rural Park District claims the property was within its boundaries in 1959 and the requirements for annexation were not fulfilled by the Rolling Meadows Park District.

The petition was filed on Jan. 13 in the law division of the Circuit Court by Mike Stronberg, attorney for the Salt Creek Rural Park District.

ATTORNEYS FOR the Rolling Meadows Park District have not answered the petition yet nor has a hearing date been set or a judge assigned to the case.

In the petition, Salt Creek Rural Park District officials are asking that the annexation be ruled invalid and the property returned to their district.

Reparations for tax revenue lost by the Salt Creek Rural Park District during the 13 years (1959-1972) are also being sought. This is estimated at $78,000.

"We really don't expect to get the back taxes but we certainly would like to because we feel we are entitled to them," said Stronberg.

The annexation question arose last fall. On Oct. 5 a letter was sent to the Rolling Meadows Park District concerning the property and discussions have been going on since then in an attempt to settle out of court.

STRONBERG SAID every attempt had been made to settle out of court and attorneys for both park districts had even gone to the Illinois State Park Association for assistance. He said the two districts were on good terms and had both decided the question would have to be answered in a court.

Stronberg said the case could take up to three years to be settled and he wouldn't be surprised if it reached the Illinois Supreme Court.

The tax base of the Salt Creek Rural Park District is currently about $20 million. In addition to enlarging the park district's tax base, reversion of the property to the Salt Creek Rural Park District would result in a tax break to property in the area in question since the assessment rate for the Salt Creek Rural Park District is 21.3 cents per $100 of assessed valuation apposed to 46.54 cents per $100 of assessed valuation in the Rolling Meadows Park District.

It's Really A Propane-Powered '72 Ford

The 'Clean Machine' Makes Its Debut

by KEN KOZAK

The Clean Machine has come to Rolling Meadows.

A Clean Machine looks, sounds and as a matter of fact, is a 1972 Ford.

But that's where the resemblance ends. Unlike most Fords (or any other car) the Clean Machine does not pollute the air with carbon monoxide or gasoline additive wastes like lead.

And, as an added bonus, a Clean Machine, when properly used, will help catch crooks.

The city has purchased five of these supercars to be used as police squad cars. What makes them special is that they are fueled by propane, which is supposed to make them run cleaner, prevent deposits from building up on the engine valves and deliver up to 10 horsepower more than a comparable gasoline-powered car.

The five cars will replace five gasoline-driven cars now in the police fleet. The city took delivery on three of them last week. Mayor Roland Meyer said he knows of no other municipalities experimenting with propane engines.

THE IDEA TO spend a little extra money (conversion to propane costs $500 per car) and experiment with this new fuel system came from Meyer.

He said he started looking into the possibility of experimenting with some city cars about two years ago, "even before the trend to lead-free gasoline began."

The cars were bought from Oak Park Ford, the low bidder for the contract, at $3,400 each. An Oak Park propane distributor converted the standard gasoline models by replacing each gas tank with two 12-gallon propane tanks mounted behind a steel shield in the trunk. New carburetors and exhaust systems also were added, along with a special gas gauge.

The cost of propane, Meyer said, is comparable to the 25 cents per gallon the city pays to run its 400 cubic-inch squad cars on premium gasoline. He said 36 gallons of propane is more than enough to go an eight hour patrol shift in the city without refueling. The in-car tanks will be refueled from a 1,000-gallon supply kept at the city garage.

Mileage is supposed to be comparable to the eight to 14 miles per gallon the squad cars get from gasoline.

PROPANE IS A gas, rather than a liquid, and it burns cleaner than gasoline because it contains no additives. The only exhaust byproduct of propane combustion is carbon dioxide, Meyer said.

Because propane burns more completely it is not expected to foul engine parts as much as gasoline does. Fouling is a particular police car problem, according to Chief Lewis Case, because the cars often run at idle or very low speeds.

The city is not committing itself completely to propane, however. The special modifications are being tried on a rental basis, which is costing an addition $5 per car each month.

If the city doesn't like the cars after six months or a year, the propane modifications can be stripped out and replaced with standard parts, according to Meyer.

"But," Meyer said, "if these work out and run as efficiently as they are supposed to, every new piece of equipment purchased by the city in the future may be converted."

Caucus Files Names Of Three Candidates

The Dist. 21 caucus has officially filed the names of three candidates for the school board elections April 8.

Ben Herman, Mary Joan Reid and Lillian Stiller were the only names received by the district in the first day of filing Wednesday. Candidates for the school board have until March 17 to turn in petitions with the names of 50 Dist. 21 residents.

Herman's name was filed for the two-year opening on the board. Mrs. Reid and Mrs. Stiller both filed for three-year terms. All three candidates have caucus support.

Park District Sets Cheerleading Class

A cheerleading class for girls from 4th through 8th grades in the Arlington Heights Park District will begin March 2. Sign-ups are being held at Olympic Park, 660 N. Ridge.

The eight-week course will meet each Wednesday at Pioneer Park from 3:45 to 4:45 p.m. Donna Skogwand, a varsity cheerleader at Arlington High School, will be the instructor.

Ordered To Pay Trial Costs

Sentence Middleton To 5-10 Years

by ROGER CAPETTINI

Dr. James G. Middleton of Des Plaines was sentenced yesterday to 5 to 10 years in a state penitentiary for drugging and then sexually assaulting a former woman patient in his office.

Circuit Court Judge Robert J. Downing also sentenced the doctor to pay all the costs of the prosecution of the trial.

Dr. Middleton, whose offices are at 960 S. Elmhurst Rd., Des Plaines, was allowed to remain free on bond pending appeal, however. In sentencing the 46-year-old physician, Downing also raised the doctor's bond from $15,000 to $25,000 and gave the doctor until Monday to post the additional amount.

The sentencing came early in the afternoon yesterday after Judge Downing denied a defense motion for a new trial. Defense lawyers Edward Genson and Sam Adam submitted a motion to the court containing 26 points to justify their motion. James Kavanaugh, assistant state's attorney, argued all of the points were argued either before or during the trial and already had received rulings.

When asked if he had any statement to make before he was sentenced, Dr. Middleton replied, "The extortionists who initiated this have succeeded in what they intended to do." The doctor, who has flatly denied all charges throughout the trial, has stated repeatedly that he is the subject of an extortion conspiracy.

AFTER THE judge denied the motion for a new trial, Kavanaugh was granted a motion to drop, with leave to reinstate, additional charges against the doctor. Dr. Middleton was charged with a similar attack on a second woman, but those charges were not a part of this trial.

Legal observers yesterday described the assessment of the costs of the prosecution an "unusual" move. They said such an assessment is provided for in the law and not unheard of, but certainly not common. Initial estimates were that those costs could average $1,000 a day.

The sentencing yesterday followed recommendations by attorneys for both sides.

Kavanaugh recommended the judge sentence the doctor to not less than 6 and not more than 14 years for the deviate sexual assault and 2 to 5 years for the aggravated battery, to be served concurrently.

Kavanaugh said a minimum sentence of four years for the crime would not be sufficient. He said the sentence should show other people who are in a position of public trust and confidence that the courts will not deal lightly with such offenders.

The prosecutor said Dr. Middleton was convicted of an assault and battery in Ohio several years ago, which Kavanaugh said shows the doctor has a background for being a violent man. He also noted the doctor was charged, but acquitted, of rape through the use of drugs in Missouri about 10 years ago.

Genson asked Judge Downing to consider a period of probation for the doctor, but the judge refused.

THE DEFENSE attorney said the doctor practiced medicine in Illinois for eight years and treated "20,000 to 30,000 people." He argued, "The state brought only one of those people in to say she was assaulted."

Genson argued that when the state revoked the doctor's license to practice, it "took away the major portion of his life. He does not belong in prison with robbers and murderers," Genson said. "That is not going to make him a better man."

Adam continued the plea for probation, arguing a prison sentence for the doctor would be "cruel and unusual" punishment.

"It would be more than retaliation," Adam said, "it would be barbaric. Sending him to prison would serve no purpose other than to grab some headlines or improve the statistics of the existing state's attorney."

Adam contended Dr. Middleton has suffered enough with the revocation of his license. "He cannot suffer more than he has already," the attorney said.

Judge Downing denied the motion for probation and called the crimes committed by Dr. Middleton a "reprehensible indiscretion" on the part of a person who receives the trust and confidence of his patients.

The judge said he considered, for the purposes of sentencing, that the aggravated battery and deviate sexual assault as a single, continuing act, and passed no separate sentence on the battery charge.

ADAM SAID the doctor will appeal the verdict within the required 30 days, and then requested the judge allow the $15,000 bond to stand, pending appeal.

Kavanaugh objected to any bond, stating the federal court judge has not yet

Theft charges against Dr. James Middleton were continued until March 23 yesterday in the Des Plaines branch of Cook County Circuit Court.

Associate Judge Simon Porter continued the case when Middleton who was at the Criminal Courts building in Chicago for sentencing on his conviction of sexual deviate assault, failed to appear as scheduled.

Middleton was arrested Sept. 28 last year when he reportedly was caught driving away from a construction site with stolen wooden planks and steel rods in a trailer hitched to his auto.

Group Seeks Ouster Of Ald. Michaels

by LEON SHURE

Members of an anti-low-income housing group in Des Plaines want to throw Ald. Robert Michaels (8th) out of office for advocating a city study of federally subsidized housing.

Joseph Botte, president of the Des Plaines Citizens Opposed to Low and Moderate-Income Housing, said yesterday that members of his group want to start a recall movement to oust Michaels.

However, City Atty. Robert DiLeonardi told the Herald yesterday that recall of a Des Plaines official is not possible under the city ordinances or state statutes. Michaels, who has represented his west side ward since 1967, is not up for reelection until 1973.

Michaels said yesterday that he has been contacted by Botte and he will talk further with Botte to explain his views.

MICHAELS, who has stated that he is not endorsing low and moderate-income housing for Des Plaines, has backed a study because, he has said, the city has a responsibility to examine any possible way of eliminating problems.

He also has said that the city council may have jeopardized its chances for gaining federal funds for future senior citizens apartment buildings by defeating against his amendment to allow a low-income housing study by the recently created housing commission.

The council vote will not jeopardize an already approved 125-unit senior citizens apartment building slated for construction at Lee Street and Ashland Avenue, according to a U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development spokesman.

The question of whether the council were Ald. Alan Abrams (8th), Ald. Lois Czubakowski (5th) and Ald. Arthur Firbach (5th). Ald. Spencer Chase (3rd) has said he would have voted for the amendment if he had been able to attend that meeting.

The group opposed the study because it fears it will lead to construction of low and moderate-income housing in the city, Botte said.

The citizens group was formed last summer as a response to proposals from another group that asked the city to develop low-income housing here. Botte's group presented city officials with almost 2,500 petition signatures from residents who are against low and moderate-income housing.

Botte said he wanted to talk to Michaels to see if the alderman has information about housing of which Botte is not aware.

Botte said his research indicates that the city could not prevent "outsiders" from living in federally subsidized housing, if it were built in Des Plaines. He said 50 per cent of the residents would have to come from outside the city.

Michaels, who chaired the council committee that worked to create senior citizen housing in Des Plaines, said that a city housing authority could limit its federally subsidized housing to city residents.

Handcuffs (Click) Was Area Man's Key To Busy Day

When James Rannie decided to fool around with the pair of handcuffs he had just found, he forgot one thing. He didn't look for the key first. So the Des Plaines man spent most of Tuesday afternoon trying to get the cuffs removed.

Rannie, 26, of 8809 Dee Rd., Des Plaines, was cleaning a car when he found the handcuffs under the front seat. He works for the Town Pump gas station, River and Rand Roads in Des Plaines.

The next thing Rannie knew he was on his way to the Des Plaines Police Department in his first attempt to get the cuffs removed. But it turned out that the

Smith and Wesson handcuffs had a special security lock for which the police had no key.

THE DES PLAINES police suggested he go to the Johnson Sporting Goods Store on Lee Street in Des Plaines.

Johnson's suggested he go to Maxon's Gun Shop, 500 E. Northwest Hwy., Mount Prospect.

Maxon's suggested he go to the Mount Prospect Fire Department.

The Mount Prospect firemen didn't have a key either. So they used a hacksaw to saw off the cuffs.

An investigation afterwards revealed the car had been traded in at Des Plaines Chrysler-Plymouth by Lloyd Behrens of Des Plaines. Behrens happens to be a U. S. marshal for the Justice Department and he had inadvertently left the handcuffs in the car, along with a holster. He came to the police station Wednesday and picked up the damaged cuffs.

Park District Sets Wrestling Clinics

The Des Plaines Park District will hold its 12th annual wrestling clinics and tournament Saturday, March 4, Saturday, March 11 and Saturday, March 18 at Maine West High School, 1755 S. Wolf Rd.

The clinics will be held the 4th and 11th starting at 9 a.m. in the school's A wing gymnasium. The tournament will take place the 18th, also in the A wing gym.

Head Maine West varsity wrestling coach, Dick Carlini, will direct the program, which is open to fifth through eighth grade boys. Registration will be at the first clinic March 4. No previous wrestling experience is necessary.

This Morning In Brief

The World

In their fourth secret session, President Nixon and Premier Chou En-lai sought a formula for sidestepping the crucial issue of Taiwan in a way that would permit expanded Sino-American diplomatic contacts. . . In one of its first comments, Russia voiced strong official suspicion of the talks, saying "there must be doubts about the ultimate outcome of this exercise in presidential diplomacy and its results for world peace."

Vietnamese Communists in Paris denounced the President's alleged intensification of the Indochina War and walked out of the peace talks session without waiting for the allied side to speak. Observers said the action apparently was tied to the China visit.

Gunmen wounded a soldier and blasted an oxygen plant in a series of attacks in Northern Ireland. Masked raiders set fire to the town hall in Strabane.

The Nation

The Senate Judiciary Committee unanimously approved the nomination of Richard G. Kleindienst to succeed John N. Mitchell as U.S. attorney general. The nomination is expected to be reported to the Senate floor next week. Confirmation appears certain.

Presidential candidates Sen. George S. McGovern and Rep. Paul N. McCloskey criticized President Nixon's defense spending policies and charged the administration is failing to plan for conversion to a peacetime economy.

The State

U.S. Rep. Abner Mikva, D-Ill., introduced a bill he says will close $12 billion worth of loopholes in the U.S. tax law and give the savings to states to raise the standards of local education and lower property taxes. His formula would have the federal government pay $2 for every $1 the state spends to bring below-average schools up to the state standard.

A Circuit Court judge denied motions by State Sen. Bernard Neistien, D-Chicago, and former State Sen. Everett Peters, R-St. Joseph, to quash racing-related indictments against them on grounds they are unconstitutional and an invasion of privacy.

The War

The Viet Cong, commenting on President Nixon's Peking visit, accused him of trying to split the Communist world by capitalizing on "internal disagreement in the socialist camp." . . In Saigon, the U.S. command said two Americans were killed in Indochina action last week while South Vietnamese and Communist casualties decreased sharply, apparently due to the Vietnamese Tet lunar new year observance.

The Market

The stock market registered a slight gain despite computer problems, some profit taking and lack of buying interest. Trading was halted for 24 minutes in the morning when a computer and backup unit failed. Because of the breakdown, the New York Stock Exchange said volume figures on all issues may be inaccurate, thus affecting the most-active-stock list. The Dow Jones industrial average edged up 0.82 to 912.70.

Dual Enrollment Common

by WANDALYN RICE
In 1965 a dual enrollment agreement between Queen of the Rosary Catholic School in Elk Grove Village and Elk Grove Township Dist. 59 was revolutionary.

Today, dual enrollment is routine. Each fall seventh and eighth grade students sign up for classes at Queen of the Rosary and then cross the street to sign up at Dist. 59's Grove Junior High School.

The dual enrollment plan allows seventh and eighth grade Queen of the Rosary students to attend classes in religion, social studies, English and reading for half the day at the parochial school and study math, science, physical education, music, art, home economics or shop at Grove during the other half-day.

When the program was first discussed by the school district, objections were raised by both public and parochial school parents about the violation of "separation of church and state." The objections died down, however, once the program started.

Now Dist. 59 has held informal discussions with officials at St. Zachary's Catholic School in Des Plaines about a dual enrollment program between that school and Friendship Junior High School, which will open next door in September, 1973.

SISTER MARY Edward, principal of Queen of the Rosary, and some of her staff members plan to attend a St. Zachary board meeting next month to discuss the program. "We are going to tell them our children get the best of two worlds," Sister Mary Edward said recently.

"People are always a little bit afraid before something like this starts, but I've never seen a program that has worked as well as this one."

At Grove, according to Principal Al Stone, "The dual enrollment students are infiltrated through the school day. They aren't enmarked in any way and they take part in all our activities. They're cheerleaders or on student council."

In addition, the students get all the psychological and counseling support services the public schools have to offer and when a student has a problem the teachers from the parochial school sit down with teachers at the public school to discuss it and try to work out solutions.

"The cooperation has been wonderful," Sister Mary Edward said. "The teachers at Grove have been very accessible to us."

In addition, parents of the Queen of the Rosary students are invited to take part in parents' groups at both schools. Stone said, "I've found that the parents of the dual enrollment children maintain an allegiance to both schools."

THE DUAL enrollment program has brought some changes at Queen of the Rosary since it began in 1965. Seventh and eighth graders are not required to wear uniforms as their younger classmates are, and when Grove relaxed its dress code to allow girls to wear slacks, Sister Mary Edward went along.

The program has also saved Queen of the Rosary money, she said, because the school needs only four seventh and eighth grade teachers for its 106 students.

In addition, Sister Mary Edward said, "I don't think we would ever be able to compete with Grove on things like science equipment and specialized teachers."

She added, "I think it's a wonderful thing for our kids because they see what the public school can offer them. When I was going to parochial school, we thought there were a different kind of kids in the public schools."

Most of the students who graduate from Queen of the Rosary go on to Elk Grove High School, rather than travel much farther to parochial high schools, she said. "Going to Grove is really an initiation into high school. I think they are better prepared than many students."

Dr. Middleton Gets 5-10 Years In Assault Case

reached a verdict on the charges of illegal possession of explosives and that a theft charge is still pending against the doctor in Des Plaines. The prosecutor reminded the judge Dr. Middleton was in possession of three guns when first arrested and has been convicted of shooting tear gas at a man in Ohio.

The judge denied Kavanaugh's request, but raised the bail to $25,000.

Dr. Middleton was arrested Dec. 1, 1970 at his Des Plaines office and charged with drugging a 24-year-old former model and then forcing her to submit to a deviate sexual act.

The woman, Lynn Nelson of Carpentersville, said the doctor injected her with a "stupefying drug and then attacked her while she was defenseless."

She said she had been visiting the doctor's office for several months prior to the attack for treatment of a general "rundown condition." As a result of his treatment, she said, she grew excessive facial hair, her voice became deeper and her sexual appetite increased.

DURING A 12-DAY trial six other former patients of the doctor testified to similar treatment and results by the doctor. Although none testified they were attacked by the doctor, several told of improper suggestions and advances by the doctor.

The doctor was found guilty of the charges Feb. 3, when an eight-man, four-woman jury returned their verdict after more than 17 hours of deliberation.

If bail is not revoked, Dr. Middleton will remain free pending his appeal, which could take more than a year. The sentencing yesterday, however, could hasten, legal observers feel, a verdict on the federal bomb charges.

That bench trial in the courtroom of Judge James B. Parsons, ended in late December, 1971. The judge, however, has not announced a verdict.

In addition to the theft charge pending in Des Plaines, Dr. Middleton also has program receive two report cards, one from each school, and go through two graduation ceremonies. The program has become so routine, Sister Mary Edward said, that when she came to the school four years ago "it was just running by itself."

Stone, who has frequently explained the program to educators in other parts of the country, added, "When you talk to anybody about dual enrollment, people always want to know the flaws in it. They don't believe it could work this well."

been named defendant in a $1.2 million lawsuit filed by Mrs. Nelson.

She has charged that as a result of the treatment she received from the doctor and from the deviate sexual assault, she suffered permanent physical and emotional damage.

Since the time of his arrest, the state Department of Registration and Education has revoked the doctor's license to practice medicine in the state. It was noted yesterday however, he still has licenses in full force and effect in at least two other states, Georgia and Tennessee.

Band Concert Set At Notre Dame High

The music department of Notre Dame High School in Niles will present its annual Winter Band Concert Sunday, March 5, at 2:30 p.m. in the school gym.

Featured will be the Wind Ensemble and Concert Band. Appearing on the program will be saxophone soloist Mark Basile of Park Ridge in a Jimmy Dorsey arrangement; Mike Merchut of Niles on clarinet in a humorous piece called "Immer Kleiner;" trombonists Don Banas of Glenview, Dave Rakoczy and John Blair of Skokie in a Concerto for Trombones; and a Dixieland combo. All will be accompanied by the Wind Ensemble or the Concert Band.

Other program numbers will include standards such as "March of the Spanish Soldier;" Overture to "The Marriage of Figaro;" contemporary selections of Teherpin's five "Bagatelles;" Washburn's "Overture: Sunmount" and a medley of the popular "Carpenters" hits.

Conductors are Don Tolosko of Glenview and Gregory Mullen of Des Plaines. Tickets available through band members or at the door.

Frank, who attends Grove full-time, works on another. The dual enrollment students spend half their day at Grove and half their day at the parochial school across the street.

Maine West Students Win Marketing Tests

Several Maine West High School distributive education students won awards in a recent marketing competition held at Woodfield shopping center in Schaumburg.

Ken Funk of Des Plaines placed second in the advertising layout contest. Beth Shakespeare and Scott Wagner, both of Des Plaines, placed third in the job interview contest and sales demonstration contest.

Scoring points for Maine West were Des Plaines students Rich Christopherson, Debbie Harsch, Steve Kosac, Diane Lorbach and Patsy McClure.

The contest was sponsored by the northwest chapter of the Distributive Education Clubs of America. The winners will compete in the state marketing contest in Springfield March 2-4. The national marketing contest will be held May 3-7 in Los Angeles, Calif.

PTA Notes

The Devonshire School PTA will hold its annual Fun Fair Saturday, March 4, from 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the school, 1401 S. Pennsylvania Ave., Des Plaines.

The whole family can plan to have lunch at the Chuck Wagon, and the Country Store where popcorn, taffy apples, homemade fudge and candy will be available.

Highlights of the fair will be the Wagon Train cake walk, Antique and Junque Shop and the Magic Lantern movie. There will be games, prizes and fun for everyone.

Co-chairmen are Mrs. James Frahm and Mrs. Edward Randall. The Fun Fair is the major fund raising effort of the Devonshire PTA. Proceeds from the fair go toward programs for the students during the school year.

Variety In Junior College Courses

by VICKI HAMENDE

Revolutionary Art. The Music of Oppressed Minorities. Conformity. Appalachia. Loneliness. Masculine Advertising. The Four Schools of Psychology.

These may not sound like the titles of junior college courses, but they are.

These courses and others were created by a group of 25 Oakton Community College students who are participating in a new program giving them the chance to spend a semester out of the classroom in a field of study they direct.

It is called "self-directed study" and, according to John Tosto, assistant professor of student development and chairman of one-third of Oakton's student body, it means "allowing students to decide what they want to learn, how they want to learn and how they want to share what they learn with others."

The Oakton teacher added, "It means giving them the freedom to get into the things that are important to them and to work at their own pace."

Young Was Only HALF Ignored

Sam Young ignored? It wasn't so, said Ald. John Seitz (7th) yesterday in reply to a Herald story that described Young's less than enthusiastic reception Tuesday at a Des Plaines City Council meeting.

"Admittedly, half the members did take off," Seitz told the Herald, "but half of us stayed there to listen."

Young, a Glenview resident, is running for the Republican nomination in the North Suburban 10th Congressional District against Floyd Fulle of Des Plaines, a county commissioner and Maine Township GOP committeeman.

He appeared Tuesday night, asked for an audience, was introduced as the council adjourned, and began to speak. Apparently not interested, a number of aldermen got up, put on their hats and coats and walked out.

Nevertheless, said Seitz, the rest of the council members, including himself, felt that someone who takes the time to come before the city council deserves a fair hearing. Young talked for about 10 minutes, he said, and got an attentive ear from the aldermen who remained.

Seitz, along with Mayor Herbert Behrel and a number of Des Plaines aldermen, said is supporting Fulle in the March 21 primary. But even so, he said, half the city council did give Young a fair hearing.

Immunization Clinic Changes Its Hours

The Cook County Health Department Immunization Clinic in Des Plaines has changed its hours, according to Jean Branding, Des Plaines city health director.

The clinic will be held the first Wednesday of every month from 1 to 3 p.m. at Westminster Presbyterian Church, Beau Drive and Thacker Street, Des Plaines.

Former hours at the clinic, intended for persons who cannot afford services of a private physician, were 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. on the first Wednesday of the month, Mrs. Branding said.

THE STUDENTS participating in the new program are enrolled in a package of 12 hours of courses in psychology, sociology, literature and political science. Many are also enrolled in one outside class.

Instead of attending classes, Tosto explained, the students are involved in one of the following stages of work: Picking a semester project that relates two or more of the four subjects, developing a contract of project goals with a faculty advisor or beginning project research.

They meet for three hours weekly with the five faculty members involved and with the other students involved in Oakton's self-directed study program.

"In the beginning the meetings were used for getting to know each other, for discussing in-depth the philosophy of self-directed study," Tosto said.

"Now the students are helping each other develop projects, invent their own courses. I am doing this... possibly we could work together on that... this might be an interesting approach to that," are the kinds of things they're saying to each other now," he explained.

"I think now they are also using the meetings to try to assess who they are, where they are, how they can best self-direct themselves to satisfy their learning needs," Tosto said.

MANY OF THE STUDENTS are still "floundering," Tosto said, but others have already formed contracts with faculty advisors outlining the goals of their projects.

"There's a certain amount of risk involved for the student. If he commits himself to a project, he must complete it. It's important to fulfill these contracts, but they can be fulfilled in many ways — written orally, unconventionally," Tosto explained.

"There's also a certain amount of risk involved for the teacher. He must commit himself to devoting individual time to the student whenever the student requests it. Some students meet with their faculty advisors 10 times a week. Others have met with them only once or twice since the program began," he said.

"The teacher is still the teacher, but not in the traditional role. The teacher is more the facilitator in self-directed study. Instead of deciding what the student should know, teaching it to him and listening to the student repeat it, the teacher now assists the individual to assist himself," according to Tosto.

"The teacher says to the student, 'Within these objectives, tell me what you want to learn and how you want to learn it. I'm here to guide you and to help you with problems if you so desire,'" Tosto said.

The Oakton professor added the faculty members meet with each other for two hours weekly to discuss the progress of the students and of the program.

"ONE THING WE'VE noticed is that this kind of teaching is a lot more difficult than classroom teaching," said Steve Scharla, an Oakton teacher involved in the self-directed study program.

"But it's worth it," he added. "I met with one of my students for days and days, trying to help him pick a project. He said he was interested in the mass media and also in the nation's powerful people. One day we were just looking at each other and we both had the same brainstorm at the same time. Now he's working on a project about how people in power utilize technology. He's planning to incorporate all four subjects."

Another student is working on a project about government subsidization of the arts and whether it would lead to the outlawing of revolutionary art.

Another will present a musical project at the end of the semester, revealing through songs and guitars the culture of the nation's oppressed minority groups. "He said his prime objective in self-directed study is to be able to stand up in front of his fellow students with a guitar and sing," Tosto said.

One student is planning a term paper on the education system in the Northwest suburbs. Another is planning a written project to try to answer why the people of Appalachia, who he says are most victimized by society, are still so supportive of the government.

Another student is doing a project on the sociology of advertising and what it has done to the image of the male in society. "He's also comparing masculine and feminine advertising in magazines," Tosto explained.

"SOME OF THE PROJECTS are more sophisticated than others. That's not important. What's important is that each student is excited about his project," Tosto said.

He added the students have been reporting they've been doing more reading this semester than "in their whole lives" and the librarian has been reporting that "she's never been busier with customers."

If self-directed study is successful in the social sciences, Tosto said, in the future it might be expanded to include other subjects. It might also be expanded to include more students, providing the program would fit in with their two-year study plans.

"What we were hoping before, and what we are seeing now, is that students are getting more out of a program like this than three credit hours in each subject. They are developing a sense of human potential, a sense of community," Tosto said.

At the end of the semester, the 25 students will present their projects to the group. "They will be graded. The risk is there that they will not fulfill their contracts," Tosto said.

"But that's their responsibility, not ours. We are not saying hands off the students. We are saying let the students educate themselves where they are — turned off or turned on. For some, education involves going in a corner and reading a book. For others, it involves going out and working on a political campaign," Tosto explained.

"We're just a group of interested individuals who developed an idea and worked hard on it and won approval for it."

"To the kids it initially sounded neat — freedom with a little responsibility. But it's requiring as much if not more work on their part to develop their own kind of educational life style," Tosto said.

"But they are really excited about it... they don't seem to mind doing it. They seem to think the program is working. What that means I don't know yet," he added.

Area May Get Driver Testing Center

Residents of the Northwest suburbs can look forward to greater convenience in obtaining or renewing drivers' licenses in the near future, according to plans announced yesterday by Illinois Secretary of State John W. Lewis.

State officials yesterday signed an option to purchase land for a new driver testing station on Quentin Road, between Northwest Highway and Dundee Road, just north of Palatine. At present, the nearest testing stations are in Libertyville and Elgin.

Lewis, accompanied by State Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman, R-Arlington Heights, and Sen. John A. Graham, R-Barrington, inspected the site yesterday before signing the purchase option.

Schlickman was a prime mover in putting the long-pending plans for the new testing station in motion. The state had approved the concept of a new testing location in the Northwest suburbs nearly two years ago. Schlickman began working closely with the secretary of state's office in locating a site after editorials in the Herald urged action by the state of- fice.

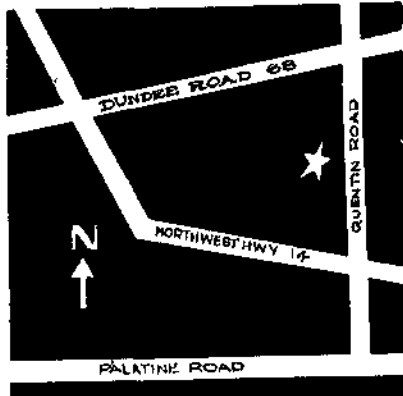

The state obtained an option on a 40.53-acre tract from Edwin M. Koop of Palatine, at a purchase price of $359,505.

LEWIS SAID THE new facility will provide complete motor vehicle services, including behind-the-wheel testing in a closed course. Schlickman said that when completed, the facility will be the finest testing station in the state.

Purchase of the property and construction of the facility are subject to approval of the General Assembly. "If the legis- lature grants its approval before it ad- journals in June, plans can proceed so that bids may be let by late this year for con- struction," Lewis said.

"Selection of the site follows a study of more than a year for a location that would best serve the public and that could be obtained at a reasonable price,"

Lewis said. "Need for such a facility has been present for some time to serve this heavily populated area. Numerous sites were examined for size, cost, usefulness and convenience, and the one selected fits requirements the best."

Schlickman said that a search for privately owned land was undertaken after a survey of all state, county and federal agencies revealed there was no publicly owned land available in the area.

Schlickman said the site was also cleared with the Northeast Illinois Plan- ning Commission at his request.

IN ADDITION TO the testing facility, Lewis also announced that a walk-in of- fice for motorists will be established on the street level of the State of Illinois Building at Randolph and LaSalle streets in Chicago's Loop. He said that office would enable thousands of persons who work or visit the Loop to have licenses renewed or to take written driving tests and eye examinations.

He said his office is also searching for a location of a facility to serve the far Southwest suburbs of the city.

O'Hare Won't Be Shut Down

Shutting down the night jet traffic at O'Hare International Airport, one sug- gestion for curbing the bothersome ground-the-clock noise in the airport envi- rons, was discounted by Civil Aeronau- tics Board (CAB) chairman Secor Brown in favor of other, long-range plans.

An airport curfew could bring prompt relief to the residents of communities near the airport. The (CAB) and other agencies have other plans in mind how- ever Brown, in Chicago Thursday for a speech before the Commerce Club, in- dicated that long-range solutions are in the planning stages.

Brown said he is looking toward the development of "good neighbor" aircraft as the answer to the noise pollution complaints of an "articulate, voting popu- lation." The imposition of a curfew on flights would be more likely in the jurisdic- tion of local government, rather than federal officials, he said.

Curfew on jet flights already are in ef- fect at the London and Paris airports and the present Tokyo airport, said Brown. Stating that this would dis- courage international carriers from ser- vicing an airport, Brown said a curfew would only be a stumbling block for in- ternational passenger service and hurt the air freight industry.

"The answer to the noise problem is the continuing effort to make a better aircraft," said Brown. He cited the DC-10 and the 747 jets and the Lockheed L1011 jets as improved versions.

ANOTHER MEANS of dealing with the noise pollution problem in airport areas is to devote the land use to industrial purposes. He cited the Dallas-Fort Worth, Texas area as an example of this plan.

In the meantime what consolation could he give the apartment dwellers and homeowners living near O'Hare who can- not benefit from the long range plans for some time? Brown said, "This same noise level that would diminish the value of a house could mean that the property would later be more valuable as an in- dustrial property."

William Downes Jr., Chicago's aviation commissioner who accompanied Brown on part of his Chicago visit agreed that a curfew is "out of the question for the city of Chicago. "There are some cities where this is done but we can't see this for O'Hare," he said.

Downes said a better solution is the determination by the federal government of acceptable noise levels at the nation's airports. "Local controls would confuse the scheduling procedures, adversely af- fect the airline payrolls and hurt prop- erty values," he said.

Brown also discussed the development of supersonic aircraft. He said the nation should commit itself to this project but added that any SST flights should not be directed over populous areas.

Harper Closer To New Facilities

Harper College is one step closer to breaking ground for new music and science facilities costing $3,390,000.

A state task force has granted tenta- tive approval for cost cutbacks in con- struction plans for the two facilities. Once the plans are finally approved, con- struction will begin. College officials are shooting for a spring groundbreaking.

The plans are being reviewed by a special task force appointed by the gover- nor. The governor will not release the state's $2,400,000 share of the project without first trying to trim costs. The two facilities, comprising the first half of Phase II of the construction, were ap- proved by two state education boards in 1970 and 1971.

Harper officials have taken their plans before the task force twice. At the sec- ond meeting, held earlier this week, the state officials approved certain cost cutbacks proposed by the Harper board. However, according to Eric Jones, task force chairman, the state will not release the funds until the technical aspects of the proposals are clarified.

"We have approved general construc- tion revisions," said Jones, "but we still have to clear up how these revisions will be made. This is completely normal procedure. The Harper review is going along faster than most."

THE TASK force's main concern, Jones said, is that "Harper just stays within state budget guidelines." These guidelines are set at $50 per square foot. Actual savings in the Harper project will "not be that great," said Jones.

Harper officials have proposed cutting $103,240 from the construction budget. They will save $90,000 by postponing con- struction of a watering system for a later project. And they will save another $12,000 by reducing the size of an outdoor court area near the music building.

The college's concessions are only two of 18 redesign measures proposed by the task force. The force questioned the ne- cessity of a peripheral road around the campus, the amount of sidewalks, the brick exterior of the building and an elevator in the music building.

The force also proposed cost cuts in the structural frame of the buildings (presently it is concrete); the special roofing, the mechanical, electrical and plumbing equipment, and the number of separate buildings.

ACCORDING TO Harper Board Presi- dent Milton Hansen, some of the force's proposals were dismissed because they were "future considerations." Other propo- sals, such as the peripheral road, were justified by the college officials.

If the college receives state funds in time for a spring groundbreaking, the two new facilities should open in the fall of 1973. In order to tide the college over until that time, the board has decided to construct an interim classroom building. Local funds will be used for the $141,116 project in order to avoid the delay of an application for state aid.

The 6,000-square-foot facility is slated for completion next fall. It will include classrooms and laboratories, designed chiefly for career programs. Later, after more buildings are constructed, the new facility will be converted to its original design — a grounds maintenance build- ing.

The college officials presented plans for the new building to the task force at the joint meeting. The force gave con- struction of the building final approval.

According to College President Robert Lahti, the new building is an emergency measure needed to meet a projected 15 per cent rise in enrollment next year. But he says it will serve as a stopgap for only one year.

A doctor who operates on himself has a fool for a patient.

It's an old saying, but it's never made more sense. There are some jobs in life that you just don't tackle by yourself. The preparation of your income tax should be one of them.

And that's where H & R Block, The Income Tax People, come in. H & R Block is America's largest tax service with more than 6,000 conveniently located offices to serve you. Your H & R Block representative is specially trained and can provide information on legitimate income tax benefits and opportunities that the average man on the street doesn't even know exists.

For instance, do you know all about deductions for child care or casualty losses? Or, that if your income increased over the last few years, you may save tax dollars by "income averaging"? And even if you did, would you know how to go about "income averaging" to begin with? Probably not. And there's no reason why you should. After all, you're an amateur when it comes to doing income tax.

H & R Block's charges start at $5 and last year averaged under $12.50 for over 7 million returns we prepared. And, if we make any error in the preparation of your tax return that costs you any interest or penalty on additional taxes due, while we do not assume the liability for the additional taxes, we will pay that interest and penalty.

Our one time fee entitles you to year 'round tax service and assistance. Come to the company that more than 7 million Americans placed their confidence in last year. Come to the people who will fill out your next income tax return efficiently, quickly, confidentially. Come to H & R Block.

AN IMPORTANT SEMINAR ON MIND CONTROL & ESP

for Everyone Interested in Developing Mental Powers

Recently, many national publications such as Glamour, Life, and the Wall Street Journal featured articles titled "BRAIN WAVES" and "BRAIN TRAINING." These articles discussed a fantastic breakthrough, a new science dealing with the conscious control of brain waves. This new science is called Alphaenics and concerns itself with the Alpha rhythms of brain. Noted researchers discussed how any person can learn to control brain waves and revealed some of the phenomenal capabilities of man with self-control of his brain waves. Exploration of this almost unknown continent — the human brain — has been pioneered by a soft-spoken para-psychologist, Jose Silva, of the Institute of Psychorientology in Laredo, Texas. This sincere dedicated scientist has been training people to control their brain waves for many years.

ALPHA BRAIN WAVE CONTROL—Twenty-six years ago Silva and his associates began their research in Mind Control to see if it was possible to increase a person's IQ factor. Amazingly, Silva discovered that not only could IQ be increased, but a person trained in this technique could even control certain areas of the Autonomic System — heart beat, respiration, blood pressure, etc. The implications of this breakthrough with regard to health and disease were staggering. With Mind Control a person could banish pain, accelerate healing, eliminate insomnia, migraine headaches, as well as untold psychosomatic problems, in-depth studies also revealed that anyone with a normal brain and sufficient training could develop so-called ESP and clairvoyance.

45,000 GRADUATES — COAST TO COAST — Five years ago the Institute decided to release their findings to the general public. Techniques have been refined to where only a few hours of class time were all that was required to become a truly effective person.

On August 23, The National Observer discussed Silva mind control in a lengthy article. It describes how once you have mastered actual mind control you can totally relax any time you desire, banish insomnia, anxiety, tensions. Eliminate pain, enhance your learning capacity and memory. Eliminate bad habits, create good habits, control weight and smoking.

Results Guaranteed — By learning to control your alpha waves you will easily develop psychic power and learn practical applications of ESP, become a better student, parent, employee or employer and more effective problem solver.

BRAIN SURGERY saved Peanut, a local Chihuahua, hit by a car last year. Jim Reed of Hoffman Estates holds the family pet who has since recovered from the mishap.

Family Wanted To Save Peanuts

by NANCY COWGER

If any dog ever had a right to think of himself as "people" Peanuts Reed is that dog.

A Chihuahua owned by Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Reed, 102 Batavia Ln., Hoffman Estates, Peanuts has suffered the misfortunes of humans, and receives responses to his needs that are most frequently considered an exclusive right of people.

Peanuts, Mrs. Reed and her youngest son, Eric, 11, were sitting on their front porch one night last September when Peanuts saw a cat and took off after it, said Mrs. Reed. Peanuts ran into the street, and was struck by a car. Mrs. Reed said there was no way the driver, a neighborhood youth, could have avoided striking the dog. The youth stopped, and together with Mr. and Mrs. Reed, took Peanuts to an animal hospital.

Peanuts had a skull fracture and was in shock. Mrs. Reed said she thought he was almost dead. It wasn't until six weeks later the family really felt Peanuts was safe.

OTHER FAMILIES might have decided to "put Peanuts to sleep," feeling it would be the kindest thing to do, and fearing the expense of major medical bills for a dog.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed wanted to do more for Peanuts, and Dr. Robert L. Mahr, veterinarian at the animal hospital agreed to try. He performed brain surgery on Peanuts, removing splinters of bone from the dog's brain. (Brain surgery still is a rarity in veterinary medicine, according to Dr. Mahr's office.)

He warned the family Peanuts might be helplessly disabled by brain damage. Even if the dog survived the trauma of surgery, the brain damage handicap might leave no alternative but to put Peanuts "to sleep," said Mrs. Reed.

Peanuts was on intravenous feedings for 10 days. But even when he was back on food and home from the hospital after two weeks, there was uncertainty about his future.

"This was one weepy family for about six weeks, until we knew for sure he would survive," said Mrs. Reed.

PEANUTS IS FINE now, although he is a little deaf. This could be from his injuries, or simply a matter of age. He's six years old.

But his recovery involved the same kind of patterning training used for brain-damaged humans. Peanuts had to be taught to sit and stand and walk again. He learned, and now even the scar is barely visible, said Mrs. Reed.

Peanuts has become a kind of celebrity in his neighborhood. Friends check regularly to see how he's doing. Neighbors find it hard to believe the tiny dog could bear the strain of injuries and surgery as well as he did. While they find it unusual for a dog to have brain surgery, no one has ever questioned the Reeds' decision to give it a try, said Mrs. Reed.

"No one around here had ever heard of it before. They think it's terrific such a little dog could stand it," said Mrs. Reed.

And Peanuts is still one of the people in the Reed family.

Should Natural Gas Deficit Occur, Residents Are First

Residential customers are tops on the list for service if a shortage of area natural gas supplies should occur, according to Northern Illinois Gas Co.

Although the area is not facing an immediate emergency, NI-Gas has adopted a contingency plan that would allocate supplies to residential and smaller commercial users during a supply shortage.

Severe shortages from Ohio to the East Coast are currently being reported.

Large industrial customers of the gas company would take a back seat to small users in case of a natural gas curtailment, according to the NI-Gas plan.

The firm serves the northern third of Illinois with the exception of the City of Chicago and the North Shore. Peoples Gas Co., serving the remaining areas, already has implemented such a plan for a limited period.

The only catch in this plan is the U.S. Supreme Court ruling in January that the Federal Power Commission cannot favor homeowners during period of natural gas shortages. The FPC is the regulating arm of the federal government for the natural gas industry and other utilities.

The FPC previously adopted a policy that places primary responsibility for meeting the need of residential and commercial customers ahead of the needs of industrial customers.

The FPC had based its policy on the assumption that industrial users can find alternate fuels if natural gas supplies are cut back. The agency said most schools, homeowners and other small private users would not have access to alternate sources of power.

THIS COULD alter the decision made by NI-Gas relating to its policies during possible gas shortages. The Illinois Commerce Commission approved its plan to give the priority to residential and commercial users.

A group of large industrial users acting as intervenors appealed the decision handed down in November, 1971. The ICC on Feb. 9 turned down the intervenors' appeal for a rehearing on the issue.

Intervenor included in the case included Commonwealth Edison Co.; the municipalities of Farmers City, Rantoul, Princeton and Rochelle, Ill.; CPC International Inc., and a group of other industrial concerns.

A Commonwealth Edison Co. spokesman said he did not know whether the intervenors would take further action, but noted the Supreme Court decision could aid their case. A NI-Gas spokesman indicated the firm expects the intervenors to take the issue to court based on the high court ruling.

Com Ed Raps Environmental Activists

Commonwealth Edison Co., long-time user of coal and now an advocate of nuclear power, has been a favorite target for environmental activists. Now the company is lashing back.

In its annual report mailed this week, the firm attacked the regulatory and legal tangles delaying the operation of three new Illinois nuclear plants. "The Cause was alive and well in 1971," said chairman J. Harris Ward in his opening remarks.

"The Cause may lead some to conclude that protection of the environment is incompatible with the production of electric energy," he said. "But the contrary is true. Without electric power energy to help clean up the environment, the Cause is lost."

The 1971 summary also featured interviews with Glenn Seaborg, former chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, and Donald W. Pritchard, professor of oceanography at Johns Hopkins University. The safety of nuclear energy power plants was discussed by Seaborg.

Pritchard recommended the development of standards for the use of Lake Michigan as a resource for cooling water at Edison's new Zion nuclear plant.

The report cited the increase in sales and customers in the past year. Sales to residential customers last year rose 5.7 per cent over the previous year. Edison served 2,610,000 customers at the end of last year. Sales to large commercial and industrial customers increased 4.1 per cent and 2.9 per cent respectively last year.

The report also confirmed previously announced financial results that indicated the company's net income in 1971 rose to $144,787,000 from $134,387,000 a year earlier.

TURNING BACK to the fuel supply issue, Ward said nuclear plants all across the country including those planned by Edison have been delayed by legal problems. The Edison plants in question are two 800,000-kilowatt capacity plants at the Quad Cities Station near Cordova, Ill.; and a nearly-completed 1.1 million-kilowatt unit at Zion.

"We will make every effort to avert outages in our services area," said Ward. "But if our own sources and those of others are needlessly idled, we may be faced with an impossible task." The company faces regulation by several agencies as it seeks to bring new nuclear units into operation. The environmental impact studies required by the AEC, regulation by state pollution control agencies and the actions of an array of environmentally oriented groups have delayed the new Edison units' operation.

"At Zion it will be at least late in the summer season before we can get on line," said a company spokesman this week. "If we can't get close to full power in the two Quad Cities units we will have problems this summer."

Edison aims for a 14 per cent reserve in its generating capacity in case of emergencies. However, the reserve this summer is expected to dwindle to 9 per cent or lower, the spokesman said.

"It appears that the power supply is tight throughout the country," the spokesman said. "This includes the Midwest. We are interconnected with other power companies but if there is a general shortage this summer we would have no alternate source of power."

THE EDISON spokesman said plans for an emergency shortage of power are not definite, but that such a shortage could occur in the Edison service area as it has in the Consolidated Edison service areas in New York. In case of such an emergency the company would first seek power supplies from interconnected systems, he said.

"Following this we would cut down on the supplies to large steel firms," he said. "Then we could initiate some voltage reductions and beyond that a curtailment of service to our very large customers. This could be followed by a general public appeal for voluntary curtailment. In the last stage, a drop-load plan could be used, or dropping a small percentage of the load in order to maintain service to the majority of customers."

The spokesman indicated that if the Commonwealth Edison Co., is forced into a voltage reduction program it would not cut voltage by more than 5 per cent. This "brownout" would not seriously affect most appliances," he said.

Harry Bouras First Exhibit

Countryside In New Home

by GENIE CAMPBELL

Members of Countryside Art Center are smiling. Why not? A new home almost three times as big as their former one and offering all kinds of added comforts and facilities is indeed cause enough to crack a lot of grins and exude a great deal of pride.

Arlington Heights Village Manager L. A. Hanson cut the ribbon last Sunday to officially open the new gallery.

Once Countryside was notified by the village, which owns the property, that the center could move into the vacated nursing home at 414 N. Vail, artists traded in their small brushes and palette knives for more substantial tools in remodeling the large two-story frame house to suit their own special needs.

IN ADDITION TO a complete paint job upstairs and down, special lighting has also been installed in the front rooms of the lower level to provide the best environment for exhibiting purposes.

Upstairs the rooms have been sectioned off for art classes that begin next Monday. Drawing, painting, photography, weaving and special instruction for children are included in this 10-week session.

It is the first time that Countryside has not had to enlist outside help in finding locations in which to hold classes. Members no longer have to for now their own facilities are adequate.

But there was more available for guests attending last Sunday afternoon's festivities than partaking in the champagne reception.

AS NOTEWORTHY as the actual dedication is the first exhibit to be shown in the new gallery, "DVs," by Chicago artist Harry Bouras.

He is primarily known as a regal sculptor and teacher and a most gregarious personality. Yet the matter at hand at Countryside is an exhibit of his provoking mushroom drawings.

It's impossible to lightly brush off Bouras' work. There's much more than meets the untrained eye... much more than a rubber-stamped mushroom figure being smeared amid a tangle of red dots. The interpretation is far more important than the visible mechanics.

In fact Bouras is even more concerned that the message in his work be grasped than that his work be recognized as art.

"IF PEOPLE OVERLOOK the art part, that's all right if they see roughly what they're about," he said in explaining several pieces of his work at the opening Sunday.

"The thing that brought them into existence is the use of art. But the content is by far more important to me than any identification of art."

Many of Bouras' mushroom drawings are made up of a series of frame-by-frame sequences showing an individual figure (man is symbolized as a mushroom) smashing against obstacles and barriers in search of escape.

It is a commentary on our society, pointing out how any form of "deviate" behavior is thwarted. It culminates in a plea for people to assert their individuality in a rapidly dehumanizing world.

"The use of the mushroom in symbolizing man started by mistake in 1964," said Bouras. Although a noted sculptor he draws in order to stay fresh. Mushrooms began to interest him as an item to sketch when he found them in abundance near a home he owns in Galena.

GRADUALLY THE diversity of the symbolism attached to the mushroom began to unravel for him. And in the last three years the mushroom has taken on more serious meaning.

"It turned into a rivet, a mushroom cloud (denoting man's destructive capacities), proliferation and then man himself," he said.

The grid marks in his pieces are all very relevant in depicting isolation and imprisonment. The red dots in so many of his drawings represent the reconnaissance scanning devices used in charting people's motion... "today's snooping devices" as he refers to them.

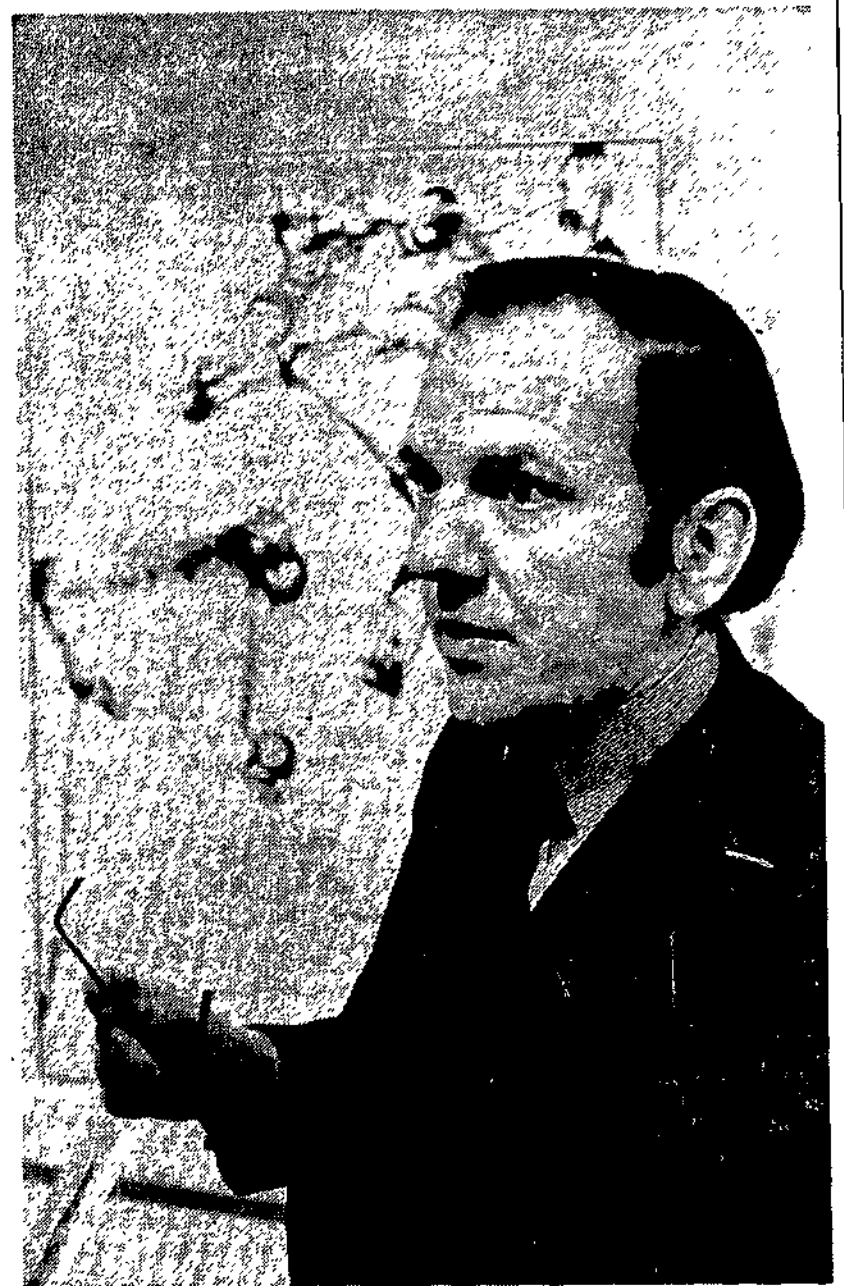

In one drawing Bouras traces the movement of one mushroom "probing to get out... going around hysterically and as it moves, totally shattering itself trying to escape its constant surveillance. "Why should someone be under surveillance for any form of deviate or hysterical behavior? For instance, deviation is fundamental to artists in our society," Bouras declared.

IN OTHER SERIES of drawings, Bouras has the mushroom or man imprisoned on a plane... resisting at first but gradually losing momentum and finally wasting away altogether. He is singled out by a heavy beam of light in another.

Once one realizes what Bouras is saying... the day becomes a bit more depressing.

The host of WFMT's "Critic's Choice" is currently doing a series of eight by 12-foot very intricate grid mushroom drawings in order to sum up his statements for museums.

"DVs" will continue on exhibit at Countryside Art Gallery through March 20.

Medley

"THEY WROTE some of the 'Cabaret' songs for me. I waited five years to sing them in a movie."

Liza Minnelli In 'Cabaret'

Finally, The Role She Wanted

by JOYCE GABRIEL

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The year is 1931. In a smoke-filled night club in Berlin, Sally Bowles sings her young heart out to a jaded audience. Her green-enamelled fingernails catch the rays of the spotlight, an eerie color in the night club's gloom. Her eyes — huge brown orbs — are fringed with incredibly long, obviously false lashes. A green sequin dots her cheek. "Come to the Cabaret, old chum," she pleads.

"Life is a Cabaret."

It is, of course, all illusion. Sally Bowles has never existed except in the mind of novelist Christopher Isherwood, who immortalized her in his "Berlin Stories," and in the hearts of those who saw the two plays and the movies about her. Sally Bowles is brought to life by Liza Minnelli, courtesy of Allied Artists' new movie musical, "Cabaret."

SALLY BOWLES is a kook, a whore, a role-player, a vulnerable young girl who longs to be a femme fatale. And Liza Minnelli plays the role with just the right combination of jadedness and innocence. A wistful portrait. One is convinced that surely Liza must be Sally to portray her so well.

Surely she is not. The bellboy and I arrived at Liza Minnelli's Plaza suite at the same time. He had come to take Steve for a walk. Steve is Liza's Shelly, one of Liza's four dogs, a frisky, gawky puppy.

The stark white 1930s make-up worn by Liza in the film, is gone. What is left is Liza Minnelli, looking fresh and tailored: little make-up, a green knit pantsuit with a black sweater, simple silver bracelets on her wrists. Her large brown eyes dominate her small face.

SALLY BOWLES immediately would have told the visitor her entire life story, made up to shock and startle. But Liza Minnelli is not Sally Bowles. What she does talk about is her film. She is pleased with it. She loved director Bob Fosse, who helped her tremendously with her performance.

Liza has known for a long time that she would play the lead in the movie, "Cabaret."

"Actually," she says, "some of the songs were written with me in mind. John Kander and Fred Webb (the composers) are good friends. When they decided to write the musical, they wanted me for the lead. That was five years ago. Then they decided a British girl would be better."

Jill Haworth did the role on Broadway.

But Liza hadn't given up on playing Sally.

"I KNEW THERE would be a movie made from the play," she said, "and I wanted it. I decided I'd just have to have enough film credits by then to get the part."

She did "The Sterile Cuckoo" and then "Tell Me That You Love Me, Junie Moon" and, voila, by the time the movie producers were ready, so was Liza.

"Cabaret" has been my theme song for five years," she explained. "When I get requests from the audience at clubs they always ask for it. In fact, when I was performing in Paris, the producers of the movie were in the audience. When I sang 'Cabaret,' they sent a note back saying, 'If you sing it that way in the movie, you'll be the greatest Sally ever.'"

The night I saw the movie, after Liza Minnelli sang "Cabaret," the audience burst into applause.

IF SALLY BOWLES WERE asked if she liked interviews, she would say, "Of course, I just love to talk about myself."

When Liza Minnelli is asked the same question, she says, "No. I hate them."

Liza's life, unlike Sally's, is not for all comers. She does not prepackage answers.

At World Flower Show

Chase Winter Weariness

The Chicago World Flower and Garden Show will burst on the scene March 18-20 at McCormick Place, and the Garden Club of Illinois has chosen "It Happens Every Spring," for its show within a show.

As in other years member garden clubs will be entering competition in artistic design, table setting and horticulture classes. There will also be a junior area, designated by a scarecrow.

Guests will enter the club exhibit through an entryway flanked with colorful gardens and come upon a fountain staged on an octagonal platform, a focal point of the show.

"Good" bugs (praying mantises and ladybird beetles) to free gardens of "bad" bugs without the use of pesticides will be for sale. Proceeds of these sales furnishes scholarship grants to deserving applicants at the University of Illinois.

THE OVERALL SHOW, regarded as the nation's leading annual indoor floral extravaganza, is sponsored by the Chicago Horticultural Society. Show designer is Harold O. Klopp, L. A., of Plum Grove Estates, Palatine.

Among the show displays will be a marsh exhibit by the Forest Preserve District; new marigolds by Burpee; a flowering haven, Chicago Park District; Japanese flower arranging; lily garden, Colgate-Palmolive; an Orchid Fantasy Garden, Hausermann, Inc.; and Fantasy of Roses, Chicago Regional Rose Society.

The Midwest Railway Historical Society has arranged for a Historymobile with reminders of the history of railroading in Illinois, the tools of railroading and the style of travel on railroads in days past.

THE UNIVERSITY of Illinois College of Pharmacy will have a display describing the use of periwinkle plants in fighting cancers and leukemia. Giant lemons growing on a miniature tree, mums and a display of four-season gardening will be featured by three men's garden clubs of the Chicago suburbs.

The science of ecology will be featured in a stamp exhibit by the American Topical Association, and the Illinois Agricultural Department will display varieties of top-quality apples grown in the state. This display will include live honey bees and the story of how they help crop production will be told.

There will also be home gardening ideas by garden clubs and schools; pottery-making demonstrations, displays of rare stones, minerals, wood carvings, shells, postcards, rare fish, daily coral concerts, bonsai and grass growing tips.

Chicago Horticultural displays will include "The Shady Garden — Spring and Summer"; a garden work center with lath house and greenhouse combination, tool storage and potting bench; indoor gardens with built-in light sources; and horticultural displays.

SEVERAL LOCAL garden clubs will sponsor charter bus trips to and from McCormick Place. On opening day, Saturday, March 18, Arlington Heights Garden Club has a bus leaving Pioneer Park at 9:30 a.m. The club will also be sponsoring a bus Monday, March 20, also leaving from Pioneer Park. Cost of the bus ride is $2.50. Mrs. Richard Teutsch, 394-0191 and Mrs. E. S. Reinhard, 255-3226, are taking reservations.

Both the Des Plaines Garden Club and the Mount Prospect Woman's Club will sponsor buses Tuesday, March 21. Those wishing to take the Des Plaines bus are to be at Rand Park at 9 a.m. Mrs. Jerry Shramek, 824-5011, may be called for arrangements.

THE MOUNT PROSPECT buses, co-sponsored by the Garden Club of Mount Prospect, will be leaving at 9:30 a.m. from South Church. Cost is $2. Mrs. William Wilcox, 392-2738, is taking reservations.

Advance tickets are being sold by club members at $2. Ticket price at the gates will be $2.50.

Inverness Garden Club, which sponsored a bus last year, will not be doing so this year.

A 3-D Craft Day Open To All

Bring cutting scissors, manicure scissors, a tube of G.E. clear silicone, a 4x5 inch cardboard, a 4x5 inch piece of white burlap, white glue and tweezers.

With these supplies, members of Cook County Homemakers and their friends will be learning to make three dimensional arrangements Monday at South Park Field House, Des Plaines. Prints can be purchased at the meeting.

Teaching will be Mrs. Alfons Goffinski of the Mount Prospect Unit, who will be assisted by Mrs. H. O. Frindt of the East Maine Unit and Shirley McCann, extension adviser.

The program, which opens at 10 a.m., is one of a series of craft programs presented by the special activities chairman, Mrs. Raymond Bond of the Mount Prospect Unit. There is no admission charge and all area women are invited.

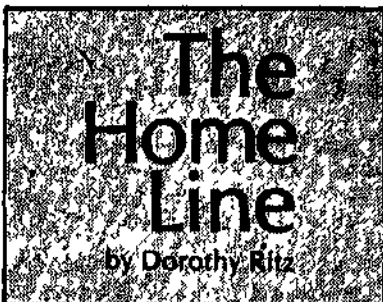

Coffee will be available and members and guests may bring a sandwich for lunch. The church is located at White and Howard Sts.

Mundelein Alumnae Hold Fund Raiser

Mrs. Leo Close, 1327 Center, Des Plaines, will be among the prize committee members who will attend a fund raising luncheon tomorrow. Money raised will go toward prizes to be awarded at Mundelein College Alumnae Association's "Red Garter Nite" to be held Sunday, April 16, from 4 to 9 p.m. at The Red Garter, 21 E. Pearson, Chicago.

Dental Crisis?

NEW YORK (UPI) — Statistics show dental health in the United States is below standard and may even be approaching the crisis stage. More than 25 million Americans have lost all their teeth; another 25 million have lost at least half their teeth. And about 50 per cent of the adult population has some form of periodontal disease by middle age, according to the American Society for Preventive Dentistry.

Dear Dorothy: The seals around the bathtubs in our home need regrouting. Am curious about a few things. Will the mold that keeps showing up reoccur with new grouting? If I can't completely scrub off moldy spots, will it harm the new grout? Are there any hints on how to get out the old grouting? —Mrs. H.W.D.

It's doubtful new grouting will stick unless the old grout is completely removed. When our grouting got pretty bad, I took it upon myself to remove it. It took a good part of the day but it was done properly. Got into the tub and pried out every little bit of the old caulking with the pointed end of a beer can opener. Then scrubbed the area thoroughly with a mild chlorine solution, rinsed and let dry. That has been a good while and the new grouting still looks fine. If you keep the area clean and as dry as possible, and occasionally use a spray disinfectant which specifically deters mildew growth, you ought not to have any more trouble.

Dear Dorothy: When you say you use blue cheese to make Roquefort dressing, you are using product names loosely. Blue cheese and Roquefort cheese are not the same. Roquefort cheese is made from sheep's milk and cured only at Roquefort, France. Blue cheese is made from cow's milk and can be and is cured in many parts of the world. True, there is some similarity, but they are different cheeses and even one who isn't a cheese connoisseur can tell the difference in taste. —Frank O. Fredericks.

Touche We stand corrected.

Dear Dorothy: Always had trouble cleaning combs and brushes until someone told me to soak them in the basin in a solution made with 3 tsp. baking soda dissolved in 1 qt. of warm water. After soaking, give them a shake and let dry. —Alice Maran.

(Mrs. Ritz welcomes questions and hints. If a personal reply is required, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Write to Mrs. Ritz in care of Suburban Living, Paddock Publications, Box 280, Arlington Heights, Ill. 60006.)

Immunity Wanes

NEW YORK (UPI) — While it is true that men are more prone to heart attacks than women, this statistical edge for women begins to fade as they grow older.

Says the Institute of Life Insurance: "After menopause, women begin to gain on men in probability of a heart attack. By age 70 the two sexes are almost equally susceptible."

Travel will highlight the evening program of the Maine East Mothers' Club, to be held Wednesday, beginning at 8 p.m. in Room 170. Mothers of Maine East students are cordially invited.

Maine East's American Field Service students will show their slides and discuss their travels. The students are Ibir Sabuncu, visiting from Istanbul, Turkey; Debbie Stern of Morton Grove, who visited Brazil this past summer; and Scott Williams of Park Ridge, who traveled to Lebanon this past summer.

AFS activities will get into full swing March 13-17, which has been designated American Field Service Week.

Program Topic Conservation

The Garden Center of the Garden Club of Illinois, Niles, will present a program on conservation today at 10 a.m. at the Golf Mill Theater, 9210 Milwaukee Ave., Niles.

Mrs. Harold Johnson of Glenview will discuss "Conservation, Our Depleted National Resources and What Can Be Done to Restore Them."

Mrs. Johnson was formerly chairman of conservation on the board of the Garden Club of Illinois. She conducted the Garden Club of Illinois School for four years. Currently participating in many conservation activities, she will tell about them and answer any questions. All interested persons are invited.

Haute Couture Club Show Is March 12

The Haute Couture Club's benefit fashion show, "Couture Classics 1972," will be playing to a full house at the Sheraton-Chicago on Sunday, March 12, and three area club members are selling tickets to the affair.

They are Mrs. Norbert J. Bork, 1812 W. Thornwood, Mount Prospect; Mrs. R. Rubens, 2105 Parkside Drive, Des Plaines; and Mrs. J. L. Schneider, 9001 W. Golf Road, Des Plaines.

Members of the club are alumnae of advanced tailoring and fur courses conducted for Central YMCA and share an avid interest in fine custom needlework and design as a hobby and as a practical art.

Mrs. Bork, who can be reached at 437-5468, is a past chairman of workshops for the club. Mrs. Schneider can be called at 299-3948. Tickets, which cost $3, will also be available at the door for the 1:30 p.m. cocktail hour and the 2:30 show.

Large Area Contingent Launches Bids Today In Swim Competition

The area's largest representation in its history will compete in the state swimming meet which starts today at New Trier East.

The diving events will get underway at 1 p.m. and the swimming events at 7 p.m. today. The finals in both swimming and diving will be held at 1 p.m. on Saturday.

With their fine performances in district competition, the area's swimmers earned 35 berths in the state meet. There are hopes, of course, of a local team earning a few points in the meet. There are no hopes of winning the state championship — Hinsdale Central should win its sixth in a row without much trouble.

200 MEDLEY RELAY

St. Viator has posted the area's best time, a 1:43.8, with Mike Salerno, Randy Robertson, Jim Wolf and Mark Savage and has qualified for state. Forest View qualified with Jeff Geisler, Fred Westdale, John Mate and Mark Bailey and has a 1:44.1 to its credit. Elk Grove qualified with Scott Bolin, Dave Toler, Mike Kinn and Spencer Huebner and has a 1:48.5. Notre Dame is the fourth area team to qualify and has a 1:46.6 to its credit.

Hinsdale Central has posted the state's best time, a 1:35.7.

200 FREESTYLE

Elk Grove's Scott Bolin, who has covered the 200-yard freestyle in 1:52.6, and Maine West's Dave Dettman, who has a 1:53.1, are the area's qualifiers for state.

Tom Beyer of Hinsdale Central has recorded the state's best time, a 1:42.8.

200 INDIVIDUAL MEDLEY

The qualifiers include Elk Grove's Dave Toler, who has a 2:07.3; Forest View's Cliff Schlak, who has 2:07.6; Forest View's Norb Polacek, who has a 2:12.0, and Maine East's Bob Wadman, who has a 2:08.6.

Russ Meyer of Hinsdale Central has posted the state's best time, a 2:08.6.

Mike Borman

View, who has a 55.9; Mike Kinn of Elk Grove, who has a 58.2; and Tim Wolf of St. Viator, who has a 58.6 are the qualifiers.

Fred Scott of Hinsdale Central has recorded the state's best time, a 51.2.

100 FREESTYLE

Maine West's Larry Bierwirth has the area's best clocking by a full second with a 50.1 to his credit. Also qualifying for state was Forest View's Mark Bailey who has a 51.1 as his best.

George Congreve of Hinsdale Central has posted the state's best time, a 48.3.

400 FREESTYLE

Forest View's Cliff Schlak heads this area's qualifiers with a best of 3:58.6. Elk Grove's Scott Bolin has a 4:01.4 to his credit and Maine West's Dettman has a 4:09.0.

Beyer of Hinsdale Central has done a 3:41.7, the best in the state.

100 BACKSTROKE

THE TALK — WHICH is very loud and very clear — coming from our neighbors to the southeast is that this is THE year for Maine South's basketball team.

Even after a series of outstanding teams, including the 1969-70 edition which reached the Super Sectionals, the optimism in Park Ridge is greater than ever about the Hawks.

Word is going around the community to get your tickets and hotel reservations for Champaign early, Hawk fans. That is called optimism with a capital "O."

Maine South has a 19-1 record going into the final weekend of regular season play. In just about everybody's statewide poll, the Hawks are ranked in the top five.

But, is this, indeed, The Dream Team? Will the Hawks have the opportunity to display their brilliant red uniforms in Assembly Hall in mid-March?

Surely, there is not a better basketball team in the Northwest suburbs. Hersey, Wheeling, Arlington and Conant are okay, but they are certainly not in Maine South's class. Besides, Maine South has already beaten Hersey and Hersey is considered to be the best team in the Mid-Suburban League.

This year's Hawk contingent is being compared to the 1969-70 Maine South Squad which posted a 24-3 record and reached the Super Sectionals where it lost to Joliet Central.

The 1969-70 team was, until this year, considered to be the best in the history of the Central Suburban League. The starting five is still familiar in the minds of

The current Maine South five may, indeed, be just as good, if not better, than the 1969-70 team. But, there is a distinct difference between the two.

Whereas the Hawk team of two years ago was a powerful, strong, rugged squad, Maine South has more finesse, better shooting and a different brand of defense. Time was when the Hawks would challenge the shooters and the potential rebounders with muscle, what with Schmelzer and Norlander the size of defensive tackles. This year, the Hawks are better in positioning and they defend the opponent before he even gets the ball.

If you want a true comparison, match the Hawks with Notre Dame's 1969-70 team which lost to Maine South in the sectional finals in overtime that year. That was a team of speed, outside shooting, defense and a lack of mistakes — the team of Kevin Kuchan, Byron King, Tom Reckert, Russ Pohl, and Gabe Eaton. The Dons did not have a superstar, but they finished with a 28-1 record.

Maine South is much the same.

For outside shooting, there is none better than 6-2 guard Rick Kucera. He may have the best jump shot — a beautiful, soft, arching thing which barely disturbs the nets as it produces two points — in Cook County, Arlington's Ken Peters included.

Kucera's sidekick at guard is 6-1 Bill Harbeck, a defensive whiz who may have Rick Wolfgram of Maine West as his only equal. Harbeck is a deft passer and hits the open man regularly.

Jerry Jones, who strikingly resembles Pete Maravich, plays one forward and is a capable rebounder at 6-4 and has a fine jump shot. He is the type whom you often overlook until you check the box score — then you see that he has somehow gotten his 20 points.

Bob Westman was not a starter early in the season, but he has come on strong and added rebounding strength to the team. At 6-6, he is not a particularly good outside shooter, but, instead, he gets most of his points from offensive rebounds.

The center is 6-6 Tom Spicer who has an excellent shot from the corners. Though Kucera may have the edge, a jump shooting contest between Spicer the talented guard could be very interesting. Spicer is also an able rebounder and block shot artist.

For bench strength, there is guard Chris Barcal, guard-forward Greg Ciesadlo and center-forward Tom Schmelzer, brother of former star Greg, all of whom have contributed greatly.

And, the best bench strength of all, is

Wrestlers Meet At Illinois State University

Hersey Launches Defense Of State Crown

by KEITH REINHARD
Wrestling Editor

East Leyden and Waukegan appear to be the chief barriers in Hersey's path this weekend as coach Tom Porter and his four-man contingent dig in to protect the Illinois state wrestling championship hardware they stalked off with one short year ago.

In terms of numbers the Huskies will be coming on stronger this time than they did in 1971. Last winter Porter brought just three grapplers down to the finals at Champaign but Jim Battaglia came away with top honors at 119 pounds, Brad Smith did likewise at 126 and Tad LeLuca garnered a fourth place prize at 145, giving Hersey a 35-point tally that outdistanced Addison Trail by six for the number one team position.

This year the finals are being conducted at Illinois State University in Normal at the Horton Fieldhouse. Four seasons, beginning at 1 p.m. today with the finals starting at 7:30 tomorrow evening will unfold before a 1972 state champion is crowned. Hersey will take four grapplers into combat including repeat state qualifiers Smith and DeLuca.

Chicago Fenger, Granite City, Joliet West and Pekin will all field five-man squads at the finals and East Moline has four representatives but judging by past performances, none will make as strong an impact as the Eagles or Bulldogs, with three contenders each.

East Leyden placed eleventh in state last year and then too they were sectional champs over Hersey prior to the final showdown. Waukegan, a perennial mat power, placed fourth in state two years ago.

Hopefully, Hersey will be likened to a north Chicago outfit two years ago which brought four wrestlers into the championship fray and every one of them made it to the finals, wrapping up squad honors even before the last sessions of the tournament.

In addition to Smith and DeLuca, unbeaten Pat Teehey and once defeated Kevin Pancratz will carry Hersey colors into battle this afternoon. They join with a number of other individual grapplers from the area poised for the rugged-two day grind!

At 93 pounds DeKalb's defending champion Dan Cliffe (30-0) is an odds-on favorite to repeat. A likely opponent for him in the finals might be the winner of an opening bout between Cliff Bode of Antioch (26-1) and Rick Torres of Lake Park (24-2).

At 105 the field appears to be wide open. Lonnie Parker of North Chicago (31-0-1), younger brother of a state champion, is one of the strong bets at 112 and he's in the same bracket at Jim Sylverne of Maine East (21-3) who opens against senior Ken Woodward of Washington at 27-3-1.

In the other 112-pound bracket is Fremd's Jeff Alvis, who puts his 27-2 mark on the line against Dana Mariani, a senior from Bloomington sporting a 27-3-2 slate.

Kevin Mathey of Sycamore reached the quarterfinals of the state meet last year at 119. Malcolm Milligan of Rochelle reached the finals in '71 a weight lighter and they could just come up with a repeat of their sectional showdown (which Mathey captured 5-1) for the 119-pound state title this year.

Mark Hyneman of Forest View (25-1) opens against Washington's Dan Wagner (21-4-1) and is very much in the running at 126 pounds. In the same bracket with Mark is Clyde Ruffin of Dixon at 37-0 while Carmel's Bob Sutton (31-4) looks dangerous on the other side.

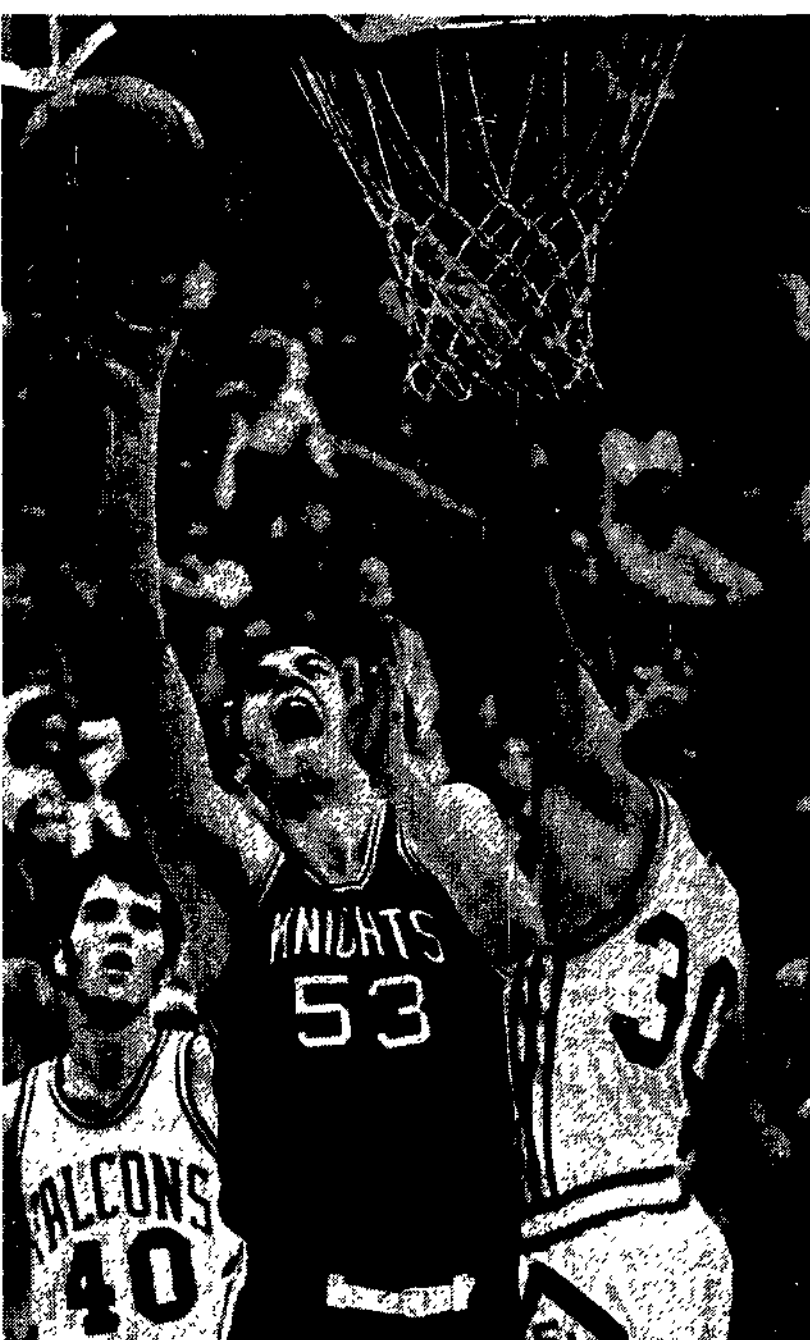

Among Brad Smith's competition for the 132-pound prize is Doug Wilson of Granite City, the winningest matman of the tourney at 40-1. Smith will open against Phil Goodman of Carbondale (28-2). At 138 pounds both local entries are in the same bracket with Wheeling's Kent Lewis tackling Mike Prentice of Mendota, also a junior and 33-3-2.

Arlington's Pete Anderson, meanwhile, goes against Joe Williams of Fenger (24-3). Brian Castle of East Leyden, fourth in state last year and 25-0 this time including a win over Anderson, is favored at 138.

Tad DeLuca's leadoff bout pits him against Ramon Ortega (16-4-1) of Schurz in a 145-pound division considered wide open. At 155 Elk Grove's Dennis Byrne (2-4-2) opens against Dave Neher of Princeton at 30-6. Byrne is in the opposite bracket from Carmel's Jim O'Connell (32-1) who figures to be one of the main contenders.

At 167 pounds Dan Wagemann of Mundelein (29-0) appears to be headed for one berth in the finals after finishing runnerup in the state meet a year ago at 155. Aiming at the other slot will be Marc Grant of Maine East who opens against sophomore John Skoulios of Senn at 25-4.

The 185-pound division could be one of the very interesting ones. In the same bracket with Pat Teehey is Glenbard North's Frank Savagnago (26-2) whom Teehey beat in the conference meet fi-

ON THE BRINK of a bucket is Prospect's leading scorer of the night — Jack Brink. The Knights survived a Forest View comeback to win 40-39

CHONES DID RIGHT THING

Dear Sirs:

A lot of people may look on Marquette's Jim Chones as a villain for signing with the New York Nets and thus leaving his college team ("disloyalty," as some would say), undoubtedly killing the Warriors' chances in post-season tournament play.

However, I feel Chones is to be commended for openly announcing his signing right away instead of causing a foul-up like that of Howard Porter last year. Porter was dishonest and unfair to his school by trying to keep his pro status secret while still playing college ball. When he was later found out, most of his school's victories and its third-place finish in the NCAA tourney were forfeited. At least Marquette knows where it stands with Chones and he and the school can hold their heads high.

I don't feel there was anything ethically wrong with Chones signing now. He is truly a hardcase and his family and promising career should come first. An athlete has earning power for a limited time only and never knows if he is going to be seriously injured or not make it at all. I say, more power to Chones for grabbing the loot while he still has the chance.

Good luck to Marquette — though it is just another team without its former fabulous center.

WANTS JR. HIGH COVERAGE

Dear Sirs:

Why don't you print the scores from junior high basketball games? Lots of people are interested. I'm from Grove junior high basketball games? Lots of disappointed that only the high schools get to be in the paper. After all, junior highs are part of Elk Grove and other towns and they deserve to be in the paper too. Please consider this proposal. Thank you.

Name Withheld by Request

The Herald prints scores and highlights of junior high games in a roundup report every Friday. Because of the great number of junior highs and other youth programs in our circulation area, it is impossible for our sports staff to track down results. Our policy in all programs younger than high school level is and always has been to print whatever is mailed or dropped off at our office (by Wednesday noon in the case of basketball). Reports should be typed and double spaced. If news on your school is not appearing, don't call us. Arrange for someone to submit the results. Thanks for your interest — Bob Frisk.

SCHENKEL PUZZLING

Dear Sirs:

Have you seen Chris Schenkel's first annual publication of "Sportscene Baseball '72"? His prediction concerning the White Sox is puzzling to say the least. Schenkel picked Richie Allen, the White Sox's newly-acquired slugger from the Dodgers, to become the Most Valuable Player in the American League this year. That may not be so surprising, but he picked the Sox to finish fifth in their division.

It is curious logic that would arrive at the conclusion that the addition of a Most Valuable Player will drop the Sox two places lower!

While I'm on the subject of Schenkel, someone should tell him that the Milwaukee Bucks' center last year changed his name to Abdul-Jabbar. Chris was still calling him "Alcindor" in the nationally-televised Bulls vs. Bucks game last Sunday.

Rich Johnson Palatine GENEROSITY COUNTS

Dear Sirs:

It's good to see that both Chicago baseball teams, the Cubs and Sox, are being generous with salaries this season. Too many professional managements are falling back on the convenient excuse of President Nixon's economic policies and are not paying some players what they are worth. To their credit, the Sox and Cubs are not using this phony guise like a certain Chicago Bears owner I could name (who is so stingy that he appears about to cheat loyal fans by letting an all-pro receiver get away).

The Cubs always have been generous with contracts and given all their name players every penny they are worth (indeed, perhaps more than they are worth in some cases). Again this year, as always, they are way ahead of other teams in signing key players. The only unsigned Cub at this writing is Billy Williams who reportedly wants at least $125,000.

The Sox, although they still have eight unsigned players, have also been kind in shelling out dough. Twenty of the 25 players they have signed, according to a report last week, got raises of more than 5.5 per cent.

I feel such generosity is important in keeping ballplayers performing up to their abilities.

Fencers In State Finals

"Maybe this will be the year that we can put it together and finally win the state championship."

With these words, Notre Dame fencing coach Rev. Lawrence Calhoun assesses the hopes of the Dons in the state fencing tournament which will get underway today in Huff Gymnasium on the University of Illinois campus in Champaign.

First-round competition will start at 2 p.m. today. The semi-finals and finals will be held on Saturday starting at 9 a.m.

For the past four years, Notre Dame has entered the state meet with one of the best records in the state. Yet, each season the state title has eluded the Dons.

The Dons finished fourth in the state last year after posting a 13-1 regular season record. "Things just didn't work out for us," Rev. Calhoun said, "and we were very disappointed."

Notre Dame had an undefeated regular season in 1971 and finished fifth. The Dons were fifth in 1970 and fourth in the state in 1969.

The Dons have posted a 13-3 regular season record and are, once again, one of the primary contenders for the state crown.

"I feel that we have the quality fencers to be regarded as a threat to win it," Rev. Calhoun said, "but the competition is going to be very tough."

The Notre Dame coach rates New Trier West, Niles West, Pleasant Plains and Maine South as the teams to beat. The Dons lost to New Trier West in a dual meet, but whipped the Cowboys in the Intersuburban Association tournament. The Dons also did the same against Maine South.

Against Niles West, Notre Dame won a close 10-8 decision in a dual meet and edged the Indians 5-4 in tournament competition. The Dons have not met Pleasant Plains this season.

In last year's competition, Maine South won the title with 78 points, Marshall was second along with Glenwood with 45 points, Notre Dame was fourth with 39 and Niles East was fifth with 38.

The state meet will have its largest field ever, 84 fencers from 14 teams (each team enters six fencers). The teams entered in the meet are Niles East, Niles West, New Trier East, New Trier West, Marshall, Pleasant Plains, Dixon, New Berlin, Glenwood, Champaign Central, Galesburg, Thornton Fractional North, Maine South and the Dons.

Rev. Calhoun's six entered fencers are Tom Alcock, Terry McConville, Sam DiFiglio, Tim Glass, Gary Berlak and John Stobart.

In dual meet competition, Alcock has a 33-8 record, McConville is 37-11, DiFiglio 34-15, Glass 14-6, Berlak 16-10 and Stobart 11-16.

In all meets, including invitational which have included collegiate and adult fencers, Alcock is 72-29, McConville 78-35, DiFiglio 79-42, Glass 54-40, Berlak 42-31 and Stobart 35-34.

In last year's state competition, Alcock had a 7-3 record, McConville was 8-8, Stobart 5-5 and DiFiglio 5-5.

A team gets a point for each win it gets in the state tournament.

Contenders for individual honors include Alcock, McConville, Carl Meyer of coach Bernie Brady.

Brady's clubs are almost considered to be fixtures in sectional basketball play. He has never had a losing season in seven years at Maine South and some of them rank among the best of all time in the Northwest suburbs.

Brady employs a number of offenses and defenses and his players, despite three of them (Jones, Harbeck and Westman) being juniors, have enough experience to carry out their roles in all their complexity.

Yet, with all of this, there are skeptics, this writer among them.

Much of the skepticism is based on one game — the Hawks' only loss of the season. In the championship game of the Aurora Holiday Tournament, the Hawks were bombed by East Aurora 100-69. And when was the last time a team reached the state tournament after having lost a game by 31 points during the regular season? If there ever was, that team came along a long time ago.

East Aurora employed a full-court press to beat the Hawks that night. The Tomcats put pressure on the Hawks with the ball and cut off Maine South's passing lanes in the backcourt. A weakness was brought out in that game — Kucera and Harbeck are not the best of dribblers.

"The team that can force Maine South to dribble the ball has them in trouble," said Maine North coach Jerry Nelson, whose club is among 18 others who have not been able to do it. "Kucera and Harbeck are not poor dribblers, but they are not particularly good ones. They can pass the ball, though, and pass it well. But, if you can cut off their passing lanes, you could put them in trouble."

Other doubting Thomases point to the Hawks' front line as another weakness. As strong as Maine South was in 1969-70, and as much as they played muscle-ball back then the current Hawks do not come close to measuring up.

The primary question brought up is how well the Hawks would fare against the strong frontline clubs — Hinsdale Central, Holy Cross and St. Patrick among them. Can the Hawks play muscle-ball with these clubs?

Nelson is one who thinks they can.

"They do a lot more fighting for positioning than it looks," the Maine North coach said. "Jones is always in there muscling for position and rebounds, and, remember, Spicer was also a football player. And, when you add a boy as strong as Westman, you'd have to say that they have enough strength under the boards."

But the skeptics do have a point.

It is difficult to put your finger on it at first, but there is something different about Maine South which sets them aside from the latest state championship.

After you think about it awhile, it hits you — there are no blacks on the Maine South squad.

Does it make any difference? Perhaps — no, probably — it does not. But, in the past 19 years, only six all-white teams have won the state championship. The last four state champs — Evanston, Proviso East, LaGrange and Thorndike — have been dominated by black superstars. The main difference, more than likely, is the last word — "superstars." Maine South does not have any.

And, when it comes down to those tough games in the tournament, it certainly helps to have the Bob Lackey, Jim Brewer, Marcus Washington, Quinn Buckner superstars to pull a team through.

For a moment, let's consider that Maine South does, indeed, have the quality to make a great showing in the state tournament. The question lingers, however — how far can the Hawks go?

Maine South's potential tournament schedule could prevent the Hawks from getting very far at all.

In their own regional tournament, the Hawks should have an easy time of it. Their first-round opponent will be Luther North. Their championship round opponent would be the winner of the Ridge-Wood-St. Benedict game. None of these should give the Hawks much trouble and Maine South should advance to the Elk Grove Sectional with ease.

The tough times start then. LaGrange should get through the York regional and reach the Elk Grove Sectional.

Either Holy Cross or St. Patrick should get through the East Leyden Regional and reach the Elk Grove Sectional.

The fourth entry will be the winner of the Maine West Regional — a wide-open affair between Maine West, Maine East, Maine North and Notre Dame.

If the draw works the wrong way for the Hawks, they would have to meet — and beat — LaGrange, and, say, Holy Cross, before reaching the East Aurora Super Sectional.

The probable opponent in the super sectional would be Hinsdale Central, the state's third-ranked team.

The path of LaGrange, Holy Cross and Hinsdale Central would be an extremely difficult one for the Hawks to get through to reach Championship.

As good as they are, the Hawks, in this opinion, will not make it.

Y Handball Meet Starts

Some 188 entries have been received for the 12th annual Northwest Suburban YMCA Singles Handball Championship Tournament which begins Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 25-27, at the Northwest Y, 300 E. Northwest Highway, Des Plaines.

Favored in the Class A Division is last year's winner Frank Hansen of Mundelein. Runner-up from last year, Richard Craig of Crystal Lake, will be unable to participate this year but Jim Cashmore of Prospect Heights and Roy DeMeyer of Mount Prospect — last year's third and fourth-place finishers respectively — will be challenging again.

Other top candidates will be Buddy Christiansen of Carpentersville, Jerry Rosenberg of Chicago and Bob Peters of Mount Prospect.

There will also be Class B, Class C and Class D competition.

Play will continue for several weeks with most matches scheduled for Saturdays and Sundays. Visitors are welcome to watch at the Northwest Y. Admission

At Elk Grove

Thom McCann is in first place with Gullett Lock 'N Key very close behind in second for this half of play in the Elk Grove Ladies Majors league at Elk Grove Bowl. . . . There were a total of 14 series of 500 or better in recent action, with Barb Schroeder leading all ladies with 553. . . . Others were Flo Zielinski's 542, Joyce Michalak's 538, Joan Hoag's 533, Marilyn Trieb's 530, Louise Lawrence's 530, Sandy Norum's 513, Carol Gerich's 514, Marilyn Elliott's 510, Gail Thullen's 504, Dale Shoemaker's 522, Lois Brewer's 525, Carol Bischof's 508 and Dot Wilkens' 508.

Notre Dame won two dual meets, lost a dual meet and reaped most of the honors in a tournament in its most recent competition.

The Dons lost to Maine South on most touches after the two teams had battled to a 9-9 draw. Alcock went 3-0 against the Hawks. In the frosh-soph meet, Notre Dame won 12-8.

Notre Dame edged Niles West 10-8 with Glass leading the way with a 3-0 record. In frosh-soph competition, the Dons won 15-3 as Pat Gerard, Randy Mikos and Bill Kica all had 5-0 records.

The Dons crushed Niles East 14-1 in their final dual meet of the season with McConville and Alcock going 3-0. Notre Dame won the frosh-soph meet 15-3 as Mikos and Kica went 3-0.

The frosh-soph team closed out their third unbeaten season in four years with a 9-0 record.

In the Gordon Tech Invitational Pat Gerard took second place, John Strass third, Mike Sciordino fourth, Ken Lavello fifth and Mike Gerard sixth in the 14-15-year-old competition.

In the 16-19-year-old bracket, McConville took first place, Paul Quiniff, a Notre Dame alumnus, took second and Alcock was third. In epee competition, Russell Rempala was second, Glass fifth, Quiniff sixth, Berlek seventh and Strass ninth.

Cold Shooting Costly Against Rugged Triton

Harper Campaign Ends With 92-67 Sectional Loss

by MIKE HUSTON

The basketball season came to an abrupt end for Harper College Wednesday night with a 92-67 loss to host Triton in the NJCAA Sectional Tournament at Provision East High School.

The Hawks, who had beaten Triton only four nights earlier 91-85, had a poor shooting night, hitting on only 40.3 per cent of their shots from the floor. In contrast, the Hawks had shot 65.6 per cent only 24 hours earlier, defeating Fond du Lac 113-59.

The Triton players were well prepared mentally for the game, as they scrapped for offensive and defensive rebounds, scrambled after loose balls, played aggressive defense and shot 55.6 per cent from the floor.

Bob Larsen and Larry Moore paced Triton with 30 and 26 points respectively. The combination of Larsen's fine outside shooting and Moore's aggressive offensive rebounding and scoring was trouble for the Hawks.

"Larsen was outstanding tonight," Harper Coach Dave Etienne commented. "I couldn't believe how far out he could go to shoot and the ball kept going in. Moore did an outstanding job working for his points on the offensive boards."

As well as their offense worked, it was Triton's defense which made most of the difference. The Warriors opened the game playing a four man zone defense with one man playing Harper's leading scorer Kevin Barthule man-to-man.

Barthule's teammates had difficulty hitting their shots over the four man zone and Kevin had trouble getting loose to get the ball. Scott Feige led the Harper attack with 16 points and Barthule and Jeff Algaler were each held to 14.

"I was getting pressure from everywhere," explained Barthule. "Every time I got the ball I was getting two or three men around me. They didn't stay in that combination defense very long but I still got a lot of pressure after that, some even from their bench."

Etienne analyzed the game in terms of Harper's poor shooting. "We had a lot of good shots that just didn't go in," he coach explained.

The Hawks also lost the statistical battle of the boards, 54-38. Again, however, the difference can be measured in terms of Harper's cold shooting. Both teams recovered 16 offensive rebounds. Triton built their margin recovering Harper's missed shots.

Harper led for the last time at 5-4, stayed within a point for about four minutes, then Triton began to pull away. The Warriors led 49-30 at half.

Triton's largest lead was 70-40 with 11 minutes remaining, but the Hawks made their only serious rally cutting the margin to 72-51 at 8:15.

The battle of the pivot men was nearly a standoff. Triton's Dave Maclin scored 17 points and grabbed eleven rebounds while Harper's Don Spry scored 12, got eleven caroms and blocked three shots. Moore also collected eleven rebounds for Triton.

Etienne felt that another key to the game for Triton was their ability to beat Harper's zone defense better than they could Saturday night.

"Triton went inside with the ball against our zone better today than they did Saturday," Etienne explained.

Harper closed its season with an 18-11 record and finished in a second place tie with Waubesa in the Skyway Conference at 11-3. The Hawks, under the coaching of Etienne, won only one less game this season than they had won in their entire history coming into the year.

"Well, 18 ballgames is a lot to win, and we should be very proud of that," said Etienne. "But more importantly, I felt that this team was the closest group that I've ever coached. Everyone of these men is a gentleman and it has been a pleasure to coach them. I just can't express my personal feelings for them."

Barthule ended his career at Harper with 1285 points in only two years, and he set another record for points in one season with 716.

"The best thing about this season, to me, has been the team's attitude overall," Barthule said. The 6'2" guard plans to continue playing basketball at a four year college next year.

Final Tuneups Tonight For Cagers

The final game for each of the area's high school basketball teams will be held tonight.

Two Central Suburban League games, a pair of Mid-Suburban League playoff contests, a West Suburban League meeting and a non-conference confrontation are on tap for 8 p.m.

Maine West will travel to Glenbrook North where the Warriors will take on the Spartans in a Central Suburban League game.

The Warriors will come into the contest with a modest two-game winning streak with hopes of taking momentum in their own regional tournament which will get underway next week.

Against two of the better teams in the Central Suburban League, Maine West knocked off Niles North 46-44 and Niles West 51-41 last weekend. Both Niles teams were in a tie for second place with Deerfield before the Warriors pulled a mild upset over both.

Maine West has met Glenbrook North once before and whipped the Spartans 71-57. The Warriors have a 7-6 record against Central Suburban League competition and are 12-9 overall.

The Warriors will be faced with the prospect of containing two of the Central Suburban's leading scorers, Mark Gorgal and Jimmy Reddington. Gorgal, a forward, gets most of his points from offensive rebounds, but does own a fairly good outside jump shot. Reddington is probably the best shooter on the team and has the moves to drive to the basket.

Four of the Warriors' starting positions are well set with Rick Wolfgram and Jeff Helst at the guards, Doug Myers at center and Joe Thimam at one forward. The other forward slot will be up for grabs among Chris Bouchee, Fred Campobasso, Fred Schmidt and Mark Tuttle.

Maine North's final contest of the season will be a home game against Glenbrook South.

The Norsemen are seeking their first win against Central Suburban League competition after 13 losses. They have a shot at it against Glenbrook South, a team which owns a slim 59-57 win over the Norsemen already this season.

Whereas Maine North has shown improvement with every passing week, Glenbrook South has not. The Titans were crushed 77-29 by league-leading Maine South last Friday night. The Norsemen were beaten 94-59 by the same Maine South contingent, but they put together a better performance against the Hawks than the Titans did.

Glenbrook South's top player is forward Scott Merrill who is averaging around 15 points per game.

Maine North's likely starting lineup will have Frank Yturriago and Mickey Drewes at the guards, Bob Allen at center and Doug Werhane and Marty DiFlavio at the forwards. DiFlavio is the leading scorer, averaging better than 17 points per game.

The Norsemen will bring a 1-18 overall record into the game.

Forest View, which finished in a tie (record-wise) for first place in the Mid-Suburban League's South Division, has been delegated to the playoff between third place teams. The Falcons had a 7-3 record against South Division competition, but they were only 1-2 against North Division foes. Prospect was also 7-3 against the South, but 2-1 against the North and will play Hersey for the championship. Conant was 7-3 against the South and 1-1 against the North and will play Arlington in a playoff game between North Division clubs.

Forest View's third-place playoff opponent will be Wheeling, which has a 13-8 overall record. The Falcons have an 11-8 overall mark.

The Falcons' primary concern will be to stop Wheeling's 6-11 center Roger Wood. Wood is one of the leading scorers and rebounders in the Mid-Suburban League. In their only meeting this season, Wheeling defeated the Falcons in the Forest View gymnasium. Tonight's game will be held at Wheeling.

The top scorers for the Falcons this season have been forward Don Woodsmall and guard Jay Hedges.

Elk Grove will travel to Fremd for a meeting between fourth place teams in each of the Mid-Suburban League's divisions. The Grenadiers have a 10-9 overall record and Fremd is 7-13.

Mark Hollinger and Terry Kukla have been pacing the Vikings in scoring. Elk Grove's probably starting lineup will have Bob Prince and Keith Chuppek at the guards, Dave Chernick and Mike Miller at the forwards and Ken Pollitz at center.

Maine East will finish its West Suburban League season at York tonight. The Demons will take a 5-8 West Suburban League record and an 8-11 overall mark into the York gymnasium. Expected to see most of the action for the Demons are Mark Bondeson, a 6-7 center who is the leading scorer in the WSL; Tim Larson, a sophomore guard who scored 14 points against Hinsdale Central last week; Mike McDonnell, who had 10 points last week; Russ Anderson, who scored nine; and Bill Castonzo, who scored eight.

Notre Dame will play its last home game of the season against Niles West. The host Dons have a 6-14 overall record and Niles West's is just about the opposite.

The probable starting lineup for the Dons will have Pete Egart and Mike Calero at the guards, Bill Abraham and Clem Naughton at the forwards and Kevin Mullaney at center. Niles West is strongest in the frontcourt with forwards Dan Welter and Don Burrows and center Brad Cartwright. All are averaging more than 13 points per game.

This Athlete's No Backslider

by PAUL LOGAN
Swimming Editor

You might say Mike Salerno got his feet wet Saturday.

St. Viator's top backslider competed in a district swim meet for the first time that afternoon. It was quite an experience.

"I think I was a little scared," Mike admits on looking back at his second-place showing in the 100-yard event, one second behind Deerfield's Mark Trenor (:56.5). "I swam crooked and I swam more ground."

Instead of stroking in a straight line, Mike kind of zig-zagged up and down the pool, hitting lane dividers along the way. The pressure of state competition was great.

"I wasn't really mentally up for that district meet," says Mike of his :57.5. "I had hoped to have about a :55.9."

Salerno, only a junior, ripped off a dazzling :56.7 several weeks ago. At that time, only Hinsdale Central's Russ Meyer had done better in the state (:55.0). No area swimmer has been ranked that high in any event this season.

Mike knows that he's capable of fashioning another top performance. To do so this weekend, he must be both mentally and physically in shape.

To strengthen his arms for his specialty, Mike has been using hand paddles in practice this year.

"It adds more pressure to each arm when you're pulling through," he explains. "They're pretty hard to use but they help you sprint better. If you sprint with them in practice, it will be easier in the meet."

"He uses the paddles quite a bit, about 90 per cent of the time," says John Fleck, coach of the Lions. The paddles are a little larger than a hand and are square. They make it more difficult to pull yourself through the water.

With his powerful arms, Mike has been able to catch most of his opponents although many have been taller than this 5-7 youngster.

"He usually gives up half a body length at the start," says Fleck. "His turnover of his arms — they're really fast — makes up for it. His turns are really fantastic, too."

"I do lose a little," says Mike, "but I don't have a good start anyway."

Last week he swam about 4,000 yards, mostly with paddles. He expects to go only about 3,000 this week as he tapers down for the big test. He is hoping this physical preparation along with a good mental attitude will bring him to his goal of under :56 flat.

"I'd like to finish in the top three," says Mike of his season goal. "If I took the top six, I wouldn't be unhappy."

Cracking the elite half dozen is no easy task, especially since it's his first time under the state gun. But if he measures up to his capabilities, he can gain plenty of valuable experience for even greater accomplishments as a senior.

"I think he could be a state champ next year," says Fleck. "He's certainly got the natural talent for it."

With the graduation of Hinsdale's Meyer this year, his chances have to improve.

"There's always someone good that's going to come up," says Mike philosophically. "There might be a freshman coming up that's fast, someone on Hinsdale again. I guess the shot's pretty good because the guy who beat me in the district is a senior, too."

Baseball Coaches Clinic At Morton E. Saturday

The Illinois High School Baseball Coaches Association will hold its ninth annual coaching clinic this Saturday, Feb. 26, at Morton East High School, 2423 S. Austin Blvd., Cicero.

After registration at 8:30 a.m. and a welcoming, a panel on pitching will be presented at 9:30. Speakers will be Billy Pierce, former White Sox great; Jim Brosnan, noted author and formerly of the Cubs, Reds and Sox; Terry Gellinger, coach of Fremd's defending Mid-Suburban League champions; and Bob Schmitt of Peoria Limestone High.

Jack Mallory, coach of Waukegan's defending state champions, will speak at 11:00. In the afternoon, Gordon Gillespie of Lewis College will head full-scale demonstrations and discussions on special conditioning, infield drills, pressure pitching situations and base running.

Door prizes will be presented. Coaches must be present to win. After the program at 4:30 p.m. there will be a smoker, compliments of Miller High Life Beer. Location will be announced at the clinic.

Herb Ward of Maine East is President of the Association and Larry Pohlmann, head coach at Prospect, is Secretary. Summer baseball Commissioner is Jim Phipps of Niles West.

Maine Township Assessed Valuation Rises

Assessed valuation of real estate property rose 4.46 per cent in Maine Township last year, according to the Cook County assessor's office.

Total real estate valuation for tax purposes increased from $354,126,076 in 1970 to $369,941,608 in 1971, a spokesman for the assessor's office said. Figures were not immediately available for the increase in personal property valuation.

An increase in building activity also pushed Elk Grove Township property valuations to $265.7 from $264.4 million in 1970, Charles Hodlmair, township assessor, said.

Hodlmair said commercial building permits approved two years ago are being reflected as finished offices on the real estate rolls this year.

Along with a rise in real estate valuations, Elk Grove Township personal property assessments rose 26.2 per cent from $36.5 million in 1970 to $38 million last year.

Hodlmair attributed the rise in personal property assessments to additional equipment purchased by corporations such as machinery, trucks, electronic equipment and computers. He said individual personal property was not a major factor in the valuation increase although individual property is assessed.

Assessing individual personal property is usually more of an approximation when persons fail to file a report of their taxable property. Under Illinois law, township assessors have the authority to estimate the value of personal property when the owner does not return a form declaring personal property.

Individual personal property assessments are most easily based on the number of cars owned by a family. Each household is allowed to exempt one car and one household of furniture from taxation.

Assessed valuation in Schaumburg Township jumped 23.5 per cent constituting the largest increase in 38 Cook County Townships last year, according to the county assessor's office.

Schaumburg Township's assessed valuation rose from $100.7 million in 1970 to $124 million last year. The figures given do not include the state's equalizer applied for uniform tax bills.

According to surveys Schaumburg Township led in the number of residential housing starts in the greater Chicago metropolitan area last year. A surge in industrial and commercial development also was a major factor in the increase in real estate property assessments.

IN PALATINE TOWNSHIP real estate property valuations increased 11.5 per cent from $131 million to $146 million while in Wheeling Township there was a $20 million increase in assessments from $261 million to $281 million.

For instance, in Wheeling Township, Assessor Marshall Theroux said the $225 standard personal property assessment is based on $150 assessed value on the number of cars above one plus a $75 penalty for failing to return a schedule of personal property.

There may be a nominal drop in property tax bills next year if recommended reassessments of property in Wheeling Township are accepted by the Cook County assessor's office.

Adjusted assessments, which would affect the 1972 property tax, to be paid in 1973, were recommended by Theroux who has just completed a study of the 33,000 parcels of land in the township.

The study does not affect the 1971 tax bills, to be mailed to property owners in the next few months.

Wheeling township includes Prospect Heights and Wheeling and parts of Arlington Heights, Buffalo Grove, Mount Prospect, 662; Palatine, 584; Rolling Meadows, 179; Schaumburg, 745; and Wheeling, 877.

Schaumburg topped the list of Chicago metropolitan area communities in the total amount of all construction during 1971. This includes residential, commercial and industrial building. The municipality reported a total of $75,599,283 last year.

Total new building for the entire metropolitan area last year rose from $1,394,806,890 in 1970 to $2,182,362,502 in 1971.

This represented a 56 per cent increase over 1970 reports. Total permit values rose 85 per cent in Chicago, 43 per cent in the suburbs and 59 per cent in the unincorporated areas.

Theroux also said that the county may find some land in the township that is underassessed at today's values as compared with other areas. Therefore, some tax bills may be higher in 1972.

"I did the work and gave the county my recommendation under the assumption that people down there want the information for good tax assessments," Theroux said. "I won't know if they use my recommendations until this fall when the 1972 tax assessments are made public."

Though Theroux said he keeps tabs on assessments which are the result of building and razing, the current reassessing process is called a quadrennial, which is completed every four years.

"The quadrennial is a reexamination of land values and a revision of assessments on improvements on the land," said Theroux. "It has traditionally been done on the township level by a committee to local people with experience in real estate and appraising land."

THOUGH THE county has taken over all work involved in the quadrennial in what Theroux calls a part of the county's move to centralize, Theroux has reviewed all land in the township and made recommendations to the county on the basis of his findings.

Land and buildings were reviewed by Theroux and his staff by maps, recent aerial photographs, knowledge of the township, and an occasional visit to certain areas.

New Homes, Apartments Set Record

A record-breaking surge in new single-family and apartment permits during 1971 for the six county Chicago metropolitan area was reported in the recent report by Bell Federal Savings and Loan Association of Chicago.

Total new housing rose to 82,961 units, an increase of 8 per cent above the previous record level in 1968. Bell has reported on new construction in the Chicago metropolitan area since 1932. This marked the second consecutive year that single-family home permits showed a decreasing proportion of apartments in the total percentage of new housing compared to single-family units.

The 62,961 housing permits reported for Jan. 1 to Dec. 31 of last year compares with the 38,203 units reported for 1970.

The six-county Chicago metropolitan area reported permits for 25,788 single-family homes in 1971. This is an increase of 78 per cent above the 14,470 home permits reported in 1970. It also represents the highest single-family home volume since 1960 when 26,113 permits were issued.

Suburban municipalities registered one of the highest increases in single family units (compared to the City of Chicago and unincorporated areas), rising to 19,858 units from 10,768 the year earlier, an 84 per cent increase.

Among the top 10 leaders in single family permits for 1971 are: Schaumburg, 1,034 units (second only to Bolingbrook with 2,172); Arlington Heights, 498; and Hoffman Estates, 597.

A 57 per cent hike in new apartment permits in 1971 over the 1970 figures was reported for the entire Chicago metropolitan area. The number of multiple family permits reached 37,173 units compared to 23,732 a year earlier. This is a record high for the metropolitan area, an increase of 8 per cent over the previous record of 34,525 units set in 1968.

Suburban apartment permits increased 56 percent over the previous year in the apartment category (which also included the City of Chicago and unincorporated areas) from 15,502 units in 1970 to 24,281 units in 1971.

Reports of 50 or more apartment permits in the Northwest Suburbs include: Arlington Heights, 780; Buffalo Grove, 578; Des Plaines, 105; Elk Grove Village, 95; Hoffman Estates, 832; Mount Prospect, 662; Palatine, 584; Rolling Meadows, 179; Schaumburg, 745; and Wheeling, 877.

Schaumburg topped the list of Chicago metropolitan area communities in the total amount of all construction during 1971. This includes residential, commercial and industrial building. The municipality reported a total of $75,599,283 last year.

Total new building for the entire metropolitan area last year rose from $1,394,806,890 in 1970 to $2,182,362,502 in 1971.

This represented a 56 per cent increase over 1970 reports. Total permit values rose 85 per cent in Chicago, 43 per cent in the suburbs and 59 per cent in the unincorporated areas.

List Real Estate Transfers

The latest monthly Elk Grove township real estate transfer report from Cook County Recorder Sidney R. Olsen listed the sales of seven properties in Des Plaines and 22 in Elk Grove Village and the rest of the township.

Olsen recorded the following property transfers for the township. The list shows the purchase price of equity and does not include the amount of a mortgage which the purchaser may have assumed. The price is indicated by the amount of state revenue stamps on the document ($1 in stamps for each $1,000 of market value).

The transfers are:

Square Dance News

ARLINGTON SQUARES

Arlington Squares will host a "Memory Lanes" dance tonight at St. Simon Episcopal Church, 717 Kirchoff Rd., Arlington Heights, with Lenny Roos calling the squares beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Round dancing begins at 8 p.m. with Gene and Edna Arnfield. Everyone is invited. There will be door prizes and refreshments.

HAPPY TWIRLERS

Char-Lee Wellers will be calling the squares tonight for the Happy Twirlers, when they meet at First Congregational Church, Graceland and Marion streets, Des Plaines, for their regular weekly dance, beginning at 8 p.m.

More beginners for the new Happy Twirler square dance class took advantage of their last opportunity to register for the 10-lesson course at the Congregational Church, Sunday night, Feb. 20. Dancers who have had some square dancing, may still enroll on Sunday night, Feb. 27, from 7 to 9 p.m. and take the course as a "refresher." Further information may be obtained by calling 824-1464.

RAND RAMBLERS

Paul "Foggy" Thompson will be calling the squares tomorrow night beginning at 8:30 p.m. for the Rand Ramblers Square Dance Club, when they meet at the Boy Scouts of America Building, 1622 N. Rand Rd., Arlington Heights, for their regular dance.

Rounds begin at 8 p.m. with round dance leaders Edna and Gene Arnfield. Everyone is invited.
